The Red Rayders won't get much chance to rest up from that bruising game against Boyne City before they take on another arch-rival, East Jordan, Friday in a home game.

Boyne City and Charlevoix in a tough defensive game battled to a scoreless tie under the lights, marking the third tie since the Rayder streak began seven years ago. It marked the closest Boyne has been to beating Charlevoix in the postwar period.

While the play was a bit ragged at times, chiefly because of the night game conditions and the fact it was the opener for the Rayders, the locals played a good brand of ball. Coach Del Terrill was satisfied with the performance of his boys.

Both teams showed a good brand of defensive ball holding each other from touchdown territory. Boyne City fans were deeply disapponinted because they figured that "this was the time to stop Charlevoix."

But this was not to be, at least not this year. Time and time, it appeared as though Boyne was on the verge of breaking through, only to have the Rayders rise up and foil the threats. Offensively, the Rayders did not seem to be able to sustain a touchdown march, although they reached the 17 yard line on one occasion.

Coach Terrill and the boys have forgotten about Boyne and have been bearing down for East Jordan which thrashed Pellston last weekend 27-6. East Jordan is another team that loves to defeat the Rayders. But East Jordan has been thwarted in recent years, although it held Charlevoix to a tie twice.

The Rayders will have a job on their hands keeping East Jordan's attack bottled up. With Don Whiteford pacing the offense, East Jordan has appeared very formidable. Earlier it had been believed that Pellston would be a tough one, but Jordan humbled the Northmen without too much difficulty.

A large crowd is expected to watch the locals play East Jordan as this rivalry is always keen no matter what the sport is. East Jordan's coach, Gayle Saxton, has his boys primed for the Rayder game and the Rayders really get pepped up over playing East Jordan.

The Rayders attack will be sharper after getting by the opener and the locals are going all-out to notch their first win of the young 1951 season.

Young Ross Blanchard can hardly believe his eyes as he looks over the trout caught recently by his grandfather, Clinton Blanchard.

The brook trout was caught in the Jordan river and weighed 9¾ pounds. It measured 25⅛ inches in length and 16½ inches in girth.

A Tribute to Our Children

To Publish Pictures of LOCAL CHILDREN

● Pictures of the children in this community are to be published in this newspaper as a special tribute to our young citizens. Tomorrow the responsibility for world destiny will rest heavily upon their shoulders. As Americans, they will meet those responsibilities without faltering. Among them, in the years to come, will be many with fame and fortune. But, just as they are right now . . . with the dawn of a greater tomorrow in their fresh young faces . . . we, the publishers, want a picture of these future professional men and women, teachers, scientists and, who knows, perhaps a future president of this great country. We want to publish these pictures in a forthcoming special feature. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event a colorful and inspiring exhibit!

Arrangements have been made with The Woltz-Allen Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to this newspaper and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the pictures taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in the paper. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!

You can clip these pictures from the paper and thus obtain a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children when they grow up.

Below is the time and place to have your children's pictures taken without cost!

Charlevoix County Farm News

County Farmers Vote Against Family Farm Policy Review

By a vote of 35 to 20, Charlevoix area farmers voted to support a resolution against the adoption of the Farm Policy Review.

Meeting at the school here last week the farmers discussed the controversial Family Farm Policy Review published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The resolution follows in part:

Whereas the farmers of Charlevoix county have been requested on short notice, to express approval or disapproval in changes of the U. S. Department of Agriculture outlined in a 121-page book.

FIRST OF ALL there are only a few copies of the book in the county, secondly, had there been more of them, very few farmers would have had time to read them, thirdly, many, even if they had read it, would not have understood it because of the legal language and the broad scope of the subject covered.

We strenuously object to the use of funds appropriated by congress for the benefit of agriculture, misused in trying to create official thinking among farm people by paid employees of the department and then have it echo back to Washington through the same employees as grass roots thinking.

THE DEPARTMENT of Agriculture was organized to administer laws made by congress not to enact legislation.

Whereas we believe the thinking behind the review is to create Socialism and then Communism of which we want no part. (This refers to not wanting Socialism or Communism.)

We strongly recommend to the congress of the United States that they take immediate steps to straighten out the Department of Agriculture and inform them of their duties.

We also realize that in a socialistic state, the state must have control of agriculture. However, in America we have proved that the American Way is the best system of all when food and fiber is needed.

We recommend that the congress return agriculture to a free enterprise system with supply, demand and farm-owned controlled pools regulating prices.

THE RESOLUTION commended the Department of Agriculture for its other services including the county agent division, soil conservation practices and 4-H direction. The resolution concluded by saying "we wish the services of the department to remain as they have in the past, free to the farmers but not compulsory."

Leo Berg moved the motion be adopted, pointing out that part of the policy review has earmarks of the Brannan plan.

LeRoy Hardy, county PMA chairman and Hoy Dewey of Bellaire, district PMA chairman, were among those who spoke in favor of the policy review. It was pointed out that many farmers admit they can't get along without subsidies.

The Policy Review would substitute direct payments instead of subsidy and price control.

The Policy Review has been voted down in many other Michigan counties.

List Aids for Fighting Bangs Disease

Dairymen, hog raisers and goat producers have one thing in common according to Michigan State college extension veterinarians.

That's a dislike of brucellosis, or Bangs Disease. It strikes at the heart of dairy production causing a loss in milk production of 20 percent or more for each animal infected. And costly losses result when the disease invades hog lots or goat herds too.

The MSC veterinarians advise farmers to get help when the disease gets into their herds or into nearby herds. They point out that trying to fight it alone is an up-hill job.

"Your county agricultural agent local veterinarian or state veterinarian should be contacted as the first source of help," the specialists point out.

Test and slaughter are the surest and quickest ways to get rid of the disease. But even though that is the least expensive method in the long run, many farmers having a badly infected herd probably can not afford to dispose of it all at once.

When the test and slaughter plan can't be adopted immediately the MSC veterinarians suggest three plans as temporary measures to help a farmer clean up his herd more gradually.

One is to test and keep reactors until they can be disposed of without too heavy a loss, plus calf vaccination. The second is calf vaccination only. The other is adult vaccination.

However, the veterinarians urge all livestock owners interested in wiping out brucellosis to work toward the test and slaughter method—coupled with good sanitation measures and herd management.

Consider Surroundings

When selecting paint for your house, its size, its style of architecture, the general surroundings and landscaping—as well as the colors of adjacent houses—should always be considered. Strong, bright colors give prominence to the building, accentuating the small house. Neutral shades are better suited to larger homes

New Bulletin Describes Dairy Success Factors

Factors which make for success in dairy farming are featured in a new Michigan Agricultural experiment station bulletin, "Dairying for Profit in Southeastern Michigan," now available to Michigan farmers.

Authored by K. T. Wright and T. L. Hodge of the Michigan State college agricultural economics department, the bulletin covers a five-year survey of dairy operations. More than one- third of the total agricultural income of the state comes from dairy cattle, through the sale of milk and cream, cheese, veal calves and cull cows, the authors point out.

An average of 90 dairy farms a year were included in the study. A few of the facts reported are:

Average labor hours per cow declined from 132 to 93 in the five years of the study. Many dairymen produced 100 pounds of milk for each hour spent, while others put in more than two hours. If labor is valued at one dollar an hour, this makes at least one dollar per hundredweight difference in the cost.

Returns for labor and management were reduced when concentrates were fed beyond a proportion of one pound concentrate to four pounds of milk with good cows and when over one to five with fair cows.

Annual cost per cow in the southeastern Michigan study during 1945-49 averaged $399. Each cow averaged about 8,200 pounds of milk, annually, testing 3.74 percent butterfat. Total credits amounted to $356. Return for labor and management $1.08 per hour.

A copy of the publication, Special Bulletin 373, "Dairying for Profit in Southeastern Michigan," may be obtained from county agricultural agents' offices or by writing to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State college East Lansing, Michigan.

Barnard Farm Bureau Names New Officers

They are: chairman hospital service and member of the county Women's Committee, Mrs. J. L. Boss; vice-chairman, Sanford Matchett; secretary and publicity chairman, Mrs. Arthur Steel; recreation leaders, Mrs. William Ager and Mrs. Sanford Matchett; discussion leader, J. L. Boss; action committeeman, Sanford Matchett; nominee to county board, John Rosquist.

The next meeting will be Oct. 18 at the home of John Rosquist.

Peanut Hams

They are usually called Smithfield hams, although hams from peanut-fed hogs come from other sections than Smithfield, Virginia. Peanut-fed hogs produce specially flavored hams. So farmers in the peanut belt usually plant peanuts for "hogging off," meaning a field of matured peanuts just for hogs to graze in and where they root out the peanuts and eat them. If turned into a field after the threshing, hogs glean the nuts lost from the vines.

Bentley Farm Bureau Elects Officers

ELLSWORTH—Bentley Hill Farm Bureau meeting was held at the community school house Sept. 14. The group voted in favor of all membership dues to be paid up by Jan. 1st to be entitled to Blue Cross.

The meeting night has been changed from the second Friday to the second Thursday of the month.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

In writing fruit notes for the Courier, it seems rather appropriate to mention this fall's fruit harvest.

It appears that the quality and flavor of any given variety reflects the kind and amount of fertilizer and minerals uesd.

One group of large apple growers, west of Sparta, advertises for experienced pickers. This means they do not want to bruise the fruit.

A few apple growers have had bad luck spraying for scab.

In our experience, we find our apples this year free of scab again. We used 1½ pounds of Fermate to 100 gallons of water, applying thoroughly on each side of the rows, starting at the green tip stage and repeating every seven days. The last application is done when the trees are in full bloom.

Some growers reported they have sprayed all summer but still have scab. However, the scab season is early and if stopped before the bloom, the grower's scab trouble is usually over.

This makes our sixth year of scab free apples after carrying out the same spray program. The size of fruit is always better on young trees and especially if fruit thinning sprays are used or hand thinning done early enough.

HERE'S AN Idea WORTH TALKING OVER
... can farming be made more profitable?

We're not promising the moon, but we'd like to see if we can help you make more money, or save work. We do know that on a good many farms we've been able to make recommendations that worked out profitably.

At least, it's an idea worth talking over. We are making farm visits all the time and hope to reach you soon. However, we invite you not to wait but drop in anytime. You'll find that we are really interested in discussing your problems and helping all we can.

We do know that the future of the farmer depends greatly on the efficiency of all farm operations. We know something about this subject. That's why we think it will pay you, as well as us, to "get better acquainted."

Skip Makes a Slip

Miss Gilbert, the teacher, was telling me how Skip Lawson almost went to sleep in her physics class.

She noticed him nodding and—since they were discussing electricity—said in a loud voice: "Now maybe MR. LAWSON will explain what electricity is." Skip started up, looked around wildly, and blurted out, "Gee! I used to know, but I forgot."

"What a loss to science!" sighs Miss Gilbert. "No one to this day knows what electricity really is, and here we have a genius who could explain it—but forgot!"

From where I sit, I hope this taught Skip that you're better off if you admit you don't know all answers. Some grownups haven't learned that yet—like the ones who are always telling other folks what's best and what's right and what's wrong. I like a temperate glass of beer, myself, but if you prefer buttermilk I won't argue. I've seen too many "know-it-alls" turn out to be wrong!

436 in County Get Security Checks During Month

Monthly social security benefits totalling $14,240 were paid to 436 residents of Charlevoix county during February 1951, the last month for which complete figures are available, William E. LaRock, Manager of the Traverse City office of the Social Security Administration announced today.

Included in this figure was $8,769 paid to 221 retired workers over 65; the balance was paid to dependents of retired workers or surviving relatives of workers who have died.

Benefits totalling $177,345 were paid to 5,247 residents of the 15 counties by the Traverse City Social Security office in February, Mr. LaRock said, but many people are losing their payments because of failure to claim them.

Benefits paid under the Old-Age and Survivors Insurance provisions of the Social Security Act are not automatic; an application must be filed with the Social Security Administration before payment can be made, and back payments are limited to six months before the application is filed.

The figures given for this area include only payments which were actually made. Mr. LaRock said. Many other persons who were entitled to payments did not receive benefits in February because they earned over $50 in employment covered by social security.

While there is no limit to the amount of earnings for a beneficiary over 75 years old, benefits for persons under 75 are stopped for months when their earnings exceed $50.

Mr. LaRock pointed out that social security benefits are not based on the needs of the recipient but are insurance payments which are paid for by the worker and his employer.

Rayders Bow To E. Jordan In Close Tilt

After watching their streak mount over six football seasons and go through 42 games without a loss, the Rayders fell victim to a hard running East Jordan team last Friday.

Paced by slashing Don Whiteford, who this year is finally coming into his own, tha Jordanites defeated tho Rayders 6-0 in a hard-fought contest at Kipke field. Whiteford's runs through center and around the ends spelled the difference botween two evenly-matched opponents.

It's true that Whiteford did not make the score but he set the score up and kept the Rayders back on their heels most of the game with his hard running. The winning score was a fourth-down pass from Keith Evans to left end Jim Weisler in the second quarter.

WEISLER GRABBED the key pass while being guarded by two Charlevoix backs. That turned out to be the ball game and Rayder rooters saw their team beaten for the first time since 1945.

Rayder fans were brought to their feet when Jerry Left took the kickoff after the touchdown to the 25 yard line. Then Jim Lewis, Rayder junior, rambled 45 yards after taking a pitchout for a long run befora being brought down from behind.

Left almost broke loose for a score in the second half when he took a punt and returned it to the Jordan 20 yard stripe. Charley Donaldson picked up five yards but Jordan stiffened to take the ball on downs to end the serious threat.

Once again the Rayders worked the ball to their opponents' 10 yard line after "Hungry" Whitley blocked a punt. Red Evans intercepted a Rayder pass. Not long after this the Rayders saw another threat nipped by another interception.

The Rayders played Gaylord Wednesday afternoon.

Rayder Reserves Trip Boyne City, 21-0

The Charlevoix Reserves, 26 strong, were on the winning end of a 21-0 score over the Boyne Reserves Monday night.

Jerry Albright, quarterback, scored on a line plunge in the first period to start the scoring; fullback Joe McDermott went over from the five yard line in the second period for another tally, right halfback Gordon Mol wrapped up the game in the last period on a 15 yd. run.

The Mighty Mites passed for the extra points.

Last week the Mites lost a close one to the Petoskey Reserves by a 6-0 score.

Here's the Evidence

No one would doubt the integrity of Clint Blanchard except in the possible case of fish stories. Last weeks Courier related a rather tall one about Clint's prowess with a fly rod on tho Jordan river. The abova picture is proof of Clint's talo Possibly young Ross Blanchard, Clint's grandson, doesn't quite believe his eyes either, as he looks at the 9¾ pound brook trout.

Power Accident Proves Fatal to Oakley Powers

The Eveline township community was shocked Saturday by the accidental death of Oakley M. Saunders, 46, who was electrocuted while assisting with a well operation at the Ole Nielses farm.

Mr. Saunders who was cutting corn at the Nielsen farm, was enroute to the farm house for dinner when he stopped to assist Mr. Nielsen and others in the raising of a length of pipe from a well for repairs. The pipe held by Mr. Saunders toppled onto a high tension wire, killing him instantly.

Petoskey Ave. Sewer Given Green Light

The long-awaited Petoskey avenue sewer district extension moved a step closer to reality Monday night when a majority of property owners tentatively approved the project.

The estimated cost of tho extension is $11,322, City Attorney Norman Anca reported. The city will pay between $4,000 and $5,000 toward the projact, leaving the remainder to bo paid for by property owners in the sewer district.

A meeting will be held at 8 p. m. Oct. 18 in the city hall for the council and interested parties to attend. Property owners will have an opportunity to raise objection to their special assessment if they so desire.

A SPECIAL board of assessors will determine the assessments to defray the cost of the sewer construction. Arthur Bergeon, city assessor, and Mrs. Mary Feindt, city surveyor, will be two members of the assessing board. A third member will be named by Mr. Bergeon by next Monday.

It was reported that homeowners may take up to 10 years to pay their special assessments. Of the interested persons who own homes or property in the Petoskey sewer district, only two raised objections.

Supervisors to Meet Monday After State Boosts Valuations

Faced with the report of the Michigan Tax commission which last week set equalized valuation at $25,138,426 in Charlevoix county, the supervisors meet Monday to spread the taxes on the new equalization figures.

The state's report, submitted by Chairman Louis Nims, increased the equalization of assessments by $11,118,016.

Action of the state in raising the equalization followed appeals by two county supervisors, Joe Toplinski of Boyne Falls and Rudy Korth of Charlevoix township last spring when the county board of supervisors set the equalized figures at $14,020,410. Subsequently the state sent men into the county to spot-check valuations.

The action by the state nullified the allocation by the board last June which allocated eight mills to the county for operations, two for the sinking fund, four to the schools and one to townships.

The allocation board, hoaded by County Treasurer Lillis Flanders will meet in the next few days for a new allocation, based on the new figures. A final allocation will not be set however, until interested parties have had opportunity to raise objections to the tentative allocation.

While the state almost doubled the county's equalized figures, it does not mean that taxes on property will be nearly doubled.

At this point it is not known definitely how much of an increase there will be in taxes. Two supervisors told the Courier this week that it looks like a 20 per cent boost throughout the county.

WHILE SUPERVISORS will use the state's figure of $25,138,426 as a base to work on, it seems virtually certain that much less than 15 mills will be levied. It must be remembered that only enough will be levied to pay for county operations, school budgets and township allocations.

On the old formula of 15 mills on the former county figures, it would have meant $140,000 for

New Draft Ruling Affects Married Men Without Children

The files of all Charlevoix registrants classified in the 3-A group are to be reviewed and the men processed for induction into the armed forces, the local draft board was advised this week by Selective Service Headquarters in Washington, D. C.

Included in this classification are all married men without children.

The order regarding those in Class 3-A as received by the local board follows: No registrant shall be placed in Class 3-A because he has a child not yet born unless, prior to the time the local draft board mails him an order for induction, there is filed with the local board the certificate of a licensed physician stating that the child has been conceived.

It is imperative that this order be followed to the letter by the registrants as concerns the local draft board will have no other choice but to send them for induction once they receive an induction notice.

All registrants classified in the 3-A group are also warned to notify the draft board if there is a change in their present status, that is if they have become fathers recently without notifying the draft board so their classification can be changed.

If 3-A registrants have any questions regarding their status they are advised to consult the draft board now and not wait until they have received an induction notice.

Five Charlevoix county registrants will be called for induction into the armed services Oct. 23.

How About New Street Signs in Charlevoix

Ask the mail carriers and the police officers. They'll tell you that it's very difficult to direct someone to an address when the streets used to guide the visitor carry impossible to read street signs.

Now that the winter months are ahead of us, it appears to be a good time to begin preparations for next spring and summer. Determine how many signs we need for the streets. They could be made this winter and put at the intersections next spring.

If you ever have searched for a street or a certain address and then had your troubles complicated by no or poor street signs, you will have a keen appreciation for bright, easy to read street signs.

We feel sure that the city council will do something about this situation during the next few weeks and take preliminary steps to assure Charlevoix the beautiful of new street signs.

In recent weeks the Courier has received several complaints of visitors who had difficulty finding a certain street in our beautiful city of Charlevoix.

This brings up the old subject of the need for new signs on our streets. It's been brought up before and while most people recognize the need for decent street signs . . . little has been done about it.

This is not the first time the Courier has brought it up, either. Twice we were told that the city would undertake a project during the winter months to make new signs. That was two winters ago.

The Courier in co-operation with a couple of co-operative mail carriers made a survey of the street intersections in an effort to learn how acute the need for street signs was.

It was found that close to 80 percent of the streets are poorly marked for the visitor to our city. And it will have to be admitted, Charlevoix is still a tourist city, catering to the needs of transients, many of whom haven't the vaguest idea where Sheridan street is.

A Big Step Toward Tyranny

President Truman has just put into the hands of all federal officials a favorite weapon of tyranny — the power to censor. He undoubtedly believes this is necessary for security reasons, and he declares it is not censorship. But it is the power to censor.

In extending to other departments of government the authority — hitherto exercised only by the Defense and State Departments — to withhold information on security grounds he is opening the way to serious abuse. He recognizes that there is danger, for he warns officials that the purpose is to keep information out of the hands of potential enemies, not to "withhold nonsecurity information or to cover up mistakes made by any officials."

But what adequate means are provided for preventing these very abuses? The chief damage may be done by officials who merely wish to "play it safe." But if one should wish to "cover up," what chance has the public or the press of preventing him? Mr. Truman rejected a proposal to permit appeal to the courts against an official's refusal to give information.

Bureaucratic government has been growing apace. The complexities of modern society and political pressures have led to a situation where administrative agencies enjoy very great discretionary and arbitrary power. Their decrees are "law" for multitudes. These agencies already exercise one form of control over information — they have an army of public relations officers to give out a favorable account of their activities. To hand them power also to clamp the lid on unfavorable facts is indeed dangerous.

The scandals now coming to light in connection with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and the Internal Revenue Bureau underscore the point. They lift a corner of the curtain on continuing efforts to influence official action by gifts and political pressure. Surely there are ways to tighten legitimate security requirements without taking this long step—unconscious though it may be—toward tyranny.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

The Courier didn't anymore than reach the street last week then we heard some news that could hardly wait til this week . . . The adoption of a 22 months old son, Billy, by the Joe Williamses . . . It was really a great day for the whole family . . . Guess he's just about the most welcome guy you can imagine . . . And he's cute too, they tell us . . .

THE CHARLEVOIX Rayders will go to Gaylord this week . . . they'll play the game before this gets to you . . . but we'd like to go on record as having wished them luck and letting them know they're ace high in our book . . . They lost to East Jordan last week . . . thus ending a long and illustrious record of 42 games without a loss . . . It was a hard game to loss . . . we grant you, and no one felt any worse than those kids who were on the field . . . But for those of you who are saying it shouldn't have happened and such things . . . go back to the years before 1945 . . . Charlevoix had some mighty fine teams . . . and they didn't have good years like the past six years . . . We knew it had to come some time and we're just a little glad it's over . . . Now those kids . . . and they're only kids . . . can play ball and not have two strikes on them before they ever set foot on the field . . . And now's as good a time to start another winning streak . . .

IN MENTIONING the wonderful September weather last week, we spoke a little too soon . . . Things really broke loose Wednesday with leaves, branches and everything else that wasn't battened down flying in every direction . . . The worst part of the storm for our money was the beaches and the trees that were damaged . . . the old mountain ash tree in the Warner yard that's stood there for years and years . . . an old maple on River street . . . an equally old oak tree in the Cooper yard on Ainslee . . . another big tree on Sheridan . . . just to name a few . . . To us it's always tragic when a tree is damaged . . . It has taken so long to grow so big and old and dignified and it's all over in the twist of a wind . . .

BUT DESPITE the winds Mrs. George Clark called last Wednesday to tell us she had white roses in bloom . . . Other fall flowers are blooming still even though they were damaged by the driving wind, hail and rain . . .

If Charlevoix looked deserted Saturday it was because everybody who could beg, borrow or buy a ticket to the Michigan-Michigan State game was in Ann Arbor to watch the football game . . . If you were a Michigan State fan you saw what you went for . . . including an opportunity to see the Carey twins in action . . . From now until the season ends . . . all roads will lead to Machelin stadium . . .

YOU'VE HEARD of the top man on a totem pole . . . but the bottom man in a heap of football players . . . well, he's harder to identify . . . If you wondered who was on the bottom of the heap in the football picture of the Boyne City game last week it was guard Nathan Boss . . .

And speaking of football . . . Harold Dutcher is offering a bit of advice . . . Don't ever go to a big game like the Michigan-Michigan State game Saturday without a ticket . . . There's not much chance of picking up one at the last minute . . . He didn't get into the stadium until the third quarter when they opened the gates to all comers . . .

OUR APOLOGIES to Jim Gibbons . . . he's entered medical school at the U. of M. and not pre-med as we stated in our college round-up . . .

Other Careys besides Bob and Bill did allright over the week-end on the gridiron . . . Don Carey's Mason football team scored a victory over their arch rival, Charlotte, for the first time in 13 years . . . And Don and his entire squad and the many fans were really happy . . .

● Pictures of the children in this community are to be published in this newspaper as a special tribute to our young citizens. Tomorrow the responsibility for world destiny will rest heavily upon their shoulders. As Americans, they will meet those responsibilities without faltering. Among them, in the years to come, will be many with fame and fortune. But, just as they are right now . . . with the dawn of a greater tomorrow in their fresh young faces . . . we, the publishers, want a picture of these future professional men and women, teachers, scientists and, who knows, perhaps a future president of this great country. We want to publish these pictures in a forthcoming special feature. So, Mother and Dad, we will need your cooperation to help make this event a colorful and inspiring exhibit!

Arrangements have been made with The Wolts-Allen Studios, nationally known children's photographers, to take the pictures for us at the time and place given below. All you have to do is bring your children as our guests. There is no charge or obligation. However, all children must be accompanied by one parent or other guardian.

You do not have to be a subscriber to this newspaper and you do not need to purchase photographs, although you may do so if you wish. Just bring your children down and have the pictures taken. Later you will be shown proofs from which you select the pose you prefer having printed in the paper. The pictures will be published at a later date. It is as simple as that!

You can clip these pictures from the paper and thus obtain a memento of childhood which will become a treasured keepsake and memory record for both you and your children when they grow up.

18,000 Bow, Arrow Hunters Expected

LANSING—As many as 18,000 bow and arrow hunters may stalk deer in the 36-day season which gets underway October 1, the conservation department estimates.

The record set last year, 15,743 licensed big game archers has an excellent chance of being topped with the fast growing favor of bow and arrow style hunting. Steady increase in archers has been noted since 1945 when only 1,800 purchased licenses.

Liberalization of the 1951 season permits the taking of either sex deer in more counties than before. Male or female deer may be hunted through November 5 in every county in the state except Keweenaw, Houghton, Dickinson, Menominee, Emmet, Cheboygan, Otsego, Clare Chippewa save Drummond island and parts of Bay and Huron. In listed counties only male deer with three-inch or more antlers continue to be lawful. Either sex whitetails are legal through December 15 in Allegan county.

Any archer who does not get his limit of one deer is eligible to purchase a gun license to hunt in the general firearm season November 15-30.

Resident bow and arrow deer and bear license again is $3.50.

Case Centennial plows have an outstanding record for clean work in heavy, soil-enriching cover crops. These plows provide that deep, well-crumbled root bed which does so much to get crops off to a vigorous, early start—ahead of weeds, bad weather, and insects. With such outstanding performance go light draft, easy hitching and simple adjustment.

Cherry has a long record of arrests dating from his childhood when he was sent to a Michigan vocational school. Since then he has been in and out of jails on various counts including many narcotics offenses which date back to the 1920s.

Urge Children to Eat Bigger Breakfasts

A quick return to "family" breakfasts was urged by State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis.

"Far too many Michigan grownups are eating poor breakfasts or no breakfasts at all; far too many Michigan school children are starting their day underfed," the Commissioner said, and added:

"If your family is used to slighting its breakfast, you don't know how good and how happy you can feel, until you regularly sit down together to steaming bowls of cereal topped with fresh fruit and milk, a plate of piping buttered toast and possibly a platter of scrambled eggs edged with crisp bacon.

"Teachers know that the child who eats a better breakfast has a better day, is more attentive, more alert and less irritable."

Severe Damage Reported in Area From Two-Day Heavy Windstorm

Utility lines are again in order and the debris of storm cleared away after repair and clean-up crews worked for several days following one of the worst September storms to hit this area.

Southwest winds up to 50 miles an hour Wednesday and Thursday had part of the city without lights several times when the storm seemed to reach its peek after trees or parts of trees were toppled into telephone and electric lines, utility poles on the Marion Center road near the Belvedere golf course were blown over, crashing three transformers to the ground. Lesser damage reported elsewhere in the community.

Because of the high water in the lakes, extensive damage was reported along the shoreline where waves were washed over the sea-wall at the public beach on Lake Michigan, washing away much of the sandy beach and undermining concrete bases which held playground equipment.

THE ENTIRE beach area suffered some damage with sand as well as wood and other material stored under terraces and along sea-walls being washed away by the heavy sea.

A tree near the Miller residence on Antrim st. and a part of another tree a short distance down the street were blown over by the gusty winds, breaking wires and cutting electric service to parts of the valley and the entire north side for 45 minutes. Later in the evening service was cut for a shorter time. Current to the Belvedere Golf club was off until mid-morning Thursday.

Elsewhere in the area, particularly in the Boyne City and Little Traverse Bay districts, damage was even more severe.

At Boyne City the top of the large municipal dock which jutted into Lake Charlevoix was swept away by wind and pounding waves. Small boats tied at the dock were broken from their moorings and Memorial Park at the waterfront was inundated and the shoreline damaged by the waves.

ALTHOUGH no main roads in the county were washed out, several running close to Lake Charlevoix suffered minor damage. At the heighth of the storm Wednesday evening the Ironton ferry was out of operation because of the wind and high water.

Little Traverse Bay from Petoskey to Harbor Point was pounded by the wind and water and severely damaged.

Docks were washed out, roads undermined or washed out, causing many thousand dollar damage in the resort areas that include Bay View, Roaring Brook, Wequetonsing, Romona Park, Harbor Springs and Harbor Point.

Meet the Rayders

B. Denemy F. Jolliffe B. Jolliffe B. Berber

Bill Denemy, 17, a senior, a letterman at Petoskey last season who transferred here this fall and is playing fullback here, is 8 ft., 170 pounds. The son of Mrs. Clara Denemy.

Fred, 10, a junior, who will play half hack this season, is 5 ft. 8 in. 150 pounds.

Bob, 15, a freshman, who will be an understudy in the fullback spot, is 5 ft. 9 in., 155 pounds.

They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe.

Bud Barber, 17, who plays ends and takes care of the kicking and punting duties for the team. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Barber.

Supervisors to Meet Following Boost

the county including the sinking fund and roughly $56,000 for the schools plus a mill to the townships which showed a need for it.

County Clerk S. R. Bulow emphasied that supervisors may levy only enough to balance the budgets for the units in the county.

The state equalized assessments in Charlevoix at $7,179,447 as compared with $3,860,050 set by the county last spring. Boyne City's new equalization is $3,684,268, up from $1,912,460 and East Jordan's new equalization is $2,553,815, up from $1,523,540.

Mr. Nims said that Charlevoix county and the rest of northern Michigan have not been keeping pace with actual values of property on today's market. The state's figures roughly represent 60 percent of the actual resale price.

MANY OF THE townships in northern Michigan have not boosted assessments for 20 years, he said. The raising of equalization in Charlevoix county brings to 59 the number of counties which have been equalized in the state by tax experts.

He added that the state report should provide a yardstick whereby township assessors may have a better idea of what the assessments should be.

Nims commended Charlevoix county supervisors for doing a good job, a better job than in most counties.

In advising the supervisors, Nims said "Generally speaking if counties are properly assessed, 15 mills should be sufficient for all needs." In response to a question, he said that the average millage for schools is 7½ mills in Michigan.

Governor Picks Winner

Mrs. Leo Carey allows that Gov. Williams was very tactful at the Michigan State-U. of M. game Saturday. During the first half he had seats in the U. of M. section. At the beginning of the second half he took seats directly in front of Mr. and Mrs. Carey in the Michigan State section. The Careys shook hands with the governor and report that he did a good job of rooting for State while in their company.

$46,000 More Needed To Hit Goal

SOME $6,000 more was raised this week toward the total $525,000 cost of the new hospital, making $204,000 to date, according to Mrs. Kit Carson and Theodore Malpass, co-chairmen of the drive, in the second week of the drive's advance phase. This is a total of $204,000 to date, leaving $21,000 to be raised so that government funds of $275,000 will be confirmed by Nov. 8, and $46,000 more, in all, necessary for the total cost of the building.

APPOINTMENT of Mrs. Amandus Evers of Hayes township, and Dean Davenport of Charlevoix, as co-chairmen for the public phase of the campaign, was announced. This, the final four-week period of the drive, is to begin Oct. 15. Three-year pledges of from $50 to $150, generally speaking, will be sought by teams under the direction of co-chairmen in every village and township of the hospital's service area in Antrim and Charlevoix counties.

Mrs. Evers and Mr. Davenport jointly stated, "It is a big job to complete the rasing of $250,000 in the communities of this area, so that an adequate new hospital for its people may be built and equipped. We think all will agree it is a must that is justified."

MEETING IN Ellsworth on Sept. 26 community leaders of the village and Banks township organized for the public campaign in that district. After invocation by Rev. Herbert Diller, Elmer Rood, who presided, stated that the percentage of patients served annually in the hospital at Charlevoix had increased in Ellsworth and the township from 7½% in 1949 to 9.2% in 1950. A quota of $18,500 was adopted because, as Rood said, "Our people here will do their share, shoulder to shoulder, with all other villages and townships in the hospital's area of service."

The campaign was discussed by Theodore Malpass, campaign co-chairman, Conrad Klooster, co-chairman of the sponsors committee, H. B. Schofield of the campaign planning committee, and Dr. J. J. VanDellen. Appointed as village co-chairmen in Ellsworth for the public campaign were Robert Smalley and Henry VanderArk. Banks township co-chairmen named were Mrs. Harvey Essenberg and Milford Tyrrell.

To serve with Gerrit John Drenth, co-chairman of the area special gifts committee in the advance campaign, the following were named: Bernie DeYoung, Hans DeYoung, Marvin Elzinga, Walter Rood, Henry Ruis and Wesley Shooks.

Bow and Arrow

Dr. W. Clair Cartier and Harold Sears of Grand Rapids visited in Charlevoix Sunday enroute to the upper peninsula where they intended to hunt deer with bow and arrow.

Gordon Neff, Fred Kohler and Orva Richardson hope to bring down a deer while hunting with bow and arrow on Drummond island. They left Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. John Grupa left Tuesday for Winona, Minn., where they were called by the death of the former's sister-in-law, Mrs. Stanley Grupa. The store will be closed for the remainder of the week.

Hot Platter

A radiant heat platter which warms up to 300 degrees within a few minutes is now available. The platter will hold a complete dinner—even a roasted turkey and all the trimmings—and keep it hot indefinitely. The radiant heat warms food without drying it out. Also, the platter is made of heat-treated glass that is unbreakable and easy to clean.

Schools Push Crusade For Freedom Drive

The schools of Charlevoix county are making a concentrated drive in support of the Youth Crusade for Freedom which sends out messages of truth and hope to the peoples behind the iron curtain.

Last year 16 million Americans signed the Freedom Scroll and contributed one and one third million dollars in sums ranging up from a penny. These funds were used to build the powerful new Radio Free Europe Station in Munich which began broadcasting May 1st.

This year the Crusade hopes to receive contributions for at least two more Freedom stations and to have at least 25,000,000 enrollments, each one signifying a re-declaration of belief in the American birthright of freedom, with liberty and justice for all.

Mr. L. E. White, superintendent of schools in Boyne City, is county chairman of the Crusade. Mrs. C. C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools is secretary and Mrs. Hazel Evers of the county board of education is treasurer. Chairmen of the four high school districts are: R. G. Bennett, Charlevoix; Maurice Dixon, Boyne City; Max Damoth, East Jordan; Archie Cook, Boyne Falls. The teachers of the rural schools are leading the drive in those districts.

First Phase of REA Building Is Finished

Boyne City—Completion of the first stage of construction of Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative's steam plant at Advance was announced today by Manager A. E. Steinbrecher. The power cooperative spokesman also stated that the contract for the second part of the multi-million dollar construction project had been awarded to Owen Ames-Kimball Company and that the Grand Rapids firm was already erecting structural steel framework for the main power plant building.

The first stage of construction which has now been completed was started one year ago. Included in this preliminary work was construction of a five hundred foot dock for receiving coal, dredging over 100,000 yards of sand from Lake Charlevoix to establish deep water approaches to the dock and to provide fill material for the plant site, the driving of over 10,000 feet of piling for building and equipment foundations, construction of the main building foundations and installation of underground facilities. This work was completed by the LaCrosse Dredging Corporation of Chicago and the Johnson-Greene Company of Ann Arbor.

Northern Michigan Electric Cooperative was established to provide electric power generation and transmission facilities for Cherryland Rural Electric Cooperative Association of Traverse City, Presque Isle Electric Cooperative of Onaway and Top O'Michigan Rural Electric Company of Boyne City.

Save Outer Leaves

When you buy lettuce, don't throw away any more of the green outer leaves than you can help, for these contain much more food value than do the whiter inner ones.

East Jordan Shatters Rayder Grid Streak Despite Galant Charlevoix Defense

The Rayders winning streak which carried into six football seasons and witnessed the Charlevoix gridders going 42 games without a loss, finally was halted.

Yes, the Rayders streak was ended by an East Jordan team last Friday 6-0. The play of Don Whiteford made the difference. His plunges and runs dominated the game ruined any chances the Rayders had for a victory.

But the Rayders looked good, even though they didn't win. It so happens that the long winning cycle of Charlevoix, longest in Michigan State scholastic history, had to come to an end sometime as all winning streaks do.

For years Charlevoix has been the scourge of northern Michigan Class C football teams. East Jordan which persistently has been difficult for the Rayders to defeat gained two ties and then finally broke through to shatter the streak.

This has been a rugged season for the Rayders, holding Boyne City to a scoreless tie in the opener and then facing East Jordan in the next week. But there is one thing that is traditional at Charlevoix. The players know how to lose gracefully, just as they win.

The Rayders played their hearts out in defeat against the East Jordan team. Several times it looked as though they were going to come through with at least a tie. But each time the breaks went against them.

The Rayder fans were on their toes when Jim Lewis broke away for a 45-yard gallop.

Then once it appeared the Rayders might score. Jerry Left took a punt and brought it back to the East Jordan 20. But Jordan stiffened and took the ball on downs a couple of minutes later.

The Rayders should develop into a stronger team as the season progresses. They always played a bang-up game, marked by good sportsmanship.

Win, lose or draw the community stands behind its Charlevoix teams. Let's start another streak. .

Rayders Put Up Good Fight in Losing Battle

It is nice seeing Mrs. Ralph Price around again.

I hear that the fishing isn't too good just now. I guess the storm was too much for the fish. However, the fish are expected to pep up as soon as the weather does.

IT'S A FIREBALL ENGINE

How does it feel to drive a Buick?

If you think perhaps we're hinting that it would be a good idea for you to try out a Buick—mister, you've never been so right.

It does a lot of things for you and to you that will be something new in your driving experience.

Take the way it feels beneath your hands on the wheel—eager and willing and anxious to please.

It spurts when you want to spurt—rolls with effortless momentum when you want to cruise.

When you take a curve, it snugs down to the road with sure-footed confidence.

After you make a turn, the front wheels instinctively seek a straight course. This car seems to guide itself.

When you come to a bumpy stretch, each separate wheel on its own coil spring steps you smoothly along on a level keel.

Then there's power that surges into action at a nudge of your toe—sends your speedometer needle soaring up to any speed the law allows, in a matter of seconds.

And there is also thrift—the gas-saving thrift that comes from a high-compression valve-in-head Fireball Engine found in no other car.

To top all this, there is Dynaflow Drive*—that feeds power in a steady, falterless flow—lets you ride relaxed in busy traffic or on a day-long cross-country drive.

We're willing to stand on the statement that no other car rides, performs or drives like a Buick.

But why take our word for it? Come in—take over one of these lively lovelies—and see for yourself.

NO OTHER CAR PROVIDES ALL THIS:

DYNAFLOW DRIVE* • FIREBALL ENGINE
4-WHEEL COIL SPRINGING • DUAL VENTILATION

Auditor General Sees End of Freedom in Brannan Farm Plan

"The United States Department of Agriculture under the skillful piloting of Mr. Charles Brannan has launched a major propaganda attack on the farm community throughout the country to join his Brannan Plan for federal subsidies and tight production controls down the throat of the American farmer," Auditor General John B. Martin said here today.

"Under the guise of what he calls the 'Family Farm Policy Review,' the Secretary of Agriculture has directed his employees throughout the country to call together farm groups everywhere for the purpose of obtaining an endorsement of the Brannan subsidy proposals," Martin said.

"DURING RECENT weeks I have been besieged by inquiries from farmers throughout the State of Michigan as to the purpose of this 'Family Farm Policy Review', the blueprint for which is contained in a 121 page document recently circulated to the agricultural community. There are three major objectives on which the department makes recommendations and seeks to obtain the approval of farmers:

"First, the Brannan Plan itself, referred to on page 45 of this extraordinary document. This program would put every farmer in the country on the federal payroll subject to rigid controls and would effectively end the freedom of the American farmer throughout the country.

"Second, the department seeks to extend the size and scope of its propaganda machine by asking for the approval of propaganda staffs in the field. At the present time, so-called information officers are limited to Washington and are not permitted to establish field offices. This is by reason of specific Congressional direction that no regional or state offices, which can be used for political and propaganda purposes, may be set up outside of Washington.

"Third, the Secretary of Agriculture seeks to 'integrate' the Extension Service into the Federal picture and thus establish direct federalized control over the Extension Service. This again is a direct invasion of state directed programs and an attempt to get control of the activities of County Agricultural Agents.

"The Farm Bureau and the Granges have very wisely run up the storm signals in regard to this program and farmers throughout Michigan can well be on their guard against this attempt to get approval for a take-over by Mr. Brannan."

Good Dairy Methods Mean More Milk

A two-quart bucket was large enough to hold the daily production of the average dairy cow in the United States back in George Washington's day.

But in Michigan in June, 1951, it was a far different story.

A twelve-quart water bucket would be running over before "Bossie" gave out the last two quarts of her daily average producton. Gerald Quackenbush, Michigan State College agricultural economist, finds the average Michigan cow on June 1 produced 27.4 pounds of milk. That's about 14 quarts.

Michigan herd production, reported by the federal-state crop reporting service, showed the average dairy cow in the state was second in production only to New York's cows. Michigan's average cow could stand right along side of those from Wisconsin, recognized as "America's Dairyland", and produce pound for pound in milk. The average production in both states was 27.4 pounds per cow.

Now Is Time To Plan Dairy Feed Needs

This is the time of year to plan your dairy herd feeds needs for the winter months ahead. If the roughage or feed grain supply is short of requirements, farmers should consider buying extra feed or reducing their livestock numbers now.

Some figuring now will also show if there is a surplus of feed crops that can be sold for cash, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

When planning feed requirements for the dairy herd many items must be taken into consideration. First, how much roughage is available and how good is the quality? High quality hay, fed liberally, should take care of two-thirds to three-fourths of the dairy herd's feed requirements. However, the lower the hay quality, the greater the amount of grain is needed for winter feeding.

Where corn silage is not available dairy herd owners should plan to provide 3 to 4 tons of hay per cow. If silage is available, 3 tons of silage will replace a ton of hay. This amount of roughage will make hay feeding possible from the middle of October to the middle of May.

If pasture provides feed during this time there will be a saving of hay, but it is well to have a small reserve supply in case of emergency.

The amount of grain needed for this period will be about 1,000 pounds to the cow. That's figuring on 30 pounds of milk per day and a light grain feeding, with good hay, of 1 pound of grain to 6 pounds of milk. If hay is of medium to poor quality, perhaps 1500 pounds of grain should be provided, Rebman stated.

Cows producing at higher levels will require more grain. An additional supply of grain would be good insurance if pastures are short next spring and summer. If not needed the grain can be marketed when another crop is assured. Feed for the young stock should be added in to get the total feed supply needed for the milking herd, Rebman reminded dairymen.

Morale

Morale has been casually described as 'a lot of little things.' Whether we can precisely define the quality or not, we all know what it means. It is a term most often applied to armies, perhaps, or to groups of people faced with grave problems of feeling and action. But, it has an individual meaning, too. And its synonym is spirit.

'52 Bean Support Price Presents Problem

Michigan farmers who raise dry edible beans are asking themselves, their county agents and Michigan State college specialists, "Should I make use of the government price support program this year?"

The difference between the current paying price and the support guarantee price is causing many farmers to wonder about it.

Clarence Prentice, Michigan State college extension agricultural economist, said today that the decision depends largely on the price of beans at the time the producer is ready to sell them.

Prentice said that all bean producers in the state are eligible this year to take part in the price support program, and it is the same over the whole state for each specific class of beans. Pea or navy beans, red kidney and cranberries are supported this year.

Growers have the option of storing beans on the farm or in an approved commercial warehouse up through next April. The grower then can turn the beans to the government on that date or dispose of them before April 30, according to the program rules.

Support prices on cleaned and bagged pea or navy beans is $7.94, red kidneys $9.29, and cranberries $8.64. Expected handling, cleaning and bagging charges are 95 cents a hundred for white beans and $1.25 for the colored beans, plus the picking charge.

To qualify for the support price the producer must sign up at the county PMA office by January 31, 1952, Prentice explained.

State GOP Gets Action On Old Age Pension

Lansing, Mich.—Action to increase old age assistance benefits and expand the tuberculosis care program in Michigan resulted from the recent special session of the Legislature.

The Legislature decided against appropriating money for State flags for Michigan servicemen overseas because of an Army regulation, but the Republican Party of Michigan offered to buy a State flag for any group of 25 or more Michigan men on overseas assignment. Requests should be sent to the Republican State headquarters at Lansing.

Under the Republican old age assistance program, the State will match increased grants by the Federal government to compensate for the rising cost of living. Federal legislation is expected to go into effect soon and the maximum grant fixed will be $70 monthly, compared with the present $60. Republican leaders pointed out that the GOP program consistently has been to increase OAA benefits to help elderly people meet rising costs, and that a review of costs is being made now which undoubtedly will result in increased grants to everyone.

City Surveys Visiting Boatmen For Ways to Improve Facilities

The summer of 1951 brought more pleasure craft into Charlevoix's land-locked harbor then ever before, thus proving that the boat business is a major part of the resort trade.

The harbor which affords unsurpassed protection in stormy weather and the facilities offered visitors play a major role in bringing the yachtsmen back year after year and bringing new boat owners here.

The city has improved the natural harbor by installing docks and slips and other desirable facilities, and services through the years.

THAT THERE is still much to be done is also realized and the city is working toward this end by making a survey among boat owners.

Through the Board of Commerce, the city has sent questionaires to all boatmen asking them to fill out the blanks and return them with their candid opinion of what can be done to make Charlevoix a better boatmen's haven.

When the survey is completed the city will make an effort to comply with their requests and in so doing, make Charlevoix's harbor the most desirable on the Great Lakes.

THAT CHARLEVOIX'S aims and plans for the future have reached the ears of other cities trying for the yachtmen's trade is shown in a letter received recently from John Hess, commodore of the Sturgeon Bay Yacht Club, asking for the results of the survey and how Charlevoix plans for visiting boatmen.

The letter addressed to the harbor commission reads in part: "It has come to our attention that your commission has done extensive survey work to determine the actual value to your community from yachtsmen."

"Certainly such a study brought forth some very interesting facts, and when they were brought to the attention of the city father and citizens of your city the yachtsmen were made more welcome and more was done to make their visits enjoyable."

"We would be very interested to heve you tell us about your survey or study and what the results are. All tha citiee loceted on the Greet Lekes should be on their toes to maka cruising end yachting more inviting and enjoyabla. The more boats plying tha weters, the more visitors thare will be.

"It is our hope that a study can be made here and that some of the things that you are doing can be accomplished here also for our interests are mutual with yours . . . safe and pleasant sailing."

"OUR MAIN reason for writing was that we heard that your survey had been very extensive and one of the best ever made along this line and that you have done much to encourage yachtsmen to visit Charlevoix.

"As we said before, if every harbor did the same as you have done, we would all be overcrowded. It is our hope that you might be able to help us start on the right path in making a survey here."

The survey mentioned above has not been completed to date, S. E. Coleman secretary of the Board of Commerce has revealed. However, most of the questionaires have been returned and with them many constructive suggestions on how to improve the facilities here. A report will be made when the results are compiled.

Hayes Farm Bureau Elects New Officers

The following officers were elected: Edward Shanahan, chairman; Robert Straw, vice chairman; Ruth Struthers, secretary; Alice Willis, publicity chairman; Phila Shanahan, recreation and song leader; Betty Straw, county womens committee; Fred Willis, hospital service chairman; George Smith, action committeeman; and Leo Berg, county chairman nominee.

Topic for discussion, Migrant Workers. The health conditions of migrant workers was discussed by the group.

In as much as there are great numbers of these workers needed in Michigan by the farmers in order to plant, care for and harvest the various crops that require a great deal of hand labor, it was reported that from surveys made in the past, there is a high rate of communicable diseases among some of the migrant workers; it was therefore resolved that Michigan Department of Health be empowered by law to require these migrant workers to have a health certificate before they could be employed on farms in Michigan.

Legion Activities Get Underway

Plans for American Legion activities this year got underway Tuesday evening at the regular monthly business meeting of Leslie T. Shapton post.

Annual Legion supper will be held Tuesday evening, Oct. 23. This will be a spread to which veterans of all wars be invited this year. Frank Poole will have charge of the meal.

A committee from the post will be named to confer with other veteran groups and the Charlevoix ministerial association to work out plans for the observance of Armistice Day, Sunday, Nov. 11.

8 Million Trees Set for Conservation

Michigan soil conservation districts are completing one of the biggest activities they sponsor during the year—tree planting, says R. G. Hill, soil conservationist at Michigan State college...

This spring, cooperators in soil conservation districts have planted approximately eight million trees, Hill reports. Most of the trees are planted on small areas on farms which are unsuited for crop production.

In many cases, plantings are made to establish windbreaks, stabilize eroding soils, or to provide food and cover for wildlife. Several districts own mechanical tree planters which are rented at a small cost to farmers, greatly speeding up the tree planting program.

In addition to the eight million seedlings planted, Hill advises that twelve districts have about 1,500,000 seedlings growing in seedling nurseries. Districts obtain their planting stock from State, Federal, and private nurseries.

Soil conservationists believe that tree planting will reach between fifteen and twenty million seedlings and transplants a year in soil conservation districts as the trees become available and if the general economic level remain high.

Childhood Diseases

The popular belief that "it is 'just as well' to let children contact the common infectious diseases of childhood, and 'get them over with,'" is being debunked. There is a need for protecting children from these diseases as far as possible because serious complications, such as bronchial pneumonia, in the case of measles, can result from them.

the assessed valuation of their property. In meny cases, tentative assessments ran less then 25 per cent.

One of the yardsticks used by the city in determining special assessments was the benefits accruing to the property owners. In other words a person owning property on Petoskey avenue would have more benefits than a person living further away from the sewer extension.

It is expected that the sewer project will be started this fall, barring unforseen obstacles. The sewer construction is said to be the first step toward getting a new paving along Petoskey avenue.

The city council unanimously adopted a resolution describing the sewer project. A legal notice described the project will be found elswhere in this week's Courier.

Hospital Drive Adds $4,000 During Week, Total Now $208,000

Some $4000 was obtained toward the minimum goal of $225,000 for the building of a new area hospital in Charlevoix, making the total raised to date some $208,000.

Most of the pledges reported last week came from the special gifts committee in Charlevoix, which is obtaining three-year pledges of from $100 a year to $165 a year or, in all, from $300 to $500 for each such pledge.

"Every leading citizen", said Fred Willis, president of the Board of the Hospital association, and a member of the campaign planning committee, "should, proportionate to his income, take a Memorial or become a sponsor.

The giving standards we have always used for other philanthropic needs are not apprapriata ta the problem of building and equipping a hospital. That is why we of the campaign cammittees are using the three-year pledge as a method of giving, and we are asking all prospectiva contributors to do the same."

MRS. HAZEL Evers of Hayes township and Dean Davenport of Charlevoix, co-chairmen for the public phase of the drive, announced the appointment of villaga and township co-chairmen as fallows:

Banks township, Mrs. Harvey Essenberg, Milford Tyrrell; Central Lake Mrs. Ruth Smith, Mrs. Guy White; Charlevaix, Mrs. O. V. Cunningham, Mrs. E. J. Edwards, Rev. L. L. Lewis, Miss Catherine Fitch; Ellsworth, Rahert Smalley, Henry E. Vander-Ark; Eveline township, Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Kemp; Hayes township, Forrest G. Brawn, Edward K. Shanahan; Ironton, Mrs. Elmer Doerr; Marion township, L. E. McGhan, Carlton H. Smith; Norwood township, Mrs. William Parsons. Name selection meetings are being held currently thraugh Saturday by each committee.

The public campaign, third and final phase of the drive, will be inaugurated with a dinner meeting of all workers on the evening of Tuesday, Oct. 16, in the Charlevoix High School Cafeteria at 6:30.

Richard W. Malpass has accepted the co-chairmanship of the public campaign for East Jordan. "In order to have an adequate hospital we must have a successful campaign," said Malpass.

"THE PRESENT area hospital in Charlevoix," he said, "is definitely inadequate, as well as a fire hazard. It will not become less so as the years go by. We in East Jordan are willing for the new hospital to be east of the road or west of the road, in Charlevoix, East Jordan, Ellsworth, or anywhere else in the area . . . Just so that money is subscribed to build and equip it.

The situation has reached the point where we are confronted with a choice of dollars or lives. I am impressed by the fact that one-fifth of all the patients served in the area hospital at Charlevoix last year came from East Jordan. In number this is equal to one-tenth of the population in our village. Consequently, in ten years, the equivalent of our entire papulation will have had hospital care from the Charlevoix institution. It is our hospital, too."

County Operations Tax to Be Levied on Base Created by State

A split millage levy was tentatively set by the Charlevoix county allocation board this week as the board of supervisors met to spread the tax roll.

A final allocation hearing will be held at 9 a.m. Saturday when taxing units may appear before the board to appeal its decision on the latest tax allocation.

The split levy provides: An allocation of 5.5 mills based on the new equalization figures—$25,138,426—for county operations and five mills on the old equalization figures for all schools with the exception of Bayshore, Murray, Burgess districts in Hayes townships which will receive six mills. The Undine district in Hayes which showed no need will not receive any millage.

The allocation discussions have have little effect on the city of Charlevoix this year as the tax for the year was spread last May. Any increase in equalization for the city will have to wait until next year's levy.

Meanwhile, the board of supervisors adjourned late Wednesday until 10 a.m. Thursday, Oct. 17, after meeting for three days in the October session.

THE ADJOURNMENT was dictated by the recent decision of the tax allocation board to hold final hearings Saturday. The supervisors will not be able to spread the winter tax roll under the new allocation plan until after the final hearing and until the supervisors have had oppartunity to make necessary alterations.

The tax levy of 5.5 mills for the county will raise $138,261 for operations of the county. The tentative budget set up for the county at the April session was $130,812. The county faces a deficit af some $44,000 at the closa af 1951.

The remainder of the millage levy, other than the county's 5.5 mills, was based on the county's equalized figures of $14.020.410 set by the supervisors last April.

At the subsequent allocatian meeting last spring the schools were allocated four mills. This has been raised to five mills on the old equalized base. Two mills for the county sinking fund and one mill to all townships except Charlevoix and Hayes, was allocated. East Jordan was given one-tenth mill.

On the former allocation made in June and allocated an the assessed valuatian figure of $14,020,410, the county received ten mills, eight for operational costs which would have yielded $112,163.00 and two mills for the courthouse sinking fund; one mill to all townships with the exceptian of Charlevoix and Hayes and faur to the schools.

Jordan Risks Spotless Record This Week at Boyne City

As the 1951 football season reached its mid-point this week, new names appeared in the top brackets of the northern Michigan class C league.

East Jordan with two league victories and no ties or defeats heads the list. This weekend they will meet Boyne City under the lights and their top position at stake. With the West brothers, Lyle, halfback, and Ron, end, returning to the Boyne line-up, they should be strengthened and can be expected ta give their traditional rivals a good fight.

In second place is Harbor Springs with two wins and a tie, who will be meeting the Rayders this week. They'll be aut to add one more scalp to their belt in an effort to keep their top standing.

Mancelona with one win and one tie has taken over third place and if they continue at their present speed should have little trouble with Pellston.

Charlevoix, the defending champions, have dropped to fourth place with one win, ane tie and one loss and will have their hands full this Friday stopping a determined Harbor eleven.

Boyne City with one tie and ane loss to date will find hard going against the Jordanites but with new strength could give the Red Devils a bad time despite their record.

Pellston and Gaylord, holding down the cellar positions will be meeting Mancelona and Hillman, respectively. Each team has a record of one tie and two losses, bath by close scores, and with determinatian to win behind them can be counted on to give any opponent a good game.

The scene of the northern Michigan league has changed in another sense too. Never, in recent years have heen their so many ties, low scores or close games. In way of explanation for this, most fans think it is because the majority of teams have fielded good defensive elevens but lack strength in the offensive department, thus keeping opponents from scoring but themselves lacking the push for more than one or two marches over the goal line.

Northern Michigan Class C standings to date:

	Won	Tie	Loss
Harbor Springs	2	1	0
Mancelona	1	1	0
Charlevoix	1	1	1
Boyne City	0	1	1
Gaylord	0	1	2
Pellston	0	1	2

Let's Watch How We Use That Knife

The "Little Hoover" committee which has been doing such a good job of analyzing state government expenditures in recent months, suggested the knife be applied to the $100,000 appropriation for advertising Michigan tourist and resort industry.

This suggestion has aroused vehement protests from most people connected with the tourist and resort business in the state. And rightfully so.

There has been criticism that Michigan has not been spending enough on tourist advertising. State officials handling the state's advertising in order to induce vacationers to visit Michigan instead of Wisconsin, California or Florida complain they do not have needed funds with which to carry on an effective advertising campaign.

While it is commendable that the "Little Hoover" committee is performing a long-needed task suggesting cuts in needless state expenses. The broad knife can be applied to the damage of certain activities.

It must be considered that neighboring states luring travelers and resorters spend many times the budget of the Michigan Tourist council. This tourist and resort business has become one of the most competitive of all businesses. If Michigan is going to get people to come to its lakes and woods, they are not going to come by mere accident.

The tourist today whether he be in Michigan or New York is shopping for his vacations like he never shopped before. He is going to go to the place which offers him the best time and the best facilities for the least amount of money.

Charlevoix county and the rest of northern Michigan have a vital stake in this advertising. We have been at a loss why Michigan does not put forth a larger budget aimed to obtain more visitors.

When it is remembered that tourist and resort business ranks along with automobile manufacturing and agriculture in cash income to the residents of this state, that $100,000 is a paltry figure compared with the amount used by other states with less business and fewer natural resources than Michigan.

The next time you see Michigan advertised in out of state newspapers and magazines, see how much space other states contract for and you'll see the necessity why other areas are trying to take the play from Michigan. This state has ranked along with Florida and California in attracting visitors.

Let the state leaders use the pruning knife judiciously in applying cuts to existing appropriations. There is plenty of fat but let them not cut something like the tourist and resort advertising. It should be expanded in these days of close competition.

This Is the Season for the Pesky Cold

The first seasonal wave of colds and other nose and throat ailments is now hitting Michigan, the State Health Department reported today.

If each person with a cold will take his cold out of circulation, go to bed and call a doctor if his symptoms persist, it will do more to cut down absenteeism from business, industry and schools in the next six months than any other measure, the Department said.

Colds are spread by people who have colds. No one is immune and there is no preventive; but a healthy body, given half a chance will quickly fight off a cold. If a cold hangs on, call a doctor. Use of antihistamines or "cold cures" without doctor's prescription can be dangerous.

To protect yourself from a cold and complications such as sinus, tonsil and ear infections, bronchitis, influenza and pneumonia, the Health Department recommends:

Try to avoid people with colds.

Keep your general health good by getting plenty of sleep regular, well-balanced meals; plenty of liquids, and some out-of-door exercise each day.

Don't lower your resistance by getting too tired, over-heated, chilled or wet. Dress according to the weather and the temperature in which you must work.

Let some fresh air and sunshine into your home, school, office and factory. It's as bad to stay in dried-out, dust, chemical, or smoke-laden air as it is to sit in a draft.

Go to bed at the first sign of a cold and stay there if you can. If you can't, get as much rest as possible and do all you can to keep your cold out of circulation.

In the winter of '45 he returned to his homeland and only an occasional Christmas card to his friends here told us he was still around but nothing of what he was doing . . . Until last week Junior Boss who now lives in Grand Rapids had a long letter from him . . . He's still in love with this country and he wants to come here to live . . . He's the kind of guy who gets what he wants so we'll wait and see . . . But we're betting that sooner or latter Dusty will turn up . . . And it will be good to see him again.

WE'VE BEEN TELLING you about other people's roses and other unusual flowers in bloom at this time of the year but never noticed our own til Harry Ladd brought it to our attention . . . When you go past the Courier office please note the white roses in bloom . . . And on the north side it's not the last rose of summer but the last hollyhock of autumn . . . the Frank Glassfords have several stalks in full bloom despite the wind and the rain . . .

If you don't like the weather here . . . just think what it was like at Big Rapids, Cadillac, Roscommon, Mancelona and other places much farther south . . they had snow . . . enough to cover the ground . . . Of course it melted a while later but who wants that white stuff so early . . .

Did you notice the lumbering project underway at the corner of Auld and Petoskey aves. . . . Some of those maples on the Palmer property are being cut down so there'll be more light around the lovely home there which in the summer-time is really blotted out by the leaves . . . .

Another Easter lily plant is in blossom . . . this time it's one belonging to Mrs. Henry Isaksen and had three blossoms and a bud when she shared the unusual sight with the members of the Church of God by bringing it to church Sunday . . .

Longines Group Opens Concerts

When the Longines Symphonette comes to Petoskey next Monday, October 15, the conductor will be the famous Mishel Piastro, the only conductor that orchestra has had during its long and honored radio career.

The presentation of the Longines Symphonette is the first in the series of four programs in 1951-52 by the Northern Michigan Community concert Association. They will appear in the Petoskey High School Auditorium and this will mark the first time the association has attempted to bring such a large organization to northern Michigan music lovers.

This concert ensemble has had an established reputation in the United States and Canada.

They broadcast regularly on Sunday afternoons over the entire CBS Network of 166 stations, in addition to many NBC, ABC and Mutual stations at various other times.

The Longines specialty is the playing of shorter selections, or composers, as well as many "movements", by the greatest "lighter" pieces. Many people commonly refer to them as the average man's symphony orchestra. The magnificence of their playing is achieved through using only New York City's finest musicians under Mishel Piastro, who was Toscanini's Concertmaster many years with the New Cork Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

Their concert in Petoskey on Monday night, Oct. 15th under the auspices of the northern Michigan Community Concert Association will be one engagement in a ten week tour, and their second extended "personal appearance tour" away from New York City. Their first extended trip was an eight-week tour in the fall of 1950 thru the Midwest and South, followed by a four week tour of the Eastern States and Canada.

Admission to this and all other concerts is by membership in Northern Michigan Community Concerts Association.

Each week one or two of the students at the Ironton school will report the school news. We are all interested in the activities of the children of Ironton. Here's the news for this week:

A new stoker was installed in the school Saturday. This makes it possible to heat the playroom. All desks were refinished.

New science, reading and geography books have been purchased. The children are happy to welcome two new students, Bruce and Steven Kroll. By the way, all the students are happy to be back after their summer vacation. The school will take part in the music festival to be held in Charlevoix on October 24. I would like to say thanks to everyone for being so co-operative and for all your nice comments. Until next week . . .

Controlled Hunting Gaining in State

Lansing—Including 11,000 new acres, over 158,000 acres of southern Michigan private land will be opened to controlled hunting this fall with the conservation department approving 48 Williamston plan clubs.

Lower peninsula small game season starts October 15.

Through the co-operative plan, farmer groups permit hunting by ticket only, lessen the trespass problem, and yet open acreage to limited hunting which otherwise might be closed.

At least one club will operate in each of 21 counties; 19 of the clubs are in Kent, Shiawassee, Clinton and Eaton counties.

Signs to identify individual club areas will be delivered to landowners by October 10. About 40,100 signs will be distributed including 35,430 boundary, 2,870 gate and 1,800 safety and refuge types. Farmers can issue a maximum daily total of 11,258 hunting permits, with each farmer allowed from two to four of these tickets, to be given out and returned daily during hunting season.

Miss Elizabeth Dhaseleer and Harvey B. Mosher repeated their wedding vows before an altar decorated with candelebra and baskets of fall flowers, at a nuptial high mass at the St. Joseph Catholic church, October 6.

Those from away to attend were, Mr. and Mrs. John Dhaseleer, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dhaseleer and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Olack, Mrs. William Parsons, Mrs. Guy Stutzman, Mrs. Joseph Stutzman from Charlevoix; Mrs. Peter McCauley, Mr. and Mrs. William Ricksgers, Mr. and Mrs. George Ricksgers, Mr. John Ricksgers from Beaver Island; Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Ricksgers and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ricksgers and children from Alden; Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Long and daughter, Mrs. Margaret Evans and Miss Katherine Ricksgers from Pontiac; Mrs. Harvey G. Safety Rules Pay

Most highway accidents can be prevented if drivers will follow five basic safety principles, says David Steinicke, extension safety specialist at Michigan State College.

They are: keep your car in top mechanical condition; obey all triffic laws and regulations; adjust your speed to road conditions; never take a chance; and always be courteous.

seven yards, Jerry Left broke through for the marker. The try for extra point was not good.

The game was another one in which the defensive work stood out for both teams. Charlevoix got down into pay dirt only once. But that was enough to win.

The Rayders stopped the Blue Devils on two occasions when it appeared that the losers were going to break through for a touchdown. During the second period, the Rayders snagged a Blue Devil fumble on the Charlevoix 20 yard line. Then in the final period, the Blue Devils drove close to pay dirt but missed a first down by inches. The Rayders took the ball on downs to nullify the most serious threat.

Charlevoix picked up five first downs in the game, all in the second half, and Gaylord, four. The Rayders clicked on two passes in nine attempts and collected 134 yards in rushing compared with Gaylord's 80.

Michigan Mirror

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gana Alleman
Lansing Observer for Michigan Press Association

Michigan has been in the furor of political prognostication.

Who's going to do what . . . and when?

Thus far, and the smoke has cleared away enough for normal vision, Secretary of State Fred M. Alger Jr. of Grosse Pointe is still the only avowed G.O.P. candidate for governor.

Friends of Lieut. Governor William C. Vandenberg of Holland insist he will be a candidate. And linked to Vandenberg by persistent rumors is the name of Wilfred (Bill) Doyle of Lansing and Mackinac Island, chain store legislative agent and former state senator from Menominee in the UP, as a possible candidate for lieutenant governor. This smiling Irishman is chairman of the citizens' committee for reorganization of state government and is committed to governmental economy. He holds the confidence of both Alger and Vanderberg and knows Michigan politics thoroughly.

Owen J. Cleary (now G.O.P. state central committee chairman) was thought to have gubernatorial aspirations for a while, but dopesters now rank him as a candidate for secretary of state, the job now held by Alger.

KIT CLARDY, Lansing attorney, suggested that he might run for U. S. senator "if there is a demand" to oppose Blair Moody, the active young campaigner appointed by Gov. Williams to succeed the late Sen. Vandenberg. Clardy, once defeated for U. S. representative, still has his eye on that spot.

John B. Martin, Jr., of Grand Rapids, current auditor general, still has the inside track for the senatorial G. O. P. nomination. Kelly is still in the background, well camouflaged, Arthur Vandenberg, Jr., is being boosted by one or two groups . . . but both have yet to declare themselves and get campaigns under way.

THE NEW FEDERAL Tax bill is going to cost Michigan taxpayers some $276,580,000 more in taxes. Individual income taxes will account for an additional $92,117,000 more than they are contributing now. Miscellaneous taxes, $53,593,000.

Michigan stands among the top contributors to Uncle Whiskers' tax kitty, along with New York, Pennsylvania, Illinois and California. Reason: concentrated industry and agriculture.

Lions Club Lauded At District Meeting

together. The training is given by four of the world's 15 best trainers.

Most Leader-Dogs, he related, are German Shepherds, German Boxers and Labrador Retrievers. Occasionally Collies and other breeds that measure up to the League's rigid standards are used.

The school buildings include a comfortable dormitory where the blind trainees live while at Rochester, living quarters for tariners, modern kennels, a dog hospital and diet kitchen.

The school has a simulated city block on its grounds which has most of the devices such as curbs, barriers, broken sidewalks, hydrants and other devices dangerous to the blind. Use of the course makes possible hours of practice, resulting in better coordination and increased confidence.

Later the blind master and his Leader-Dog work together, always with a trainer, on the streets of Rochester before going to the city of Pontiac where they have the opportunity to put into practice all the training received earlier.

Mr. Pocklington went on to say that dogs are accepted when they are between the ages of one and two years. It is important that dogs be reared in a normal home atmosphere, he said, so he will know how to act when he returns to the home of his blind master.

The dogs are carefully screened before being accepted for the two-months training period. They must have size, good health, sound nervous systems, high intelligence sense of responsibility friendly disposition and even temperment.

Only dogs which have met exacting standards go on to become Leader-Dogs. One of the most important skills of Leader-Dog work is the matching up of just the right dog to the personality of the future master.

The League trains six blind persons per month and averages about 66 a year. The lack of funds has held the program to this minumum.

The League estimates the cost of teaching a dog-master combination at $1200. Of this amount the blind person is expected to pay $150 so that he will have a sense of possission as well as responsibility. The remainder of the cost is absorbed by the Leader-Dog League which is sponsored by the Lions organization and contributions from the United Health and Welfare and other sources.

The week of December 2-8 has been proclaimed Leader-Dog week when Lions clubs will solicit contributions for the League.

He completed his talk by urging the delegates to back the projects to which the Lions clubs are dedicated.

Lions 'Charlie' Charlevoix, doll decked out with a Charlevoix Lions Club pin, was presented to Mr. LaBlanc by Mrs. Walter Dow of Petoskey who had won it earlier in the day. "Charlie" will visit each of the 10 clubs in tha district, accompanied on each move by no less than four delegates from the club he last visited. The stunt is to promote Lionism and better relations among clubs in the area.

A smorgasbord dinner was served at 5:30 p.m. and was enjoyed by more than a hundred delegates and their wives. More than 50 were present for the luncheon at noon. The wives of delegates were entertained with games during the day.

Self-Employed Persons to Pay Social Security

Self-employed persons should plan on paying an extra tax, possibly as much as $81, when they file their next income return, William E. LaRock, manager of the Traverse City Social Security admisistration, announced. About 4½ million self-employed persons became covered by the Social Security Act for the first time on January 1, 1951.

"The only action which a self-employed person needs to take now is to obtain a social security card, or a duplicate card if the original has been lost," Mr. LaRock said.

"As a matter of fact," Mr. LaRock said, "this is the only action which is necessary at this time. "Self-employed individuals make only one report each year to the Social Security Administration regarding their net earnings. This report will be a supplement to the regular income tax return filed with the collector for their employees; therefore, in most cases no reports will be required until March 1952. There are, of course, exceptions to this rule," he pointed out, "such as where the self-employed individual goes out of business or dies during his taxable year. In these cases, reports could be made earlier."

According to Mr. LaRock, self-employed individuals, with the exception of farm operators and certain professional groups who were excluded by law, are covered on a compulsory basis. There are only two requirements to be met. One is that the business or profession is not one of the groups excepted by law. The other is that the individual have net earnings from self-employment of at least $400 during the taxable year. All individuals who meet these two requirements are covered and will be required to file an annual report on their net earnings.

Mr. LaRock stated that the law specifically exempted from coverage farm operators, physicians, lawyers, dentists, osteopaths, chiropractors, optometrists, naturopaths, veterinarians, architects, certified, licensed, registered or full-time accountants, Christian Science practitioners, professional engineers, and funeral directors. "If any individual in the above category is employed by someone else, then of course, he would be reported as an employee on his employer's regular quarterly tax return," he said.

Unless you have net earnings from self-employment of at least $400 for a calendar or taxable year beginning on or after January 1, 1951, it is not necessary for you to make the report at the end of the year. If, however, your net earnings are $400 or more, you must report and pay the social security tax on the first $3600 of such earnings. The tax rate is 2¼ percent.

Our Bank Says "Help Yourself"

People around here need lots of small change these days — what with candy, gum, cigarette and soft drink machines . . . pay phones . . . and those penny sales taxes.

Used to put a strain on our bank. Changing money took up a lot of time. Then the Chief Teller Happy Wilson, read about another bank using a "help yourself" change system. The directors decided to see if it would work here.

They set out some big shallow bowls full of nickels, dimes and pennies with a sign saying "MAKE YOUR OWN CHANGE." Works fine, too. At the end of the day the totals are never more than a couple of cents under—or over—the right amount.

From where I sit, folks everywhere are pretty much alike, although they may seem different. Farmers and city folks, Republicans and Democrats, those who enjoy a glass of beer occasionally and those who prefer something else—we all usually try to live up to the trust others have in us.

Rayders Look for Hard-Fought Contest As Harbor Springs Points to Third Win

The Rayders got back on the winning road last week, after that derailment at the hands of East Jordan.

The Rayders, like many other teams in the Northern Michigan Class C conference, have not uncapped any sudden explosive power. Most of the conference games have been close, resulting in better football games for the fans.

At Gaylord, the Rayders made one scoring thrust during the game. But it was enough to win a 6-0 decision. The game was marked by good defenses rather than offensive onslaughts, so characteristic of other years.

The Rayders of Coach Del Terrill have played good consistent football so far. But so have the other teams. Many of the games have been decided by one touchdown or slightly more.

Another close one is shaped up here Friday when Harbor Springs takes on the Rayders. The Harborites bring a better record to Charlevoix this year than the Rayders have to date. Only a tie with Mancelona mars Harbor's otherwise spotless record.

Harbor looked strong against Pellston, walking off with a 6-0 decision, but the actual margin should have been larger. It's been several years since Harbor has measured Charlevoix on the gridiron. And you can bet your odd buttons that Harbor will go all out to score their first victory over the Rayders since 1945.

The Rayders appear to be growing stronger as the season progresses. They should be up for the Harbor game in an attempt for their second victory. The line has played a good brand of defensive ball this sason, holding the Rayders opponents to a total of 12 points thus far.

The Harbor boys are nursing hopes that they can keep in the thick of the fight for the league leadership. East Jordan who plays Boyne City is the league leaders with two wins against no losses.

This means that Harbor is going to try to defeat Charlevoix to stay in the fight for top honors. Of course the Rayders will have something to say about all this planning as they have a few hopes themselves.

Two Stock Sales Listed for This Month in North

Farmers, 4-H club members and FFA boys who are in the market for native feeder cattle will have wide selections at two cooperative sales in Northern Michigan in mid-October.

According to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, the Northern Michigan Beef Breeders' Association has scheduled its sale for Gaylord on October 11. And Northern Michigan Hereford Calf Association will hold its sale at West Branch on October 18.

Both sales will start at 12:30 p. m., Rebman said, and cattle will be in the yards at both places on the previous day so prospective buyers will have a chance to look them over.

The Gaylord sale will have about 600 calves in its consignment. The West Branch sale will offer 100 yearlings and 700 calves.

Michigan State college animal husbandry staff members will help sort the calves into uniform lots, weight them and arrange the sale order. Truckers will be on hand at both sales so buyers can make arangements there to get the cattle to their own feed lots if they don't have trucks of their own.

Ventilating Barn Pays Off in Many Respects

There are three reasons for ventilating a dairy barn—they are to remove moisture, to control temperature and to remove odors, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today.

Moisture condensing in the barn will harm the health of the cattle and shorten the life of a barn. A fairly even temperature is more comfortable to the farm operator and to his cattle. Odors can be carried into the farm home or absorbed in the milk if they aren't removed.

To ventilate it satisfactorily a barn should be fairly tight with some insulation in the walls and ceiling. Hay on the mow floor will provide the ceiling insulation. Since dairy animals give off heat as well as moisture, the barn should be fairly well stocked to provide enough heat to keep the barn warm. An animal for 600 cubic feet is about right.

Mechanical ventilation requires a fan and electric motor, a temperature control mechanism, fresh air inlets and an exhaust outlet. The fan should provide 60 cubic feet of air per minute for each 1,000 pound animal up to 25 animals. Two fans that will provide 80 cubic feet per minute of fresh air per 1,000 pound animal are seeded for herds larger than 25 cows.

Fresh air inlets should be 60 square inches or larger, spaced evenly along each side of the barn 12 to 15 feet apart. Allow 20 square inches of opening for each 1,000 pounds of animal. Homemade fresh air inlets are satisfactory and many times are more desirable than commercial inlets.

Ventilation systems are most needed during the winter months. Summer time ventilation requires much more air than winter. Larger equipment is needed for fall and spring ventilation where it is desired to cool the barn.

Poultry, Egg Market Tips Given by MSC

If there's a difference of 20 cents or more a dozen between large and small eggs, the small eggs are the best buy.

This tip to consumers comes from Henry Larzelere, Michigan State college extension agricultural economist, who has studied the egg situation with the idea of helping consumers and farmers alike.

Larzelere points out that a large number of the pullets raised this year were hatched late and will not start laying large-sized eggs until December. That means that the usual fall price break will not occur until around the first of December.

Before that time, however, some of these pullets will be laying small eggs in large numbers. That's the reason for the difference in price.

Other good buys in poultry are coming up. He points out that late September and October is a good time to serve delicious fried chicken to the family. That is true because the supply of frying chickens is largest at this time of year.

Larzelere points out that live turkey prices in Detroit over the last 3 or 4 years have been higher for the "Christmas market" than at Thanksgiving time. For growers it means they might make more money by putting additional finish in their birds for the latter market.

BHC Stops Scratching

BHC makes pigs spend more time eating and gaining weight and less time scratching say Michigan State College livestock specialists.

The initials BHC are short for a complicated-sounding chemical called benzene hexachloride. No matter which name you use, it will do an effective job of ridding pigs of external parasites, such as hog mange, mites and lice, that make porkers scratch instead of grow.

MSC entomologists say it's safe to spray a swine herd with the chemical if it's done at least 30 days before marketing or butchering.

Looking Ahead

Potato production will be down about 20 percent—nearly the amount of last year's surplus. Prices should be strong.

Corn will show a moderate price weakness during harvest. This will be the time to buy although the support price (not less than $1.54 nationally) will discourage much cheap corn.

Near-record production of soy-beans and other protein producing crops will depress prices. Emphasize adequate protein feeding this coming year.

Dry edible bean prices will Government holdings from be below government support. previous support programs will continue to hold down prices. New beans of good quality will command a premium over old crop beans. Don't mix the two.

Egg prices are likely to hold up well until November. Winter and next spring prices will be somewhat depressed.

Hogs may go below $20 by November. Heavies will be discounted severely. May be well to sell hogs when they hit 220—slow gainers even earlier.

The total value of the nation's output of goods and services at current prices is estimated at an annual rate of 329 billion dollars for the second quarter, about 10.5 billion above the first quarter of 1951. This gross national product was 283 billion dollars last year.

Mrs. Henry Erber Heads 4-H Leaders

At a meeting, October 2 in the Community Building at Whiting Park 4-H leaders elected Mrs. Henry Erber of Boyne City as president of the Charlevoix County Leaders Club. For vice-president they elected Lyle Peters of Route 2, East Jordan and for secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ann Nasson. The election of officers was a part of the regular business meeting of the organization. The organization has been ably served in the past by Mrs. R. V. Liskum of Route 3, East Jordan. Plans for 4-H leaders meeting to be held October 15 were made and arrangements for the meeting are now complete. The meeting has been scheduled for 5:00 p.m. in the dining room of the Church of God in Charlevoix. A program designed to assist leaders with their 4-H program will be carried out. State club leaders Mollie Vasold and Kenneth Ousterhout will be present. The leaders will be served a potluck supper by the ladies of the Church of God.

Sheep Outlook Good

Sheep-raising looks like a good bet right now to Michigan State College animal husbandry specialists. The bright outlook is caused by continuing near-record high prices in prospect for lambs and wool.

And added to that pleasant prospect for sheep raisers is the fact that the number of sheep is low. Sheep require little labor and are tops for converting pasture and hay into money in the bank, the livestock specialists agree.

FARM CO-OPERATIVE MONTH

The social and economic position of Michigan's farm families has been greatly improved by the existence of farmer co-operatives throughout the state. These farmer-owned businesses have made it possible for the farmer to do a more efficient job of producing and marketing his products, thus raising the standards of Michigan agriculture.

There were 233 co-operative associations, with a membership numbering 178,820, operating in the interest of Michigan farmers last year. The total business done by these organizations was $252,610,000.

The accomplishments of these co-operatives are beneficial to all the citizens of Michigan, and should be given due credit and acknowledgment.

THEREFORE, I, G. Mennen Williams, Governor of the State of Michigan, do hereby proclaim the month of October, 1951, as in Michigan in recognition and appreciation of the importance of the farm co-operative movement in our state.

What's the fastest-growing line of trucks in America?

Look around you—in cities, on farms, at terminals and loading docks—wherever goods are moved on wheels.

More and more, the pay load's packed on a GMC.

You see those letters on medium and heavy Diesels, the most economical workers in their field. For GMC means first in Diesel power.

You see gasoline-powered GMC's front-running the highways of America—pace-setting delivery of the necessities of peace and war.

You see nimble bantamweights of the family—the highest-powered ½- to 2-tonners made—outpulling, outhauling every other truck in their class.

Ever wonder why GMC is gaining a greater percentage of the industry than any other truck-maker?

Ask the truck drivers themselves.

See the confident way they talk of the power plants, the broad-shouldered chassis—the way a GMC handles.

Ask about the tons they've hauled, the miles they've logged—the nip-and-tuck schedules they've licked time and again.

Ask these cost-wary haulers why they've made GMC the fastest-growing fleet in the land.

They'll tell you it's because GMC is the finest motor truck made.

Electricity May Provide Solution To Eliminating Lamprey Menace

Ann Arbor, Mich.—Electricity may be the weapon to end the sea lamprey's winning streak in its destructive game against fish in the upper Great Lakes.

Researchers on the staff of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service's Great Lakes fishery investigations, headquartered in this Michigan city, are finishing up their second year of intensive search for the best way to control these eel-like parasites which suck the blood and body juices of trout and other valuable commercial and game fish.

Recently they began to experiment with various electrical barriers which stun the lampreys and stop them from reaching their upstream spawning grounds. If all devices tested, fishery biologists say, the electrical barrier may prove to be the most economical and efficient if its harmful effects on other fish can be further minimized.

They've Wiped Out Trout

Fishery experts agree that this parasite is to blame for the sudden and almost complete disappearance of Lake Huron's trout stock to a point where it is commercially non-existent. The annual trout catch in the lake's U.S. waters declined from 1,372,000 pounds in 1939 to 900 pounds in 1949. Lake Michigan's trout catch dropped by almost 95% from 1944 to 1949 and records show that the parasite is making disastrous headway in Lake Superior. In addition, it is reported that, as the abundance of lake trout has decreased, lampreys have increased their attacks on whitefish, suckers, walleys and chubs.

EARLY IN THEIR investigations scientists learned that one of the most vulnerable periods in the lamprey's life-cycle occurs when it enters streams tributary to the Great Lakes in early spring for spawning. Accordingly they have concentrated on finding ways to capture or destroy the parasites as they journey upstream en route to spawning grounds. Mechanical barriers such as weirs and curved-lip dams have been the main devices tested so far. However, their numerous drawbacks, including installation costs up to $13,000 and maintenance costs of over $4,000 a year barrier, have impelled the biologists to continue their search for better controls.

This spring an experimental electrical barrier was installed on the Ocqueoc River, a tributary of Lake Huron, by the Fish and Wildlife Service in co-operation with Cook Research Laboratory in Chicago. Putting 110 volts of straight line alternating current into the water at a cost of only 20 cents an hour, this device effectively stunned all the lampreys swimming past it up the 90-foot stream to spawn. Immobilized by the shock, the lampreys drifted back to the lake where it is believed conditions prevent them from spawning successfully.

THIS PARTICULAR barrier is installed on a diagonal across the stream so that game fish migrating with the lampreys can be led into a trap in the upstream angle of the diagonal. Some of the game fish, however, are still rendered immobile by the electric field.

Best Device So Far

Speaking for his staff, Dr. James C. Moffett, chief of the Great Lakes fishery investigations, says of this barrier: "We believe it is the best device developed so far." The group plans to install similar ones in other streams in time for testing during next spring's lamprey migration.

Biologists at the Fish and Wildlife Service's Marquette, Mich., field laboratory are experimenting with a Burkey electric fish screen which was installed in the Chocolay River off Lake Superior last year. This device, also used to stun lamprey moving upstream, puts a pulsed direct current of high voltage and low amperage into the water. Dr. Moffett considers this a feasible control but does not yet know how it compares, cost-wise, with the Ocqueoc River barrier.

The sea lamprey problem is vast, involving eight states, three huge lakes, countless tributary streams, and an estimated annual loss of some $3,500,000 to commercial fishermen's income. When it has finally been determined what control measures are best, they will have to be established over a wide area and on a continuing basis.

Dr. Moffett believes that there is ground for optimism, although it may be many months or years before a feasible program can be set up. "The job is big and difficult but we are confident that much good can and will be accomplished in the conservation and restoration of the fishing resources of the Great Lakes," he stated.

County Operation Tax Based on New Figures

THE LATTER allocation made it necessary for the school districts to vote an extra mill at the annual meeting in July so they could qualify for state aid.

If the allocation made Monday night were based on the new county equalized figure of $25 millions it would approximate 10.5 mills.

THE ALLOCATION became necessary when the state tax commission handed down the new county equalized valuation figure following a survey made during the summer and brought about by the appeal of Rudy Korth of Charlevoix township and Joe Topolinski of Boyne Valley township to the state tax commission.

At the time the appeal was made the two supervisors stated that they felt the equalized valuation of their respective townships was excessive and that a proportionate figura should be set.

The state tax commission headed by Louis Nims presented the commission's findings to the board of supervisors on Sept. 28. Later the commission met with the county allocation board.

The new figure voided previous allocations.

"Counting" Color

It is not easy to measure degrees of color blindness, nor even to discover that the condition exists. A color blind person may see an object as green when normal eyes see it as red, but there is no simple way to demonstrate exactly what the color blind person sees, and there is no simple definition of what red and green are.

Hospital Drive Enters Final Phase in Area

The drive to raise $225,000 for the new Charlevoix area hospital stood at the $211,120 mark today as all leaders and workers pledged themselves to a redoubling of effort to reach the minimum goal hy Nov. 2.

The hospital fund must be at the $225,000 mark by Nov. 2 in order to confirm the priority on government funds amounting to $275,000, hospital leaders said.

The final phase of the campaign got underway Tuesday night at a dinner for all workera in the high school cafeteria. A public canvass of contributors will be made in the next two weeks.

THE WORKERS heard inspirational messages from Mrs. Eleanor Carson, general co-chairman, Dr. G. B. Saltonstall, Miss Anne Baumgartner, hospital superintendent, Fred Willis, chairman of the area hospital association and a member of the campaign planning committee, L. E. McGhan, co-chairman of the Marion township public committee and Mrs. Amandus Evers of Hayes township, co-chairman of the public phase of the drive.

Dr. Saltonstall said: "It is never good to have a hospital fill- should have at all times, some empty beds to take care of accied to capacity, every hospital dent cases, em cy maternity cases and other emergencies. This is not possible in the present structure.

SAID MR. McGhan, co-chairman of the Public committee in Marion township, "The hospital building we have now is too small to safeguard public health in our area. It is a fire hazard. We are unified in a project that has life and death importance. Lives are more important than dollars.

Co-chairmen of the public committee in South Arm township, are Mr. and Mrs. Archie M. Murphy.

For Eastport township, co-chairmen are Harold Kruse and J. W. Frye.

Pledges received to date in the advance phase of tha campaign, it was reported, by the Memorials committee include, since the last announcement, increases of $600 each over their previous gifts by W. E. Malpass, R. W. Malpass and Theadore Malpass of East Jordan. Their enlarged pledga will provide for $4800 to build and furnish a private room in the Maternity wing of the new hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Young of Charlevoix have increased their gift from $3600 to $4200, selecting Room 1, the Hospital Business office. Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Grate have increased their pledge to $2100 to provide for Room 58, the Mortuary.

The pledge of Mr. Richard B. Saltonstall will provide for the $3600 cost of building and equipping semi-private Room 39. Conrad Klooster and the Klooster family of Atwood have pledged $2700 toward the expense of building and equipping Room 3, the Director of Nurses office.

MEMBERS OF the Teachers association in Charlevoix are designating their three-year pledges toward Room 6, the X-Ray dressing rooms unit, whose cost is, with equipment, $2400.

Kiwanis club members have agreed to credit their pledges toward the $7200 cost of Room 34, a 4-bed Ward. Group memorials, it was emphasized by Robert Bridge, co-chairman of the memorials committee, are obtainable when members of the sponsoring organization make three-year pledges, proportionate to their respective incomes, and designate them for the room selected as a memorial by their organization.

Meet This Courageous Girl

By Fran Martin

She's becoming known as little Miss Courage among those who know her . . . this shy, rather retiring teen-ager whose nome is Barbara Bodley.

Following a bout with polio she's returned to school after a year's absence and daily is gaining the love and admiration not only of her classmates but of her teachers and others who have seen her about in her wheelchair.

It's pretty tough for a youngster, almost 12, to all of a sudden be stricken with polio in a matter of days when all she'd planned was a visit to her grandmother.

BUT THINGS weren't going to he that simple for while in Whittaker, where she was renewing acquaintances after an absence of two years, the dreaded germ which causes polio intervened.

On August 27 Barbara found herself fighting for her life in an iron lung at the University hospital in An Arbor. Ten days in the lung and another 11 days in a respirator and the doctors decided she might make it.

On October 4 she made the long trip to Munson hospital in Traverse City so she'd be closer to home and still receive the necessary treatments. A bed in a recuperation ward, regular trips to the treatment rooms and slow progress marked the next ten months.

JULY 29 this year meant Venetian Night in Charlevoix but to Barbara it marked her return to her family. She was really thrilled to be home again and to see the Venetian Night activities, the first event she'd been able to attend outside a hospital for 11

List Names of 12 County Men For Induction

Draft calls have already been issued to 12 Charlevoix county registrants who will be inducted into the armed forces in the next few weeks.

The first group has been ordered for induction Tuesday, Oct. 23, and includes the following: David S. Wade of East Jordan; Jack J. Janack of Boyne City; John L. Cieslak of Boyne Falls; John R. Gallagher and D. Dawson Way of Charlevoix.

The men have been instructed to report at the courthouse here at 8 a. m. Tuesday morning for transportation via bus to the Detroit induction center where they will be sworn into the armed services.

The second group will be those included in the November draft call set for Nov. 13.

Registrants being called at this time will be: Floyd J. Kurtz, Clarence W. Scott, Gerhart L. Erber, jr., of Boyne City Lawrence Zakrzewski, Harry J. Reynolds of Boyne Falls; Claude C. McGeorge of East Jordan; Wilbur E. Wells of Charlevoix.

These men will also report at the courthouse at 8 a. m. Nov. 13 for transportation to the Detroit induction center.

Notices will be issued Nov. 1 to 25 for registrants who will visit the Detroit Induction center for pre-induction physical examination on Nov. 19.

The Draft Board has also announced that 8 registrants have been reclassified from 3-A, that is, married men without children, to 1-A and will be called for induction into the armed services unless they have in their file before the call is issued a certificate from a doctor stating they are to become fathers or a certificate verifying their present parenthood.

Registrants are again urged to check with their draft board to make sure the proper papers are in their file if there is some reason why they should not be classified in I-A and called for induction.

Supervisors To Adopt Budget, Spread Taxes

Supervisors face the knotty questions of approving the Charlevoix county operations budget and the apportionment of taxes.

Reconvening Wednesday after a week's recess brought about by the final allocation of the split millage tax levy last Saturday by the county tax allocation unit, the supervisors are hard at work on committee assignments.

As it stands now, the levy of 5.5 mills for county operations will provide $138,261. This levy was based on the $25,138,426 equalization figure set by the state tax commission.

The schools were voted five mills on the old equalized figures of $14,020,410 as set by the supervisors last spring. Two mills were allocated to the county courthouse sinking fund and one mill to all townships except Charlevoix and Hayes townships. All but the county operations millage was based on the old equalization.

The new equalization as set by the state has no effect on Charlevoix as its tax was spread last May.

City's Chest Drive Falling Short of Goal

The Community Chest drive in Charlevoix is falling way shnrt of its goal, drive chairman Don Herrick reported Wednesday.

A total of $2,829.30 has been contributed toward the goal of $4,120 needed to finance activities of local character building and charity organizations plus the United Health and Welfare Fund.

This marks the second year in a row that the drive has failed to reach its goal. Persons who wish to contribute to the Chest moy do so at Mailhot's or Campbell's Shoe Shop.

Herrick emphasized that the money is need to carry on the activities of the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Santa Claus Annonymous and other worthwhile organizations.

Jordan Opposes Mancelona in Fight for Lead

The test will come this weekend when the supremacy of the Northern Michigan Class C league will be decided.

The game between East Jordan and Mancelona should do the trick. The Jordanitas with a record of three wins will be playing a greatly improved Mancelona eleven with two wins and one tie. Each team has a record of two wins on non-loop play.

Elsewhere in the league Charlevoix will be traveling to Pellston and Boyne City will play at Gaylord in games scheduled for Friday afternoon. Harbor Springs will step out of the conference for a Saturday afternoon game with Onaway.

IN THE Red Devil-Ironmen meeting much will be at stake. The teams have played but one common opponent in Pellston. East Jordan defeated the Hornets 27-6 earlier in the season and Mancelona clipped the same team

Rites Thursday For Ed Gregory, Marion Resident

Funeral services for Edwin Gregory, 65, retired Marion township farmer, will be held at the See Funeral Home at 2. p. m. Thursday with the Rev. G. E. Whitten officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Gregory died early Monday following an illness of six months duration.

A native of Charlevoix county he was born in Marion township Aug. 3, 1886. On Sept. 11, 1907, he was married to the former Mamie Weed. He was a member of the Barnard Grange. He had always resided in the Marion township community until he retired from farming last year and moved to his present home on State st.

Besides his wife he is survived by a sister, Mrs. Glenn Cummings of Charlevoix and a brother, Jesse Gregory of Traverse City.

Band Parents Sponsor Dinner

The Band Parents Association will sponsor a dinner in the Charlevoix high school cafeteria Thursday, Oct. 25, with the proceeds to be used for equipment for the enlarged Charlevoix high school band.

Mrs. Walker Miles has been named general chairman of the event and Mrs. Robert Miles, ticket chairman, by DeWitt Peters, president of the Association.

C. A. Odmark, director of the band, reports that the high school band this year is the largest the school has ever had. At present there are 64 members. This is a jump from 52 last season and means the purchase of much needed equipment of various types.

The Band Parents Association is sponsoring this dinner from 5:30 to 8 p. m. next Thursday in an effort to raise much needed funds to support the band.

Rayders Set For Pellston Game Friday

An arnused Red Rayder team, fresh from its satisfying victory over Harbor Springs, hopes to keep up the good work against Pellston Friday afternoon in an away from home game.

Pellston fell victim last week to a hard-rushing Mancelona team which went touchdown crazy to roll up a big score. While the Rayders will enter the game as favorites to win, Pellston has shown signs several times this year of a good attack.

Coach Del Terrill has not been underestimating the Pellston team this week in practice.

THE RAYDERS came back fast in the second half against Harbor Springs last week to defeat the Rams 18-0 in Charlevoix's first display of offensive pnwer.

Bud Barher intercepted a Harbor lateral and scampered 60 yards for a touchdown two minutes before the first half ended. This play seemed to break the spirit of the Harbor boys who had rushed and passed to five first downs in the first two periods. Barber was hurt later in the game.

Barber did some nifty running on his interception but the blocking by his mates helped him out of several close calls with would-be tacklers.

The score on the interception seemed to fire the Rayders as they rushed the Harbor Springs players off their feet in the last half.

FIVE PLAYS after Charlevoix received the kickoff to start the second half, the Rayders scored a touchdown. Jim Lewis in two

Seek Approval of Voters on $225,000 Bonding Issue

Voters in the Charlevoix school district will be asked to approve a $225,000 addition to the existing school buildings here at a special election Oct. 30.

The school board at a special meeting Tuesday night approved a resolution setting the gears in motion for the second special election this year.

The decision of the school board was no surprise as several grups in the district have been advocating a special addition to the present school, thereby alleviating the crowded conditions.

The construction project calls for the building of four rooms onto the elementary school and industrial shops, music room and agricultural room to the present nigh school building.

SUPERINTENDENT Roy G. Bennett emphasized that the addition does not provide for any additional property or the razing of any existing structure. It was the objections to razing the high school building and the proposed need for purchasing additional property that spelled defat for the $650,000 new high school building last June.

Board members said that $31,000 a year will be needed to retire the $225,000 bond issue if the voters approve it. The millage needed to retire the bond issue is about six mills on present valuation.

However, as an added measure to obtain a lower interest rate, voters will be asked to approve an additional eight mills for 14 years. Mr. Bennett said it can be said with certainty that no more than six mills will be added. In any event, the amount of the bonding issue remains at $225,000 no matter what the millage may be.

A HIGHER millage will pay off the debt in a shorter period, while a lower millage increase will pay off the debt in a longer period of time. But the sum to be raised remains the same. The authority to levy the additional millage expires when the $225,000 is paid off.

The Barnard Grange and other groups have held discussions in recent weeks favoring the addition. The increasing enrollment has resulted in greater crowding of the junior high students.

250 Children To Take Part In Music Fete

Two hundred fifty Charlevoix county rural school children will form a huge children's chorus to present a folk music festival at the Charlevoix high school auditorium at 8 p. m., Wednesday, Oct. 24.

In addition to singing American and European folk songs, the pupils will present a demonstration of American and old English folk games.

Dr. Olaf W. Steg, director of the music department, Central Michigan college, Mt. Pleasant, will direct the children of the chorus in their singing and folk game activities.

A CHORUS of teachers recruited from the Charlevoix, Antrim and Emmet county public schools, who are studying under Dr. Steg, will also sing a group of songs under the direction of Thomas Dale, music director at Alanson; Mrs. Alta Drapeau, music supervisor at East Jordan; and Wilmer Moyer, choral director at Petoskey high school.

Bob Spinner, dulcimer player from Central Michigan college, will be the guest artist on the prngram. A native of Elk Rapids, he is Michigan's outstanding younger dulcimer player. He will play a group of American Folk tunes including "Red Wing" and "Golden Slippers".

THE CENTRAL Michigan college Country Dancers, directed by Jean Smith, Central Michigan faculty member, will present a demonstration of American couple and square dances to conclude the program.

Local arrangements for the program are being made by Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools and Roy G. Bennett.

Norwood Pioneer Observes 89th Birthday, Recalls 'Good Old Days'

Friday, Oct. 12, was Columbus Day to most people but to John Wells, pioneer resident of Norwood township, it marked a far more important event . . . his eighty-ninth birthday anniversary.

A resident of Charlevoix county 74 years, he enjoys more than reminiscing about the "good old days" when he first came from Canada. When a mere youngster of 17 he purchased a steam-operated threshing machine and for the next 50 years did the threshing for all the farmers in the county.

HE BECAME equally as well known as a lumber jack, a work he followed in the winter in the lumber camps throughout the north.

Mr. Wells was born in Guelph, Ont., and came to his present home in Norwood township in 1877.

Even today, when he should be retired, he keeps busy cutting and sawing wood and doing other small chores around his farm home on US-31 south of Charlevoix. As he says, "When you've been going as long as I have you just can't retire."

HE ENJOYS fair health and until a year ago worked in his own garden. He reads without glasses, enjoys walking in the woods and along Lake Michigan and occasionally walks to town.

He was one of 12 children and still has three sisters, Mrs. Anna Hult of Charlevoix, Mrs. Emma Rogers of Saginaw and Mrs. Charlotte Trimble of Canada.

Mr. Wells is now married to the former Mrs. Ida Johnson of Good Hart and Toledo. They were married 12 years ago.

He has one adopted son, Wilbur Wells of Charlevoix; two stepchildren, Olen Tinney of Saginaw and Mrs. George Clark of this city, the children of his first wife, Mrs. Hannah Tinney, whom he married in 1902. She died in 1930.

Time to Be Heard

Every thoughtful American favors a defense program that will keep the U. S. free. The big defense job alone means high taxes. However, let's leave that to one side. Let's just look at the non-defense picture.

The Federal non-military expenditures of our government in 1930 were $2.7 billions. Last year they were $27.8 billions. Ten times as much! Was government ten times as useful to the people? And every dollar of taxes comes, one way or another, from the earnings of the people.

The administration has encouraged the illusion that heavier taxation will reduce the inflation. That's the natural idea for the power-hungry politicians around Mr. Truman to adopt. They get to spend the tax money. They spend all they get and more. If taxes do not take it, people can spend it themseleves, or save it.

Can you explain why it causes inflation for you to spend a dollar you earn, but does not cause inflation if the government spends it?

Suppose you get a government job, and from your tax-paid salary buy a pound of hamburger. Is that less inflationary?

If taxes were high enough so that the government took in as much as it now, spends, more inflation would result. Why? Because everyone would try to raise his wages or prices to get enough extra money to pay his taxes, and to keep his take-home pay the same or better. More taxes is not the right answer to inflation.

The right answer is fairer taxes and less spending, among other things.

No administration voice is raised for less spending. We heard Secretary of the Treasurer Snyder the other day insist that the people must be encouraged to be thrifty and buy bonds. He said not a word about encouraging the government to be thrifty.

The Hoover report two years ago showed how $5.4 billions could be saved just by improved government housekeeping. What happened. About $2 billions' worth out of 300 definite suggestions were adopted by the last Congress. This Congress has adopted just one, and the other $3.5 billions still goes down the waste spout. Senator Byrd and other authorities say that $8 billions to $10 billions can be cut out.

Plainly, the government does not have to cost $27 billions for non-military services. But it will go on costing that much and more as long as spending gets more votes than saving. Those who never protest are always counted in favor of spending.

How well does the administration know what it is doing? Last February President Truman said that the government would need $16 billions in new taxes to pay its way this year. In April Secretary Snyder thought $19 billions would do. Now the House has passed a politically designed bill for $7.2 billions—a bill that will encourage inflation, reduce the incentive to work, and that is thoroughly unscientific. It is now before the Senate.

The appropriations are still to come. Will the people get out their pens and pencils and tell Congress to stop throwing their money away?

Elections are only 14 months away! Now is a good time to be heard.—Farm Journal.

And if you don't believe winter is just around the corner . . . take a look at all the wild ducks and geese that go over almost daily now . . . We never knew it before but it seems they stop off at a lot of the little inland lakes around here . . . spend the night and if the weather is good, go on in the morning . . . Don't know whether the perch were bitting over the weekend . . . we didn't see anyone with a catch . . . but there were sure a lot of boats on Round Lake . . . Let's hope they got something for their efforts . .

MRS. EDNA Howe came by the other night with a collection of gifts her son, Cpl. Leonard Dubey, had brought the family from Japan when he stopped there enroute home from Korea in August . . . hand-painted and hand embroidered articles that are exquisite in their coloring . . a silver wine set that anyone would love for its perfect workmanship . . . They're a joy to see and too nice to use, for our money . . .

Clarence Bartlett tells this one on himself and we thing it's worth repeating . . . His son, Pfc. Norman, enroute to the west coast for overseas assignment decided he needed more money when he reached Chicago so he called his folks at 4 a. m. last Wednesday asking them to wire him the extra funds at the airport there . . . You know how you can never find a pencil in the middle of the night . . . Well, that happened there and after he'd hung up Mr. B. wasn't sure of the name of the airport . . . He had to find someone who'd been there for the name which happened to be the Municipal Airport . . To make sure that was right, he had Norm paged . . . and told him what happened before he got the folding stuff off by wire . . . What an experience.

The recent days of Indian summer have been wonderful, haven't they? . . . But don't let them deceive you . . . soon the winds will blow, the snow will come and then it will be winter . . . So get those storm windows on and prepare for the inevitable . . . You can't kid yourself forever that it won't come . . . And don't say we didn't warn you . . .

IN THE next week's issue you'll find an account of the travels of Dr. and Mrs. George Buttrick, Sequanota residents whom so many of you know . . . They'll be run in a series until the Buttricks return some time this winter . . Mrs. B. writes in a clever manner and manages to draw grand word pictures so we hope you'll enjoy them . . .

LOTS OF mail this week—a note from Jim Bowman, freshman of Michigan, tells us he's still playing center . . . but as Jim says, it's more complicated but I will do better after I get used to the single wing again . . . Jim's with the J V team . . . He also tells us Charles Fairbanks is playing on the J V team at State . . . Now that will be the day when those two guys . . . always close friends . . . come up against each other on the gridiron in the years to come . . . That we'll have to see . . .

A. letter from Mrs. C. E. Sterritt tells us that she is now settled in an apartment in Lake Worth, Fla., for the winter . . . Her address will be 707 N. L. st., Lake Worth . . . She left here last month and has been visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sterritt at Arlington, Va. . . . She made the trip from Pellston to Washington in six hours with stop-overs in Detroit and Cleveland . . . and said it was wonderful . . . What a grand way to travel . . .

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

A lot of tempermental toes in the Michigan tourist industry were stepped upon collectively by staff report No. 23 on reorganization of state government.

The report, as drafted by the Citizens Research Council of Michigan (successor to Loren Miller's Detroit governmental bureau), was submitted to Rep. Robert M. Montgomery, chairmon of state joint legislative committee.

RECOMMENDATIONS INclude: Require the four regional tourist associations to match state aid dollar for dollar up to $100,000 a year ($25,000 each). Then decrease this amount until no state funds are granted.

Permit the governor to appoint five members to the Michigan Tourist Council without present requirement that they be nominated by the four regional associations. The four association sectaries would be deprived of their right as ex-officio members.

The state director of "tourist development and promotion" would serve as secretary of the Tourist Council and also of the Soo Locks Centennial Celebration commission. The council now has its own full-time director, while the commission is planning to appoint one in the near future.

The report challenges the principle that it is good business for the State of Michigan to subsidize, in part at least, the cost of advertising Michigan as a tourist state. A quote: "During the 1947-49 biennium The State of Michigan contributed 35 percent of all the funds spent on tourist promotion and publicity."

Actually, Michigan has lagged behind other competitors in the amount of money being spent for tourist promotion. Tourist leaders believe more money should be spent, not less. The big rub apparently is this: Who is going to provide the money? The State of Michigan 35 percent, or the tourist industry 100 per cent.

SPECULATION AS to aspirations of G. Mennen Williams to the vice-presidency nomination in 1952 virtually has holted.

But one observer brings up an interesting possibility. IF Williams is re-elected governor in 1952 and IF Williams were to defeat Sen. Homer Ferguson (or whichever Republicans runs for the senate chair) in 1954 he would perhaps be the brightest star on the presidential horizon.

Remember, Williams was touted to go down in ignominious defeat in 1950. He was expected to be snowed under in 1948. Republicans may be convinced he'll never be re-elected again (no Democratic governor yet has succeeded himself twice as Michigan governor) but the G. O. P. is doing a bit of whistling in the dark.

THE ON-again off again variable of the state—the draft—has popped up again. State draft quota for November was jumped from 2,417 to 2,787 to "cover last minute emergencies". The nature of the "emergencies" was not disclosed. Childless husbands now are subject to call.

While some states are having trouble spending all the federal aid money for wildlife project being funneled in through a formula based on area of the state and number of licenses, Michigan will get only 83 cents per licensed hunter. Nevada, large in orea and low in popluation, gets $13.07 per licensed hunter but can't put up the required matching funds.

Dingell-Johnson receipts derived from tax on fishing tackle take care of fishery projects. Some $2,900,000 was reolized last year.

A change in routine: Elmer N. Young, 45, is reported to have quit a $114 a week job with Wayne county government because he refused to admit that his war record entitled him to special consideration. Says Young: "If I have to wave a flag and pose as a war hero to hold a job, citizenship has lost all value."

Looks as though Michigan will get its new state office building. National production authority has agreed to release 350 tons of steel. Another application must be made by Jan. 1, for the next quarter. If it requires as many telephone calls and loss of expensive time to high paid officials it will be cheaper to do without the new building.

The state administrative board has approved spending $116,254 for repairs of access roads to 20 state institutions.

AWARDS FOR construction in August fell off 13 percent from July in Michigan.

The "Little Hoover commission", studying reorganization of state government is dubious about the little legisloture's legality. The little legislature moy be called in to authorize expenditure of limited sums for urgent needs when the full legislature is not in session, and has been doing so for years. A constitutional amendment may be necesary to legalize the body's status.

The commission also has rejected a proposal that the highwoy commissioner and state of agriculture he apponited by the governor. The commission will investigate duplication of jobs in the latter department.

Michigan State college's fall enrollment is 9.4 percent less than last year hut still 1,000 more students than expected. This is the nation-wide trend.

Potato production this year is expected to be down about 20 percent—nearly the amount of last year's surplus. Corn probably will show a moderate price weakness during the harvest and near-record production of soybean is predicted to depress prices.

LOCAL OES Women Attend Grand Meet

Others who attended were Mrs. Erwin Belfy, sr., Mrs. Edword Beane, Mrs. Harry Ladd, Mrs. Glenn Ingalls, Mrs. L. E. Barker and Mrs. Floyd Ikens.

Shoots 'Pat', Spots Bears Near Brimley

BRIMLEY — Hunter Robert Baatz spotted a "pat" in the clearing, leveled his single-shot gun, and scored.

Two disturbed bear lumbered toward the Brimley state park ranger . . . who says is seemed as though it took longer than usuol to get another shell in the gun. Getting the shot off, the frightened bears changed their course, to the ranger's relief.

How big were they? Baatz says "I only had my eyes on the one in the lead . . . she'd go oround 300 pounds." Most beautiful sight I've ever seen. "The rear end of bears going in the opposite direction."

Jordan Opposes Mancelona for Lead

for 44 points last week.

East Jordan has scored 45 points while allowing three opponents 12; Mancelona has tallied 57 against 7 for three opponents. Mancelona seemingly has deepth but East Jordan has an indefinable something that brings them victories ogainst great odds.

The conference championship will be at stake in this game so both teams will be playing for keeps. It should be close.

Charlevoix at Pellston will not be a repeat performance of last year's thriller when Charlevoix came from behind in the last quarter to win. Pellston has tied Harbor Springs and Gaylord, teams which the Rayders defeated by 18-0 and 6-0 scores respectively. Both have been defeated by East Jordan.

The Rayders, however, after their comeback last week should have little trouble with the Hornets. They seem to have lost their sting, but despite this, can be depended on to play hard to get.

Boyne City, the hardluck team of the present season, will be meeting Gaylord eleven that's come a long way since the season opened. If Tex Teixeira's lads recover from the mumps they are apt to take the Ramblers who seem to have lost heart with the loss of so many players through injuries.

In meeting Onaway, the Harbor Roms will be meeting a team which suffered a decisive defeat by Boyne City in the season's opener. With Harbor's improved squad, which was not at its best here last week, the Rams should take the eastern Michigan team.

Commercial Fishing Shows Another Drop

LANSING—Another drop in commercial fish production from Michigan Great Lakes waters is reported by the conservation department.

Over 2,673,000 pounds were netted in July and August, about 13 percent less than the 3,081,000 pounds in the same 1950 period. Departments's fish division previously disclosed comparable Moy and June production was off about 14 percent.

Chubs led again with over 822,000 pounds taken as compared to 829,000 pounds in the like two months last year. Over 763,000 pounds were from Lake Michigan.

Herring ploced second with 414,000 pounds, a substantial boost over the 285,000 pounds before. The 282,000 pounds from Lake Michigan hiked the total.

Lake trout dropped from second to third best crop with 388,000 pounds, over 570,000 pounds before. Lake Superior accounted for all except 169 pounds.

Rayders Set for Pellston Game

tries picked up two first downs. With the ball on Harbor's 39 yard line, Jerry Left broke through the weak side of the line and outran the secondary to score standing up. His pass for the extra point was intercepted.

The score stood this way until minutes before the game ended when Charles Krahnke recovered a Ram fumble on the Harbor 25 yard line. On the next play Bobo Bennett hit Deano Davenport with a quick pass which was good for the last score. The try for extra point was no good. The final score atood 18 to 0 in favor of the Rayders.

The Rains dominated play in the first half racking up five first downs while Charlevoix was held without any. Twice they missed making first downs as their attack sputtered deep in the Rayders' territory.

Harbor, lacking depth at several key positions, tired in the second, half, when Charlevoix began to roll up gains. The Rayders collected eight first downs in the second half while Harbor managed to get only one.

Rayders to Invade Pellston Stronghold After Flashing Offensive Against Harbor 11

A hard-fighting band of Red Rayders who put their most potent offensive attack against Harbor Springs last week will tackle the oft-beaten Pellston team this Friday in a game away from home.

Pellston, loser to Mancelona last week in a 44-0 rout, apparently has lost most of its punch. Before the season opened, it was believed that Pellston would be one of the leaders this fall. To date the best the Pellston boy's have done is a tie with Gaylord.

Meanwhile, the Rayders who were the underdogs against the Harbor Springs Rams, waited until the last half to unleash its punch to push over two additional touchdowns.

The Rams outplayed the Rayders during the first half as the Rayders failed to chalk up a first down BUT the alert Bud Barber snatched a Ram pitchout on Charlevoix's 38 yard line and scampered 62 yards for the first score as the first half drew to a close. It was really a beautiful run to see.

The touchdown seemed to give the Rayders some zip and they played like a different team in the second half. Jerry Left made several nice runs and had the assistance of some fine blocking as he broke through the secondary for the second touchdown.

A Harbor Springs fumble lead to the third and final score when Charles Krahnke recovered deep in Harbor Springs' territory. Bobo Bennett hit Deano Davenport with a pass and the Rayders had another touchdown on a slick pass play.

For Harbor Springs the defeat was a bitter one. The Rams who have been waiting since the 1945 season to hand a defeat on the Rayder gridders played some heads-up ball before the Rayders came back in the final half.

Harbor Springs was in contention for the league lead with two wins and a tie. Now they have a loss to tack onto their record this fall. Meanwhile East Jordan, the loop's leader, vanquished Boyne City.

The Rayders played a good aggressive brand of ball, specially in the second half when they appeared to like the feeling of being out front again. The line performed well and the shift in the lineup seemed to add to the teams effectiveness.

Gov't Will Buy Apples in Area

The production and marketing administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Lansing, announces that it will consider the purchase of fresh apples in the principal areas in Michigan, subject to the following terms and conditions.

Purchases will be limited to the outlets available to USDA.

Minimum Grades and Conditions: Apples must meet the requirements of U. S. No. 1 grade or better. All apples shall comply with United States Standards for Export as to condition, except that not more than 15 per cent of the apples in any container shall be further advanced in maturity than firm-ripe, and except that McIntosh may be ripe.

Varieties being accpeted under this program are as folows: Grimes Golden, Jonathan, Baldwin, Cortland, Golden Delicious, McIntosh, Northern Spy, R. L. Greening, Rome Beauty and Stayman.

Purchases under this agreement will begin on October 1, 1951 and continue to and including Dec. 31.

Interested individuals, wishing to sell apples to the USDA or desiring further details relating to the program, should communicate with a member of the county PMA committee at Boyne City.

Charlevoix High School Band Benefit supper October 25 at the high school cafeteria serving from 5:30 til 8:00 P. M.

Plan Meetings To Discuss Milk Production Program

A series of four meetings in Charlevoix and Antrim counties has been arranged for farmers interested in marketing whole milk, according to an announcement by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. Purpose of these meetings is to acquaint farmers with the essentials of a quality milk production program.

Meetings will be held Thursday and Friday of this week. Thursday meetings will be held at East Jordan city hall at 2 p.m. and at Ellsworth Community hall at 8:30 p.m. Friday meeting will be held at Bellaire court house at 2 p.m. and at Charlevoix high school, room 100, at 8:30 p. m.

There has been an increasing interest in the marketing of whole milk in place of butter fat the last three years. To start whole milk production it is recommended that a quality program be stressed from the begining. It is just as easy to produce good, high quality milk as it is to produce an inferior grade, says Rebman.

Don Murray, extension specialist in dairy from Michigan State college, will be present at these meetings. An effort is also being made to secure the services of an agricultural engineer to discuss building problems related to a quality milk production program.

Ironton Farm Bureau Elects Officers

Nine members attended the monthly meeting of the Ironton Farm Bureau, held Wednesday evening at the Arlo Wickersham home.

The discussion was on, "What is fair representation in Michigan's Legislature?" There was an election of officers. The officers are; Ole Nielsen, discussion leader; Vernon Mathews, action committee man; Homer Nasson, chairman; Mark Saunders, vice chairman; Edna Nielsen, secretary; Audria Saunders, member County Women's Committee; Ida Wickersham, recreation leader; Mary Carlson, publicity chairman; and county director, Mark Saunders.

For recreation, Mr. Wickersham showed slides of Florida, Michigan, Arizona, and other interesting parts of the country.

County Farmers Buy 42 Purebred Calves

A group of farmers in Charlevoix county have purchased 42 purebred, non-registered calves, Floyd Ayres, Veterans Institute instructor announced. The calves were five weeks old when delivered.

The total purchase represents an investment of $3850, Ayres said. Farmers in the Charlevoix area in the group include Floyd McCracken, Art Stoel, Franklin Cellner and Norbert Nachazel.

Survey Shows Farmer May Save Time, Money If He Has Systematic Plan for Chores

A dairy cow requires about 15 man-hours of labor a year. This labor requirements is higher than for any other farm animal according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

There is a wide range in the time requirements per cow on dairy farms and studies have shown that one farmer may spend as little as 9 man-hours per dairy cow while another farmer with the same number of cows and the same production may spend as much as 105 man-hours per cow.

Thirty-three herds of equal size and level of production were compared and the efficient workers averaged 114 man-hours per cow, while the least efficient average 156 man-hours.

Dairy barn arrangement accounted for much of the difference in time required to care for the dairy cow.

THE LOOSE housing pen-type dairy barn requires the least num ber of hours per cow if properly laid out and managed. Poorly laid pen-type barns are not labor-savers.

Stanchion barn operation requires planning and a good layout can reduce chore time considerably. Approximately 65 per cent of the time spent in caring for dairy animals is spent at the business end of the cow. Fifteen to 20 percent of the time is spent in feeding the animal and the remainder of handling milk, taking care of calves and in miscellaneous tasks.

The face-out arrangement that puts the tails together saves time and stops. Feed alleys should be wide enough to permit the use of carts and permit passage of the cart across the ends of the barn. Feeding grain can be a one-trip task if the barn arrangement will permit.

OVERHEAD STORAGE of grain permits easy loading of feed carts. A grain storage layout that will provide an elevator to carry grain to an overhead bin, gravity feed the grain to a small mill, elevate it back to overhead storage, and gravity feed the ground grain to a cart or manger will save many steps.

The easiest way to feed hay is to let the cows eat into the mow. Chopped. or loose hay can be ground stored for this purpose. Chopped hay is hard to carry. Slide chopped hay across the hay mow floor and drop into tho feed alley near where it is to be fed. Baled hay fits well into a stanchion barn feeding program, but not so well into open barn feeding programs.

Locate the milk house at the side of the barn near the end or at a cross walk between two rows of stanchions. Remember that a silo on one end of a barn and a milk house on the other end prevent any addition to the length of a barn.

Get Barn, Cows Ready for Winter

Dairy cows soon are going to start living an unnatural life, confined to barns. That's bad enough, but if the barn and cows aren't properly prepared for winter it will be worse.

J. G. Hays, extension dairyman at Michigan State college, has some suggestions for farmers getting ready for winter.

"Now is the time to dehorn those heifers you missed as calves," he reminds dairymen. "Dairy cows don't need armament and a horn clipping job is easily and smoothly done by a good veterinarian. The patient will get along better and recover faster if she can convalesce outdoors rather than in a crowded pen.

And don't put off giving your cows calcium and phosphorus from steamed bone meal. Hays points out that sunshine "sets" these minerals in the animal and sunshine is getting scarcer as the days grow shorter.

"Speaking of minerals—you

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

While the winesap apple growa the best further south, the McIntosh grows the best at the top end of our apple growing belt in northern Michigan.

McIntosh apples are among the earliest of the winter apples. Growers in southern Michigan are crowding them on the market to help defray expenses of picking and storing later varieties.

On the other hand, northern Michigan growers for the most part are storing their McIntosh, realizing that theirs are worth more than the McIntosh grown further south.

TOO MANY of our large commercial growers lean on some commission house in the large cities instead of selling their own in those cities. The same holds true for renting cold storage space and financing. The growers can borrow on their cold storage receipts as the commission houses do.

Cold storage can be rented much cheaper from large meat packing concerns. Egg rooms are ideal for apples. By several large growers combining, space can be rented much cheaper if they learn how to contract.

The cold storage company will collect for fruit before it leaves the storage if the owner is not present.

It now appears that the recent windstorm will crowd the apple market for a time and then it will settle again with fewer apples than before.

Even some of the later variety of apples will suffer heavy damage from the storm, as they suffered lacerations resulting in much sorting and subsequent discarding.

On our own fruit farm we were fortunate to have low trees in a protected spot.

For your Ford Tractor...
the famous TOWNER
LIFT TYPE OFFSET DISC
FOR FIELD and ORCHARD WORK

Great strength, and convenient adjustments make this harrow outstanding for cutting, pulverizing and leveling the soil. For orchard tillage the entire harrow may be offset to the right or left up to 18". This is particularly valuable in working close to trees in orchards. For row crops and vineyard use, the rear gang may be offset so that you can "throw to" or "throw away" from rows. Side draft is no problem with this disc harrow. A handle conveniently located to the tractor seat, enables the operator to compensate quickly and easily for side draft in different soil conditions.

Quickly attached to the Ford Tractor, the complete disc is raised or lowered by Hydraulic Touch Control. Thus, you get fast close turns at row ends . . . and blade damage is eliminated while being transported over roads. Built for lasting satisfaction. See us soon!

MR. DAIRYMAN:
FOR ECONOMY, HERE'S A
COMPLETE PROTEIN FEED

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% is a concentrate built for the dairyman, or cattleman, who has fed a single protein concentrate (such as Soybean Oil Meal or Linseed Meal) with his home grown grain. We feel that a combination protein—plus molasses, trace minerals, bone meal and Vitamin D will produce cheaper milk or meat, and maintain better health.

Farm Bureau 45 Per Cent Cattle Supplement

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% carries Linseed Meal, Cottonseed Meal Soybean Oil Meal, Gluten Feed and Urea as sources of Protein. Two hundred pounds of molasses per ton is added to increase palatability and help control ketosis. Trace mineral salt, Bone meal and Vitamin D are added as health factors.

Here is a concentrate that allows more home grown grain to be fed with each hundred pounds than single proteins allow. In one bag there are all the other factors necessary to make a practicable low cost ration when mixed with corn, oats, barley or spelt and still furnish molasses, trace minerals, proper amino acids and Vitamin D.

SOME SUGGESTED FORMULAS

This Concentrate should always be mixed with home grown grains before being fed. Below are suggested formulas.

NOTE: More home grown feed can be used in above formulas and still get results comparable to single protein rations.

Tedious exercises which are slowly, but surely, bringing results are still part of her routine. She's reached a point where she can stand alone when placed on her feet but her "lifting" muscles have been weakened and she still requires rigorous exercises which her mother usually gives her. Mancelona Tilt Promises to Be Real Thriller

No one in Charlevoix is underestimating the Mancelona football team. Particularly concerned about the outcome of this Friday's game at Kipke field are the Red Rayders and Coach Del Terrill.

They realize that Mancelona which dropped a close game to East Jordan last week will be out to tip over Charlevoix in the final league game of the season here. The loss to East Jordan is the only blot on Mancelona's record this year.

The Rayders have been beaten by East Jordan and held to a tie by Boyne City. The locals have looked stronger each week and last weekend polished off Pellston 13-0 in the Ironmen's stronghold.

On the first play from scrimmage after receiving a punt from Pellston, Charlevoix's Bennett flipped a pass to Left who outran the Ironmen's secondary for the first marker. His attempt for the extra point was no good.

The final score resulted when the Rayders, with about four minutes left in the last period, connected on a pass from Bennett to Left on the 20 yard line. Left scored standing up and an instant later made good on the extra point. This made it 13-0.

Several times during the game, Pellston appeared to be on the verge of striking deep into pay dirt, only to have a fumble or a bad break spoil the threat. Keith Emerson clicked with three passes in the second period to Bill Drier, once going to the Rayder 8 yard line.

On the next play Emerson was trapped back on the 20 yard line and on the next play fumbled. Charlevoix recovered and pushed the losers back to their 20 but the half ended with the Rayders a few yards short of a score.

The Rayders controlled the ball most of the second half but could not push over another score until Bennett pitched one to Left for the final marker.

Paul Family Plays Major Roll in School Band

"They shall have music wherever they go" but C. A. Odmark, director of the Charlevoix high school band, hopes the five members of the Paul family who play with the band, won't be going anyplace right away.

When Jerry, Jack and Carol Paul who have played with the band before, were joined this year by the twins, Connie and Cora, the family came to play a major role in the high school's largest band which now numbers 65 pieces.

MR. AND MRS. Ernest E. Paul, parents of the quintet, can offer no explanation for their children's musical talents. Neither parent plays any musical instrument but both enjoy good music and have always had it in their home. Then too, like all parents, they have tried to give their family many of the things they missed and thus have encouraged the children in the development of their musical aptitudes.

The fact that two older sisters were band musicians might also have influenced the younger members of the family.

Like all members of the Charlevoix band, the Paul family received their early band training in the beginner and junior bands which serve as feeder groups for the senior band.

Jack, 17 and a senior, plays baritone horn and is starting his fourth year with the senior band; Jerry, 16 and a sophomore, plays the sousaphone and is starting his second year with the senior group. His first training was on the cornet but little more than a year ago he started playing the bass. Carol, 14 and also a sophomore, is the drummer of the family. This is her second year.

CONNIE, one of the twins, plays the flute and joined the senior band late last year. Her sister, Cora, plays the clarinet and joined the senior group for the first time this fall. They are 13 and freshmen.

An older sister, Joyce, who graduated in 1050, played saxophone with the Charlevoix band for three years. Another sister, now Mrs. Walter Larraine of Lansing, started the family on its musical journey. She played trumpet with bands in Mesick, Saginaw, Ithaca and Alma.

WHAT HAPPENS when they all decide to practice at one time? "That doesn't happen very often. Thank Heaven" says Mrs. Paul, a graduate of Central Michigan College who now teaches at North Bay school. Mr. Paul is a contractor and since coming here has built the family home at Pine Point.

The family moved here in 1945 from Elsie in Clinton county.

The band of which these five are members has grown through the years and is now the largest the school has had. The increased number is due to the beginning program of instrumental instruction which supplies a constant stream of players for the senior group.

BEGINNERS are started during the second semester of the sixth grade and progress through the seventh grade to the junior band composed of eighth grade students. When the students reaches the ninth grade he joins the senior band.

The program is reflected by the 65 piece senior group, the 22 piece junior band and the 23 in the beginning group which does not include the new members from the sixth grade who will be starting after the holidays.

Members of the senior band this year are: flute: Barbara Bice, Barbara Smith, Connie Paul, Connie Oleksy; oboe, Becky Badger; bassoon, Faye Meggisan.

Rev. Buttrick Given New Honors, Begins World Tour for Church

The Rev. George A. Buttrick, pastor of the Madison avenue Presbyterian church in New York City for 25 years and summer resident at Sequanota club for 30 years, has been selected for the Joseph Cook Lectureship. He is now on world tour.

In the next few months he will visit Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Thailand, Indonesia, India, Pakistan, the Near East and Europe, delivering messages under the auspices of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Presbyterian church.

The lectureship is named for writer and Christian apologist Joseph Cook, eminent lecturer who died in 1001, and who was one of the first Western scholars to tour the world speaking in behalf of the Christian religion.

SO IMPRESSED was he with the possibilities of this service that he left his entire estate in trust to the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, the income to be devoted to a lectureship "to be filled by Christian scholars in defense of Christianity, who shall be chosen by the Board and visit in succession the principal cities of China, India and Japan.

Dr. Buttrick is the fourth Cook lecturer to be chosen by the board since sufficient funds became available in 1024.

Mrs Buttrick is accompanying him on the trip and has been chosen as the "official reporter" to their friends back home on the progress of their trip which started in mid-September.

Several Charlevoix and Ironton people have received copies of this letter which goes out to their many friends and have agreed to share this interesting journey with the friends of the Courier. It is the intention of the Courier to print the letters in a series as they arrive from the travelers.

The first one arrived last week from Hotel Tokyo in Tokyo, Japan, and read in part:

After only one week of travel and engagements George and I realize how difficult letter writing is going to be. Our general idea is that I will write a chatty kind of diary which we hope will

County Budget For $140,000 Is Adopted

A budget of $140,861.18 for county operations was adopted by the Charlevoix county board of supervisors last Saturday for the coming year. This represents an increase of about $10,000 from this year's budget.

The county faces a deficit at the end of this year believed to be about $44,000.

The largest appropriation again went to the welfare department. A sum of $40,000 was earmarked for welfare activities. An additional $6,000 was given the welfare department for improvement of the county-operated Grandvue hospital at East Jordan.

Supervisors appeared to be well-pleased with the operations of the Grandvue hospital, believing that it saves the taxpayer much money in caring for welfare patients who need hospital or convalescent treatment.

THE BOARD adopted a resolution thanking Dr. William Parks of Petoskey for his contributions to the hospital which included office equipment, instruments and x-ray machine which he sold for a reasonable price.

An appropriation of $1,705.95 was allocated for dog damage to farm animals. Most of the reported damage was to flocks of turkeys. Last year the amount for all of 1949 was $393.81.

Supervisors raised the dog license taxes. The new tax is $1 for male and unsexed animals and $2 for females. Plans were discussed providing for a greater collection of the tax.

Other major appropriations were: Charlevoix Hospital, $500; Whiting Park, $1500; County agricultural agent, $2650; County Agricultural Society to pay deficit on 1951 county fair, $821.18; Resort and Tourist Association, $425; Office of County superintendent of schools, $1450; District inspection, $100; Advertising, Health department, $5300; Apairy $1500; for repairs of county jail and garage, cost of which is not to exceed appropriation, $1000.

Salaries for county officers remained same.

White Elephant Sale Set for Nov. 1-2-3

You can help the underprivileged children of the community.

Here's how: If you have anything in your home, garage or attic which is no longer of use to you, but is of some value, take it to the Northern Auto garage where the Kiwanis club is storing their merchandise for the White Elephant sale, Nov. 1-2-3 at the Charlevoix Oil Co.

The merchandise could be old clothing, discarded furniture or anything else of value.

Last year the Kiwanis club raised more than $400 for the underprivileged children of the Charlevoix area. This year, it is feared that many more residents will have to contribute more articles, if that mark is to be reached.

If it's impossible for you to take your merchandise to the Northern Auto, call 51J and arrangements will be made to pick it up.

Red Cross Meeting

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Red Cross will be held here Nov. 1. The time and place will be announced later.

Funeral services for Mrs. Florence M. Johnston, 88, pioneer resident of this community, were held at the See Funeral Home Saturday with the Rev. G. E. Whitten officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

She died Thursday at the Charlevoix hospital where she had been a patient for a week.

Born in New York state April 13, 1863, the former Florence May Cole came to northern Michigan in 1883. A short time later she was married to Henry Johnston. He died in 1029.

Mrs. Johnston was a musician and as a young woman was prominent in local music circles. For many years she was a member of a ladies band here.

She was a charter member of the Methodist church and the Rebekah lodge.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Albert P. Taylor of Charlevoix; two sons, George R. of Long Beach, Calif., and Earl H. of this city and four grandchildren.

Mrs. Lulu LaPeer Passes Monday

Funeral services for Mrs. Lula LaPeer, 66, of 301 W. Upright ave., will be held at the See Funeral Home at 4 p.m. Thursday with the Rev. W. D. Wood officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

She died late Monday at Grandvue Hospital after a long illness.

Born at Alma, Michigan, March 10, 1885, the former Lula Gee had lived in this community for 25 years.

She is survived by two sons, Clifford Pumfrey of Kalamazoo and Lloyd LaPeer of Ferndale; a brother, Harry Gee of East Lansing and nine grandchildren.

Bids Sought For Petoskey Avenue Sewer

Obstacles facing the Petoskey avenue sewer district have been overcome as the city scheduled a review of the special assessments in the area for Nov. 8 at the city hall.

The city council Monday night heard City Attorney Norman Ance and J. C. Marshall explain various features of the proposed sewer project.

Assessments were levied last week by the special board of assesors composed of Arthur Bergeon, Karl Erber and Surveyor, Mary Feindt. Final review of the asessments will be Nov. 8.

THE PROJECT was put up for bids with bidders having until Nov. 5 to file at the city clerk's office. The project was assessed for $11,323 with the city paying $4,008 and the remainder by property owners in the district benefitting from the sewer.

The council Monday approved the request of Zack Whyte for a liquor license at his place of business during the summer. Streets Supt. Leo Allard reported that the uprights for the new street signs have been received. On the suggestion of Alderman Charles Bellinger, the city will install a light on the Clinton street dock to aid night fishing.

MAYOR KNIGHT again told the council about Hemingway Nursery's offer to provide Austrain pine trees to the city for planting along the channel. Persons interested in helping to plant the trees are asked to call the city clerk's office.

Gremlins Busy At Work in Inwood District

Whether it was the bad gremlins or the Hallawe'en witch at work no one seemed to know but bad luck was sure on the loose in the Inwood district last week.

It all started when Orville Hilton's horse got out and wandered to the Charles Wells farm where it brushed against an electric fence. The shock frightened the horse which ran away carrying the fence with him and catching Mr. Wells in its path.

The horse suffered such a badly injured leg he had to be shot.

Mr. Wells received first aid treatment at home and tetanus shots at the doctor's office.

WEDNESDAY night lightning came in on the telephone system at the C. J. Fiedler farm, disrupting the service through the damage and grounding itself on a furnace chain. Fuses in the light system were blown but fire was averted.

The family was grateful their son, Jim, had called from Boston the night before or they might have missed the call after the phone service was cut off. His ship the USS Salem is now in drydock in Boston for three months.

PRIOR TO ALL these happenings, Mr. Fiedler tore his trousers, lost his wallet and broke his glasses while looking for a calf. He found his wallet and his glasses although a lens was broken but the calf is still missing.

On top of all this a block of wood fell on Mrs. Fiedler's foot, bruising it badly.

So beware if you're in the Inwood district.

Fairly Large Turnout Expected in Special School Vote Tuesday

Approval of the proposed $225,000 addition to the Charlevoix school plant will be sought at a special school election here Tuesday, Oct. 30.

A fairly large turnout is predicted as voters in the school district go to the polls for the second time this year in a special school election.

Polls will be open from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. at the high school.

This proposed addition has the support of some 10 local and rural organizations which met with the Barnard Grange several weeks ago to consider what means could be taken to alleviate the overcrowding in the school, particularly in the seventh and eighth grades.

VOTERS WILL CAST ballots on two proposals:

1. Granting permission to raise up to eight mills for 14 years (Note: six mills on the present valuation meets fully the needs to retire the bonds in approximately 9 years, but the permission to raise 8 mills if it became necessary will make the bonds more saleable and the interest rate much lower.).

2. Grant the school district authority to borrow the $225,000.

ALL QUALIFIED city electors may vote on the first proposal, regardless of property ownership. Only taxpayers in the school district may vote on the second proposal.

The proposed addition would consist of a four-room addition to the elementary school building and the construction of the music room and shops for metal and woodworking. The addition would also make it possible to have an agricultural room in the present building.

The school board estimated that it would cost the school district $31,000 a year for nine years to pay off the bond issue. A favorable interest rate might make it possible to complete the retirement of the bonds in less than eight years.

MEMBERS OF THE Kiwanis club Monday night went on record as favoring the school addition, after a discussion of the needs of the school. A Kiwanis delegate met with other groups previously to study possible solutions to the overcrowded conditions in the school.

These organizations, meeting with the Barnard Grange, decided on the $225,000 addition as the most logical solution to the overcrowding. The group recommended such an addition to the school board.

After more consideration, the school board announced plans for the special election next Tuesday.

The proposed addition represents about one third of the expenditure which was voted down by voters last June.

The school board emphasized again that no additional property is needed for the construction and that it is planned to use all existing buildings.

Hospital Drive Climbs Little In New Report

Fifteen three-year pledges amounting to $1,681 were received this week in the campaign to raise funds for a new area hospital in Charlevoix. A total of $212,601 has been received to date, it was reported, leaving $12,100 to be obtained by Nov. 2 if the existing priority on government funds of $275,000 is to be secured.

Ellsworth and Banks townships, which reported nine pledges for $950 in all, led the first week of the campaign's Public phase. Pledges made were by Eddie Denny, $50; Earl Denny, $50; Allie M. Klooster, $50; Harbart J. Peebles, $50; Julius Essenberg, $150; Herman Haeres, $150; Kenneth Peebles, $150; Walter Rood, $150; and Henry J. Ruls, $150.

In Charlevoix, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Edwards increased their previous pledge of $100 to $200 more, designating it toward the Knights of Pythias Memorial, Private Room No. 45. Other three year pledges of $150 each were made by Sam E. King and Mrs. Robert Withers.

IN EAST Jordan, Bruce Malpass pledged $26.52 and William Walden pledged $25. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Warner of Norwood township pledged $150, designating it toward the Memorial Room that will be selected by the Pomona Grange of Charlevoix county, with the exception of Rock Elm Grange, which has asked it members to allocate their pledges to a Rock Elm Grange Memorial Room.

"A fireproof hospital, saving even a single life, will justify the sacrifices we must make in this area, now, for this effort to succeed in the short time remaining," said Mrs. Amandus Evers of Hayes township and Dean Davenport of Charlevoix, Co-chairmen of the Public phase of the drive.

"Other districts in the state are ready and willing to take advantage of this opportunity to build for their hospital needs if we surrender our chance. We urge that all who wish to make their pledges telephone campaign headquarters, Charlevoix 847.

They may be assured that members of our committees in each village and township served by the hospital will call upon them. It appears that many do, in fact, wish to do their part. We regard it as a privilege to cooperate."

Scientists attack peach blossom blight

Michigan ranks among the top three states in peach production. To protect this important industry, scientists at Michigan State College's Agricultural Experiment Station are experimenting with methods of controlling blossom blight. Recent experiments tested sprays of wettable sulphur, liquid lime-sulphur, and various new organic fungicides. Though not conclusive, results of these tests have been encouraging. For additional information on this continuing fight against peach blossom blight, call, write or visit your County Agricultural Agent.

Electrical detective tracks down telephone trouble

In a large Michigan Bell dial telephone office, about 2,000,000 switch contacts are "on duty" to carry your calls. 10,000 of them may be needed to clear a path for a single call. So "faults," though infrequent, must be detected quickly. A new automatic detector has been designed for the job. It finds "faults"—a broken wire, specks of dirt causing high resistance — and detours calls around them. Then it automatically punches out a report on the trouble. Maintenance men check these reports regularly, learn what needs attention, see that service flows smoothly. Telephone efficiency like this keeps quality of service high, keeps costs as low as possible.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Don't forget the Band Parents Association dinner at the high school cafeteria tonight (Thursday) . . . It's for the benefit of the band and they need all the help they can get . . . what with 62 members this year there's lot of equipment and stuff to buy . . So how's about giving them a boost . . . PS Some of the best cooks in town are preparing the food . . .

Friday's going to be "Red Letter Day" for the high school band . . . that is, as part of the half-time festivities the band will present a series of numbers and stunts depicting the top holidays of the year . . . We understand it's really going to be very clever so don't miss it . . . And did you ever stop to think how much rehearsal goes into that sort of thing? Believe us, it's a lot . . .

IF YOU'RE LIKE us you mourn the passing of lovely big trees around town . . . Most of the time there's a good reason for losing them but one can't help but think of the years they've stood and what they must have seen . . . The latest is a big one at the See Funeral Home . . . a large limb came off in a recent wind storm and because it was rotted down the middle it had to be cut . . . And who was cutting it No one less than two of Charlevoix's oldest residents . . . Bert Ingalls who is now 82 and Jim Cook 85. And if you watched them in operation you found they sure knew what they were doing.

IF YOU'VE SEEN Milt Carter looking very glum this past week we'll tell you why . . . He was enroute to Petoskey early one evening last week when . . Wham . . a deer dashed into the path of his car near the entrance to the Rod and Gun club . . . Results: one dead deer and one badly damaged car . . . He called the garage for a tow truck and the Conservation Dept., as you're supposed to do, but he isn't sure if they even got the deer . . . It was an expensive piece of meat which he didn't get to enjoy . . .

IF YOU'VE SOMEONE in the service overseas you've been putting some though to his or her Christmas package which must be in the mail no later than Nov. 15 . . . Many who are sending overseas boxes for the first time are more than having difficultiea trying to dope out what to send . . . We'd like to offer a few suggestions which we've found in the past to be things they'd like . . . We've also talked to several boys who were in Korea last year and they've given us a few hints too . . So we'll pass them on to you . . .

But before you pack the parcel make sure it's a good sturdy box which will take a lot of wear and tear . . . It's going halfway around the world in the hold of a ship and it will get plenty of rough treatment . . .

TO BEGIN WITH, you know what your own serviceman likes best perhaps he likes some particular kind of candy, gum, tobacco, pocket book, etc. . . . put those things on the head of your list . . . If he has a Shick razor send blades . . . Stationary is particularly acceptable and don't forget airmail stamps but be sure they have waxed paper between them so they don't stick . .

And he might like heavy wool socks such as sweat socks . . . he can't have too many . . . or wash clothes and hankies or heavy lined leather gloves . . . (you might ask his opinion on any or all of these things) . . .

If you send home-made candy which is always a favorite . . . make it thick and creamy and pack it well . . . If you order it from a shop have them leave it in a large square and he can cut it himself . . . It travels better that way . . .

THERE'S ASLO vacuumed packed candies and nuts . . . . (And don't try to send nuts unless they are vacuumed-packed) . . And also sealed date and nut break . . . fruit cake in metal containers . . . Some mothers we know make an apple-sauce cake which travels well and arrives in fine condition . . .

Maybe he has a favorite fruit or jam . . . If you send jam pack in well in a box before putting it in the larger box . . . and if you get canned fruit, buy the small cans . . . he can only eat so much at a time . . .

If you want to send cookies be sure to send the good travelers . . coconut, date or nut bars, brownies or any chewy cookie to name a few . . . We'd advise you to take a look at the special cookie section in the November Good Housekeeping . . . you'll find seads of ideas on not only how to make them but to pack them . . . Be sure to place them in the middle of your shipping box . . that is, if you want them to arrive in something less than crumbs.

REMEMBER . . . you know your serviceman's likes better than anyone . . . so build your parcels around that and then fill in with other things . . .

Most servicemen, unless they've indicated otherwise to you, do not want or need cigarettes, we're told . . .

O yes, if you send cheeses be sure they're packaged . . . or if it's gum it's wrapped well so the taste won't transfer itself to other items . . . If you really put some thought to it you'll surprise yourself . . . And it will be an even happier surprise to your serviceman . . .

O yes . . . another thing . . . Don't forget the snapshots to go with his Christmas greeting which you'll be sending airmail later on . . .

START planning right now . . and in the next few weeks get together pictures of his favorite people . . . or his pet or his favorite scene . . . You have his picture before you all the time so don't you think he'd enjoy a few shots of the people and scenes he holds dear . . . Just make sure they're good clear prints so he'll recognize you and not wonder if it's Aunt Pansy or the lady down the block . . .

- More Rooms Are Needed! -

Board of Education Heeds Request

In response to a request of a group of citizens called together by the Barnard Grange, your school board accepted the group's recommendation for an addition to the present building and to present the proposal to the Charlevoix School District Voters.

The $225,000 Addition

As proposed by the citizens group, the new addition would provide for the construction of four classrooms to the elementary building and the music and shop addition to the high school building, thereby utilizing all available buildings. The addition would also permit the use of the present building to include an agriculture room and more space for other subjects.

THE COST

Total Cost	$225,000
Cost per year	$31,000
Rate	6 Mills on present valuation although a total of eight mills will be asked in order to obtain a lower interest rate.

Time to pay off bond issue	9 years or less

The Election Proposals

1.....Tax limit increase, granting permission to raise up to 8 mills for 14 years.

Note: This extra precaution makes the bonds more saleable and the interest rate less, BUT in no case can we exceed the $31,000 per year.

2.....Authority to borrow $225,000.

Vote Yes on Both Issues on Election Day, Tuesday, October 30

Rev. Buttrick Starts Tour of World

be of some interest but, definitely, there is no compulsion about reading it. . . Well, here goes the first installment.

Bob (Buttrick) and Miss King could give a vivid account of the last morning in New York as we weighed and tossed out and weighed again trying to bring our luggage down to 88 pounds allowed for a "round-the-world" flight. Out went the shoe-polishing outfit, the extra shoes, the paper and the soap-flakes and off we went. Everyone who saw us off must have wondered when we taxied back to the airport to have a defective instrument changed. So far every flight has started late.

In Sen Francisco we were hald up for four hours while an oll laak was corrected. At Wake, while a hunt was instltutad for three missing passengers who had gone wading. The rest of us wished we too had been anterprising.

John (Buttrick) and Frank Taylor (Bud) were at the Chicago airport to say hello as we passed through. We turned over to John all our business affairs in the hope he can keep us solvent while we are away—no speculation allowed

IN SAN FRANCISCO we were met by a representative of the Foreign Board of the Presbyterian church under whose auspices the Cook lectureship was placed, and an official of the airline, and then started a vain search of the suitcase containing all my dresses. I had a vision of touring the world in the suit I was wearing, but the suitcase was at length discovered in Chicago and three days later turned up in Honolulu—not, however, until I had of necessity to buy a new dress, for Honolulu was hot and delightfully summerish

Incidently, I almost wished I had waited to buy all "my trousseau" for the tropics there. I wish you could see the color and free and easy style of the clothes: the 'aloha' shirts in violent color and design which all the men wore, even the ministers and the governor, and the gaily colored, informal, and mostly sleeveless and backless dresses for the women.

MARY GLOVER and a delegation of ministers and their respective wives met us at the airport in Honolulu—and we were over three hours late—and aloha, aloha (the Hawaiian for welcome or goodbye) was heard on all sides; and in a trice we, or rather our heads, were peering over a mountain of leis of all colors and of drowsily heavy perfume—an experience not to be forgotten.

Soon we were established in the Royal Hawaiian Hotel, than which we have rarely seen one more luxurious, on the shore of the famous Waikiki Beach. That was Friday, Sept. 14, and we stayed until Monday evening. Our only engagements were a luncheon for the ministers and their wives of all denominations on the island at noon on Saturday and two services Sunday.

Tha rest in between did us good eftar the strain of the last few days in New York. We wandered eround, drova to saa the superb view from the Pali, anjoyed our niece who is now e doctor in Hilo on tha "Big Island", and swam many times on Welkiki Beach—such fun. Even "Zeka" went swimming and, still more surprisingly, bought himself a new nylon suit. But, I fear, me, Lake Charlevoix will never see its graceful linas—only the warm waters of the tropics can lure him in.

Bumper Crops TAKE A LOT OUT OF YOUR SOIL

Bigger yields from improved crop varieties and hybrids take more plant food out of your soil. As organic matter disappears, soil gets harder to plow, erodes more, soaks up less rain. Prompt manure spreading puts back most of the plant food that feed crops take out, prevents loss through fermenting and leaching. The organic matter in manure makes soil easier to work, helps prevent erosion, and lets your fields soak up more rain for future use.

Mancelona - Rayder Contest Here Friday Promises to Be Real Battle of Grid Season

The Red Rayders of Charlevoix, on the prowl for their fourth victory, will really have a battle on their hands this Friday when they oppose Mancelona.

The Rayders moved into second place in the Northern Michigan Class C standings as a result of their 13-0 victory over Pellston, while the Mancelona team bowed to East Jordan, the league leaders in a ding-dong battle.

Coach Del Terrill has warned his team that Mancelona will certainly be favored over the Rayders in their last conference game of the football season. But local fans feel confident that the Rayders will be equal to the occasion and turn back the Mancelona tide.

Both Mancelona and Charlevoix still retain a chance for the league title provided that East Jordan stumbles over Gaylord and Harbor Springs. In any event Mancelona and Charlevoix will throw caution to the winds and go all out on Kipke Field.

Don Whiteford again provided the winning margin, this time against Mancelona, for East Jordan. The game was particularly hard-fought and the Rayders will really have their hands full in trying to stop Mancelona.

Mancelona has made an exceptional comeback this year and is another one of those teams which has been beaten often by the Red Rayders. They will really be going all-out to hang a defeat on Charlevoix.

The second and final touchdown was scored in a similar manner in the final stanza when Bennett again hit Left from the 22-yard line. Bennett appears to be developing into a slick passer.

Pellston's Keith Emerson proved troublesome at times but a costly fumble robbed them of one touchdown. The defensive play of the Rayders line again stood out. The forward wall has been doing a good job of stopping line plays. An alert Rayder secondary bottled up the Pellston passer most of the time.

The Rayders dominated most of the play, although a last minute flurry of passes threatened to give Pellston a score, but the clock ran out on the losers.

Plowing of Light Sandy Soils in Fall Not Advised

Fall plowing tends to encourage wind and water erosion during late fall, winter and spring months as it eliminates all protective ground cover including crop residues, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent said today. Wind erosion is serious on Michigan's coarse sandy soils and on muck soil, while water erosion often becomes serious where slopes are greater than 5 percent.

Fall plowing prohibits the use of live-over-winter cover crops useful in control of winter and water erosion. In preventing use of these over-winter crops, such as rye, rye grass, and summer-seeded sweet clover, fall plowing farmers are not adding as much organic matter and humus to their soils as possible.

These same over-winter cover crops are highly effective in preventing the leaching of valuable plant food while the land is not protected by regular rotation crops.

ANOTHER DISADVANTAGE of fall plowing is the fact that it hastens the decay of legumes such as clover and alfalfa sod and releases their nitrogen and other plant food elements to leach away, Rebman pointed out.

Don't belittle these erosion and leaching losses. Soil scientists believe that in many fields, more plant food is lost by leaching and erosion than is lost by cropping and grazing.

There are some advantages for fall plowing. Among them is the fact that it helps speed up the decay of green manure crops and crop residues, such as corn stalks and straw. This may lessen insect pest troubles the following season.

FURTHERMORE, WETTING and drying, freezing and thawing tend to promote that desirable crumb or granular structure or condition which is so important in the heavier soils. As these forces are more effective in recently plowed land, the fall plowing advantage in heavier soils is plainly evident.

County agent Rebman sums up the question this way. He says that farmers should never plow light, sandy soils or rolling land in the fall. Should fall plowing be necessary for one reason or another, it should be done as late as possible.

Deep Litter Cuts Cleaning Time for Poultry

If poultry raisers in Charlevoix and Antrim counties want to use the deep litter system they can simply add fresh litter to the present litter in the laying house.

This idea should meet with approval because it saves the job of cleaning out the laying house, suggests J. M. Moore, extension poultry specialist at Michigan State college.

Aside from the labor-saving angle, the deep litter system will help overcome the problem of damp litter—if the poultry house is well insulated. And this well-insulated part is important, Moore says. He suggests 4 inches of wood shavings for ceiling insulation.

Ventilation above the ceiling insulation is important in the poultry house so the moist air can escape instead of condensing and running back down into the house.

The deep litter is built up by simply adding more litter and letting the hens mix it up with the old litter. It should be built up to about 4 inches deep by the time cold weather comes.

Deep litter gives off heat, making the house warmer. Bacteria in deep litter also produce vitamin B12 and certain traces of the new wonder drugs, antibiotics for the birds.

Continuous stirring is necessary to mix the wet litter with the dry and speed up drying. Stirring 15 pounds per bird a week of hydrated lime or superphospate into the litter at night will help keep down ammonia fumes and help keep the litter dry in freezing weather.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

This past season was ideal for grain, weeds and cover crops because it was cool and moist.

Another benefit will be that the abundant supply of humus will go back onto and into the soil. This seems to be the best form of fertilizer for fruit trees along with its water holding capacity.

Some growers broadcast their cover crop fertilizer in mid-summer. Spring is a much better time to do this and there should be a liberal amount of nitrogen in the mixture. As early cultivation holds more moisture in the soil, the cover crop should be started in early July in order to get an abundant growth for early use.

Now to consider the bad side. This heavy growth of vegetation will create a mouse nest. Young cherry trees should be banked up with soil or wire screens placed around them. Trees in sod or mulch should have wire screens around them. Part of the mulch should be removed from around the screen. Deep snow should be kept away from the trees.

Either keep the snow tramped down hard or shovel it away as the mice will sometimes eat the limbs as well as the trunk. Thousands upon thousands of fruit trees are lost yearly from mice.

Use poison bait and protectors.

Farm Credit Group Sets Annual Meeting

The board of directors of the Gaylord Production Credit association has selected Saturday, Nov. 10 as the date for the Annual Stockholders meeting. At the meeting the association, the local cooperative credit association serving farmers in Alpena, Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet, Montmorency, Oscoda, Otsego and Presque Isle counties, will feature the progress it has made since it became member-owned.

Back in 1933-34, the Federal government helped the production credit association of the Nation, including those in the four states of this district—Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, and North Dakota—to get started by providing most of the capital.

The balance of the capital was obtained from the farmers themselves who invested in the capital stock of their local cooperative credit association when they borrowed money to finance their production and operating costs. The production credit associations were organized to provide farmers with a source of credit adapted to their special needs. They are not solely dependent upon local funds:

Most of the money is obtained from private investors through the sale of debentures by the nationwide system of Federal Intermediate Credit Banks. As the Production Credit Association grew, the farmer-owned capital and earned reserves accumulated, and the PCA's gradually began to retire the money advanced by the government.

Today, 25 of the 54 production credit associations in the 7th district have entirely repaid the government and are solely owned by the farmer-members. This fall, 11 of the remaining associations will follow suit.

Plan Dairy Chores, Saves Time, Labor

Location of grain bins, hay and silage supply, cow arrangement, and milk house location are some of the items that affect the amount of time and labor needed in care and management of the dairy, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent said today.

Many times, some of the items can be changed at a small cost that will mean a saving in chore time.

Considerable interest is now being shown in building milk houses. To save time and labor in doing the daily chores the milk house should be located as close to most cows as possible.

A milk house located so as to require 10 extra feet of walking between it and a cow means almost a mile and a half unnecessary travel per year for each cow in the herd. A milk house 50 feet from barn requires 36 miles of walking per cow per year.

The trend today is to have the milk house attached to the barn and so located to be nearest the greatest number of cows.

Full Feeding May Not Be Cheapest Way to Beef Gains

Full feeding grain is the quickest way to get a steer to market but it isn't necessarily the cheapest or the most profitable.

Plain cattle, for instance, should be fed longer and more cheaply than well-bred steers of good type, according to G. A. Branaman, Michigan State college animal husbandry authority. He pointed out that there are several ways of fattening cattle.

"Corn silage full-fed along with protein supplement may replace all the grain for plain steers when fed a longer time," he comments. "Yearling steers usually are fed from 4 to 7 months, depending on their grade and quality, and the amount of grain fed. Calves require a longer time to fatten and 2-year-olds a shorter time.

Calves may be fed 2 to 4 months on a limited grain ration, then finished for a late summer or fall market, which tends to be higher than spring prices. Feeding grain on pasture will help reduce costs of labor in harvesting hay and hauling manure, Branaman pointed out.

Wintering calves on roughage then pasturing for part or all of the summer without grain results in cheap gains. They may be fed grain in late summer, fall or winter depending on the feed supply and the program one wishes to follow.

Under present cattle and feed prices it is possible to pasture cattle for two summers, feeding roughage in the winter. These animals may be grain fed for a short time or sold as grass-fat cattle. "Such cattle should weigh from 1150 to 1300 pounds and are not popular on the market unless choice to prime in finish," Branaman remarked.

All Fruit Growers Should Be Salesman

Every fruit grower in Michigan should become a booster, a salesman and a merchandiser of fruit, says Dr. H. B. Tukey, head of the Michigan State college department of horticulture.

Growers of the state have produced a good crop of quality apples, Tukey explains, but producing these apples or any other fruit is not enough in itself. The best salesman in the world is the man who manufactures his own product.

He knows more facts about it and has the incentive to push it. Tukey says that these facts are important because Michigan growers must move the bulk of the apple crop before Christmas if prices are to be maintained.

MR. DAIRYMAN:
FOR ECONOMY, HERE'S A
COMPLETE PROTEIN FEED

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% is a concentrate built for the dairyman, or cattleman, who has fed a single protein concentrate (such as Soybean Oil Meal or Linseed Meal) with his home grown grain. We feel that a combination protein—plus molasses, trace minerals, bone meal and Vitamin D will produce cheaper milk or meat, and maintain better health.

Farm Bureau 45 Per Cent Cattle Supplement

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% carries Linseed Meal, Cottonseed Meal, Soybean Oil Meal, Gluten Feed and Urea as sources of Protein. Two hundred pounds of molasses per ton is added to increase palatability and help control ketosis. Trace mineral salt, Bone meal and Vitamin D are added as health factors.

Here is a concentrate that allows more home grown grain to be fed with each hundred pounds than single proteins allow. In one bag there are all the other factors necessary to make a practicable low cost ration when mixed with corn, oats, barley or spelt and still furnish molasses, trace minerals, proper amino acids and Vitamin D.

SOME SUGGESTED FORMULAS

This Concentrate should always be mixed with home grown grains before being fed. Below are suggested formulas.

Guess They Felt Pretty "Sheepish"

My wife and I went to Central City Saturday for the football game and it was a top-notcher. But I began to wonder if it was worth the trouble when we got in a traffic jam coming home.

Upon arriving at the spot one of the fellows grabbed Edgar's bow and made a quick aim. He pulled the bow so hard it broke and it was just lucky for him that it did because he was aiming at Tim Leonard's goats.

Hospital Drive Is Close to Goal

The area hospital drive lacks $6,366 ot reaching the minimum goal of $225,000.

Workers and leaders pressed hard to raise the remainder betore the tinal report meeting Friday night at the high school gymnasium.

To date $218,634 has been raised in contributions or pledges.

A WAVE OF enthusiasm in the last seven days resulted in the raising of $5,883 in three-year pledges for the fund to build and equip the new hospital.

If $225,000 is raised, the about-to-die priority on $275,000 in government fonds will be made secure. Members of all committees will meet at 8 p.m. Friday.

They report a general feeling of optimism that the proposed hospital will become a reality.

COMMITTEES have been organized in South Arm township under the co-chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Murphy and Mrs. Harry Sloop, and in Boyne City under the co-chairmanship of Henry Lee and J. R. Porter.

The lead this week was taken by the Charlevoix Public committee, reporting $1,444.60. Results this week from all public committees are as follows:

Banks township, $2,263.40; City of Charlevoix, $4,134.20; East Jordan, $823.12; Ellsworth, $1,002.60; Eveline township (west) $554.60; Hayes township, $449.80; Marion township, $514.20; Norwood township, $323.00

Strangeness of Tokyo Amusing To Mrs. Buttrick on World Tour

Note: This is the second ot a series ot the Rev. Buttrick's world travels and Mrs. Bottrick is writing the letters.

To return to Honolulu: no one there ever speaks of America or the States. That is a faux pas! You speak of "the mainland". And, white folk, a minority problem on the island and possibly the world across, are called "haole" pronounced "howl-le"

THIS GOES back to their first arrival in the Islands. The priests after their prayers, used to breathe heavily to put the breath of the Spirit into the prayer. The white missionary prayed much less long and did not breathe. So they were spoken of as "haole" or withoot breathe.

On Sunday George preached in the Church of the Crossroads in the morning. Isn't it a lovely name and it truly is such a church: Filippinos, Japanese, Chinese, Portuguese and American. It is built around a grass courtyard, with buildings of one story, having sliding screen doors, so that usually they are open to the air.

ONE OF THE nicest things happened when one little Korean lady came up and said to George, "I am glad you know so much about my Lord."

We left on Monday evening for Japan, reached Wake Island at 5 a.m. Tuesday but, because of the International Date Line, found we had skipped to Wednesday and are still wondering where Tuesday has vanished.

We arrived in Japan about 1:30 p.m. Wednesday after two final stormy hours on the plane which I, personally, did not like at all and would hate to go through again. Guess I did not take dramamine enough or soon enough: thought I was too smart.

But the adventure never fazed

Farmers Hunting Organization Calls Meeting Tonight

Hunting posters and hunting permit tickets will be issued to members of the Norwood-Banks Hunt association at the Norwood township hall tonight.

A regular meeting of the association has been announced tor the same time by the secretary, Norman Empey. Main purpose of the meeting, he says, is to determine disposition of funds now in the treasury. Due to lack of membership interest in some section, the officers feel that a detinite policy should be mapped for the future and if this cannot be accomplished the association should be dissolved.

Many members believe future hunter-farmer relations will be more satisfactory if the farmers continue with the organization, especially if the tuture brings increasing hunters into the area.

Rayders Close Grid Season At Cheboygan

With second place clinched in the Northern Michigan Class C conference, the Rayders who have been showing steady improvement each week, close their 1951 grid season against non-conference Cheboygan Friday evening in an away from home contest.

The Rayders have traveled a long ways in the last six weeks when they opened the season against Boyne City. They were most impressive against Mancelona last Friday, wining 7-0.

It was not so much the score but the confidence and steady playing they displayed. The team as a unit blocked and tackled in a creditable fashion. The line paced by Charles Krahnke, "Hungry" Whitley, and Ted Browe played its best game.

MANCELONA, BY the admission of its coach, Matt Jacobsen, played its best game of the season against Charlevoix which also came up with its top game for all-around performance.

The Rayders pushed over their one touchdown margin a couple of minutes before the first half ended. Bud Barher put Mancelona in the hole with a nifty boot which went out of bounds on the 19 yard line. After failing to gain necessary yardage, Mancelona punted to Jerry Left who was downed on the loser's 34 yard line.

Atter Bill Denemy picked up three yards, Charley Donaldson made it a first down on the Mancelona 22. At this point Bobo Bennett flipped an aerial to lett end Dean Boss who

District Voters OK $225,000 Addition By 2 1-2 to 1 Margin

The architects for the new school addition were speeding their working plans today, after Charlevoix school district voters approved construction of a $225,000 addition at a special election Tuesday.

By a 2½ to 1 margin, voters went on record as favoring the plan submitted by the board of education calling for the addition of four rooms onto the elementary building and the band room and shops onto the high school building.

The vote was 321 Yes against 148 No on the first proposal to raise eight mills for 14 years. The second proposal to authorize the board to borrow $225,000 was approved by a 311 to 137 count.

School Supt. Roy G. Bennett said late Wednesday that it is hoped that all details can be cleared away to permit construction by next June. Barring unforseen events, he added that the new addition should be ready for the September semester.

THE NEXT immediate steps will be for the board of Education through Mr. Bennett to obtain priority for steel and scarce materials and to have the bonding company advertise the bonds for sale.

Warren S. Holmes of Lansing, one of the state's largest architectural firms for school construction, will complete working drawings in the next month or so.

The new addition will mean that the seventh and eighth graders who have been so overcrowded in the high school building will be shitted to the elementary building and several elementary grades to the new addition.

The voters approval of construction means more adequate shops for Uno Suomela, shop instructor, and improved facilities for the band and music department which have been greatly handicapped in recent years.

IT ALSO MEANS that the school will have an agriculture class for the first time. In fact the whole school will benefit through alleviation of overcrowding.

Members of the board of education and school aothorities were overjoyed with the prospect of a new addition to relieve overcrowding.

Here's One for Ripley!

Did you hear the story about the two small mouth bass who came to town to have their picture taken and then back home to Harwood lake in Norwood township?

That's no story . . . It's the truth. Here it what happened as told by the fisherman, John Cook.

He caught these two bass, one weighing 3½ pounds and measoring 19¼ inches and the other weighing a half pound more and a half inch longer at Harwood lake Oct. 14. They were so nice a catch (too nice to keep) that he put them in a tub of cold water, later posed for a picture and then threw them back in Harwood where some other lucky fisherman will catch them (and probably keep them.)

He treasures the picture because he can show his friends and doubters that they did not get away. This should be

Highway Construction Speeded Up

An accelerated construction program is underway to bring Michigan's highway system of 9,315 miles of State trunklines, 85,758 miles of county roads, and 11,800 miles of city and village streets up to present-day traffic requirements.

This program was made possible because of the increase in gasoline tax from 3c to 4½c per gallon (a tax which is still 1½c below the average of all the states), and an increase in the weight tax on heavy trucks. The increased revenues mean more construction funds for the State Highway Department, the 83 county road commissions, and the 487 cities and incorporated villages of the State.

It has been impossible in recent years for highway construction to keep pace with need when highway revenues were based on a 1927 tax structure, and construction costs more than doubled since 1941. It would have been impossible even without the extra load our highways were required to carry during World War II. The diversion of steel, cement, and other critical materials to defense needs has also contributed to delays in highway construction.

Traffic volumes on our highways reached a prewar peak of 15 billion vehicle miles per year in 1941. Today, that traffic volume has increased to approximately 22 billion vehicle miles per year, an increase of nearly 45%. Truck traffic has increased about 80%. This greatly increased traffic not only wears out existing roads, but creates an emergent need for wider and stronger roads.

Highways which are adequate to safely handle traffic demands save motorists many times the small increase in highway user taxes which makes it possible to construct and maintain them. Highways which eliminate congestion and other traffic hazards are safer and cut down accidents which were responsible for the death of 1,011 persons on our highways the first eight months of this year.

The cost of the increased gasoline tax to the owner of a passenger car driving 10,000 miles in a year is less than 20c per week. His saving in time and operating costs is many times 20c per week.

Let's Leave No Stone Unturned

President Truman has said that the United States will leave no stone unturned in the search for a durable peace. His words are reassuring, and the world is hungry for such reassurance from the most powerful nation on earth.

There is widespread fear that an accelerated armaments race can lead only to global war. The President in his Wake Forest speech challenged this fatalistic concept. Americans in general are not fatalists. Whatever the pattern of the past and however much the possesion of overwhelming force may tempt the possessor to put it to active use, the fact remains that the western policy of rearmament aims at preventing war and not starting it.

This cannot be said too often, too clearly or too loudly in order to be heard above the rumble of tanks, planes, and lethal weapons pouring off American assembly lines. The whole purpose of building western defensive strength is to bring the Soviet Union to a willingness to use the existing machinery for a peaceful settlement. As Mr. Truman put it in his speech:

> We are ready now, as we have always been, to sit down with the Soviet Union, and all the nations concerned, in the United Nations, and work together for lifing the burden of armaments and securing the peace.

The Soviet Union has for too long enjoyed the propaganda advantage of advocating "disarmament." Why should not the United States show its zeal for the only sort of disarmament that would not be a gigantic booby trap—namely, restriction of all sorts of armaments (not merely atomic weapons) through United Nations agreement and with full rights of international inspection guaranteed?

The fact that this may be a fairly utopian aim at the present time is no reason why the United States should not go on record as being willing to support it whenever the Russians show themselves willing to seek peace and not merely talk about it. To be more exact, the United States already is on record to this effect and work is already going forward in the UN on a new approach to disarmament, as the President pointed out; but the need is to give far more prominence to this practical expression of the western desire for peace. Too much of the world still believes the United States to be basing its policy on the theory of inevitable war.

There is no inconsistency between carrying out a huge arms program and announcing one's goal as peace with justice. The free world should not be misled into expecting a quick and easy settlement, but it should be assured that if any just and reasonable alternative to brute force is rejected, Moscow and not Washington is turning it down.

ADD THIS TO YOUR list of nice things you've heard about recently: Gordon Clement went to the football game Friday . . . Chuck Pontius and Jerry Whitley with the cooperation of Mrs. Clement and Rev. W. D. Wood arranged it . . . and off they went to see the Rayders beat Mancelona . . . All from a nice heated ambulance . . . while the rest of us froze to death . . . And then for a nice cruise around the village to see what was going on . . a grand outing for a grand guy . . .

NOT JUST one but a beautiful lei of orchids to the Band Parents Association for the grand dinner Thursday night . . Everyone pitched in and what a meal . And the results were gratifying . . . more than $300 for the band . . . You lucky kids to have such nice parents . . . We hope you appreciate them . . .

FRIDAY WILL mark the last high school football game for a dozen seniors . . . May we take this opportunity of saying Thanks, guys, for a good season . . . Second place isn't a half-bad spot especially when a lot of people knew you were going to end up in the cellar . . . We love you and we'll miss you . . . come another fall . . . So lots of luck to all the Rayders against Cheboygan Friday.

It's getting around to that time again . . . or hadn't you noticed? . . . We mean deer-hunting . . . and if you don't believe us take a look at the hardware windows . . . it's a dead give-away . . . November 15 will be here before we know it . . .

And speaking of that time . . two months from last Thursday will be Christmas . . . better start on that list or you'll never make it in those crowded weeks to come . . .

IN THE MAIL this week a card from Mrs. W. H. Supernaw who is spending six weeks in New York and from her note . . . it sounds as tho' she's enjoying every minute of it . . . That would be fun, wouldn't it?

And from Sara Coleman at Central Michigan a note telling us about life on the campus and also that the Junior Varsity played Port Huron recently . . . Ron Cunningham and Bill Wallace both looked good . . . Ron started the game and was co-captain and Bill threw several passes, one for a TD and another for a first down . . . It seemed like home to see those two out there . . . according to Sara . . . But the real reason for the letter was this: Next time the parkway question comes up again, will you do us a favor? . . . Charlevoix just wouldn't be Charlevoix without those parkways . . . So please note . . . the college kids are agin it . . .

From Mrs. Alex Farmer, the former Lucille Bogart of this city, an account of her trip to the 75th anniversary of the American Library Association in Philadelphia with Mrs. Fyan, state librarian and president of the national organization: Mrs. Fyan was one of the distinguished guests at the celebration . . . we traveled by plane which was quite an experience for me . . . The first session was held at the auditorium of the Drexel Institute of Technology . . . with many prominent speakers such as Dr. Luther Evans of the Library of Congress . . .

ONE DOES NOT realize the difference in living made of the sections of the country, such as Philadelphia with its one way, narrow cobbelstone streets and red brick houses with the front door opening practically on the street . . . relics of another era, sticking to the traditions of our forefathers, where as our own state capitol has modernized itself and Philadelphia has retained most of its old world dignity.

Mrs. Farmer also described other parts of Philadelphia and the events she atended in connection with the celebration . . . the account was written for Michigan State Library Staff News . .

JOE GENGLE reported recently that he saw wild geese flying north . . . and added that it was the sign of good weather . . Let's hope he's right . . . although that white stuff that came down for a short time Sunday morning didn't exactly look like good weather . . . But then, with the first of November here, what can one expect . . .

Did you know that in the Oct. 22 issue of Time Under Religion there's quite a story on Dr. George Buttrick titled "Biblical Landmark" . . . It's about the Interpreter's Bible which was written under his direction . . . Read it . . . It's more than worthwhile . . .

AND IN THE Oct 17 issue of of Junior Scholastic, a publication, the junior high gets each week is a story under Sports which we liked . . . It's titled "End" of the World . . . and of course it's about our own Bob Carey . . . And a cleverly written article for young fry consumption . . . No wonder every kid we know wants to play end . . . Everyone was happy to see Bob back in the game against Pitt Saturday, where, despite an injured neck, he did a bit of all-right . . . Let's hope he's back in tiptop shape for that Notre Dame game Nov. 10 . . .

REMEMBER Louis Holstad, sr. who was once C.O. at the Coast Guard station here . . . We saw him at the football game Friday . . . He's retired from the Coast Guard, as of Oct. 1 . . . after 27 years and with the rank of lieutenant and is now making his home at Mancelona . . . Mrs. H. was with him . . . It was great seeing them again . . . Let's hope they continue to make Charlevoix a regular port of call.

MSC Bulletin Aids Cooking of Game

Hunters and homemakers who face their first experience in preparing wild game for table use may get some assistance in the task from a Michigan State college bulletin, "Good Eating from Woods and Fields."

The bulletin of information was compiled by the MSC Cooperative Extension Service and the Michigan Conservation Department, according to Charles Shick, college bulletin, "Good Eating from management.

Hunters will get some good pointers on dressing and cutting game animals from this bulletin and the homemakers will learn tested methods for preparing such foods as wild duck, pheasant, grouse, muskrat and so on.

A copy of the bulletin may be obtained at your local county agricultural extension office or by writing the Bulletin Office, MSC, East Lansing.

Railroad workers are represented by 23 standard unions. By mutual agreement, 20 of these unions—comprising about 1,200,000 men, or more than 90%—are working under wages and rules agreed to by them and the railroads. But leaders of three unions—with only about 130,000 men, or less than 10%—still refuse, after more than a year of negotiations, to accept similar wage and rules agreements. These are even more favorable than the terms recommended by the Emergency Board appointed by the President.

Time to settle...

Yes, it certainly seems to be finally about time that the leaders of the three unions stop their delaying tactics—their quibbling. But the leaders of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors continue to refuse. They continue a course of dillying and dallying. It is definitely time to END THIS QUIBBLING!

On June 15, 1950, an Emergency Board appointed by the President under the terms of the Railway Labor Act—an Act largely fathered by the unions themselves—made its recommendations on certain wage and working conditions ("rules" in railroad language) which had been in dispute between employes and the railroads.

More Than 90% of Employes Accept

Since then, terms equal to or better than the Board recommendations have been accepted by about 1,200,000 railroad employes—more than 90% of the total of all workers. They are represented by 20 of the 23 standard railroad unions.

Less Than 10% Refuse

But three unions—with about 130,000 men, or less than 10% of the total—have refused to accept, even after months of negotiations. These three unions are the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and the Order of Railway Conductors. These are three of the so-called "operating" unions. Already the highest paid men in the industry, their leaders demand still further advantages over other workers.

In all, there are about 270,000 operating employes. But not all of them, by any means, are represented by BLE, BLF&E, or ORC. As a matter of fact, less than half—132,000 to be exact—are in these three unions. More than half—about 140,000—are in other unions, principally the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. What makes the whole situation so hard to understand is that these 140,000 operating employes are working under wages and rules which the leaders of the other 130,000 say they cannot agree to.

What Do the Railroads Offer?

They offer these three unions the same settlement which was contained in a Memorandum of Agreement signed at the White House on December 21, 1950, by four brotherhoods and the railroads. Later these brotherhoods sought to repudiate this agreement. But on May 25, 1951, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen signed a complete agreement carrying out the principles of the Memorandum Agreement of December 21. They have been working under this agreement since May 25.

What About Wages?

Under the terms of the agreement, yard engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving a wage increase of $.34 an hour ($2.72 a day) and road engineers, firemen and conductors would now be receiving an increase of 19½ cents an hour ($1.56 per day). Large sums of retroactive pay have already accrued and if the agreement is carried out, will be paid promptly.

What About "Cost of Living" Increases?

The White House Agreement includes an "escalator" clause under which wages will be geared to changes in the Government's cost-of-living index. Two such increases—April and July, 1951—have already been paid to the 90% of railroad employes covered by signed agreements.

What About the 40-Hour Week?

The White House Agreement calls for the establishment of the 40-hour week in principle, for employes in yard service. The employes can have it any time after January 1, 1952, provided the manpower situation is such that the railroads can get enough men to perform the work with reasonable regularity at straight time rates. If the parties do not agree on the question of availability of manpower, the White House Agreement provides arbitration by a referee appointed by the President.

What Else Do the Union Leaders Demand?

The continued quibbling of the leaders of the three unions has to do principally with rules changes, which have already been agreed to by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen. Of these, the principal one seems to be that having to do with so-called "interdivisional service"—runs which take in two or more seniority districts.

The union leaders would bar progress and efficiency in the industry, and better service to the public, by maintaining a situation where they can arbitrarily stop a railroad from establishing such interdivisional runs. The carriers propose that if a railroad wishes to set up an interdivisional run, the railroad and the unions should try to agree on such run and the conditions which should surround its establishment, and if the railroad and the unions can't agree, the matter will be submitted to arbitration.

But the three union leaders still refuse.

Rules Can Be Arbitrated

The railroads have not only offered these three unions the same rules agreed to by the BRT and covered by the White House Agreement, but have even agreed to submit such rules to arbitration.

The Industry Pattern Is Fixed

With the pattern so firmly established in the railroad industry, it seems fair to suggest that the leaders of BLE, BLF&E, and ORC stop their quibbling and take action to make the railroad labor picture 100% complete. Certainly today's economic and international situation calls for a united front. And certainly no good reason has been advanced why these three unions should be preferred over all other railroad employes.

Strangeness of Tokyo Amuses Buttricks

George at all.

He is a marvel and, too, has a wonderful bump of direction in a strange city, though he has not yet mastered the Japanese language . . . a toughey we are convinced!

TOKYO IS A huge rambling city with teeming millions of inhabitants. It almost rivals New York and London in size. It is the strangest mixture of new and old.

Professional people and the younger folk wear western dress, the older folk in kimono and wooden sandal, the mother usually with a child strapped to her back and such docile children!

We are facinated by the little shops and the strange customs and way of life, and will have a lot to tell. The Japanese are such an attractive people. They smile readily. They work hard and have done wonders already in rebuilding and recovery since the devastation of the war.

We have wandered around a good deal of the city, have visited schools and colleges, including the site of the new International Christian college, and have driven miles along narrow country roads.

THE TRAFFIC is unbelievable: a mixture of pedestrians, ox-carts, rickshas, bicycles by the hundreds (whose riders carry huge piles of boxes one on the other), and tiny autos creeping at a snail's pace because no one gets out of the way but almost stands and stares as though surprised.

Here you may see two women crouched down in the gutter washing clothes in a round tub, there someone watering down the dust in front of a store with a watering can; and, if the car should stop, immediately a crowd gathers.

I do hope my pictures come out well for I tried to take some of the mothers and children down one particular country lane near the first school for the deaf established in the Islands. Now there is such a school in each prefecture.

THIS AFTERNOON we visited the largest and best department store in Tokyo . . . the Marshall Fields of Japan . . . and marvelled at the delicacy of the art and the beauty of the porcelains, at the exquisite silks of kimonos and obies (the sashes worn around the waist to hold the kimono).

Now it is Saturday and a busy Sunday is ahead so I must leave all else until our next letter. Actually a letter can give little of our impressions. We could almost write a book on this one city.

Of one thing we are sure: the Christian fellowship is a great bond. Whatever our nation, we at once speak the same language. In the name of the Lord Jesus we are one.

Father Joseph was in Grand Rapids this week on business.

Where, oh where is my little bow tie? One of our local merchants lost his bow tie. He hid it away in his store's cigarette case to make sure he'd have one for the Hunter's Ball. Somehow the tie strayed and the poor merchant is at loose ends trying to find it. The stores are featuring bow ties prior to Governor Williams visit and the report is that even our Republican citizens are buying them.

Greatly Improved Rayder Team Points for Cheboygan After Defeating Mancelona

While Charlevoix was pushed out of first place in the final standings of the Northern Michigan Class C conference for the first time in six years, this year's edition of the Rayders has come a long ways in this short season..

The Rayders capped their development last Friday in the season's home finale against a hard-charging Mancelona team, the best Mancelona team in many years. The Rayders had to be in top form for this one as Mancelona was on the prowl after dropping a one touchdown decision to the 1951 champs, East Jordan.

Every one of the Rayders played a good game and time and time again when Mancelona threatened, Krahnke, Browe or Whitley would upset their opponents. They also had plenty of help from the others. The Rayder defense stiffened many times and prevented Mancelona from entering the 20 yard zone.

The passing combination of Bobo Bennett and Deano Davenport augurs well for next year's team. Bennet in the last few games has demonstrated that he can pass the ball and Davenport snagged several nice ones for gains. With a year's experience on the first team, this pair should develop into a feared passing threat.

Spectators have noticed the improvement in the play of the Rayders, coached by Del Terrill, as the season progressed.

This week finds the Rayders traveling to Cheboygan for their final game against a non-conference opponent. The locals will be going up against a Class B school about which not too much is known.

Cheboygan, coached by Charlevoix's well-known Chuck Carey, has a 4-3 record this year. Carey's team has wins over Harbor Springs, Boyne City, Onaway and Rogers City while losing to Clare, Petoskey and Alpena.

On the basis of the record, Cheboygan should be rated a slight favorite. It will be a close game if Charlevoix shows continued improvement as it has in successive weeks.

The game pits a Charlevoix team against a team coached by one of its favorite sons. It seems certain that the lads coached by Carey will be going all out to end their season on a victorious note.

C'mon Rayders let's defeat Cheboygan and close our season with a triumph.

Rayders Play Top Game Against Mancelona

An unidentified Rayder is tackled by E. Smigowski of Mancelona in the third period as the Charlevoix team outrushed the losers. Other Rayders in the picture are: Jim Lewis, 41; Bobo Bennett, 45; Ted Browe, 49; Stan Whitley, 43;. The Rayders played their best game of the year in the season's final at home in defeating Mancelona 7-0. The winners had another touchdown nullified by a penalty. The defensive line of the Rayders stood out as they outfought a determined Mancelona 11 coached by Matt Jacobson who praised both teams for playing an outstanding brand of ball.

Annual Potato Apple Show at Gaylord Nov. 6-7

The sixteenth annual Northern Michigan Potato and Apple Show will be held in the high school gymnasium at Gaylord, Nov. 6-7, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Feature events of the show this year will be judging and identification contests for 4-H members, F. F. A. members, "On the Farm" Veterans and students in Rural Agricultural Schools. These contests are scheduled for Wednesday morning, November 7 starting at 10:00 a.m.

The Apple Pie Baking Contest is another popular feature which is expected to produce stacks of apple pies. The contest is open to juniors and seniors both men and women. Pies for the contest will be entered at the Gaylord High School Wednesday a.m., Nov. 7.

There is also a poster contest open to any grade or high school student in the area. This is an opportunity for some boy or girl to coin a slogan to promote the use of Northern grown potatoes or apples.

Exhibits will include entries of the many varieties of apples and potatoes grown in the area as well as legume seeds. Cash awards and ribbons will be offered in each of the 51 classes as outlined in the catalogue. Catalogues for the Show are available at your County Agr'l Agents office.

A program of interest to all potato and apple growers and their wives has been arranged for the afternoon of November 7. Movies and a demonstration on packaging and marketing will be the feature of this program.

"The final event of the Show is a Banquet at which awards will be made, with a program of entertainment on Wednesday at 6:30 p.m.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

We just made a trip through the main part of the apple belt in the state to note the condition of the apples in general in comparison with the condition of our own.

Cortlands were generally riper than usual despite our cooler summer and fall. Although the Jonathan is a real good keeping variety and will keep even though it has taken on an early flavor and color.

Red. yellow and common delicious are very firm and hard. This means they will keep longer this year and not get mealy. Most growers were finishing their Spys which had started to take on color and size.

McIntosh apples were firm in most cases, especially those that had refrigeration. Wageners had dropped badly except where growers had used sticks and sprays.

The lesson learned shows plainly that it pays to use apple set sprays on McIntosh, Wagener, Baldwins and Wealthy. While Jonathans are not well-known in this section, they have taken on extra color and size this year.

Suggest Methods To Control Lice In Cattle Herds

A pre-winter treatment of cattle for lice should be included on the schedule for a warm day in late October or any time during November.

Ray L. Janes, extension specialist in entomology at Michigan State college, says that the ideal time for treatment would be as late as possible in the season. But it should not be delayed so late that cold weather will prevent use of a spray.

For dairy animals Janes recommends using methoxychlor at the rate of 8 pounds of the 50 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water, or a level tablespoonsful to 1 gallon of water. You may use either DDT of methoxychlor at the same rate for beef cattle or dry stock—cows that won't be freshening within 60 days, that is.

Lindane may be used for a single teratment only for dairy cows. Use no more than 1 pound of the 25 percent wettable powder to 100 gallons of water or 1 level tablespoonsful to a gallon of water. If more treatments are needed lindane should not be used on an animal producing milk for human use, unless the milk is used some other way for 3 days after treatment, Janes warned. And not more than one lindane treatment should be used on dairy animals freshening within 60 days.

One and a half pounds of 25 percent wettable powder lindane may be used to 100 gallons of water for beef animals and dry stock. Repeat treatments may be used if necessary although more than two treatments normally are not needed.

Light for Hens Really Aids Egg Production

Hens should get enough light to put in a 13 to 14 hour working day. They don't object to putting in the longer hours but you'll have to add some extra light now that the days are getting shorter.

Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, says that the days are getting enough shorter that it's time to turn on the lights in the laying house.

It doesn't make any difference whether the lights are turned on in the morning or in the evening. The important thing is to be sure they are turned on at the same time every day so the hens become used to the schedule you set up for them.

As to the amount of light necessary, county agent Rebman suggests one 40-watt light bulb in a cone-shaped reflector if the laying house is about 200 square feet in size. If the laying house is larger, put up one 40-watt bulb for every 200 square feet of floor space.

The county agricultural agent points out that the hens may not respond to the light right away, it usually takes from 2 to 4 weeks before you can see a boost in production. It's the average or below average birds that respond best to the artificial light. High producers usually lay well during the winter without the extra urging.

Farm Bureau Names State Meet Delegates

Resolutions to be presented at the state meeting of the Farm Bureau were among the topics discussed at the Charlevoix county Farm Bureau meeting at the high school auditorium.

One hundred fifty members from 11 community groups were present for the meeting at which Leo Berg presided.

Delegates to the state meeting were also named. They are: John Rosquist, Vernon Mathews, Rowley Williams and Mr. Berg.

Supt. Roy G. Bennett spoke on "Education".

Other officers are: vice chairman, Armin Buchfinck; secretary-treasurer, Charles Mascho.

Refreshments and presentation of prizes concluded the meeting.

Corn Picker Safety Cuts Down Injuries

Every corn producer should be interested in the following tips from Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent. The largest single cause of corn harvest accidents, according to Rebman, is use of unsafe methods.

He has set up a list of safety rules which he urges everynne to adopt.

1. Always stop the snapping and husking rolls to clean them.
2. Train new operators in proper operation of the machine.
3. Be especially cautious during mid-morning and mid-afternoon.
4. Always keep the power take-off shields in place.
5. Wear snug-fitting clothes.
6. Never adjust or lubricate the picker while the machine is running.
7. Never use a stick or cornstalk to push clogs while the machine is running.
8. Never take a chance, especially when working late.

Frosted Sudan Grass Not Good for Cows

A word of caution about pasturing frosted sudan grass and alfalfa was given to farmers this week.

Dr. Glen Reed, Michigan State college extension veterinarian, said that both are apt to cause bloat and may poison cattle. Chemists have reported a heavy prussic acid content in frosted sudan grass.

Reed advises taking the cows off such pasture for a few days. If they are to be turned back on the pasture they should first get a full feed of hay or corn silage.

Careful Handling of Potatoes Suggested

When you dig potatoes, don't forget to let them dry before picking them up. That's a suggestion given by Michigan State college farm crops specialists.

Handle potatoes carefully in crating and remove dirt to prevent staining. Store the spuds at about 40 degrees, allowing the storage to cool thoroughly after the crop is in. A relative humidity of 90 to 95 percent is recommended

High Output Key to Farming Success in '52

High farm production will be the key to success in 1952, Michigan State college agricultural economists predicted this week.

Operation costs will be higher, especially for labor, machinery and feed, but the economists feel the best way to beat higher costs is through greater production and efficiency.

Increased production can be obtained by use of more legumes in the rotation, using more comercial fertilizer or by tiling heavy land which is poorly drained but which can be made highly productive. Modern machinery, economists contend, makes farming larger acreages possible, and only through making maximum use of equipment can it become a profitable buy.

Another method of increasing production will be through expanding the livestock program. Continued high demand for livestock products will keep prices high. Through utilization of roughage—pasture, hay and silage—more economical gains that require less labor can be attained. A minimum of 25 percent of the crop land in legumes will help maintain soil fertility and provide more roughages for livestock.

The year of 1952, economists say, will be a good time to reduce the mortgaged debt and farmers who do will be in a better position to weather out any period of financial reverses, if one should occur. "A productive farm, free of debt, is one of the best investments you can have," M. S. C. economists conclude

Profit from Eggs

Profits from eggs come from healthy hens that lay at top speed. Farm Bureau Mermash carries extra vitamins B12-A-D and Ribo flavin to promote health — it carries extra proteins from animals and fish liver meal — milk products and fish meal to speed production — it carries an open formula so you, Mr. Poultryman, can check on just what is used and how much. Buy and profit.

Stimulate Pig Growth

If you haven't tried Farm Bureau's B-12 Concentrate, your pigs have been missing something. Terramycin is the principal component part. It really does the job of speeding growth for pigs.

Best results can be obtained by combining a small portion of B-12 together with Farm Bureau's Porkmaker and home-grown grains. Try it soon. It will pay dividends in faster pig growth.

Postal Boosts Not Effective Until Feb. 1

Shortly before adjournment of Congress, legislation was enacted which will increase the pay of postal employees approximately 11%.

This is the first increase in pay that postal employees have received since Nov. 1, 1949 when they were given a pay raise of about 3½%. At this time Congress also made provision to recognize the length of service by a postal employee in a financial way. After 13 years of service the employee's pay is boosted $100. per year, after 18 years $200. and after 25 years $300.

While Congress did increase certain postage rates . . . these will not be effective until Feb. 1, 1952 . . . and some later than that. There will be no increase in the 3c postage on letters, nor in the 6c Air mail rate, but beginning Feb. 1, 1952 the post card will cost 2c. There will also be an increase in the fees for Special Delivery, Insured, COD and registry service.

However, changes do not become effective until Feb. 1, 1052.

Seeing is believing is what Lyle McClanaghan, caretaker at the Loeb Farm, has to say about the raspberries he's been bragging about recently. Picked Monday, the branches which are bearing for the second time this year, show that his story was true. He also reported Monday that he picked several quarts for table use.

made a leaping catch and drove to the one yard line where Dick Lucas, Mancelona star, downed him.

Bennett picked up about a foot on a quarterback sneak and then Left bulled his way over for the marker. The visitors were offside on the extra try and Denemy ran the ball over for the extra point.

A TOUCHDOWN in the third quarter by Charlevoix was nullified by illegal use of the hands. This score was set up by some fancy throwing by Bennett and good pass catching by end Deano Davenport. Three times this combination clicked on passes which carried some 60 yards in the jaunt downfield. Jim Lewis chipped in with a first down along the line, too.

Left went over from the three but officials ruled Charlevoix had used its hands on offense. That ended scoring threats for both teams.

The Rayders picked up 11 first downs to six for the losers. Derrer and Lucas starred for the losers. Mancelona couldn't crack the Rayder line in the crucial spots and never came close to scoring.

Center Browe had the misfortune of being knocked out twice. He played a whale of a game on defense as he and Krahnke, and "Hungry" Whitley spilled the losers time and time again. Browe almost went for a touchdown on a pass interception.

ALTHOUGH the pheasants disappeared later as a result of severe winter weather, the initial success with this first attempt at importing game encouraged Beaver Island sportsmen to try other species.

Gray and black squirrels, obtained on neighboring High Island, came next, followed by the release of 13 deer in 1927 The herd did so well that the first open hunting season was declared 11 years later, in 1938. Deer hunting has been a popular sport on Beaver Island since.

In 1940 sharptail grouse were stocked, with the co-operation of the Conservation Department: Ruffed grouse followed, in 1948, and in 1950 a planting of cottontail rabbits was made. All of the imported game has taken hold successfully and now is increasing. In less than 30 years the local club, with the help of state game officials, has succeded in transforming Beaver Island from a wild-life vacuum into one of the most widely known hunting areas in the state.

The story of the club's stocking projects and their results will be related in an article by Ben East, field editor of Outdoor Life and one of Michigan's veteran outdoor writers, in the November issue of the magazine.

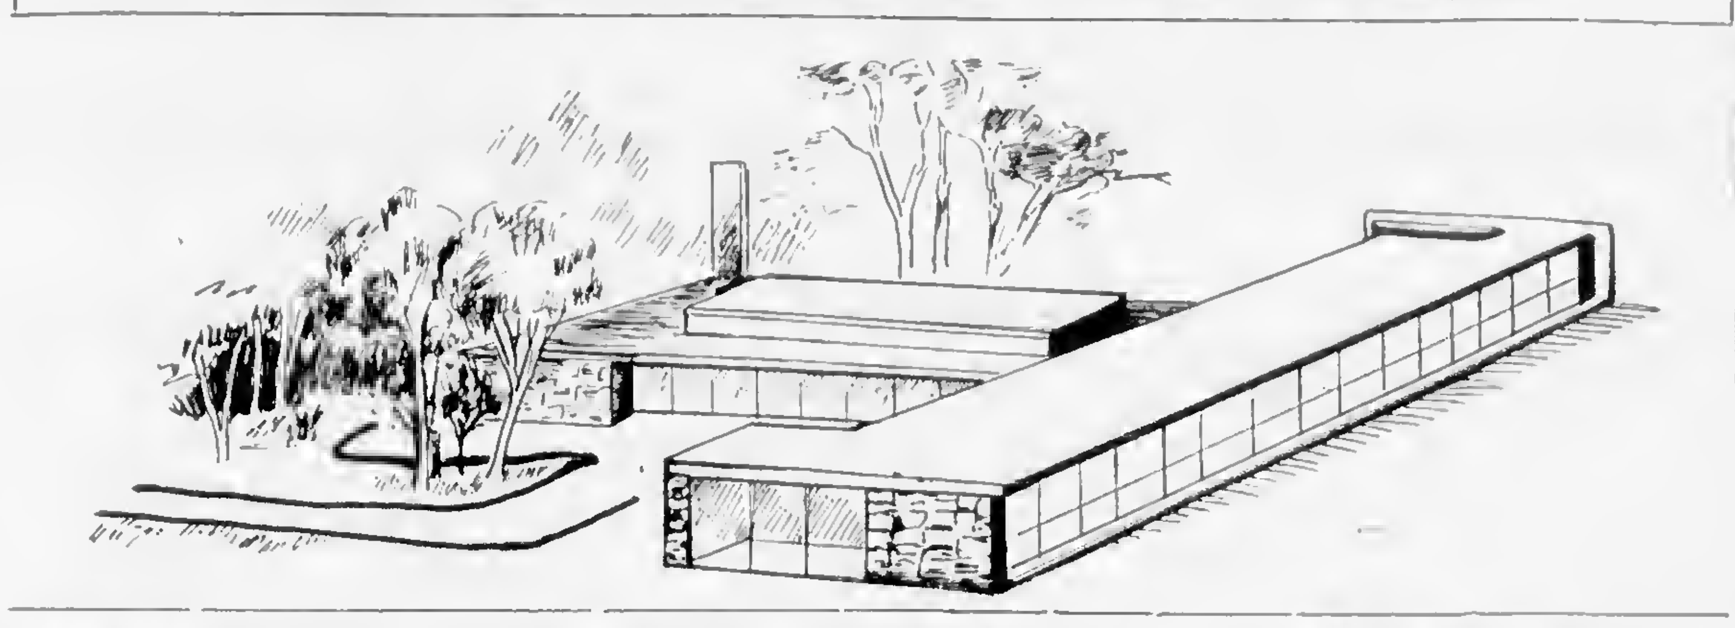
Hospital Drive Soars to $285,000 Mark



Architect's Tentative Drawing of New Charlevoix Area Hospital

Final Push by Workers And Contributors Sends Drive Over Top

Sweeping past the minimum goal, a total of $285,600 was reported late Wednesday in the campaign to raise funds for a new area hospital in Charlevoix.

Some 12,000 was brought in by workers attending the final rally at the Charlevoix High School last Friday. The minimum goal of $225,000 assures government funds of $275,000.

However, architects have advised that $20,000 more than is yet obtained will be needed to build and equip the proposed 40 bed structure in its entirety.

Committees in Charlevoix, East Jordan, Ellsworth and Boyne City will work another two weeks because of the number of prospective contributors yet to be seen. Unfinished solicitation is also being completed by those interested in group memorials.

The Campaign Committee on Wednesday evening submitted to the Charlevoix hospital board of directors an accurate audit, as well as a report prepared by Charles T Henry, campaign director, representing Ward B Jenks and Associates, who managed the reorganized campaign. After approval by the Board, complete figures will be published.

"THE GENEROSITY of contributors and the hard work of all groups and individuals participating in the campaign," said Mrs. Eleanor Carson, who is General Co-Chairman of the drive, together with Theodore E. Malpass of East Jordan, "will be rewarded by an adequate hospital serving those who reside in Antrim and Charlevoix Counties.

The response now on record is an eloquent tribute to their devotion and interest. Our thanks are due to Brown Motors, Inc., who not only were among the first to provide for a Memorial room, but have generously furnished office space, light, and heat for our campaign headquarters. Office furniture was supplied by Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp.

We appreciate the cooperation of the Charlevoix County State Bank, the Charlevoix State Savings Bank, the East Jordan State Bank, and the Consolidated Food Processors of Ellsworth.

We are indebted to the many organizations that have worked so hard during the various phases of our campaign to make it a success and who have further participated by sponosring group Memorials.

Organizations that have effectively supported the campaign include the Pomona Grange of Charlevoix County, the Rock Elm Grange, the Masons of Charlevoix, the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of Charlevoix County, the Teachers Association of Charlevoix, the Kiwanis Club, Veterans

Rayders Lose Final Game in Snow Battle

A fast charging Cheboygan team, coached by Chuck Carey, defeated Charlevoix last Friday night 20-0 on a snow-swept field under conditions more suitable for field hockey in the final game of the season.

The Red Rayders could not cope with the heavier Cheboygan team which had shown great improvement in the last few games and fell victim to a crushing ground attack.

Cheboygan, a class B school, scored once in the first, again in the second period and the last score came in the third stanza. The winners had two touchdowns cancelled out by penalties in the third period. During the last half, the winners picked up 320 yards on the ground.

THE FIELD had to be plowed before the game could be played. The Rayder's passing attack which in recent games has developed into a potent instrument was grounded because of the slippery footing and handling.

The closest Charlevoix came to scoring was a penetration to the Cheboygan 30 yard line.

The Rayders did their best but the weather was against them. They played with gloves on defense. On a dry field, the result might have been different.

Mrs. Curtis Installed As Worthy Matron

Mrs. Russell Curtis was installed as worthy matron of Charlevoix chapter No. 72, Order of the Eastern Star, at a public ceremony at the Masonic Temple Thursday evening witnessed by more than a hundred members and guests.

Other elective officers installed at the time were: worthy patron, L. E. Barker; associate matron, Mrs. Harry Gebeau; associate patron, Mr. Gebeau; conductress, Mrs. Lawrence Korth; associate conductress, Mrs. Barker; secretary, Mrs. Harry Ladd; treasurer, Mrs. Glenn Ingalls.

Appointive officers were also installed.

Mrs. Ronald Abfalter, retiring matron, was presented with her Past Matron's jewel by Mrs. Harry Walstad, president of the Past Matron's club.

Refreshments were served in the dining room following the ceremony. Tables were decorated with tapers in candleholders in the colors of the star-points made by Ralph Roberts. Mrs. Gebeau, Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Glenn Snider were in charge of decorations.

Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. George Hovey, Mrs. Charles Hampton, Mrs. J. K. Reed, Mrs. Larry Tuomela and Mrs. Ladd.

The Buttricks Visit Kobe, Osaka

Train Ride in Japan Broken Up by Stop for Calisthenics

Here we are for our second week in Japan in the Osaka, Kyoto, Kobe neighborhood. We came here by train in a reserved seat car (on the order of the Empire State, only definitely not so spacious).

Most of the attendants were female and uniformed, and one of them brought us a menu card so we might choose our dinner and indicate at what hour we would like to eat. When that time came, she again appeared and said the meal was ready. Quite a system.

The trip itself was fascinating and not the least was a stop at "half-time" when most of the men got out of the train and to music, with a leader on a box, did brisk calisthenics. George and I stood there with our mouths open especially when a few (Western dressed) females joined in too. Then everyone got back into the train, took several deep breaths and settled down.

THE COUNTRYSIDE was lovely: the ruggedness of the mountains, the sea coast (for part of the trip) with the pointed-prowed fishing boats, the rice fields of vivid green (Japan can grow enough food to feed 50 millions of inhabitants . . . the census shows 83 millions), the buffalo carts mingling with millions of bicycles, the water-carries balancing buckets on either side of a pole across the shoulders, the diligent peasants worker doing everything by hand, the farm-villages and the small towns with thached or tiled roofs.

The farmers do not live in the midst of their individual farm but congregate in a little community of four or five houses, each one surrounded by a huge 12-foot or so hedge. The Japanese, unless too poor to afford it, always had a hedge or a fence or wall outside the house for privacy.

THE LACK of sanitation is staggering. Even in the cities there is no sewerage system, and should there be a very rare 'flush toilet' it still flushes into the ground somewhere or into some container where they exrement can be collected and sold to the farmers for fertilizer.

Rats and enormous cockroaches run rampant.

Business Drops Off At Jail Here

For the first time in ten years the Charlevoix county jail was without a prisoner Wednesday.

The last one was transported to southern Michigan prison at Jackson Tuesday by Sheriff Floyd Ikens.

He was Alton Sabin, 42, of Petoskey who was sentenced to three to five years on a charge of breaking and entering in the daytime. He was sentenced by Judge Charles L. Brown in circuit court on Monday. He was charged with breaking and entering the Birches May 26. He was apprehended a week later and held until late in October when in a surprise move he changed his plea to guilty and was sentenced.

Charlevoix county has housed Grand Traverse and Emmet county prisoners at various times in the past five years when their jails were being repaired. Antrim county prisoners are still housed here.

Mrs. Ikens Wednesday morning scanned the records to find the last time the jail was without an occupant for a full 24 hours and was surprised to find it had been ten years.

Kendall of Massachusetts and Archie of San Bernadino, Calif., five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Born in Cadillac March 1, 1872, the former Rachel Welsh came to Central Lake as a child. In 1891 she was married to Lewis Gravelin at Charlevoix where she has since made her home. He preceded her in death in 1925. In 1928 she was married to Mathew Routley who died in 1937.

She was a member of the Church of God.

Surviving are; one daughter, Mrs. O'Neil; three sons, Lewis of Charlevoix, Archie of Grand Rapids and Theodore of Long Beach, Calif.; a stepson, John of Portland, Ore.; two brothers, Henry Welsh of Central Lake and Clyde of "Washington' State; a sister, Mrs. Rebecca Barden of Acme, Wash.; nine grandchildren and 30 great-grandchildren.

Mercury Drops To Zero in Charlevoix Area

Who said the weather was to warm up this week?

It certainly did not look like it Wednesday as the Charlevoix area appeared to be receiving its heaviest snowfall this season.

And the mercury surprised everyone by dropping to a new low for this time of year. Officially the Coast Guard at Charlevoix said 20 was the lowest reading this season but other reports in the area indicated zero readings.

Ellsworth and East Jordan reported zero readings Wednesday morning and in parts of Charlevoix the mercury was down to 14 degrees.

In any event, all agree that it's much too cold and too much snow for this time of year. Inland lakes on Beaver Island were reported frozen over this week. Charlevoix has had about an eight-inch snowfall since last Thursday and several more inches fell Wednesday.

Driving was hazardous Wednesday and highway crews were fighting to keep the roads sanded and open to traffic as shifting winds made their job more difficult.

Auto Bomb May Land Offender Prison Term

How many times have you seen an auto bomb or 'auto joker' placed on the motor of a bridegroom's car following the wedding or seen one placed on someone else's car 'just for a joke'. Probably countless times.

But did you know that the person who had one in his possession or used it against the property of another was committing a felony punishable by a prison sentence.

That is the answer Probate Judge Floyd A Supp received recently when he asked for an opinion on auto bombs recently after a juvenile was brought into juvenile court after placing one on the motor of a tractor which was damaged by the resulting explosion.

Donald S. Leonard, Commissioner, Michigan State Police, following an investigation by his department referred to Section 850.210 of the Compiled Laws of Michigan for 1948 which states the possession or use of auto bombs or any related bomb is a felony and punishable by imprisonment in the state prison for not less than two nor more than five years.

Persons who sell auto bombs or use them are warned against further sale or use of them.

A jail sentence is quite a price to pay for a few laughs.

Mrs. Charles Hunt Passes Unexpectedly

News of the unexpected death of Mrs. Charles Hunt, 57, a former Charlevoix and Beaver Island resident, has been received by friends here. Mrs. Hunt, who had resided in the west for many years, died Saturday at her Pasadena, Calif., home after a brief illness.

She was the former Clara Baumway of Beaver Island. At one time she was in the movies.

She is survived by her husband.

Local Firm Is Low Bidder On Sewer Job

The long-awaited Petoskey avenue sewer project is scheduled to get started this weekend.

Hal Forbrig of the Lake Construction company, low bidder on the project, told the city council Monday night that he is prepared to start the project Friday or Saturday.

The city Tuesday awaited arrival of the approval of the plans by the State Health department and a construction permit from the State Highway department. It was reported that these approvals are a formality as the city has been assured that the specifications are satisfactory.

THE LOW BID was $11,475, about $150 more than the sewer job was assessed for. W. A. Porter Co., of East Jordan submitted the only other bid. Its price was $13,925.

Gregory A Shadko will be the engineer on the job. J. C. Marshall will be city inspector and will spend most of the time on the project.

The final hearing on the review of assessments will be held at 8 p.m. today at the city hall. The special assessment board of Arthur Bergeon, Karl Erber and Mary Feindt will hear objections to the assessments.

AS THE SEWER project stands, the city will pay up to $4,608 as its share of the expense and the property owners will pay the remainder of $6,715.

The job is expected to require about 45 days according to the terms of Lake Construction Company's bid.

The sewer is being installed this fall so that the state may pave that section of US 31 next year. The city has been assured by the State Highway department that the paving project will start next year.

Mrs. Dorothy Beesley Dies at Royal Oak

Mrs. Dorothy Beesley, 35, former local resident and wife of Arthur S. Beesley, died Saturday at Royal Oak where the family had resided since late August.

Besides her husband she is survived by three sons, Thomas, Ronald and Donald; a daughter; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kerr of Royal Oak and several brothers and sisters.

Loss of Seniors to Hit Most League Football Teams In '52

With the exception of Boyne City, all teams in the northern Michigan Class C loop have completed their 1951 schedules and are busy this week, examining football equipment and storing it for another season.

Coaches are also looking over their rosters for the names of those who will be lost by graduation.

Charlevoix, Pellston and Boyne City are probably the hardest hit with Gaylord running a close fourth. Other teams lose fewer men, particularly from their starting line-ups.

Many familiar names will be missing from the Boyne City line-up next fall including Art Kujawski, Ray Towne, Jim Milbrandt, John Talboys, Buster Brooks, Ken Fegley, Lyle West, Elwood Brooks, Jim Erber, Joe Smith, Bill Tyron and Norm Miller.

At Gaylord seven players who played major roles in sparking the Blue Devils to a better season will not be returning. Included on the list are Jim Schrener, Tom Heuretty, Leland Morehead, Jerry Hopkins, Del Sanders, Larry Druillard and Ron Northey.

East Jordan will lose only two from their backfield, Don Whiteford and Norm McGeorge while four men will be missing from the line. They are Dan Thomas, Bob Thomas, Don Maxwell and Earl Bowers.

Mancelona fared a little better than most teams losing three backs, Dick Lucas, Jerry Ayres and Bob Allen, linemen, Dave Bissard, Ed Smigowski and Ed Petrofke, all regulars and Frank Melhberg, a second string player.

Harbor Springs will lose only three players thus making the Rams a potential threat for next season. Ray Swiss, Gary Hahn and Elmer Kruskie, all backs, are the trio lost by graduation.

CSO Needs Money for Gifts To Servicemen

The Charlevoix Service Organization the organization which arranges going-away gifts for all departing inductees from the entire county and the organization which foots the bill for the Courier to more than 80 local service men . . . is broke.

Last week the C.S.O. paid the bill for the Couriers to January 1. The balance left in the account on Tuesday was $6. Purchases for the men leaving Nov. 13 must be made from that amount so the account will be nil in a short time.

Many persons have voiced a desire to do something for the servicemen. This is one way everyone can help and in so doing help not one but many servicemen

You may leave your contribution at the Charlevoix county State bank or mail it to the Charlevoix Service Organization % Charlevoix County State Bank. Any contribution will be appreciated.

Hats Off to The Charlevoix Area

When the history of Charlevoix is written, two events occurring last week will be indelibly inscribed in bold letters.

First event was the 2½ to 1 victory for the school addition, an event which will assure area children in the near future a larger and more complete school. While it is readily admitted that the new addition will not answer the complete need for a new school, it is an encouraging step in the right direction.

The second event was the momentous, breath-taking announcement that the Charlevoix area had gone over the top in the subscription for a new hospital.

When all is said and done, health and education are two of the prime requisites for an alert, aggressive community.

School authorities have been laboring under a severe handicap for several years because of the mounting enrollment, particularly in the junior high school grades. As a result teachers and pupils have had physical space problems to surmount.

They were forced to jam pupils in classrooms, fully cognizant that it is not possible for a pupil to obtain as much learning as he should in crowded classes. On two other occasions, district voters decided against school improvement plans.

But the teachers and school board did not throw up their hands in disgust. They went about their job as best they could under the circumstances and waited for a more propitious time.

Thanks to an aroused group of organizations headed by the Barnard Grange which instigated discussion meetings on school needs for relieving the overcrowding conditions, the board of education approved their plan for an addition and presented it to the voters.

The voters thought the proposal was exceedingly fair and proceeded to endorse the $225,000 project. It is expected to start next summer and perhaps be ready for occupancy next fall.

And now to the promise for a new, modern hospital.

Thanks to the unflagging spirit of a few leaders and the enthusiastic support of the summer residents, permanent residents and the outlying communities, the drive to raise a minimum of $225,000 was surpassed. And still the money continues to roll in.

A dream of a hospital held by a few people in this community was consistently maintained that the area would come through when the occasion arose, seems close to reality.

The hurdle which seemed all but impossible two years ago when the hospital drive really started, has been surmounted. The necessary money for an outstanding, modern hospital, containing 40 beds or more, has been raised.

This money matched with Hill-Burton funds of the federal government will assure this part of northern Michigan the best in modern hospitals. What a blessing this will be to the residents within a 25 or 30 mile area of Charlevoix.

Charlevoix will be one of the smallest communities in the state to have such a modern hospital.

The comment of Bob Bridge at the final report meeting typified the size of the task which has been accomplished by the leaders, workers and those others who gave so generously of their time and money.

"Two years ago when it was announced that we had to raise $225,000 in this community area of ours, I said it was all but impossible. From my experience in the past it seemed a hopeless task. I know it seemed that way to many others.

"But somehow or other, through dint of perseverance and singleness of purpose, the fund goal has been surpassed. It's a wonderful feeling and the thanks belong to all workers and the wonderful people who have given so that this hospital might become a reality."

The success in the last 12 weeks has been phenomenal. That's for sure. Consider that $150,000 or more has been collected or pledged since Aug. 17 and you start to realize how much this community, its surrounding area and the summer residents have done.

As Mrs. Kit Carson, one of those few people who never lost sight of the goal for a single minute, exclaimed at the final report meeting: "This working together has given all of us a better understanding of our neighbor's problems. The new hospital will be a testimonial of the hard work and the generosity of the entire area around Charlevoix."

And so Charlevoix moves ahead again. The community and area will be served by a school addition and a new hospital, prime indications that civic objectives can be reached if the effort is great enough.

The jobs were well done. A well-deserved thank you to all of you who made the projects possible.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Mertin

Young fry are always coming out with some good ones and there are two we heard recently and liked . . . Last week youngsters in the area were in Petoskey to see the children's play, "Under the Lilacs" . . . In one part of the production, one of the grown-ups in the play kissed each child on the forehead . . . One child in the audience was heard to remark . . . She sure is old-fashioned about her kissin' . . . And then there was the four-year old who attended a football game with his older brother who in commenting on the team said they were playing sloppy football . . . That night the little one was giving his version of the game and had this to say . . . Were they playing sloppy ball . . Why they were laying all over the field . . .

NEXT SUNDAY will be Armistice Day . . . the thirty-third anniversary of 'the day' the war to end all wars' ended . . . Not too many today remember much about that war, which, according to today's standards, wasn't much of a war . . . Yet it has left its scars, as wars always do, and even though you can't see them on the hearts of those around us they're there . . . Just as they're on the hearts of those who were close to World War II or the Korean War . . How to stop war? . . . If we knew we'd tell you . . But since no one does the best we can offer is that you make a special effort to attend church Sunday and pray that peace may come to us . . .

THE UNSEASONABLE weather which ended so abruptly Thursday brought forth more raspberries and roses before the snows came . . . Mrs. Frank Noble called at supper time Wednesday to say she'd just picked a dish of fresh raspberries for her supper . . . The same day Mrs. Colin McKenzie who had just returned from a visit in Traverse City found a bush of Seven Sisters roses in bloom and picked enough for a lovely bouquet . . . Saturday morning Edward Olach, caretaker at the Pick-Steinert garden reported finding beautiful roses in the snow . . . Me thinks they're frozen now . . .

AND HOW'S about that untimely winter we woke up to Friday . . . Last year we thought it was too early when it arrived with a shock on Nov. 10 . . . Now it's Nov. 2 . . . and it looks as though it were here to stay . . . And when you look out it's not hard to believe that Thanksgiving and Christmas are just around the corner . . . In fact turkey day is two weeks from today and Christmas six weeks from next Tuesday . . . Better start on those lists . . .

And don't forget . . those overseas parcels have to be in the mail by next Thursday, Nov. 15 . . . Let that serviceman overseas know you're thinking of him . . . It will be so little and he'll appreciate it so much . . .

WHO HAS more fun than kids . . . especially while they're out trickin' and treatin' . . . as they were last Wednesday . . It didn't matter the age or the kid or what the treat it was great fun . . . As we heard one fellow say . . . I don't know where you can have so much fun for so little and he was speaking of the grown-ups . . . But the nicest thing about it was the generosity of the kids . . . We were down town and so many of them wanted to share their treats with us that we came home with a fair share of apples, a paddlepop, a sucker and some popcorn . . . Not bad . . .

A citation . . . the best possible . . . to a group of volunteers numbering 196 in all . . . who have successfully completed the drive for funds for the new hospital . . Headed by Mrs. Kit Carson of Charlevoix and Ted Malpass of East Jordan they've worked mighty hard to complete their task . . . The fact that we're going to have the new building just doesn't seem true but it is these people . . . and we might add, others through the years . . . who have made it a reality . . . So may we add our Congratulations for a tough job well done . . .

And speaking of the new hospital . . . if you see Earl Young with a new hat (And we can't remember seeing him wearing a hat) . . . it will be the chapeau he won from Kit Carson on a little wager they had on the success of the hospital drive . . .

Train Ride Amuses Dr. Buttrick in Japan

larly in the fields of social service, agriculture (even though they know a lot about rotation of crops, terracing, fertilizing, etc. the methods are still conservative), medicine and even one on "communism" who could meet the Japanese student on equal intellectual grounds.

These specialists could work in the seminaries and work with village pastors and, by their skill and knowledge, combat communism by bringing the social change urgently necessary.

By the way, this taking off your shoes business is quite something, for example, many of the missionaries do it to help keep their homes free from contamination from the streets, especially if they have children.

WE EVEN FOUND a row of "mules" when we went to a new church the other evening . . . built by the reconstruction fund of our American churches. The minister of this church lost everything in the war including two children in a fire raid. We are going to do something about books for him. We are going to find someone who will give him a set of the Interpreter's Bible!

But to return to taking off the shoes. We had a meal in Kyoto at a private restaurant in a lovely garden. All the walls were slid back and we practically ate in the garden itself.

Anyway, there at the door, were a row of shuffling "mules" and before we could step in the house, on they had to go, all of us shuffled down the long polished corridor into the main rooms covered with matting, but at the doorway of the rooms, off even the "mules" came and we continued in stockings.

TWO WAITRESSES in complete Japanese served Japanese ceremonial tea as we sat, or tried to sit, on cushions, Japanese style, you hold the bowl in your hands lovingly, turn it caressingly three times and drink it down. Oh yes, we ate a cake with it but first we were given a little dish each with a wash-cloth rolled up in it for us to wash our hands.

THEN WE moved over to two small square low tables in the middle of which was a hole. Below it a charcoal fire, above a dish in which was cooked the main dish, sukijaki made up of everything under the sun.

In front of each of us was a bowl containing a raw egg, this we beat up with our chop-sticks and into we dropped the sukijaki as we fished it out of the main dish. This was to cool it. No serving spoons note . . . just our own chop-sticks. Next came a bowl of rice and some pickles which we both avoided, more tea and last of all, a beautifully decorated dish of peeled apples and grapes.

Lastly we all bowed profusely, paddled off to find our "mules" and at the door our own shoes, and was I glad to see them. It was a charming meal served most daintily.

Senior Play Is Riotous Comedy; Set for Nov. 16

Miss Donna Valley who is directing the three-act comedy, "Seventeenth Summer" which the Senior class of the Charlevoix high school is presenting Nov. 16, is putting the cast through its final rehearsals.

The play based on Maureen Daly's novel, is a hilarious story of the most important time in a girl's life, her 'seventeenth summer'.

The play will be presented at the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 16.

Angie (played by Donna Ball) knew that this summer, her seventeenth, would be something special. She noticed particularly Jack Duluth (Charles Krahnke), good-looking and the-best basketball player around.

BUT JANE (Barbara Bice) always seemed to have lots of dates with him. She and her friend, Margie (Donna Sommerville) even borrow Angie's new sweater, telling her she'll never have an opportunity to wear it.

Before they leave Jack stops by to ask Angie to go out in his new boat with him.

But then through a series of exciting events the plotting girls lose out and Angie and Jack clear up their difficulties and the play ends on a heartwarming note of happiness and understanding as Angie leaves her wonderful seventeenth summer behind and moves on toward the good things of college.

Tickets may be purchased from any Senior.

Michigan Mirror
INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gena Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

Old Don't Push-Me-Around-Michigan has mixed feelings over Senator Robert Taft's candidacy for the G. O. P. nomination as president. "Mr. Republican" trooped into the state like Alexander the Great and exuded cordiality quite unlike the austerity which usually surrounds him. That was the first hint of the impending announcement.

The revelation was made in Detroit. Outstate, there was a great deal of silence. One county Republican leader made a remark echoed in many rural areas, "Well mebbe, but I don't see any star in the sky yet."

That from the rural area, Taft's chance of getting Michigan's backing are considered relatively slim in the first place because of the strong labor faction.

Some Republican peers agree that for honesty and political integrity, Taft cannot be beat, and as a thinker there is none sounder. But—and this is the big question—is he strong enough to carry the nation?

All in all, the Detroit announcement was received quietly. It was barely heard in Detroit over the clatter of the arrival of Princess Elizabeth.

MORE THAN 37,000 migrant laborers swarmed into Michigan again this summer. Always a problem, particularly in the fruit belt and the onion and sugar beet areas, the migrant problem increases yearly. Crime swoops upward in those areas and "Saturday night in town" is one big round of arrests.

But without these workers the crops would rot on the ground and in the trees. Michigan doesn't help itself too much. Housing provided the transient worker is usually miserable. Pay is low. The work very hard. What can we expect, skilled labor?

MICHIGAN'S Little Hoover commission has recommended the abolition of the social welfare commission. It suggests the appointment of a director by the governor, if a four-year gubernatorial term is decided upon, and that the director be appointed by a welfare council of six members if the present two-year term is retained.

Fred M. Alger's move to check the C. I. O.'s gasoline tax referendum petitions was a good one. He says the spot check showed 38.5 percent invalid signatures. He immediately ordered the state board of canvassers to check all the signatures.

It has been a bumper year for hunters. This has been the best pheasant and partridge season since 1943, conservation officials say.

But it also promises to be a banner year for hunting accidents. The season got off to a poor start with several deaths reported in the first few days. More than 28 will die before the season ends, conservation officials predict.

THE STATE'S SHARE from the 1951 horse racing was $4,449,414, some 32 percent over the previous year.

There are but 11 private banks left in Michigan, and eight of these plan to apply for state charters or to become branches of chartered banks.

With the help of veterans organizations, Brig. Gen. Lester J. Maitland, soon expects to have a crop of 15,000 airplane spotters. The Soviet's second atomic explosion also spurred interest in civilian defense. Interest has been suffering hot weather apathy.

You cannot travel more than six miles in any direction in Michigan without coming to a body of water. There are 11,037 lakes in the state. Three counties have more than 300 lakes.

A SPECIAL legislative committee will recommend establishment of a state-operated car-ferry between Frankfort and Menominee at the next session of the legislature.

Michigan county employes made salaries a factory sweeper would laugh at. Nearly half the county clerks, treasurers and registers of deeds get less than $3,000 a year.

A forecast of 23,000 more unemployed Detroit automobile workers has followed announcements of new and drastic cuts in passenger car production in the first three months of 1952.

At the same time, pirating of scarce technicians by war contractors in Detroit and elsewhere has developed to such a point as to alert defense chiefs for possible crackdowns. The wage stabilization board is considering a plan to halt the shanghaiing of men from one employer to another.

Deer Collides with Motorcycle Driver

HONOR—Freak deer collisions are not limited to automobile drivers.

Glen Starkey, Beulah, was on his way to work on his motorcycle when a doe and fawn spurted across U. S. 31 near here. He told conservation fire officer Gwendel Lockman the doe jumped over the motorcycle but the fawn did not make it, breaking three legs in the fatal leap.

Fawn was taken to the county farm at Benzonia

Teen-agers Stage Ghost Walk at Halloween Party

Ellsworth—A ghost walk to remember, was the order of the evening at the teen-age party in Community Hall. From all reports it was plenty good. The committee really did a fine job. Co-operation on the rest of the party was certainly splendid too. Bus drivers were on hand to transport pupils to and from the different parties by bus.

The younger children enjoyed the fire truck rides. They watched the huge bonfire before being judged on costumes. In the group from kindergarten to the 7th grade prizes were given to Leighton Reibel, snow man, for the cleverest costume; Laraine Ruis, mistress Fary, best Mother Goose costume; Gary Fairman a tramp for the tackiest and to Terry Donaldson, a wolf, for the most concealing.

Tire Retreading Factory Opens At Elk Rapids

ELK RAPIDS — The opening of a tire re-treading service for tractors and off-the-road tires, as well as passenger tires, was announced this week by Bernard E. Guild.

The new business will be known as the Elk River Marine Tire Service. It will serve a 27-county area in northern Michigan, including part of the Upper Peninsula.

The factory building is located in quarters recently added to the Elk River Marine facilities, and is located on US 31 between the bridges in Elk Rapids. The boat and motor sales business will continue to be operated at the same plant.

Besides re-treading, the tire service includes spot, section and reinforcement repairs on all types of tires, including truck tires.

All But Impossible to Believe!

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice

It is very difficult to believe—but, each month, there are literally thousands of people who pay as much for their motor cars as it would cost them to buy Cadillacs . . . and, yet, they don't get Cadillacs.

As we said, this is very hard to believe—but the reasons for it make it more or less understandable.

In the first place, a great many people simply don't know what a Cadillac costs. They don't understand that the lowest-priced Cadillac actually costs less than certain models produced by numerous other manufacturers.

They only know that Cadillac is the world's most renowned motor car—and they assume, from this, that it must also be exclusively priced.

Too, some people get discouraged because they can't walk in and order a Cadillac and get immediate delivery —as they can with so many other makes of cars.

This, too, is largely due to a failure to get all the facts and think them through to the inevitable conclusion.

You have to wait a while for a Cadillac because so many people want one—and want it so badly that they are willing to wait for it. And that, in turn, is because Cadillac is recognized everywhere as the Standard of the World.

So if you want a Cadillac—and research indicates that a vast percentage of motorists do—come in and talk with us about it.

We'll give you the facts concerning comparative costs. And we will also talk frankly with you about delivery dates, so you may know about what to anticipate.

You really owe it to yourself to do this. For, surely, you don't want to pay the price of a Cadillac—and still not get one!

If we already have your order for a Cadillac—stand firm in your conviction—for each day brings you closer to your heart's desire.

It is true, of course, that you can get quicker delivery on other makes of cars. But, in all the world, there is no other car like Cadillac.

So be patient—and you will have your reward!

Red Rayders Close Season in Second Place; Drop Finale in Snow Game at Cheboygan

Football togs have been put away for another year at Charlevoix high school, and the Red Rayders look upon a season during which they won four, lost two and tied one.

The season was marked by the first defeat on the Charlevoix grid record in six seasons of play during which the Rayders went 42 football games without a defeat.

Michigan high school athletic authorities have indicated that the Charlevoix streak is the longest in state high school history regardless of class. Thus Charlevoix's name will be entered in the official records with other teams shooting for that pinacle.

The season started out with a tie with Boyne City as the Rayders, with 12 seniors in their ranks, failed to find their scoring power against the Ramblers who looked stronger that day than at anytime later in the season.

Against East Jordan which even during Charlevoix's victory streak proved to be the most stubborn foe, did what was bound to happen sooner or later. That afternoon East Jordon had Don Whiteford and he made the difference with his running and passing. When the game ended, it stood 6-0 in favor of the Jordanites, coached by Gayle Saxton, Thus the long winning streak came to an end.

The loss to East Jordan seemed to take mounting pressure off the Rayders who were playing good ball but were bound to improve over the season's play. The Rayders bounced back into the win column the following week at Gaylord with a 6-0 victory.

Against Harbor Springs, the Rayders rolled up their point total of the season, rolling for three touchdowns against the Rams to win 18-0. The lads of Coach Del Terrill showed improved form to defeat the favored Harbor Springs team.

The Rayders pushed over two touchdowns in a fairly easy victory over Pellston which before the season started was selected as one of the leaders. Charlevoix closed its season's loop play by defeating Mancelona 6-0 in the best played game of the year.

Both teams played bang-up football but the Rayders forwards, directed by Charles Krahnke, Ted Browe and "Hungry" Whitley smashed any hopes of Mancelona to win the contest.

The season ended on a snow-covered field at Cheboygan with the players using gloves on defense with the Class B school winning over the Rayders 20-0 in a contest played under conditions ideal for hockey.

New Hybrid Corn Available for Spring Planting

Two new corn hybrids developed at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station, will be available to Michigan farmers for planting next spring, according to E. C Rossman, who is in charge of corn breeding research at Michigan State College.

The two promising hybrids are called Michigan 250 and Michigan 350 (formerly Michigan Experiment hybrids 381 and 267, respectively.) Their development covers a period of about 20 years of inbreeding, selection and testing. Because of their superior performance in over-state tests during past years, they have been accepted by the Michigan Crop Improvement Association for certification.

Commercial double-cross seed of the two varieties was produced for the first time this year and seed will be available for planting next spring. Demand for both is expected to be heavy.

Michigan 350 is about the same maturity as hybrids which are classified as 90-day corns. It silks a few days later than Michigan 51B, a certified hybrid well-known to Michigan growers, but at harvest time is as dry or drier than 51B. Tests have shown it to be well adapted to northern and north central Michigan areas. However, it has also performed exceptionally well in areas where later hybrids are grown. In muck farm tests, it has proved well suited for grain production on muck soils in south central and southern Michigan.

Michigan 350 out-yielded 51B by more than 18 percent over a three-year period, picks clean and has good resistance to root and stalk lodging.

Testing Soil Helps Farmers Solve Problem

Soil testing won't give you all the answers to your soil management problems but it will give you information about lime needs, amounts of main plant food elements available and how well balanced these plant food elements are in the soil, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today.

Knowing that a field was limed 10 years ago doesn't tell you when the field should again be limed. Nor does the fact that 400 pounds of 3-12-12 fertilizer was applied to each acre of ground seeded to oats and alfalfa in 1950 indicate whether the alfalfa will respond to additional fertilization in 1952.

Soil testing is helping take the guesswork out of liming and fertilization practices. In doing, it is making these practices more effective, resulting in higher yields and making farming more profitable.

Northern Michigan is well equipped with modern soil testing laboratories staffed by trained operators. These are located at Gladwin, Scottville, Traverse City, Kalkaska, Harrisville and Petoskey in connection with the county agricultural agent offices. At the present time there are a total of 40 local soil testing laboratories in Michigan. These laboratories tested 28,000 samples in 1950.

Ordinarily the rush of soil testing comes in the early spring and again in the late summer. There is not a better time to collect soil samples than in the fall before the ground freezes. Samples can then be tested during the winter months so that the farmer has information regarding the results to assist in his fertilizer and lime purchases and practices for the coming year.

See your county agricultural agent for instructions regarding the collection of soil samples and soil testing service for your county.

State Official Raps Federal Subsidies

Cadillac—"The farmer in Michigan today is absolutely determined to prevent further extension of Federal controls over his life," Auditor General John B. Martin, jr., told the Michigan State Grange at its annual convention. "He is convinced that a program of federal subsidies would be paid for in large part out of his own tax dollar and he believes that when he pays a dollar in taxes to Washington, he gets about thirty cents back. He knows, too, that subsidies must go hand in hand with rigid controls and he has no desire or intention of submitting to these," Martin said.

"I have talked with farmers in all parts of the state and I am impressed by the fact that not one has been looking for any kind of government handout," Martin continued. "Most farmers regard the price support program as a reasonable protection against the necessity of dumping products on an overloaded market. They accept this program as one which in the long run, if the support price is not so high as to encourage gross over-production, will be of benefit to the farmer and will not be an unfair burden on the taxpayers generally. Most farmers in Michigan do not accept or favor the Brannan Plan in any of its variations."

"The recent uproar throughout the state over the Family Farm Policy Review is a clear indication of the fact that farmers in Michigan do not want their lives run from Washington," Martin declared.

New Law Aids Farmers Who Need Loans

Farmers in Charlevoix and Antrim counties who borrow from the Farmers' Home Administration will be better able to make adjustments in farming operations, increase production and work out balanced farm and home management plans under the newly enacted Public Law 123, according to Mr. J. C. Young, local FHA supervisor.

The law, amending the Farmers' Home Administration Act of 1946, enables the agency to make loans for farm operating expenses up to $7,000 for an initial loan and places a ceiling of $10,000 on the indebtedness outstanding at any one time.

The maximum repayment period is seven years. Previously the initial loan was limited to $3,500, the maximum indebtedness to $5,000 and the maximum repayment period to five years.

"In amending the loan terms, Congress recognized that the costs of farm operating expenses have increased sharply in recent years," Mr. Young explained. "A farmer who required a $3,600 loan in 1946 for annual operating expenses and the purchase of machinery and livestock would have required a loan of $5,900 for the same purpose in 1951.

"The main objective of the Farmers' Home Administration is to help family farm operators make the most efficient use of their land and family labor supply. The new loan terms will be of great help in achieving this goal. In the past we have had to turn down many young veterans and other farmers who came to us for assistance simply because we could not provide them with adequate financing under our previous loan limitations to enable them to work out a balanced farming system."

Improve Dairy Herd by Culling And Selection

Picking heifers with possibilities for high milk production and culling out the low milk producers must be done throughout the year if dairymen are to hike their herd's milk production according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

In meat animals this selection is done largely by noting body conformation and keeping records of gain in weight. With the dairy herd, greatest attention must be given to milk and feed production records since high milk production at lowest possible feed cost is the first concern of most dairymen.

This is the time of year when most animals are sold from the dairy herd because of insufficient barn room and quantity of feed available for winter. If you rely on production records as your guide in culling and selection you can avoid many of the errors that go along with making this decision without such records.

Some points to consider for future herd replacements are milk and butterfat production of the individual or of her ancestors, health and breeding record, and number of productive years.

It is difficult to state at what level of production dairymen achieve the most profitable dairy herd but certainly every dairyman should have a goal of at least 300 to 400 pounds of butterfat a year per cow. Cows producing at this level will provide a good market for feed crops and labor.

Obtain Your Deer Hunting License Early

Lansing—Get your deer license early. Sudden runs on upstate license supplies by last minute purchasers have exhausted dealers' normal stocks in previous seasons, the conservation department cautions hunters. Each year a good number of deer hunters change their purchasing location causing an oversupply in some areas and shortages in others.

The department again stresses that sport hunting and fishing licenses no longer are sold at its regional and district offices.

Noble fir excels among the white firs because of its growth habit which develops long, close-ringed clear stems and strong wood fibres

Feed Is Vital Item in Getting Egg Production

Your hens need a lot of feed that is complete in all the necessary food values if they are to produce the top number of eggs, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, reminded farmers this week.

He pointed out that high egg production also is dependent on good breeding, good management and good disease control methods. But the feed cost adds up to between 41 and 62 percent of the total cost of producing eggs, according to a recent feed cost study, so the feed problem is a big one.

The laying flock should have all the feed it will eat. If you cut the feed supply of the birds you will be cutting production. Cutting feed intake by 25 percent reduced production 52.5 percent in one study, Rebman said.

Fresh mash should be added to feeders at least once a day. You may feed layers a complete all-mash diet, but the usual practice is to feed mash and whole grain. If the latter practice appeals to you, remember to feed the grain mixture once or twice a day. Feed about equal amounts of grain and mash. They can be fed in seperate hoppers or both in the same ones.

Oystershell or limestone grit should be supplied in seperate hoppers. This is especially important this winter when the birds are kept in the laying house. Feed the right mash for the given purpose. If you want hatching eggs, use a breeder mash. If you are producing eggs for market use a laying mash. Either one should be guaranteed to contain at least 20 percent of protein to be fed with grain.

State Is Notifying Special Deer Hunters

Lansing—The conservation department is notifying 15,100 persons of their right to hunt in the special western Michigan deer season in December.

First names drawn to determine special season hunters were those of John E. Winter of Allegan and Chauncie Hines of Durand.

Purpose of the hunt—Dec. 1-5 in all or parts of Charlevoix, Antrim, Grand Traverse, Leelanau, Benzie and Manistee counties and Dec. 1-10 in Allegan county . . . is to reduce orchard and farm crop damage by the deer herd.

Profit from Eggs
Profits from eggs come from healthy hens that lay at top speed. Stimulate Pig Growth
If you haven't tried Farm Bureau's B-12 Concentrate, your pigs have been missing something. Terramycin is the principal component part. It really does the job of speeding growth for pigs.
Best results can be obtained by combining a small portion of B-12 together with Farm Bureau's Porkmaker and home-grown grains. Try it soon. It will pay dividends in faster pig growth.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Talks Turkey" —Long Distance

Some people chuckled when Sonny Fisher rented a home recording machine to record the noise his flock of turkeys make.

"I sent the recording to a buyer for a super-market chain," Sonny said. "I told them 'My turkeys speak for themselves—listen to this record!' They not only took my birds, but bought the record!"

"Why did they want the record?" I asked him. "Very simple," he says. "They're going to play it over the loud speakers in their stores—and then an announcer on another record reminds the customers that turkeys are plentiful and a good buy."

From where I sit, it's not always smart to make fun of someone just because he does things a little differently. I think a glass of beer is the most refreshing beverage there is. You — or Sonny — may prefer something else. But who's to decide one's right and the other's wrong? Let's stay "on record" that everyone's entitled to his own tastes and opini n.

Grandvue Hospital Is Pleasant Place for Aged

By Victor Spaniolo

While caring for the aged has developed into a vexing problem for many communities in the nation, Charlevoix county seems to have worked out an enviable solution.

Few county residents realize that at Grandvue Hospital, near East Jordan, the county maintains pleasant surroundings and a cheerful atmosphere for its aged people and at the same time gives them convalescent care.

A visit at Grandvue assures the visitor that the hospital staff, directed by Mrs. Hilda Hartlep, R. N. provides the more than 30 patients with much more than just a placo in which to live.

Grandvue is one of the few infirmaries in the state to have x-ray equipment. This was bought recently at a "very reasonable price" from Dr. Parks of Petoskey who still maintains an active interest in the infirmary.

BUT MORE than equipment and a hospital atmosphere, Grand vue impresses the visitor with its congeniality and alert interest of the indigent patients. While most of the patients are in their 80's, there are at least two men who are in their 90's.

Until two years ago, the building was used exclusively as an infirmary. In the fall of 1949, the board of supervisors appropriated fund to remodel the institution so that it could qualify as a county hospital.

Under the direction of Roy Gregory, head of the county welfare department, Grandvue was modernized to comply with state regulations including fire precautions. At the time, it had only 16 or 18 residents. But today facilities have been so much improved that plans are underway for its enlargement.

The board of supervisors last month appropriated $6,000 additional funds for the welfare department to be used in remedeling a tenant house at the rear of the main building as living quarters for permanent employes.

Two oldest residents at Grandvue hospital, Charlevoix county infirmary for the aged, are shown talking with Mrs. Hilda Hartlep, RN, superintendent. Lett to right are: Mrs. Hartlep, Charles Freese, 90 and Job Jackson, who at 93 still maintains an active and alert interest in world affairs.

This will free several additional rooms which can be used to accomodate new residents. It is expected that the capacity at the hospital will be about 40 when the tenant house is remodeled.

MOST OF the patients at the hospital are old age recipients or welfare patients. The institution can care for private patients if they so desire in which case they pay the regular hospital rate.

A visit with the residents shows that many of them maintain an active interest in affairs outside the hospital. Job Jackson who at 93 is the patriarch of the residents in terms of age is extremely alert. In excellent health and spirits, he enjoys joshing the nurses and other companions.

Another surprising thing to the visitor was their appetites. Most of them are given second helpings and seemed to enjoy eating hardy portions given them.

STATE OFFICIALS who have visited the hospital remark that it is one of the best in northern Michigan for the aged.

Thoughts of economy led the board of supervisors and Mr. Gregory to remodel the infirmary into a hospital which can care for welfare and old age recipients while they recover from an illness or accident.

While steadily mounting costs in caring for the aged in the county, the supervisors were receptive to a plan whereby a convalescent stay in a private hospital could be greatly reduced by transferring them to Grandvue.

When the tenant house remodeling is completed, there will be 19 private rooms, four wards and a semi-private room as well as a modern kitchen, laboratory and examination facilities.

Mrs. Hartlep has six practical nurses on her staff.

Organizations in the county have raised funds to help the hospital patients. Through the Red Cross and the Community Chest, an invalid walker was given to the hospital. The American Legion at East Jordan has been helpful by making curtains and drapes for the rooms among other things.

Harold Withers Honored for School Service

Harold Withers, veteran member of the Charlevoix Board of Education, was honored for his service at a dinner given Wednesday evening by the present Board of Education and the Charlevoix Teachers Association.

Mr. Withers retired as a member of the board in July after serving 11 years. While on the board he served in all its offices.

Mrs. Ralph Shetterley, president of the Teachers Association welcomed the guests, introduced Supt. Roy G. Bennett who served as toastmaster and later in the evening presented the honored guest with a gift from the group.

Bonnie Nickerson, president of the Board of Education, Miss Frances Milner, elementary school principal, H. E. Bingham, high school principal, and Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, now Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, spoke briefly paying tribute to Mr. Withers and his efforts in behalf of schools during his years on the board. Mrs. Bergeon, a former member of the board who resigned after three years service when she accepted the county superintendency, was also honored and presented with a corsage.

Turkey Crop Is 10% Larger In Local Area

Turkey growers in the Charlevoix area are busy preparing their flocks for the Thanksgiving market where the largest percentage of birds are sold. Only a few hundred are held over for the Christmas market.

The Charlevoix Co-operative processing plant where from 60 to 70 percent of the area's birds are processed have already packed an estimated 8,000 birds in the two and a half weeks it has been in operation, according to Fred Willis, manager of tho Co-op. He also estimates the plant will care for 16,000 to 18,000 birds before it closes just before the Christmas holidays.

He reports the turkey crop in the area is up about 10% over last year although there are fewer growers than in the past.

IN ALL HE THINKS about 25,000 birds will be marketed. A large percentage will go to the Thanksgiving market with fewer being saved for the Christmas and

Dr. Buttrick Talks to Jap Leaders

Christian Way of Life May Lead Japan to Constructive Future

Dr. Oshima, whom I mentioned earlier is a grand person, born in Hawaii, very highly educated as is his wife who went to Abbot's Academy and then to Mt. Holyoke College.

They are real leaders. In our talks with them they gave many concrete suggestions about the way we can help Japan.

They believe (and here everyone seems to agree) that Shintoism and Buddhism represent the past (people throng to the shrines as sightseers viewing historical monuments, not as worshippers. A few old folks go to worship, particularly in times of mourning.

They believe there is a great spiritual vacuum in Japan which can be filled and they believe that the acceptance of Christianity and its "way of life" which Jesus taught and believed, is the guidance the world craves and could change and unite the world.

Kyoto is the cultural center of Japan and the center of Buddhism. There are fully 700 shrines and temples on one hillside. There are over 20,000 priests in Kyoto—as many in Japan as there are confessed Christians (and that is 342,225 in a population of 83 millions) It is a beautiful city and I would give a lot to show it to you.

Another place we saw there was the country estate of the famed Nomura, the financier. It is fabulous. The most beautiful garden I have almost ever seen, several ceremonial tea-houses—one (this is a custom) we were shown had a low door through which each would enter, thus making them equal whatever their actual wealth, education or even race.

There is one special house which was built a short time ago for use, for a few days, of the Crown Prince who was to visit Kyoto. Incidently the

Boyne City Team Places Three Men To Dominate Honors

Two members of the Charlevoix Rayders have won berths on the Northern Michigan Class C All-Conference team for the second straight year it was revealed this week as the coaches choices for 1951 were announced. A third player won a second squad place and two others received honorable mention.

They are Charles Krahnke, senior tackle who held the same spot for the second year and Ted Browe, senior center, who held the guard berth last season and won the center berth this year. Bud Barber was awarded an end position on the second team and Gerry Left, back, and Nathan Boss, guard, were given honorable mention.

Boyne City dominated the choice with three men while the league champs, East Jordan, Mancelona and Harbor Springs, each placed two men on the mythical squad. Gaylord and Pellston were without spots on the first eleven.

VOTING WAS close for all positions as the following first team was named: Art Kujawski of Boyne City who was on the second squad in '50 and Frank Grandstra of Harbor Springs; tackles, Krahnke of Charlevoix and Bob Thomas of East Jordan; guards, Ray Towne of Boyne City and Dave Bissard of Mancelona; center, Browe of Charlevoix.

Backs where the choice was the toughest to make include: Don Whiteford of East Jordan who placed in the second team last year and who is considered by most as the league's most outstanding player this season, Don Arner of Boyne City who was on the second squad last year, Dick Lucas who received honorable mention last season and a newcomer, Ray Swiss of Harbor Springs.

ALL BUT ARNER and Grandstra are seniors. They are juniors.

The line of the all-conference team will average 180 pounds while the backfield would be 178 pounds.

On the second team are such familiar names as Bud Barber of Charlevoix and Bill Drier of Pellston, ends: Jim Schreuer of Gaylord, who was on the first squad in '50 and Don Maxwell of East Jordan who was on last season's second team, tackles: Dan Thomas of East Jordan who was on '50 second squad and Jim Shepard also of East Jordan, guards: Ed Stolt of Harbor Springs, center.

Backs who were only a few points behind the first squad backfield are: Keith Emerson of Pellston, Gene Fleming and Del Sanders of Gaylord and Keith Evans of East Jordan.

ALL ARE seniors but Shepard, Stolt and Fleming who are juniors and Evans who is a sophomore.

Honorable mention went to the following backs, Gerry, Left of Charlevoix, Jerry Ayres of Mancelona and Gene Kruskie of Harbor Springs, all seniors and to linemen Walt Cole of Harbor Springs, a sophomore, Bernie Conway of Mancelona, a junior, Dick Keiser of Pellston and Nathan Boss of Charlevoix, both seniors.

Clyde Warner Named Norwood Supervisor

Orton VanDusen, of Norwood township, second oldest member of the Charlevoix county Board of Supervisors in years of service, has resigned his post, effective this week.

He was elected to represent Norwod township on the board in 1918 and except for four years, 1922-25, he has served continously. During those four years, however, he served his township as justice of the peace.

Mr. VanDusen, a retired farmer, said he wished to be relieved of the responsibility of the office so he might travel. He plans to leave next week to spend the winter in Florida.

Clyde Warner, prominent Norwood township farmer, has been named to succeed Mr. VanDusen.

Mr. Warner has been active in community affairs. He served as township treasurer, justice of the peace, is past master of Pomona Grange and has held offices in the Barnard Grange, is a member of the Charlevoix county fair board and chairman of the Artificial Breeders Association.

No More Mink Coats, We Hope!

A recent statement by Senator Robert S. Kerr (D., Okla.), asserted that the Democrat Party "will continue to exercise the greatest vigilance to maintain the integrity of public officials and to insure honesty in administration."

If the Administration continues to exercise its customary vigilance to maintain the integrity of public officials, not to mention the insurance of honesty, our courts of justice will have need of a corps of new lawyers. We shall, in part, solve our problems of unemployment in the addition of annual batteries of young prosecuting attorneys—and naturally, in a similar number of attorneys for the defense.

Should the Administration continue to exercise great vigilance in maintaining the integrity of public officials, it will doubtless receive a standing ovation from the Bureau of Internal Revenue, which is at this moment in dire need of Democrat vigilance.

Should the Democrat Party demand honesty in administration, as Senator Kerr proposes, it would work a tremendous hardship upon such Democrat servants of the Republic as Harry Vaughan, the E. Merl Youngs, of mink coat distinction, or Chicago Police Captain Dan Gilbert, who "cleared" about $360,000 while "serving the people."

Should the Administration be too vigilant, it would also be a disservice to such stalwart gangsters as Paul Ricca and Louis (Little New York) Campagna, who can settle a $670,000 tax lien with the Treasury Department for $128,000.

In a word, if the Administration is as vigilant and honest as Senator Kerr envisages, it will probably run out of manpower and have to start operating at a new stand. Therefore, we strongly advise readers to take Senator Kerr's declaration with several pounds of salt.

Voice of Our Reader

(Reprinted from Charlotte Republican Tribune)

It is pleasant to congratulate Charlevoix and Vic Spaniolo, in particular, for the definite part played by the Courier in raising the necessary matching funds for a new hospital in that upper-state coast town. We were a bit discouraged a few days ago when we happened to meet up with a Charlevoix resident who was opposed to this program. He used the argument that an excellent small-city hospital (the Burns Clinic in Petoskey) is only 16 miles away and it was preposterous to have a duplicate service in closeby Charlevoix. We have heard this same argument used locally, with Lansing, in our case, substituting for Petoskey. The 18 highway miles on our present much-too-narrow road to Lansing, even at a mile-a-minute speed and later through always congested Lansing city traffic would represent a half-hour or longer delay before the patient could have medical attention. Imagine yourself, or one of your family, in a heart attack, or a serious accident of any sort, waiting this long for even emergency care. In these crowded and mounting-road-hazard days, the nearer one is to a hospital, the better is his chance to survive. Sixteen miles from Charlevoix to Petoskey could be just the difference between ten or more obituaries in the Courier every year.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Saturday morning found two robins, hopping and chirping in our yard, as though they were in their right minds and it was spring . . . We always gave birds credit for having a lot of good sense . . . now we wonder . . .

A HAPPY fortieth wedding anniversary to one of Charlevoix's favorite couples . . . Mr. and Mrs. Colin McKenzie who will celebrate the occasion next Wednesday, Nov. 21 . . . Mr. McKenzie, particularly, is one of the town's most beloved 'characters' . . . Many say, and we agree wholeheartedly, that he rivals Will Rogers at his best . . . We're sure that opinion is shared by most everyone who knows him . . . So to a grand couple a million happy wishes . . .

IF HUNTERS in the upper peninsula see a lot more deer than in past years it will be, we're sure, because they've heard that one of Charlevoix's most ardent hunters is not in the field this year . . . He's Bonnie Nickerson who with Mrs. Nickerson has gone for a month's jaunt to California to visit their daughter, Mrs. Russell Kroeze and her family . . . He told us before he left that he'd been hunting for the better part of 40 years . . . So without him in the woods we're sure the deer will become brave and venture out as they have not dared do before . . .

History was made at the Charlevoix postoffice this week, we're told, when all three regular carriers were on vacation . . . Walker Miles was in southern Michigan, Pat Moran and Gordon Dennis were deer hunting . . . Everyone was busy doing his share while the trio were gone . . . but what a mix-up . . . So if your mail is late be patient . . . It's only for this week . . . And anyway, those boys need a vacation . . . after all the Christmas rush is coming up . . .

WHAT DO YOU know about southern cooking? We didn't know too much until we talked with Mrs. Fred Loper the other day who had our mouth watering with descriptions of strictly southern dishes . . . She's from Kentucky originally and such things as chicken tamales made in corn-husks, corn bread, fried mush, fried apple pie and a score of other equally appitizing dishes made us wish we were from there too . . . The chicken tamales, especially, caught our fancy and she makes it all sound so easy

Students to See Archery Exhibit At Assembly

One of the highlights of the school year is an assembly series which brings to all students in the school system a variety of entertainment throughout the year.

Planned by H. E. Bingham, high school principal, six different shows are presented for the entertainment of the school during the fall and winter.

The next show to be presented Nov. 21 will be an archery exhibit by Don and Ginger Bechtold, champion trick shot artists. Included in their show is the history of archery.

Jan. 25 will see Nutchuck whose lecture, "My Alaska, My People" will bring to the students a better understanding of the north country and its people. He will also illustrate his talk with his own drawings and give a demonstration of Aleut music on the piano.

THE CONSERVATORY Players will appear one month later on Feb. 25 in the hilarious melodrama, "Our American Cousins". April 4th will bring J. Phillips Robertson, musicologist, baritone and actor in "Musical Roundup of 1951 B.C.," a demonstration of ancient song and instrumental music.

The series will be concluded on May 1 with Andrew DeCosta and Lenore Ferrari in "Matchless Musical Moments" with Mr. DeCosta demonstrating his versatility by "playing every instrument in the band" and Miss Ferrari singing in her remarkable soprano voice and playing the accordion.

The series opened recently with the Shooting Mansfields, booked as one of America's most effective safety programs.

The students see the six shows for a small sum, paid either through a season ticket or a single admittance for each show.

The series brings to the youngsters here a variety of shows they might not see because of the distance from urban entertainment.

Economy Feeding

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% is a concentrate built for the dairyman, or cattleman, who has fed a single protein concentrate (such as Soybean Oil Meal or Linseed Meal) with his home grown grain. We feel that a combination protein—plus molasses, trace minerals, bone meal and Vitamin D will produce cheaper milk or meat, and maintain better health.

Farm Bureau 45 Per Cent Cattle Supplement

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% carries Linseed Meal, Cottonseed Meal, Soybean Oil Meal, Gluten Feed and Urea as sources of Protein. Two hundred pounds of molasses per ton is added to increase palatability and help control ketosis. Trace mineral salt, Bone meal and Vitamin D are added as health factors.

Here is a concentrate that allows more home grown grain to be fed with each hundred pounds than single proteins allow. In one bag there are all the other factors necessary to make a practicable low cost ration when mixed with corn, oats, barley or spelt and still furnish molasses, trace minerals, proper amino acids and Vitamin D.

Savings - - More Production

If you want profit from hens, come in and buy Farm Bureau Mermash. It's the only egg mash that is proud enough of the quality and quantity of the ingredients used that an open formula is on the tag. No secrets - No magic - just the finest feed to promote health and production in your flock.

IT HAPPENED ON . . . . BEAVER ISLAND

Mary LaFreniere

Pete Renney of Traverse City, and Fritz Gillette of Muskegon, were here this week duck hunting.

The Dan D. Gallaghers have as their guests, Patsy Gallagher, Frank and Bernard Kraai and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gallagher and daughter, Dorothy of Lansing.

Mrs. Grace Cole returned after spending a week in Charlevoix with her sisters, Mrs. Henry Supernaw and Mrs. Emil Pischner.

Mrs. James Ebns and family have gone to Ludington, Mich., to make their home. Mr. Elms has been employed there for some time.

James "Lano" McCafferty, who has been sailing on the Great Lakes, returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ricksgers and daughter, Brenda Sue, of Lapeer, Michigan are here visiting Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Ricksgers.

Mrs. Elmer Dudley and sons, Billy and Charles, and Mrs. Royce Welsh were in Charlevoix this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Carneil Gatliff of Detroit are the parents of a daughter, Barbara Anne, born Oct. 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Walton of Hasting, Mich., have arrived for the deer hunting season. They are staying at one of McDonough's cabins.

A game club meeting was held Saturday evening at the Beaver Lodge. Final plans for the Hunter's Ball Nov. 17th, were made.

Glenn McDonough returned from Ann Arbor after having a medical check-up at the University of Michigan hospital.

Frank O'Donnell and Hugh R. Gallagher are the owners of new pick-up trucks.

Mrs. Art Johnston and daughter, Susan, spent three days in Charlevoix as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Spaniolo this week.

The opening of the new dance floor at the Shamrock Bar was held Thursday night.

EMMET McCANN, one of our commercial fishermen, suffered a heart attack early Thursday morning. Friday afternoon he was taken to Munson hospital at Traverse City by a helicopter from the Coast Guard airport at that city. The helicopter landed at the baseball diamond and for most of us it was the first chance we've had to view one close by. The latest report on Mr. McCann is that his condition has improved.

THURSDAY night the building known to most of us as the old house under the hill was destroyed by fire. A historic land mark the building was originally a fur trading post and believed to be built before 1735. It was made of logs and in the form of the very early French construction. Being one of the oldest buildings in this part of the country the island lost one of the few buildings left of historical interest and value.

AGAIN BEAVER Island can boast that by comparison to other parts of the state and country the last cold wave didn't affect us very much. We did have some bad weather but we still are left almost entirely without snow.

THE COMING deer season is expected to be an extra good one. The deer are reported to be more plentiful and a larger kill is looked for. A greater number of hunters is also expected. The car schedule for the North Shore is filled for the week preceding the opening day. Two extra trips are being made too. The cycle of coyotes is greater and promise to add extra sport for the hunters.

More Hunters to Go After Deer Than Last Year

LANSING—Michigan's 16-day big game season gets underway November 15 with the conservation department anticipating a deer hunting force of nearly 400,000 or a few more than last fall's 386,563 licensed riflemen.

Harvest, according to I. H. Bartlett, department deer specialist, may be slightly smaller to about the same as last year. Estimated 1950 bag was 121,000 deer, resulting in nearly 32 percent of the hunters being successful.

Should heavy snow block side roads and keep hunters out of many customary interior hunting areas a lighter kill would be almost certain.

The largest deer starvation in the state history last winter and spring has slowed the expansion of the herd, particularly in the northern lower peninsula. In spite of an estimated loss of 35-50,000 animals, the total Michigan herd, estimated at 800,000-1,000,000 head, still is too large for the size of its range.

There is only one regulation change in the Nov. 15-30 season. Big game hunters will observe regular shooting hours for the first time, 7 a. m.-6 p. m. Deer seekers in the southern third of the state again will be restricted to shotguns, with buckshot, ball or slug loads.

Resident deer and bear license is $3 50, nonresident fee is $35 and a camp permit is $3.50. Not less than four persons must comprise a hunter-camping group in order to take a buck for camp purposes.

Persons who hunted in the bow season but failed to get a deer, may hunt with bow and arrow or gun in the general season providing they purchase a general season license.

Those who want to set up o camp on state-owned land must obtain a camp registration card from a hunting license agent, or a conservation department office.

Paint 'Sharpies' Active in State

Michigan farmers today were again warned about trucks coming into the state with painting equipment and "sharpies" who tell a story about having been on a big job in a big city and having just enough aluminum paint left over to cover the metal roofs on the place.

Art Bell, Michigan State college agriculturol engineer, says that during the past three or four years there have been literally dozens of these outfits from out-of-state roaming the highways.

He recommends doing business with a local man who expects to be around for awhile. The out-of-state outfits "guarantee" their jobs but in 18 months to two years when the paint fails they aren't around to make good on the guarantee.

Aluminum paint is a good paint if used correctly but it should never be put on directly over rust. Bell points out.

Wood for Pencils

Incense cedar which grows in southern and southwestern Oregon as a minor species is probably the principal wood used today in the manufacture of pencils

County Farmers To Vote for PMA Committees

Community Production and Marketing administration committeemen elections will be held in each of nine designated agricultural communities in Charlevoix county from Nov. 19 to Dec. 20, LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the county PMA committee, announced.

Each farmer-owner, operator, tenant or sharecropper—who is participating in any program administered by the County PMA committee is eligible to vote in his respective community election.

Again this year voting will be by mail. In each community farmers will vote for three regular committeemen and two alternates and a delegate to the county convention where a county PMA committee will be elected.

The committeemen elected in both the community and county elections will take office Dec. 31, 1951. They will be responsible for the administration of the agricultural conservation program, price support operations, the sugar program and in cooperation with Federal Crop Insurance Corporation, the writing of all-risk insurance.

Hardy, points out that this year when these programs are geared to defense production and farmers are being called on to help meet the Nation's defense requirements, the committee elections take on added signifance. Those elected should be farmers the majority of the farmers in each community want. The programs they administer and the assignments they carry out will affect the production and marketing of the products of every farm in the community.

He urges every eligible farmer to vote.

Balanced Feed For Dairy Bulls Vital to Success

Feeding bulls balanced rations is vital to good dairy breeding practices and profitable for dairymen, says A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State college extension dairyman.

Baltzer supervises the feeding operation for 90 bulls owned by the Michigan Artificial Breeders Co-operatives and has some sugestions for feeding the dairy bull.

He said that grain, salt, steamed bone meal, cobalt sulfate and roughage makes up the ration for the bulls. Each bull gets 20 pounds of hay a day, 12 pounds of ensilage and four pounds of grain.

The grain mixture is made up of 1,200 pounds of oats, 600 pounds of bran, 300 pounds of middlings, 300 pounds of corn, 200 pounds of meat scraps, 100 pounds each of linseed meal ond cottonseed meal, 100 pounds of a high protein-vitamin-antibiotic concentrate and 50 pounds of salt with cobalt sulfate.

Average weight of the Holstein bulls in the MABC bull stud is 2,183 pounds, Guernsey bulls weigh an average of 1,678, the Jersey bulls average 1,553 pounds, and the Red Danes average 1,834 pounds.

Baltzer said that dairymen should consider the weight of their cows as well as there milk production to feed most economically for best profit. A tape measure can be used to figure their weights and the MSC dairy extension office will furnish charts for feeding.

Mend Plastic Items

Cellophane tape is very effective for mending many plastic household items such as tablecloths aprons, bibs, raincoats, etc.

ORCHARD NOTES

By Claude Fairman

Noting that some Delicious apples are of a solid color and some ore striped, orchardists are asked sometimes how this happens.

It is in the tree or strain. As there are several strains in each breed of livestock, the same is true in fruit. It you have a tree producing solid color fruit or a tree producing some superior type of fruit wanted for future planting, you can utilize one of two methods.

The process would be to graft this strain on other trees or better yet to have the trees made by taking scion wood from the desired species and shipping it to your favorite nursery.

The nursery will make young trees for you by grafting on the proper seedlings or by budding. If there are apple growers who would like to do this, let us know and we can furnish you with the name of a man in your area who will do it for you.

Sometimes this process has to be repeated or the stock kicks back or breeds back. Good nurseries do a lot of improved breeding in order to give you improved varieties of fruit.

However, much more could be done along this line.

Christian Life May Help Japan Recovery

crown prince, almost from brith, lives in a separate palace from his family. He has to be taught that he is dedicated to the state and that his whole life in is preparation.

They say there are about 150,000 communists in Japan who are actual members of the party but that, at an election, they might poll five to eight percent of the vote.

—When you see and know the facts of the poverty here you wonder that the percentage is not greater. In this regard: skilled laborers get from 18,000 to 25,000 yen a month and professors get from 5,000 to 12,000 a month; ministers get from 5,000 to 8,000 a month and have to take one or more jobs to live.

PEOPLE NEED a minimum of 150 yen a day for food so a family of four needs 18,000 yen for 30 days. People in the areas probably only have 50 to 60 yen a day.

Japan is too poor to provide itself with sewage systems, good hospitals ,etc. It is no wonder the communists say: "We will seize the huge temple properties, the Nomura gardens, etc., and house the people." Yet they do go in for some public works and one wonders if they should come first: stadiums, swimming pools perhaps could wait, but the beginnings that are being made in municipal housing should go first.

I DON'T know how George carries on with the schedule that is drawn for him. I get tired just going along, meeting people, making an occasional speech. contending with the language but he has to stand for 2 to 3 hours lecturing and answering questions . . . and they are good questions from alert students . . . questions on the problems of peace and war; on the peace treaty; on social improvement; on the advances in the psychiatric field, on theological seminaries; on theology itself.

They are very intersted in theology. As Prof. Yasuda explained to me yesterday; our young people in their adolescent years want to know the meaning of life, then they are taught the philosophy of Buddhism and Confucuanism. Then they crave knowledge of the philosophy of the Christian and delve into theology.

The hard thing is to make them see that Christianity is not a philosophy, it is a way of life, and that it must be lived as the basis of under-girding all one's actions and words.

George is quite tired already and I have a cold or hay-fever but this is our first major assignmnt and we may learn how to do it with less strain as we go on. Today he went to Kobe to lecture at Kwansei University without me that I can catch up on the correspondence.

It is a blessing I brought the typewriter for we could not have managed without it. Leaving paper behind (because of weight) was crazy, so were several other things.

I think I told you about the fleas we ran into and now we find George can't wear nylon socks because they bring out a rash . . . at least that's what we think it is. We only have one pair not nylon so have had to try shopping and found only two pairs but Japanese are small and it is difficult to find large sizes. I'll have to get someone to get some for me from the army PX. When we get back to Tokyo we shall hope to find mail. We leave here on Friday.

More Turkeys Grown In Area This Year

New Year's trade.

Growers who do not sell their birds through the local plant truck them live weight to southern Michigan markets or slaughter them and truck them to retailers in Detroit or other southern Michigan cities.

Mr. Willis olso believes growers are doing a better job of finishing their birds than in the past. He reports that the majority of turkeys are in better condition than any time since the local plant opened.

He credits this to the growers who have learned that only top birds bring top prices and thus are devoting their efforts to raising only No. 1 birds.

ARLO WICHERSHAM continues to have the largest flock in the area. He has 6,000 birds this year. Other growers with large flocks are Hiram Block and Ernie Brock with flocks of 3,500 birds each, Elden Jones with 2,700 birds, Harry Brock with 2,000 and John Brock with 1,500 birds. In all there are approximately 20 growers. The others have flocks averaging from 1,000 to 500 or fewer birds.

Birds processed at the local plant are picked up by the plant truck, and transported to the plant where they are slaughtered, New York-dressed, cooled with ice and hanged in a cooling room to dry.

They are then graded and packed in wirebound wooden boxes for shipment by rail or truck to Land-'O'-Lakes distributors for sale to retailers.

Presents Award on Beaver Island

Gov. Williams Praises Beaver Island Group

St. James — A pledge there will be "no meddling" with the conservation department of Michigan "on the basis of partisan politics" was made by Gov. G. Mennen Williams here Saturday night.

He presented the Beaver Island Game Club a plaque and a cash award for Outdoor Life Magazine in-recognition of three decades of effort in stocking this Lake Michigan Island with wildlife.

Veterans of the conservation department who heard the promise said it was "the most direct and by far the most solemn pledge" by a governor in recent years.

MORE THAN 300 residents of Beaver Island, deer hunters from several midwestern states, a large delegation of executives from the department of conservation and the tourist industry gathered in the parish hall in this historic town to pay tribute to the conservation group.

Old residents of St. James reported that Gov. Williams, paying his second visit to the island in three years, is the first state executive to come to Beaver Island since the late Chase Osborn was here in 1913.

The islanders went "all out" to welcome the governor, his son Gary, and other visitors here. The award dinner was followed by the annual hunters ball, at which Gov. Williams danced and called several square dances.

IN ADDITION to the governer, speakers included Ben East, widly known wildlife writer and field editor of Outdoor Life magazine, who served as master-of-ceremonies: Dick LaFreniere, president of the Beaver Island Game Club, who accepted the plaque for the club; Fred Strausaker, secretary of the state conservation commission; George Griffith, a member of the conservation commission; Harry Aldrich of Roscommon, regional chief in this area for the conservation department, and Aurey Strohpaul of the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association.

A long round of applause greeted Gov. Williams' promise to keep the conservation department free of politics.

"So long as I am governor, and so far as I am able to prevent it, there will be no meddling with the conservation department on the basis of partisan politics," the governor said.

"SO FAR AS my office is concerned, the commission and the director will be left free to perform their duties without partisan interference. In turn I shall ask and require only that they do their work well.

"What I want is for Michigan's conservation job to be done as effectively as you have done yours here on Beaver Island. I see this game club and its accomplishments as a symbol of what the entire state is doing and must do. You here stand as a challenge and inspiration. This award you receive in honoring you for your achievement honors all Michigan."

In outlining the work of the Beaver Island Game Club, the governor pointed out that in 1922 the club set out to provide hunting on the island, bringing about the placing of deer, squirrels,

$4,000 More Reported in Hospital Fund

An additional $4,000 has been pledged or contributed to the Charlevoix area hospital drive, bringing the overall total to $289,000, campaign leaders disclosed late Tuesday.

Workers are aiming at the $300,000 mark to care for increased cost of construction. Solicitations are still being made in an effort to give all in the area an opportunity to give toward the hospital.

Persons who have not been contacted yet will be sent pledge cards, officials said. Architects have advised that hospital building costs have increased considerably in the last year. It is with this object in mind that solicitation has continued.

First Hunter to Report Killing Deer

Dick Fochtman didn't take much time off to get his deer. He was the first deer hunter in the area to report his kill to the Courier. Dick downed a four-pointer weighing 110 pounds, about 8 a.m. opening day while hunting alone three miles north of Charlevoix. This was Dick's second deer in three years. Gene Bergmann was another at Charlevoix Oil who got his buck.

Crash Injury Fatal to Pat Shea

John "Pat" Shea, 48, resident of Charlevoix two years, died in Charlevoix hospital at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday from head injuries suffered in an auto accident Monday night on US-31 at the south city limits.

Police said Shea was traveling north when his car struck the rear of a truck driven by James O'Brien, route three, Charlevoix about 9:35 p.m. Monday. After striking O'Brien's truck, Shea's car went out of control striking a billboard.

He was given several blood transfusions during the night but his condition grew worse.

His brother and two daughters, all of Milwaukee were notified.

Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Shea was employed at the Town House.

Chest Drive Falls $700 Short of Goal

For the second year in succession, the Charlevoix Community Chest fell short of its goal.

According to a report issued by Mrs. Art Heilig, secretary of the Chest, a total of $3,398.95 was raised this year. The goal was $4,128.

Last year the goal was $5,750 and a total of less than $4,000 was raised for the '50 drive.

Because the Cancer society did not take $280 raised by the Chest in the '50 drive, that amount was converted to the general fund in this year's drive.

This meant that the Chest will pay 90 percent of the budget requests. The allocation to the organizations follows on the 90 percent basis:. Girl Scouts $405, Boy Scouts, $765; United Fund, $925.51; Community Nurse, $765; Santa Claus Annonymous, $135; Charlevoix hospital, $450; Salvation Army, $270.

Local Hunters Bring 'em Home

George Plumm was another to fill his deer license the first day. He brought down an eight point buck shortly after 8 a.m. in Hayes township. Bill Matzinger reported one during the morning, also in Hayes township.

John Norton, hunting near Kalkaska, was another lucky hunter bringing home a five point buck.

Others reporting a buck are Irv Manville hunting in the Ontanogan district; Phil Martin hunting near Watersmeet; John Fratrick hunting south of Charlevoix; Dick Hull hunting east of here brought home a spikehorn; Floyd Ikens who returned home Monday night from Ontanogan with a fine buck.

Visit to Osaka Proves Interesting to Buttricks

Except for two postcards, it has been 12 days since I sent our last letter off from Osaka so there is much to report. Literally we have been kept so busy I have been unable to do any writing since we left Japan.

That week-end when we did not go to Korea, was a perfect Godsend, for we got the report written on Japan and completed thank-you notes for the many wonderful things that were done for us. Everyone in Japan was so friendly and kind. After each series of addresses we were given some little gift with which to remember Japan.

We stayed a week in the Osaka neighborhood divided between Osaka itself, Kyoto which I described in my last letter and a place called Nishinomiya, close to Kobe, where Kwansei University was located. Of Osaka we had time to see very little. It had been terribly bombed and three-quarters destroyed. We heard so many tragic stories.

THE MORE you see the flimsy houses in which the Japanese live, the more you realize the fierceness of the conflagration the firebombs caused. There was no escape.

Reconstruction funds sent by the American churches are doing the rebuilding here as in school after school and college after college that we have visited I think we should rebuild a Korean village as our next task.

We managed to steal away one evening in Osaka and went wandering among the crowds down "Fifth Avenue" and "Broadway", and its legalized red-light district.

THESE PARTICULAR streets are about 12 feet wide and a jumble of humanity, bicycles, rickshaws and tiny cars. Turning down one alley about six feet wide we found a shrine where people were purifying themselves by washing their hands and throwing scoops of water over the Buddha.

Then there are the geisha girls. They are really highly trained, professional entertainers and are used a great deal by business men for parties at which their wives are not present. Geisha understudies are the waitresses, while the geisha girls themselves keep the evening gay with witty conversation, dancing, etc. Quite a custom.

ONE DAY, in Osaka, I had to be up and speaking to an assembly of the Jo Gakuin high school at 8:30 a. m.—1100 girls—and through an interpreter too. Can you imagine "ME"! Had to give

Swinton Ends 13 Years Work For City Here

City council action on the resignations of Donald Swinton as city comptroller and Alderman William Heering was delayed Monday night when there was no quorum necessary to conduct city business.

Swinton who has been employed by the city for nearly 13 years leaves the city Dec. 1 to assume duties as a lay minister in the Episcopal church at Orangeville, Mich., a community near Grand Rapids.

Swinton who has been interested in becoming a lay minister for more than a year intends to work toward ordainment in the next few years. He will not begin his church duties until about Jan. 1.

HEERING who has served several terms on the council resigned because of ill health. He said that his health requires him to spend considerable time in a warmer climate. He left last week to spend the winter in Florida.

The council is expected to hold a special meeting as soon as Aldermen Charles Bellinger and Carl Kohler return from the upper peninsula to appoint a successor to Heering, alderman in the first ward.

ACTION ON A successor to Swinton may be deferred several weeks, one alderman said.

Swinton who started working for the city in 1938 as a linesman worked in every city department in the 13 years of municipal employment.

Senior Play Cast Draws Praise from Throng

Plaudits were heaped on the cast of the senior play for their fine performance in the three-act comedy, Seventeenth Summer, Friday evening.

A receptive audience, many of them parents of teen-agers, saw a well-coached cast present the play which dealt mainly with the problems of that age group. The hilarious situations brought many laughs to everyone present.

The play was well cast with Jon Henry as the little sister, Ted Browe and Nancy Ikens, the harnessed parents of four daughters, Donna Ball as Angie, who is in her "seventeenth summer, Marilyn Ikens and Virginia Smith, her older sisters, Charles Krahnke as Angie's heart-throb, Leo Allard and Victor Gibbons as the older sisters' friends, and Barbara Bice, Donna Sommerville, Dean Boss and Norman Ketchman, completing the list of teenagers who keep the action at top-pitch at all times.

Miss Donna Valley who directed the play was presented with a gift from the cast. Becky Badger was student manager

Other members of the senior class assisted with the presentation of the play.

Motorists Are to Blame

Motorists can halt soaring automobile liability insurance rates, an insurance executive points out. All they have to do is stop killing and maiming themselves on the nation's highways.

This statement isn't particularly news. It is an accepted fact by anyone who has ever stopped to think about the rising highway toll in Michigan and elsewhere.

And, if motorists aren't interested in protecting their lives it is doubtful that they care much about their pocketbooks. A wreck is always something that happens to the other fellow.

Nevertheless some of the insurance statistics are interesting and worthy of review.

For instance, in 1950—according to the National Safety Council—35,000 persons were killed and 1,200,000 were injured in crashes. The bill paid by insurance companies, was three billion dollars.

Average vehicle replacements which cost $100 in 1940 are now $290. Hospital charges have risen as much as 174 per cent in some parts of the country.

During this ten-year period the amount paid out for bodily injury claims has jumped 55 per cent while property damage claims went up 125 per cent.

Insurance companies blame some of this "inflation" to increasingly large awards by juries. But, they admit, "it is only natural that jurors, in determining what they consider to be a fair and equitable award of damages are influenced by the rising cost of everything they themselves pay for."

Insurance companies spend a lot of money each year to promote safety through research motion pictures and safe driving courses. They've found it pays off in dollars and cents.

Safety efforts by companies, communities and individuals mean more than mere dollars and cents. They mean saved lives but unfortunately it is impossible to measure how many lives have been saved each year.

All we can do is count our dead and hope there won't be so many next year.

Visit to Osaka Proves Interesting

a short one the next day to a ministers' conference. You never know what is going to happen to you on this jaunt.

For instance in Manila, the newspaper said "Mrs. Buttrick is a lecturer also". Dad said you would get quite a kick out of this, knowing my dislike for speechifying.

THE WORST was yet to come for several mornings later, also in Manila, George spoke to the students of the Theological Seminary and those of the Women's Training School together. Well, the chairman got up and said: "After Dr. Buttrick has finished speaking we will give you five minutes rest, but please keep your seats for Mrs. Buttrick is then going to speak to us". And no preparation and for 45 minutes I was supposed to keep going. It's all crazy! At the end I had questions, etc. A gay life if you don't weaken.

Yesterday evening here at Silliman I had to talk to a group of Faculty Parents on teaching religion in the home. If I survive this journey it will be a miracle! George is marvelous: how he keeps going I don't know. Those last two days at Osaka he spoke continuosuly from morning to night to one group after another at Kwansei University—the most responsive audience we think in Japan.

It is a men's university with a girls' teacher training school next door and what questions they ask. I do not think there is anyone more skilled at meeting questions than George. He was flanked by two interpreters: one to translate the Japanese questions into and the other the English answers into Japanese.

The last was a Cambridge man and, I think, the best interpreter we had. George told the audience he did not know why he needed to speak at all. Why shouldn't he just let the interpreters talk to each other. Everyone thought that a great joke.

TALKING OF jokes reminds me of a few funny language blunders: for instance, outside of a restaurant in Tokyo is "Pork and beef and other choice cats!" and outside the baggage carrier's—"Give us your baggage and we will send it in all directions".

By the way, the questions at Kwansei had to do mainly with the international situation: the Japanese Peace Treaty, the Security Pact, what has happened in America that five years ago they should punish the Japanese for planning war and now insist on their rearming. Kagawa's daughter was one of the students. She is coming to study in our country.

One of our last experiences in Japan and in some ways the most interesting was a dinner given for us to meet Mr. and Mrs. Yasuda. He was one of the pre-war bankers purged by the occupation. The purge has just been lifted and he will probably regain some of his wealth.

Their children are being educated with the imperial family. There were perfectly charming, and I think we each fell for the other. Mrs. Yasuda writes children's stories and has given me four of her books. We learned a lot about Japan from the evening with them.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Thursday is Thanksgiving . . . The 331 years since the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth Rock . . . We don't boast that our ancesters came over on the Mayflower but we're still convinced that wherever all our ancesters came from or how they came they were of the same sturdy stock who were all looking for the same thing and found it here . . . in this United States . . . For that we are grateful on this Thanksgiving Day . . . That and a lot of other things . . . But we're sure you have your own special things for which you're grateful . . . And as you go to church Thursday or sit down to a loaded dinner table give the meaning of the word 'thanksgiving' a special thought . . .

THIS WE heard and thought was one for the books . . . One of our gas station owners, a man not so young anymore . . . had a young fellow about 18 drive into his station and ask to have the gas and water checked which he did . . . He told the fellow he needed a couple quarts of oil so . . . says the young man . . . I have a gallon of oil in the trunk of my car. Would you measure out two quarts and put it in? . . . Is that nerve or is that nerve . . .

WE UNDERSTAND Leo Allard went deer hunting and didn't even get a look-see at a buck . . But don't feel badly, Leo, you had plenty of company in that regard . . . But a few people we know did get bucks . . . And quite a few right around here . .

We had quite a surprise Saturday when someone called to tell us to listen to a certain radio station . . And who do you suppose was on . . . None other than our old friends, Prof. Perry G. Holden . . The program was the Michigan State Alumni series which features interviews with graduates of the school who have done well in some particular field and as you know Prof Holden did more than his share in developing hybrid corn . . . It was grand hearing his voice for we've missed seeing him since he's gone to East Lansing to live with his son . . . He's having a wonderful time there though, according to his letters . . . He's continuing to work on collection of materials related to corn and agriculture for the college historical division . . .

AND WHAT'S going to be done about Christmas decorations for our fair village . . . Can you believe it . . Christmas is exactly four weeks from next Tuesday . . . Go look at your calendar if you don't believe us . . . We realize it's a lot of work but it's so nice seeing the pretty decorations, the trees, lights and all sorts of things that people come up with . . . so let's hope they start on them soon . . To get everyone into the holiday spirit.

Don't know how you feel about football polls but we're agin' 'em . . . There is a move afoot to take high schools off the poll list and we think it's the best thing that's happened in a long time . . . Putting kids under such pressure isn't fair . . . added to that we feel it's the one thing that makes for gambling . . . on high school football games as well as college and pro games . . And don't try to tell us there isn't gambling on high school games . . So more power to the coaches who are backing the move . . .

IN THE MAIL . . . A card from Miss F. L. Edson who is now at Stillwater, Okla. . . . while on a trip through the Ozarks she met a merchant in Berryville, Ark., who had gone to Canada via Charlevoix last summer . . . He said this was the nicest town he was in and talked about "all those boats" . . . Our reputation is growing . . . And from Mrs. Martin Pedersen who is now at Jacksonville, Fla., . . . Said she and Mrs. Mary Dixon were settled in their cabin at Jacksonville Beach, Fla., . . . the days were nice and hot and they were lucky to have missed the cold and snow . . . Let's ask them to send us some of it our way . . .

Hand-operated mechanical fruit dumper developed for growers and packers

Profits of fruit growers and packers have always suffered from "bruising." Ordinarily, fruit is injured while being dumped from field crates onto receiving belts. The Agricultural Experiment Station at Michigan State College, along with the United States Department of Agriculture, has developed a mechanical device which helps workers dump fruit carefully and easily, reducing both damage and labor. Rigid tests show that this mechanical dumper helps control the flow of fruit, has a capacity of several hundred bushels per hour, and is thoroughly dependable. Growers and packers of apples, peaches, pears and onions may call, write or visit their County Agricultural Agent for further information.

New life for telephone equipment

The young lady is not administering a blood transfusion—she is using a newly developed device for replacing carbon granules in telephone transmitters. This is just one of hundreds of ways the Bell Telephone System gives new life to equipment that has been in use. Telephone instruments, switching equipment, even telephone booths—they are all checked constantly, repaired or salvaged. Economy measures of this sort mean efficient telephone service at low cost.

TB Yule Seals To Be Mailed Nov. 19

"Buy Tuberculosis Christmas Seals."

Beginning Nov. 19, residents of Charlevoix and Charlevoix county will receive their 1951 supply of the "Seal That Saves." Against a green-blue background, the red chubby face of Santa Claus will be pictured on the tuberculosis Christmas Seals this year.

Marking the 45th annual appeal, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association's work in 1052 will depend on generous response from Charlevoix area people and others in every corner of the state, according to Theodore J. Werle, association executive secretary. Recounting gains won against tuberculosis, he said Michigan's tuberculosis death rate has been cut by more than 80 per cent since 1900; that more and more chest X-ray machines, hospital beds and other aids are being provided to find, treat and conquer the disease.

"But the reduced death rate means little to the 1,270 Michigan families who lost a loved one to tuberculosis last year," he declared. "Past Progress is small consolation to the nearly 5,000 Michigan men, women and children now in sanatoriums, separated from their homes. Tubereulosis is still spreading in Michigan at the rate of about 450 new TB cases every month. Even more than before, your help is needed."

Barnard Church will Hold Box Social

An old fashioned social event will be revived on Saturday, Nov. 24, when the Barnard Methodist church sponsors a box social at the church.

The public is invited to attend the social at 8 p.m. with Carlton Smith as auctioneer Children's boxes will be sold separately to other children. All proceeds will go to the church furnace fund.

Economy Feeding
Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% is a concentrate built for the dairyman, or cattleman, who has fed a single protein concentrate (such as Soybean Oil Meal or Linseed Meal) with his home grown grain. We feel that a combination protein—plus molasses, trace minerals, bone meal and Vitamin D will produce cheaper milk or meat, and maintain better health.
Farm Bureau 45 Per Cent Cattle Supplement
Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% carries Linseed Meal, Cottonseed Meal, Soybean Oil Meal, Gluten Feed and Urea as sources of Protein. Two hundred pounds of molasses per ton is added to increase palatability and help control ketosis. Trace mineral salt, Bone meal and Vitamin D are added as health factors.
Here is a concentrate that allows more home grown grain to be fed with each hundred pounds than single proteins allow. In one bag there are all the other factors necessary to make a practicable low cost ration when mixed with corn, oats, barley or spelt and still furnish molasses, trace minerals, proper amino acids and Vitamin D.
NOTICE
Nov. 30th will be last date Farm Bureau Services will accept grass and clover seed for custom cleaning.

Gov. Williams Lauds Beaver Island Group

"YOU STARTED from scratch. You brought in this game, released it and took care of it and gave it a chance to get a start to provide hunting for residents of the island and visitors," the governor said.

"Your Chamber of Commerce now lists hunting and fishing among your foremost attractions for visitors. You have succeeded in transforming your island into an outdoor playground of which you are rightly proud.

"In recognition of this accomplishment your club has been chosen for a national award coveted and sought after by the biggest sportsmen's organizations of the country, an award conferred only for outstanding examples of conservation programs successfully carried out. You have brought credit to the whole state."

The governor called attention to the need of conservation in building and maintaining the tourist industry for Michigan and particularly at Beaver Island, which he said needed the tourist patronage.

"I NEED NOT tell you that fish and game are important to Beaver Island," Gov. Williams said. "This lodge where we are meeting tonight bears witness to the value of your wildlife in attracting visitors and building up your tourist business.

"You have many other things to offer. You have scenery, pleasant weather, the charm that characterizes all islands and a brand of hospitality not excelled for warmth anywhere. But, without the added attractions of hunting and fishing, I do not believe these other things would be enough.

"AND BY THE same token, if fish and wildlife are a value to you, they are of proportionate value to every section of Michigan. Hunting and fishing are big business in this state and conservation is one of our most important jobs."

The governor called attention to tourism as the state's second industry, exceeded in value only by the motorcar business.

Death Claims Three Well-Known Merchants

Spikehorns on Doe Pose Problem

Spikehorned Doe Puzzles Hunter On Island

ST. JAMES—Six-inch spikehorns on a deer killed here over the last week-end by Charles, Kleinhenz, Beaver Island hunting and fishing guide, posed a problem for law-enforcing officers, but Kleinhenz got his deer.

It was a doe, protected by law, but because female deer aren't supposed to have antlers, Karl Kuebler, conservation officer for the island, ruled that Kleinhenz was not violating the law when he fired on it.

Harry Ruhl, chief of the game division of the Michigan department of conservation, here over the weekend, said that antlers on female are a rarity, although in the past one is killed in this state on the average of one every two or three years.

Lawrence Ryel of the conservation departmemnt's experimental station at Houghton Lake, was given the head and internal organs of the deer for study to determine if possible why the deer came to grow the set of horns.

Ruhl said that it was believed that a harmless disease in the internal organs usunlly causes horns to grow on does.

The horns were described by Officer Kuebler as different from those of buck deer at this season. They were covered by a layer of heavy velvet.

Lazy Thief Steals Deer

Jack Armstrong, city light crew member, was feeling proud of his buck which he shot last week.

But his feelings changed to anger last Friday night when he discovered that a thief had sneaked into his yard on Norwood road and had stolen his 140 pound deer. At first he thought it might have been a prank by one of his friends.

Such is not the case and authorities investigated the theft but so far have not uncovered the thief.

Hard Luck Hits Danny Farmer Again

It's hard luck Danny Farmer, now!

That could well be Danny's name, particularly after breaking his right leg for the third time in less than two years.

Danny's latest misfortune occurred Nov. 19 when he slipped on the ice and fractured his right leg above the knee. He underwent surgery last Friday in Charlevoix hospital and his condition is said to be improving. However, he is not allowed any visitors other than his family.

Danny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farmer, has spent much of the last two years in bed or on crutches. Each time he has broken his leg, it has been fractured in the same spot.

The first time he fractured the leg was in January, 1950. His recovery required many months of tedious waiting. Then when he thought everything was all right again, he fractured the leg when it buckled under him while walking in August, 1950.

A cheerful lad of 15, he has missed a lot of school because of the fractures.

Archie Belding, well-known local real estate broker, died early Wednesday, after several years of failing health. His death was unexpected, however, as he had been active to the last. He was 69 years old.

Two other well-known elder businessmen died late Saturday. They were Frederick S. Myers, 75, a director of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank and former merchant for 45 years and George W. Priest, 85, pioneer photographer who operated a studio here for 40 years.

Mr. Belding came to Charlevoix in 1921 as county school commissioner and held this position until 1927 when he entered the real estate brokerage business. During World War II, he re-entered the educational field and taught school at Ellsworth, Rapid City and Au Gres, Mich.

He was a member of the Methodist church and a former member of the Kiwanis club.

Mr. Belding was born Jann 22, 1882 at Alleton, Mich., (Newaygo county) and attended Ferris Institute, Albion college and Northern Michigan Teachers college at Marquette.

He was superintendent of schools at Gladstone and Wells, both in the upper peninsula.

Mr. Belding married Ruth F. Carpenter at Williamsbury on May 17, 1905. Besides his widow, he is survived by three daughters, Mrs. J. K. Wagner of Midland; Mrs. Orlin Cunningham and Mrs. Robert Maxfield, both of Charlevoix; two sons, Wayne C. of Charlevoix and Rodney R. of Pontiac; and 11 grandchildren.

Funeral services have been tentatively set for 2 p.m. Friday at See Funeral home. Rev. G. E. Whitten will officiate. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Aldo Ciccolini

Italian Pianist To Play Thursday In Petoskey

The dates of the next scheduled concert in the northern Michigan Community concert series has been changed due to conflicting engagements. Aldo Ciccolini, brilliant young Italian pianist was origninally scheduled to appear at the Petoskey High school on Friday, Nov. 30, but word has been received from New York City that he will appear in Petoskey a day earlier, Thursday, Nov. 29, for the concert.

Mr. Ciccolini has had a meteoric success on four continents in the course of his brief, swift-moving career. Still in his mid-twenties, the pianist aroused extraoardinary interest in the course of his introductory American tour in the autumn of 1950.

His second American tour, in 1951-1952, is starred with major appearances in recital and with orchestra, including re-engagements with the New Ynrk Philharmonic-Symphony, the Boston Symphony and the Cincinnati Symphony.

At nine Aldo was sent to the Naples Conservatory where he studied composition and when he was fifteen wrote an oratorio, "Santa Caterina of Siena" which was performed under his own direction.

Ciccolini's official debut as a pianist came when he was seventeen, at the Teatro San Carlo under Willy Ferrero playing the Chopin F Minor Concerto.

Living Conditions in Philippines Must Be Bettered to Beat Reds

Unless this letter is going to reach the proportions of a large-size volume, it is high-time we left Japan and traveled to the Philippines. We left Japan Oct. 16 and arrived the next day.

The trip, at times, was unpleasantly bumpy but we survived and walked out of the plane into 95 degree temperature, humidity of the same amount and bottle of coco-cola with which tha airline welcomed us. In minutes the perspiration was running down our backs and faces in straams. Quite a contrast from Tokyo and an air-conditioned plane.

There are 7,033 islands in the Philippine archepelegn and it is an amazing experience to fly over them. The length of the chain is 1,150 miles from north to south. The islands are very mountainous and many parts are almost inaccessible and some parts hardly explored. At the present moment, in Dumaguette, we are only 10 degrees from the equator and you can have no idea of the luxuriousness of the vegetation.

MSC Will Miss Carey Twins

"Michigan State will certainly miss the Carey boys."

And here in Charlevoix, whose residents have watched the Carey boys since their grade school days, there is also a sense of "hating to see the boys put away that football."

Charlevoix as the home of the Careys has come in for much splendid publicity as a result of their stellar performance on the athletic field.

Always popular with their teammates and fellow students, the twins have created a niche of their own at Michigan State. Bob is being called the best all-around athlete in MSC's history. That is quite a mark as State has turned out some mighty fine athletes. He is likely to win nine letters in varsity play.

Only two other athletes in all the years at MSC have been able to earn nine letters in three years of varsity competition. So Charlevoix and the Carey family have reason to be proud of the blond giant whose name has become so well known in athletic circles.

But even more important than their performance on the gridiron is the boys' lack of affectation which plagues so many sport stars. Their training at home and in the Charlevoix school has been so good that they don't take their press notices seriously.

The Carey twins are noted for their clean play and sportsmanship above all else. Their parents, teachers and coaches can take pride in their helping these boys who left an indelible stamp of Charlevoix on their MSC achievements.

They played clean, they played to win and they helped MSC become one of the nation's truly great football teams this year.

Let's Continue to Support Fight on TB

"Is there a way to stop the shock when a chest X-ray report says 'suspected tuberculosis?" A Michigan mother asked this question. Her only child had just entered the sanatorium. There are ways to ease the first blow. Explanation. Kindness. Sympathy. These help.

But nothing lightens the loss that may follow. And this loss was suffered hundreds of times last year in Michigan. For there were 5,538 new tuberculosis cases reported in 1950. A city of people! Many of them to be separated from their families for years.

In three out of four cases, the disease was in advanced stage when reported. By that time, the germs had already been spread to others - other adults, other children. The chain of infection is broken only when tuberculosis is found in time and given care. Advanced tuberculosis brought death to 1,270 Michigan citizens last year.

"Is there a way?" Only one real way. Stop tuberculosis. Stop the spread of the disease from the sick to the healthy. Then there would be no letters reporting "suspected tuberculosis" to a stunned family. Homes and lives would no longer be broken by this disease.

Charlevoix and Charlevoix county citizens have in the past joined in giving generously in Michigan's fight against tuberculosis. Through purchases of tuberculosis Christmas Seals, readers of the Charlevoix Courier have helped bring lifesaving progress.

And each victory - in fact, each life saved - is a tribute to the leadership of the press - unstinting and unfaltering since the beginning. Michigan's 45th tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale began on November 19 and will last until Christmas Day. Sale of 1951 tuberculosis Christmas Seals, which feature Santa Claus, will be the only financial means for the 1952 programs of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

We've never had a yen for a mink coat but after seeing a real honest-to-goodness mink the other day we can understand why people do . . . We'd mentioned to Clayton Smith that we'd never seen a real mink so when he caught one in a trap the other day he brought it in for us to see . . . The coloring was exquisite, the fur soft and shiny . . a beautiful thing to see, particularly with its little patch of creamy white under its chin . . . A masterpiece of nature if ever we saw one . . .

DON'T FORGET, Christmas is less than a month away . . . In fact, there are only 22 shopping days left . . .

Here's a list of 'don't forgets' we'd like to pass on to you as reminders . . . First, don't forget Christmas is less than a month away . . . in fact there are only 22 more shopping days . . . Don't forget to send that serviceman's Christmas card . . . he'll appreciate it for everyone loves to be remembered at holiday time . . . Even if he's overseas you can still get one to him if you send it airmail . . . Don't forget there are a lot of people you know who won't have much of a Christmas . . . Just a little thoughtfulness on your part will bring them some happiness . . . a box of cookies, a gaily wrapped glass of jell or jam, or even an unexpected Christmas card will do much . . . It might even restore someone's faith in humanity . . . What more could you expect your thoughtfulness to do . . . And don't forget to get your Christmas parcels and cards in the mail early if you want them to reach their destination . . .

FOR POSTOFFICE employees only: an apology for our remarks about the mail being late because all regular carriers were on vacation . . . We have been notified that the mails were not only delivered on time but were a little ahead of schedule.

What's this we hear about Fred Bergmann getting 'buck fever' while hunting with his sons recently . . . And after 40 years too . . But he got his buck . . . We also understand Bob Neff is home from Newberry and disappointed because he didn't even see a deer . . . through the cabin window, that is . . . And Harry Gregory was the lucky hunter who got the big buck in the Loeb district that so many hunters have been trying for . . . And how about that bear that Ulrich came home with . . .

AS YOU ALL know Santa Claus, assisted by Mrs. Santa Claus and his many helpers are very busy this time of year taking care of last minute orders sent in by youngsters wherever Christmas is observed . . . But we'll let you in on a secret . . . there's a branch shop opened up in Charlevoix under the name of Santa Claus Anonymous . . Here the helpers repair toys, dress dolls and do all the things the same as Santa's big shop . . . Plans are being made now for the last minute rush so if you'd like to be a helper this year or have something that might be used by the Charlevoix branch get in touch with Bill Supernaw at the postoffice and he'll give you the details on the project. A mighty worthy one for it brings Christmas to a lot of less fortunate kids . . .

SOMEMORE about Christmas . . . which happens to be our favorite time of year . . . In the December issue of Today's Woman there is an article we think you'll like for it will give you a new beautiful concept of the day . . . It's titled "Should a Jew celebrate Christmas" . . . We're sure it will give you something to think about . . . and make you wonder if you've fully appreciated the significance of the beautiful anniversary . . .

Charlevoix received a bit of publicity in this week's Quick magazine . . . Under good news . . It's "Crime takes a holiday" and it's a little item about the lack of prisoners in our county jail . . . It was called to our attention by Mrs. William Potter . . .

Beware of Carbon Monoxide Poisoning in Winter

Forty Michigan people will lose their lives to carbon monoxide poisoning in the next few months unless we all give more attention to its danger, the Michigan Department of Health warned today.

Every year about this time, the colorless, ordorless and tasteless gas snuffs out the life of a businessman warming up his car in a closed garage, of a sleeping family unaware of a defective furnace, of transients in a poorly ventilated tourist cabin or a young couple parked in a car with its motor running.

It takes only ten parts of carbon monoxide in ten thousand parts of air to put a person to sleep in an hour and kill him in four hours. As little as two parts per ten thousand will cause headache, nausea and dizziness. Greater proportions cause unconsciousness and death more rapidly.

These are the precautions which you must observe to protect yourself and your loved ones from the danger of carbon monoxide, the Health Department said:

1. Make sure that all heating appliances in your home are properly vented and that the vents are open and without cracks or leaks. Have the furnace lining inspected to assure that carbon monoxide cannot leak into the jacket and heating ducts, no matter whether you heat with coal, gas or oil. Remember that where there is smoke or smell there is usually carbon monoxide, and there may be carbon monoxide where there is no smoke or smell.

2. Be sure that the carburetor on your car is properly adjusted and that the exhaust system is absolutely tight. Don't warm your car up by running the engine in a closed garage. Keep a window open when you drive long distances. Close the fresh air intake in congested traffic so that exhaust fumes from the car ahead are not drawn in. If you begin to feel drowsy, dizzy or slightly nauseated while driving or riding, stop the car, get out and open all the doors. Have the car checked before you drive it again.

3 Don't take chances on 'parking' in an automobile with the engine running, even with a window open.

For distinctive gifts, visit the House of Jewels. You'll be amazed at their selection and reasonable prices.

Rx OUR PRESCRIPTION DEPARTMENT IS HERE . . . TO HELP YOUR DOCTOR GUARD YOUR HEALTH

Here's what Michigan doctors prescribe to ease the cost of illness!

They prescribe BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD to protect your family against the costs of hospital and surgical care! These health-care plans, developed by Michigan hospitals and doctors, are known, respected and welcomed in every part of Michigan!

NEARLY 2½ MILLION MEMBERS MEANS GREATER BENEFITS — MORE SECURITY!

● The last to recover from an accident or illness in your family is always your pocketbook! That's why it, too, deserves expert medical help. That's why it gets this kind of help from Michigan hospitals and doctors who pooled their intimate knowledge of your problems to set up and direct the Blue Cross - Blue Shield health-care plans.

Benefits as high as $8,058 have been provided!

Blue Cross - Blue Shield have provided hospital and surgical benefits totalling as much as $8,058 in a single hospital stay. There are hundreds of cases on record in which benefits have amounted to $2,000 or more.

Michigan Blue Cross - Blue Shield have paid out more than 211 million dollars in health-care benefits in the past twelve years. This fact alone is striking evidence of the service rendered by these great plans.

Blue Cross-Blue Shield have millions of friends!

Blue Cross - Blue Shield also offer advantages that money alone cannot buy. For one thing, they are Michigan Hospitals' and Doctors' own health-care plans. And there are over 2,400,000 Blue Cross - Blue Shield members in the State of Michigan.

All this simply means that Blue Cross - Blue Shield are known and accepted in every part of Michigan. A great advantage in times of emergency . . . a great advantage at any time because it means you can get into and out of a hospital without annoying red tape, without the need for filing any claims. Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay hospital and doctor directly.

Here's What These Plans Do!

Blue Cross Comprehensive Group Hospital Plan covers up to 120 days of hospital care in ward or semi-private room, according to the service for which you enroll. Unlike plans that pay fixed amounts for hospital care, this plan covers hospital bills IN FULL for a wide range of certificate benefits when you are admitted to a Blue Cross participating hospital. No cash limit for drugs, for operating room, for anesthesia, and for many other hospital services.

Blue Shield Medical-Surgical Plan pays generous stated amounts to your doctor for more than 480 medical-surgical procedures. And it pays towards your doctor's visits to the hospital in non-surgical cases.

Chances are 1 out of 4 that your family will be faced with hospital and medical bills this coming year. And with today's hospital and surgical bills often running into thousands of dollars, it's easy to see how the protection these plans provide is worth many times the little you pay.

Ellsworth Hunters Have Narrow Escape

Ellsworth — A group of Ellsworth hunters narrowly escaped serious injury through fire at their hunting camp near Iron Mountain last week.

Charles Edson, his son, Doyle, Walter McElroy and Richard Dennis were about to eat their evening meal when a gas lantern and tank exploded, throwing gas over the interior. Mr. Edson's clothing caught fire but quick work by his group extinguished the blaze. He suffered singed eyebrows and whiskers. All their equipment except their guns and a few clothes were destroyed by the blaze.

Bricks of Babylon

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

"Fair and Square"

We've just had a political campaign with everything from a torch-light parade to a neck-and-neck ballot box race.

Rusty Robinson, with no campaign funds, planned his Election Eve speech for the Square. Slim McCormick, who owns the Palace movie house, was finishing up his campaign in Pioneer Hall.

Then it began to rain. Rusty's political career was fizzling out in the damp when Slim showed up to say that Robinson people could meet in his theatre—for nothing. "I want to beat Rusty," Slim said, "but certainly not with rain!"

From where I sit, you've got to give Slim credit for acting on his belief that everyone has a right to be heard—just as everyone has a right to his own opinions and tastes. Maybe you like hot coffee, for instance, when you "take a break." Well, my vote goes for a refreshing glass of beer. After all, we're lucky to be living in a free country where we can have our own preferences!

Serve Michigan Apples for Best Taste, Economy

Serve Michigan apples in more ways for your family's health, for zestful meals and for your pocketbook, the Michigan Department of Health advised today.

There should be a vitamin Z for the zest of Michigan apples. They enliven the appetite, pep-up everyday meals and provide flavor, roots, minerals and bulk. The plainest meat loaf takes on elegance fit for a king when edged with grilled apple rings.

Use Michigan apples for salads, sauces, relishes or desserts. Chop them up in dressing for your fowl or spareribs, cook them with shredded cabbage; fry them with chops or bake them in Brown Betty or breakfast coffee cake. Eat them raw out of hand for non-fattening mid-morning, afternoon or evening snacks.

Michigan apple pie with cheese is famous throughout the world. The apple cider mill and the boiling down of apple butter played pungent roles in the state's history. The gathering of the family to make taffy apples, or to munch snowy popcorn and bright red apples—features of Michigan family life a generation ago—may well be revived with the return to the family evening-at-home for televiewing.

Michigan apples are the cheapest delicacy available and they're healthful. Buy them by the bushel and serve them in the old ways as well as the new, the Health Department said.

Cherry Growers Rap 'Little Hoover' Plan

Because not one cent of the general taxpayer's money goes to advertise the state's cherry crop, fruit growers of northwestern Michigan are spearheading a movement to save their state Cherry Commission from consolidation with other agencies. Such a move has been proposed by the so-called Little Hoover Commission.

"What the public fails to understand is that this commission's activities are all paid for by contributions from the producers and processors of cherries," Everett DeLong of Leland, the commission's treasurer, told a group of Traverse City business men yesterday. "It is not even mandatory that anyone in the industry pay into this fund. The law provides an escape clause whereby those who feel like it can be relieved of paying. However, it is significant that just about 90 percent of our growers willingly submit to this special levy. They pay a tenth of a cent a pound for what they deliver to canneries and the processors pay a tenth of a cent a pound for what they handle. That is the money and all the money we have to spend.

Death Claims Three Businessmen Here

1876. Mr. Myers went to Minnesota in 1896 and was employed by the Bell Telephone Co. there until returning here in 1906. He entered business at that time and continued to operate a variety store and newsstand until he retired two years ago.

He was a former vice-president of the Charlevoix State Savings Bank and was a bank director at the time of his death.

He was also active in the Masonic Order and was a thirty-second degree Mason.

While in Fountain, Minn., he was married to Bessie Benson who preceded him in death in April, 1913. In January, 1915, he was married to Alpha Benson.

Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Norman Broderick of Detroit and Mrs. Ralph A. MacMullan of The Heights; two granddaughters; a brother, Guy of Cleveland; one sister, Mrs. John Justus of Portland, Ore., and a nephew, Clair Myers of New York City.

Funeral services for Mr. Priest were held at the See Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Tuesday with the Rev. G. E. Whitten officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

He died late Saturday at his home here.

Mr. Priest was born in Ashland, Ohio, Dec. 6. 1962, and lived in Toledo before coming to northern Michigan in 1896. He opened a studio here shortly after his arrival and continued as Charlevoix's only photographer until he retired in 1936.

He was active in civic affairs and served several terms as city alderman. He was prominent in Masonic circles and was past master of the local lodge. He was also a thirty-second degree Mason and a Shriner. He was a member of the Methodist church.

He was married to the former Mettie Borke who died in 1934. A year later he was married to the former Rosella Ensman.

Besides his wife he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Earl Curtis of Lake Odessa, Mrs. Ida May of Jackson and Mrs. James Smalley of Woodland.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

The reapportionment bugaboo raises its head again. The Michigan Federation of Labor is circulating petitions to qualify a proposal for the general election ballot in '52. Copies of the petition propose the constitution be amended to give the secretary of state, rather than the legislature, power to apportion legislative seats.

The proposal calls for reapportionment in 1953 and every 10 years thereafter. Wayne County might get four or five senators in addition to the seven they have now and house representation would rise from 27 to 31 seats. Result: Urban control.

The issue has come up regularly now for years and just as regularly has been buried in the legislature.

FAIR EMPLOYMENT practices legislation has been pushed by Democrats for three years with no success. Such a bill would make it illegal to discriminate against workers because of race, color or creed.

A prominent Republican legislator recently predicted that in the next session of the legislature the controversial bill would come out of committee. Said the G.O.P. stalwart, "The Democrats Don't want this bill any more than we do. We'll get it out on the floor and let them (Democrats) defeat it themselves."

With the present majority, Republicans will need no help knocking out the bill. Closest yet to its reaching a vote was a near compromise. G.O.P. added a rider putting the question to a vote of the people. Democrats refused the overture and the issue died.

ANOTHER RECORD breaking army of bow and arrow hunters is expected this year. Sales of archery licenses as of Nov. 1, totaled 6,600, as against 5,400 by the same date last year. Reports of small game licenses showed 124,779 sold compared to 122,542 at the same time last year.

It may be Dec. 15 before all of the 150,000 signatures of the anti-gasoline petition tax referendum petitions are checked. No more talk of a grand jury investigation into lobby methods of the Good Roads Federation, which supported the gas tax boost.

University of Michigan and Michigan State College have 5,415 students in reserve officer training this year, 1,448 at U. of M. and 3,967 at M.S.C. Freshman and sophomore military training is compulsory at M.S.C.

WHEN ASKED if he thought pro-Eisenhower Republicans could stop Taft, Sen. Blair Moody said. "I don't think so. The senator is a very determined man."

W. F. Doyle, chairman of the little Hoover commission, recently defended the state legislature against criticism that it is to blame for "high cost" of state government. He says, "The fault clearly lies with well-meaning citizens who are willing to sacrifice the welfare in accomplishing the dubious purposes of organizations in which they hold primary interest."

In short: pressure groups.

A Michigan Girls Town, first of its kind in the country, is being discussed. Hitch is in financing the project. Present plan for the home, to be located near Gaylord, is to raise money by subscription to a publication.

Meanwhile the marked rise in escape attempts and walkaways at Ionia reformatory has state corrections officers worried. Jump in escapees has been from nine in 1949 to 15 in 1950 and 24 this year. Warden Garrett Heyns blames the trouble on not enough guards.

THE UPPER FLOORS of the fire ravaged state office building have been cleaned out preparatory to remodeling. Work is expected to start on the building by Dec. 1. Steel allotment has been secured.

Conservation officials will ask the legislatore next year for authority to charge admission to state parks and to lease lands for private use.

A new birth record may be set in 1951. Since April, births have been running 13 per cent above those of last year. Federal security agency says the Korean war is the cause.

The 1952 model automobiles are beginning to roll off the assembly lines. No major changes, for the most part.

There are about 500,000 protestants. 1,500,000 independent Catholics, 500,000 Mohammendans and about the same number, like the Moros in Mindanao Island, Pagan.

Transportation is one of the worst problems. Boats ply between the islands but the conditions on them are horrible. There is one very limited railway on the main island and everywhere dilapitated buses running on worse roads and there is a plane which carries bussinessmen and officials in the main (the majority of the businessmen are Chinese). People in the provinces are therefore very isolated and live most primitively.

IF COMMUNISM is not ultimately to sweep the place, much work must be done, and fast, to better living conditions. The Filipinos have already a strong national sense and are most tremendously eager to learn and achieve democracy.

The colleges are packed with 1,000 at Silliman and 13,000 at the great, new Philippine University outside Manila. But besides these two and the fine colleges and schools our Inter-mission Board has established and the Catholic colleges, there are scores of diploma mills almost at every street corner.

Manila is a beautifully located city on a huge bay with 120 miles of shore line, but it was almost completely destroyed in the war. Corregidor and Bataan are on an arm of the bay and the whole place was fought over and over. Marvels have been done in rebuilding but stark ruins are everywhere.

THERE IS A terrific amount of lawlessness as witness the fact that every house (except the poorest) is barred to the last degree. Murder and thievery are a daily occurance. Several times our car was stopped by police looking for Huks. These are mainly on Luzon Island. They started more or less because of the crying need for land-reform and the abolition of landlordism but they are now entirely communist led and are pretty ruthless guerillas.

The more one sees of the misery and poverty of the people of Asia, the more one knows that the military way is no answer. Somehow and dramatically Point Four (Freedom from want) must be overpowered.

If only we could use the cost of a few battleships or atomic bombs. Most of all we must give the young people of these countries the ideals of Christian thinking so that they can build these new nations on solid ground.

BESIDES THE closely-barred houses, my main impression of Manila is one of noise. Everyone practically lives out of doors, no curtains, no shades hardly, everything out in the open so at night, when you plan sleep, it is one constant tattoo of sound, radio, a political rally, voices from the next house, dogs and more dogs scavengering in the street garbage fighting and barking all night through and cocks crowing long and loudly.

The city streets, the main one, are one confused medley of cars, jitney-buses, thousands of honking horns; for there are apparently no traffic laws. The city is a confusion of ruins, wonderful public buildings already rebuilt, lovely new homes next door to hovels.

THERE ARE spacious main boulevards, one right around the beautiful bay; but between side streets nearly as narrow as those in Tokyo. The Chinese part of the town, the markets and the gaily decorated horse jitneys are a fascination. Along side of this is the notice we saw at the entrance of the bank: "All firearms must be parked here".

And I really think I shall soon be able to write a monograph on "Strange foods I have eaten."

Four Fishing Sites Nearing Completion

LANSING — Four improved public fishing sites are ready for first fall and winter use, another is nearing completion, and work has started on three more, the conservation department announces.

Finished sites are on the Cheboygan river at Cheboygan, Little Long lake near Harrison, East Twin lake near Lewiston, Fire lake near Amasa, and nearly completed is the Avalon lake site near Hillman.

Facilities include entrance roads, parking areas, toilets and boat launching ramps. At Cheboygan a steel sheet pile sea wall has been erected as well as a boat well for department fish patrol boats. The East Twin lake site eventually will be taken over by Albert township and further developed into a park.

Department field crews have started roughing in entrance roads to fishing access points on Ellen and Stanley lakes, Iron county; and Chaney lake, Gogebic county.

Improved access sites now are open to the public on 185 lakes. Another 162 are not improved but are available for limited use.

Protecting Art

Reproductions of fine art paintings will have a greater depth with one or two thin coats of pure fresh, white shellac. Many of the fine old paintings are protected with one or more coats of French varnish, a refined wax free shellac.

Rayders to Receive Serious Test in Season Cage Opener Against Strong Gaylord Team

Coach Terrill Looks for Winning Combination After Losing 8 Seniors

The Charlevoix Rayders, along with the other teams in the northern Michigan Class C league, will open the 1951-52 basketball season Friday night.

The Rayders will meet Gaylord Blue Devils on the latter's floor; Pellston will play at Boyne City; Harbor Springs will journey to Mancelona in loop games and East Jordan will meet Alpena Catholic Central in the eastern city in a non-league game.

Coach Del Terrill will be sending an un-tried team onto the floor Friday. The starting line-up has not been named at this time but is expected to include Dean Boss at center, Bill Denemy and Charles Krahnke at the forward position and Norm Ketchman and Bud Barber at guard if he should decide on an all-senior line-up.

There is also the possibility that he might start Bill Bennett, a sophmore, and Dean Davenport in the forward slots in which event Denemy will pair up with Ketchman in the guard positions and Boss will play center.

Ketchman and Krahnke are the only regulars from last year, Barber and Boss are lettermen and Denemy a transfer from the Petoskey squad. The others including Davenport and Bennett are up from the Reserves.

Others to complete the traveling team will be Jim Lewis, Bill Mosier, Carl Foster, Ray Sanford, Stewart Walker, Frank Lagerman, Gerry Left and Jack Cross.

Coach Sherman Martin at Gaylord will be starting Jim Schrener at center, Jerry Hopkins at forward or guard and Bill Noirot at guard, all regulars from last season's squad. With them will be Larry Northey and Tom Buell, lettermen, forwards and a newcomer, Frank Karwoski, at guard.

Coach Bernie Wilson of Pellston will be starting one of the biggest teams in the league as they open against Boyne City. Last week the Hornets started their season by defeating Rogers City 39-20, Keith Emerson will be joined by Dick Keiser at forward, Bill Drier will start at center and Lloyd Cain and Ray Andrews will be in at guards.

At Boyne City where football injuries also hurt the basketball squad. Coach Dick Dixon plans to start Don Arner at center, Art Kujawski and Ron West in the forward spots and Lyle West and Jess Erber at guard.

Jim Milbraudt, regular guard last year will be out for some time while recuperating from an ankle injury.

Harbor Springs, hurt most by graduation last year, will be starting two regulars, Ray Swiss, a guard, and Frank Granstra, a forward. Completing the starting five will be Stan Pifer as center, Dick Williams as the second forward and Vis Kishigo as the other guard. Chuck Taylor may also see some action in the guard spot.

Coach Gayle Saxton will have one regular or letterman as East Jordan opens against Alpena Catholic Central. Don Whiteford, a veteran from last year's squad will be in at center to head the Red Devils line-up. Dick Freeman and Stevo Hayden or Roman Kemkiewicz at forward and Bob Detloff and Keith Evans at guard.

Regular Norm McGeorge will be out until after the first of the year while recovering from a football injury. Jim Weisler, a letterman, has a fractured index finger and will be out for some time as will Sammy Milstein, up from the Reserves, but who is recuperating from a recent appendectomy.

The Charlevoix Rayders are the defending champions in the northern Michigan league and are again expected to have a strong team. On paper Pellston, Gaylord and Mancelona also look like the teams to beat as the season opens but East Jordan and Boyne City can be depended on to come up with plenty before the season ends. Harbor Springs, despite a lack of experience are not to be scratched off as an easy team.

The Northern Michigan league is considered one of the toughest Class C groups in the state and will be in their every minute during every game.

East Jordan Girl Attending National 4-H Congress in Chicago

By K. C. Festerling

The National 4-H Club Congress at Chicago, which convened in Chicago last Sunday, is attracting upwards of 1,500 top notch 4-H members from all over the nation. Twenty-eight members will attend from Michigan. Among them will be Calvin Ball of Levering, northern Michigan's top junior potato grower. Calvin age 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ball, sr.

Calvin expects to make the trip with K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club agent. Festerling will be present for the National 4-H Club Agents Convention which convenes during the congress.

Leaders in industry and big business will play host to the 4-H members in Chicago. There will be city tours, entertainment by Hollywood celebrity and meals in the finest hotels in the city.

A SPECIAL attraction of this same season is the international Livestock Exposition and Horse Show. To this Miss Arvita Liskum of East Jordan and Fred Ball of Levering will be sent. They will join several dozen other youths and journey by bus from Grand Rapids. Both of these 4-H members won this trip after many successful years in 4-H club work. Miss Liskum's work was mainly the clothing project and Fred's potato and dairy. Their trip is sponsored by the Grand Rapids Press. They left Grand Rapids Monday and will return November 28

Charlevoix County Home Economics teachers and 4-H workers laid plans for a county cherry pie baking contest to be held this winter with the final bake off at the East Jordan school on Feb. 2. Alex Sinclair who is state chairman told of plans for the State and National contest. County plans call for participation for girls between the age of 15 and 20 with a special elimination contest in each town where there is a school home economics kitchen.

HOWARD STEPHENS, Case implement dealer in Charlevoix, has his hands full with the 4-H tractor maintenance project. This gang of mechanics in this rather new and interesting project are the boys of the Lucky Loebers Club.

The South Arm 4-H Club of East Jordan have added new projects this year. There is interest in deer yard study, soil conservation and electricity. Leaders in these projects are being secured. Mrs. Harry Pearsall will lead the new home improvement project. Mrs. Archie Murphy has succeeded Mrs. Clarence Lord as community leader. Mrs. Lord has made a fine contribution to the program but as she says, "The job ought to be passed around."

Mrs. Henry Erber, Boyne City, is the new president of the Charlevoix County 4-H Leaders Club, Lyle Peters, East Jordan, is vice-president and Mrs. Homer Nasson is secretary-treasurer.

Margaret Lord, Walter Murphy, Jack Zoulek and Rushell Hart all of East Jordan are receiving special instructions via correspondence in dairy judging. We hope to produce some expert dairy judges in the county in this way. Judging is being done from pictures.

Where Mrs. Arthur Kaley of East Jordan left off Mrs. Alfred Crowell and Mrs. Lewis Prebble have carried on. Mrs. Kaley left with her family this fall for Fort Rock, Oregon after starting and maintaining a successful 4-H club in the Peninsula community.

A workbook has been written in the county 4-H office to make leading the 4-H Soil and Water Conservation project easier. The books will be ready for leaders by Dec. 1.

Trench Silos on Increase in State

Trench silos are getting a big revival in Michigan's agriculture as a means of preserving corn or grass for winter feeding.

Once a very common method for silage storage, trenches lost popularity, but appear to be gaining it back. Large crops of forage have prompted many farmers to construct trench silos as emergency storage measures when regular facilities are full.

Research workers at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment station have begun an expanded program to study improvement of trench silos.

Agricultural engineers at Michigan State college, report that an experimental trench silo, built of several materials, was filled this summer. Checks will be made on keeping quality of the silage and the durability of various materials for trench silo construction. Selection of a properly drained site is important in trench silo construction.

The research is expected to result in recommendations for improvement of trench silos to store feed for winter use.

Moldboard Plow Still Has Place on Farm

Comparisons of several types of tillage machines on three common Michigan soils have demonstrated that the moldboard plow is still an important piece of farm machinery.

R. L. Cook, soils researcher at Michigan State college, reports that rotary tillage was compared with normal tillage after the conventional disk plow were studied.

Over a 3-year period, no method of tillage has resulted in yields above those obtained when the moldboard plow was followed by conventional tillage. The rotary tiller, the auger plow, and the vertical disk plow were not satisfactory where sweet clover or brome grass was growing.

35 Area Boys Take Part in Beef Project

Thirty-five boys in Charlevoix County and nearby communities are engaged in an intensive feeding program of good beef calves.

The calves were selected and bought by John TerAvest through his contacts with beef men in Northern Michigan. Only outstanding calves were selected and Mr. TerAvest obtained at the fair price of 42c per pound for calves that averaged about 380 pounds.

The East Jordan State Bank, financed the calves. The notes will be repaid at the time of sale next fall.

The Charlevoix County Fair board, under the direction of President Claude Pearsall, secretary-manager Ed Rebman and director Archie Murphy, spearheaded the project which is in its second year.

The highlight of the event will be the auction sale at the Charlevoix County fair next fall, after the calves have been judged and a grand champion picked.

The feeding of the calves will be supervised by F. F. A. advisors Pat Doughtry of Boyne City and Richard Schroeder of East Jordan and 4-H club agent K. C. Festerling.

The project is aimed to encourage better feeding practices and selection of better animals in the county.

Poultrymen Advised To Set Work Schedule

Poultrymen who plan a definite work schedule for handling their laying flock can save time and money.

Regularity in care and management is one of the secrets of success in poultry raising, say Michigan State college poultry authorities. For instance they recommend gathering eggs at 10, 12, and 4 o'clock during the day. That works well since most eggs are laid in the morning and the 4 p. m. collection will take care of most afternoon laid eggs.

Unnecessary noise and scares upset the birds and cut production.

Turkey Festival Set Dec. 5-6 at Saginaw

This year's Michigan Turkey Festival will be held in the Auditorium at Saginaw, Dec. 5 and 6, according to William Aho, extension poultryman at Michigan State College and festival manager.

Entries for this year's show are expected to top last year's record of nearly 400 live and dressed turkeys, Aho said. The 1951 turkey festival is a cooperative project of the Michigan Turkey Growers Association, Michigan State college, Michigan Department of Agriculture and the Saginaw Chamber of Commerce.

Two festive days are planned with activities of interest to turkey producers and consumers alike on the schedule. Highlights of the first day's program will include panel discussion in the evening led by J. A. Davidson, of Michigan State college, temporarily on leave with the Kellogg Company.

PMA Ballots Must Be Mailed By December 20

Township ballots listing the names of candidates for election as PMA Community Committeeman and as delegates to the county PMA annual convention were mailed to all eligible farmer-voters in Charlevoix county, according to LeRoy Hardy, chairman of the county PMA committee.

Farmers who received ballots will have until Dec. 20 in which to mark their ballots and return them, either by mail or in person, to the county PMA office located at Boyne City, Michigan.

All ballots received in the county PMA office through Dec. 20 will be counted the next day by an impartial three-man board.

Nominating committees in each of the agricultural communities in the county have selected no less than ten and no more than fifteen nominees whose names are listed on the election ballots. Each voter will vote for five of the nominees for the community committee and for two of the nominees for delegate.

When the ballots are counted in the election of community committeemen the nominee receiving the largest number of votes will be elected chairman, the one receiving the second highest number will be elected vice-chairman and so on.

In the vote for delegates, the one receiving the highest number of votes will be elected delegate and the one receiving the second highest number will be elected alternate delegate.

Elected delegates to the annual county convention will meet in the county PMA office on Dec. 31 to elect a county PMA committee consisting of the chairman, vice-chairman, regular member, and a first and second alternate.

Economy Feeding

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% is a concentrate built for the dairyman, or cattleman, who has fed a single protein concentrate (such as Soybean Oil Meal or Linseed Meal) with his home grown grain. We feel that a combination protein—plus molasses, trace minerals, bone meal and Vitamin D will produce cheaper milk or meat, and maintain better health.

Farm Bureau 45 Per Cent Cattle Supplement

Farm Bureau Cattle Supplement 45% carries Linseed Meal, Cottonseed Meal, Soybean Oil Meal, Gluten Feed and Urea as sources of Protein. Two hundred pounds of molasses per ton is added to increase palatability and help control ketosis. Trace mineral salt, Bone meal and Vitamin D are added as health factors.

Here is a concentrate that allows more home grown grain to be fed with each hundred pounds than single proteins allow. In one bag there are all the other factors necessary to make a practicable low cost ration when mixed with corn, oats, barley or spelt and still furnish molasses, trace-minerals, proper amino acids and Vitamin D.

Russ Lewis Gets Deer While Working

More successful hunters have reported in the past week as the closing days of the deer hunting season draws to a close.

Russell Lewis, who couldn't go hunting because he had to work struck it lucky. He carried the gun in the creamery truck while making daily pickups. Thanksgiving morning, while in Hayes township he saw a buck and after tracking it for some distance into a farmer's barnyard, brought down a five point 140 pound buck. Les Smith Orlin Cunningham and Dick Hull filled their licenses while hunting 'over east' but Joe Shores, who went along to show them where to hunt, came back empty-handed.

Fred Bergmann and son, Eugene, hunting in the immediate vicinity, filled their licenses with good-sized bucks.

It's Time to Think Of Yule Decorations

It's getting to be that time again . . . time to do your planning for outdoor Christmas decorations.

As in the past the Charlevoix Garden club is urging everyone to plan some kind of outdoor display. It brings to mind the holiday season and everyone enjoys the clever portrayals of various holiday themes.

This year, however, everyone is being invited to assist in the selection of the prize-winners for which prizes will be given by the club. Details will be revealed later on the method of voting to be used but everyone will have an opportunity to cast his vote.

Purebred Boars

In an experiment station test over an eight-year period, it was found that pigs sired by good purebred boars make 100 pounds of gain on 25 per cent less feed than is required for pigs sired by scrub boars

Storms Befuddle Ducks and Geese

LANSING—Even the ducks and geese are confused, with the unprecedented Great Lakes and other area storms playing havoc with fall migration schedules.

In the state's biggest goose concentration area, the Swan Creek and Fennville grounds in Allegan county, there are about 5,000 geese as compared to nearly 15,000 last year at this time.

Conservation department game men speculate that large waterfowl flocks may be holed up somewhere along the migration route, or may have passed through Michigan undetected for the most part. Some species such as canvasbacks and redheads, which are believed to travel southeasterly through the state, may be held up in parts of Wisconsin and Minnesota.

Now that ice covers much of of the shallow water feeding areas, winter residents and lingering migratory waterfowl are more apt to be found in deeper faster waters.

Deer still are moving around in the northern lower peninsula but rabbits probably are sitting tight in brush and other heavy cover.

Rabbit Gets Laugh On Game Biologists

Lansing — "Harvey," unusual rabbit of stage play fame, has nothing on "Rose Lake Rosie."

Rosie is the largest and smartest wild cottontail of Michigan record. Already playing state game biologists for a free feed 25 times this year and last, she so far has managed to give the slip to over 1,000 hunters stalking rabbits and other game at the Rose Lake Wildlife Experiment station near here. At least number 19722 has not been reported taken by hunters who check in and out of the station's 2,400-acre hunting grounds.

Rosie had a dandy racket of snitching meals from a corn-baited box trap set up by conservation department wildlife checkers . . . seemingly realizing game men would continue to release her. However, since the opening of hunting season, the four-pound, nine-ounce rabbit has kept out of circulation.

Was George Stingy?

George Washington, visiting Barbados in 1751 on his only trip abroad, commented that the island's rum was of excellent quality but "extravagantly dear"—at two shillings a gallon! Under Washington as first President, two shillings were equivalent to the exorbitant sum of 45 cents in United States coin.

City Looks for Successor to Don Swinton

Hard Luck Hounds Danny

The days are long for Hard-luck Danny Farmer, 15, who is in the Charlevoix Hospital for the third time in less then two years for treatment of a fractured leg.

But he admits they would be a lot longer if it wasn't for his red-haired freckled-faced pal, "Ernie" Albright, 14, whose infectious grin is a natural antidote for the blues. Even when Danny wasn't allowed visitors, ingenous Ernie contrived ways of getting in to see his friend.

Danny, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Farmer, slipped on the ice recently and again fractured his leg which was first injured in a coasting accident in January, 1950 and again in August 1950 when it buckled under him.

The 'hard-luck' lad has but two worries now, that he won't be home for Christmas and that he won't receive any Christmas mail. There's not much his friends can do about his condition but they can drop him a card at the Charlevoix Hospital.

Most Filipinos Live on $25 A Year, Mrs. Buttrick Relates

I would have given a lot if you could have been with us today. The Protestant faith has been on these islands only 50 years and it is marvelous what it has succeeded in doing and Silliman is one sign. It is a grand university and is sending a constant stream of young people who cannot fail but make an imprint on their communities. It has a beautiful campus situated right on the waterfront with towering mountains behind and the most luxuriant tropical vegetation.

The village houses are mostly high on stilts with all sorts of animals feeding below: little black pigs, goats, hens, emaciated dogs and water buffaloes.

The houses are made of woven palm leaves and bamboo with thatched roofs and look as though a good push would knock them over.

How the people exist I can't think. There are practically no industries, very little farming and an average income of 50 pesos a year ($25.00).

THE REASON I said we wished you could have been here today was that we were taken on a drive around this country-side weaving our way between wandering pigs, goats, chickens and children; past wayside springs where a woman or boy might be taking their bath right out in the open past women walking erect with great loads on their heads, past others carrying water on their shoulders in pipes of bamboo. They might carry their water this way for miles. Then we came to a stream where mothers were doing the family wash squatted down beating the clothes with sticks or rubbing them on coral from the sea.

The vegetation is incredible until you have seen it; the tall straight cocoanut palms; the shorter almost shrub-like trees on which the bananas grow and which die as soon as they have produced a bunch; the graceful bamboos, the mangoes and the papayas.

Our host's house has a central living room about 60 feet long and 20 feet wide screened completely across each end and partly around the sides. The bedrooms are on each side of the main room which is used for everything. The ceiling is of woven palm leaves and the roof is thatched. The lizards run up and down the walls and on the porch is a little tame monkey with whom we have lots of fun. If you pretend to look for fleas on him, he immediately starts to hunt for them on you. The lizards, incidently, are cute too.

THE TEMPERATURE here does not vary 15 degrees throughout the year, 80 to 95 I would say, but the humidity is quite something and there is a tremendous amount of rain. How people live in their frail houses I don't know. They have so little protection.

Among other things I have seen the thinnest baby beyond anything I could imagine—sheer starvation—and a little boy so smitten with parasites that his abdomen was distended like a huge balloon. The public health work that is necessary is almost

Business Men Plan Open House Thursday, Dec. 13

Be sure to attend the "OPEN HOUSE" in Charlevoix stores Thursday, Dec. 13.

All stores in the business district will be open, merchants reported, for the evening to permit area residents to visit local stores.

Merchants have banded together to convince shoppers that the stores are loaded with Christmas merchandise and that it pays to shop in "your home town."

Store windows are being attractively arranged with the Christmas motif appealing to the passersby. The business district streets are being decked out in Christmas finery.

While it has not been definitely announced, it is believed that Santa Claus will arrive in Charlevoix on the afternoon of Dec. 15.

Rayders Feted At Grid Fete By Pythians

The 1951 Charlevoix Rayders football team, their coaches, Del Terrill, S. E. Coleman and Leonard Burns and cheerleaders were guests of honor Monday evening at the annual football banquet given at the K. P. hall by the Knights of Pythias.

E. J. Edwards, as toastmaster introduced Coach Terrill who in turn introduced members of his '51 squad.

Frank Andrews of Hillman, State senator, spoke briefly, complimenting the coaches and the Rayders on their record and fine sportsmenship.

Ray L. Kipke, athletic director, and H. E. Bingham, also spoke briefly.

Dr. C. O. Whitten concluded the program with the showing of a travelogue he had made and movies of the Rayder-Pellston game.

January Draft To Call 10 Men in County

Draft calls are being stepped up in the state and the increase in the number of men is making itself shown in Charlevoix county in the draft call set for January 7.

Ten men will be called for induction into the Armed Forces on that date. The names of the registrants to be called will be announced following a meeting of the draft board.

Twenty registrants will be called for pre-induction physicals in January. The date will be announced later.

Five registrants left Tuesday for pre-induction physicals at the Detroit Induction Center. Three men will leave Dec. 17 for induction into the armed services at Detroit.

Bob Carey Winning More Grid Honors

Charlevoix's Bob Carey's name and picture has been appearing in most of the newspapers and magazines as one of the nation's outstanding football players.

He has been named for several All-American teams, including the United Press and NEA varsity lineups. He has been picked on virtually every one of the all-opponent teams on Michigan State's schedule.

Collier's weekly named him as it's No. 1 specialist for booting extra points. Several grid experts agree that his injuries earlier in the season cut down his chances for making all of the honor teams.

He has been mentioned on most of the all-star teams and was elected to play in the annual Shrine game in San Francisco on New Year's Day but basketball practice will prevent his appearance there.

Sommerville Is New Officer Of Cutter Here

Robert Sommerville, chief boson's mate, assumed command of the U.S. Coast Guard Cutter 83428 Friday. He had been a member of the crew since June of this year.

L. N. "Sam" Bergstrom, chief boson's mate, who has been in command of the cutter for 28 months, is being transferred to Buffalo, N. Y., where he will take command of the U.S.C.G.C., the Cherry. He brought the 83 ft. cutter to Charlevoix from the Soo in May 1950.

Chief Sommerville, a native of East Jordan, is a veteran of 17 years in the Coast Guard service. He has been stationed at various Great Lakes and east coast ports, at the district Coast Guard office in Cleveland and more recently at the Charlevoix Lifeboat station. He was at the latter for 26 months before going aboard the cutter last June. He was promoted to his present rank earlier this fall.

Chief Bergstrom, a native of the Soo, is a veteran of 13 years in the Coast Guard service. He has served at various Great Lakes stations and for seven years prior to his assignment aboard the local ship he served with a weather patrol ship out of Labrador. The home port of the ship was Boston. His new ship, the Cherry, is a bouy tender.

Uno Suomela, Mrs. Moeller Named by MEA

The entire faculty of the Charlevoix public schools was in East Jordan last Tuesday to attend a dinner meeting of the Charlevoix county M.E.A. at the East Jordan high school.

Dr. Louis A. Wolfenger, professor and research professor of land use of Michigan State College, was the principal speaker.

He was introduced by William Grimm, soil conservationist for Charlevoix county. Charles A. Robinson of Boyne City, president of the county M.E.A., presided at the meeting.

Other officers are Uno Suomela of Charlevoix, vice-president, Mrs. Florence Moeller of Charlevoix, secretary and Sadie Liskum of East Jordan, treasurer.

Others who attended were Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, county superintendent of schools, and rural school teachers in the Charlevoix area.

George Ricksger Seriously Hurt in Logging Accident

The condition of George Ricksgers, 57, Peaine township supervisor, who was admited to Munson hospital in Traverse City Tuesday for treatment of injuries received in a logging accident, was improved Wednesday, hospital attendants reported.

He was flown to the Traverse City hospital by the U. S. Coast Guard plane from the Traverse City airbase after the mission had been requested by Dr. Russell Palmer of Beaver Island.

Ricksgers suffered a compound fracture of the left leg below the knee, head and shoulder injuries and possibly internal injuries.

He was injured when he was struck and pinned to the ground by a tree being felled by fellow workers.

His wife made the flight with him and remained in Traverse City for the present.

The Munson hospital nurse who reported his condition Wednesday asked that his friends write to him because he already was wondering about mail.

Jordan Co-Op To Buy Fluid Milk Dec. 17

The Jordan Valley Cooperative Creamery, through it's manager Percy Penfold, announced this week that for the first time in the history of the organization they will be buying fluid milk.

The Creamery expects to start its pick-up Monday Dec. 17. However, the creamery will still be receiving farm separated cream as in the past. Prices paid will be the price of butterfat, in other words, with butterfat at 77c per pound and for 4 percent milk this would make the butterfat worth $3.08 per hundred pounds of milk.

The skim milk would be worth approximately 55c making the total that the organization would pay for 4 percent milk at the present time $3.63 per hundred at the plant. Farmers who are interested in selling fluid milk are urged by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, to contact the Jordan Valley Creamery at East Jordan for details.

North American Plans to Visit Beaver Island

LaFreniere and Capt. Forrest Pratt of the Pittsburgh Steamship Co., ore carrier, Pragney, attended the shore leave dinner of the Grand Rapids Chamber last Friday.

The North American will visit Charlevoix for several hours before going to Beaver Island. The stop at Beaver Island replaces one at Holland, cruise officials said.

City Seeks Pied Piper

WANTED A Pied Piper.

At least the city would like to engage a Pied Piper or a reasonable facsimile to rid the city dump of the hordes of rats.

The city council heard a detailed report on the rat count from Jack Gallagher, city employe. He said that the rats have become so numerous at the dumping grounds that they bump into each other burrowing through rubbish and garbage.

He appealed to the council to take adequate steps to greatly reduce the rat number. Mayor Knight said that steps should be taken at once to either hire rat experts or for the city to buy whatever is needed to exterminate the rodents.

The councilmen agreed that something should be done to correct the rat problem.

Clinic Director To Be Speaker At Open House

John Sibillo, director of the Child Guidance Clinic in Petoskey, will appear on the program planned for the Charlevoix school "open house" Thursday and will speak on the topic "The Child Guidance Clinic and its service to the community."

Others appearing on the program which will follow the theme "Emphasizing moral and spiritual values in education" will be Mrs. Laura Courtade, Delbert R. Terrill and S. E. Coleman. Max Novak will serve as chairman of a discussion which will follow. Supt. Roy G. Bennett will welcome the assembled parents and friends of the school and introduce the various speakers.

C. A. Odmark will be in charge of the music on the program.

Preceding the program visitors may visit the class rooms, see the work being done by the pupils and confer with the teachers who will be in their respective rooms from 7 to 8:15 p.m. The program in the high school auditorium will start at 8:15.

Refreshments will be served in the cafeteria at the close of the program.

Heart Attack Proves Fatal To Don Pearl, 29

Donald A. Pearl, 29, son of Mrs. T. L. Pearl and a former resident, died unexpectedly at his home in Detroit Friday morning following a heart attack.

Funeral services were held at the Fred Wood Funeral Home in Detroit. Burial was in a Detroit cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Sept. 29, 1922, he graduated from the Charlevoix high school in 1940. He served in the army during World War II and following his discharge lived in Detroit. He was employed by the John Hancock insurance company in Detroit at the time of his death.

On May 31, 1945, he was married to the former Mary Greenwood of Detroit.

Besides his wife he leaves two small sons, James, three-years-old and Dennis, nine-months-old, brother, Thad, also of Detroit.

Draft Office Will Move to City Hall

New offices for the Charlevoix office of State Selective Service will be located in the city hall, after Jan. 1.

While the exact location of the offices in the city hall has not been determined, the council informed Joseph Foster of the county draft board that it could have an office in the city hall after Jan. 1.

At present the selective service office is located in the probate office and has found new quarters as of Jan. 1. It is considered likely that the new quarters will be in the mayor's office.

Drew Young Takes Seat In Council

Because a full council was not present for Monday night's meeting, no action was taken to appoint a successor for Don Swinton.

Indications point to a consideration at least of two candidates for the position at the next city council meeting. Alderman Hamilton and Harry Zeitler were out of town on business and were unable to attend Monday's meeting.

At a special meeting last Wednesday, Drew Young, who served on the council for two terms was appointed to fill the vacancy in the first ward. William Heering resigned because of ill health.

IN ATTENDING his last council meeting, Swinton suggested that the Bellaire power plant shut down one shift. He pointed out that economy dictates such a move as the cost for producing power is greater than at the city power plant.

The council and Mayor Knight indicated that the suggestion would be given a trial to determine if it could be worked permanently during the off-peak load during the winter and spring months.

The council heard a report from the district health department requesting attention to the dumping of sewage into Round lake from the septic tanks of at least three residents on Dixon avenue.

Health authorities pointed out that no corrective measures have been taken by the city in this matter and urged the city to take appropriate action.

The city council reported that steps will be taken to correct the situation by asking the residents involved to hook up with existing sewers or pay for their share of the costs if the city does the work.

Foreign Policy Both Political and Moral Issue

United States foreign policy has become more than a major issue of the 1952 presidential campaign. It has become a moral issue affecting the lives of 500 million people throughout the world.

A foreign policy is, after all, the moral policy of a nation. It is dictated by the will of national leaders to do what is right and not to do what is wrong. American foreign policy must meet the needs of its own nationals. It must also meet the needs of allies abroad who seek United States aid and protection.

Foreign policy, according to Republican Party principles, is based upon a program of "no cooperation with International Communism." Under Presidents Harding, Coolidge, Hoover, non cooperation was effected.

Foreign policy, as practiced by the Democratic Party, has adhered to the principle that a world half-slave, half-free, may exist in peace and harmony. To perpetuate this belief, great concessions have been made to the Soviet Union.

Under President Roosevelt, the Yalta agreement surrendered 100 million Christians in East Europe to an atheist named Joseph Stalin. These beaten peoples held out their hands for help and around them the Yalta signatories fastened Communist shackles. This was a moral wrong.

Agreements at Potsdam under President Truman inaugurated the betrayal of Free China to Communism. This was not foreign policy—it was a moral wrong done to a generation.

The Republican Party can contend that in affording no quarter to Communism, its foreign policy has been right. In this, it has hurt no man.

When the Democratic Party makes its declaration of foreign policy, more than 500 million oppressed human beings throughout the world will listen in their misery to hear what is said.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fran Martin

Friday will mark an anniversary . . . a memorable one . . . in our history for December 7, as you all know, is the anniversary of Pearl Harbor . . . need we say more . . . It seems almost like yesterday and again at times it seems like ten times ten years . . And what do we have today as a result of it . . . Surety not peace or security or any of the things we feel so important . . . Somewhere along the way something happened . . . Let's all say a prayer on this anniversary that he shown the way to world peace and love for our fellow men . . .

Last week we mentioned Santa Claus Anonymous . . . We noticed last week that one store along the street was already doing something to help and if you'd like a lovely doll-house and furnishings for some little girl you know, stop in and we're sure you'll be told how you can become a 'helper' too . . .

Gee, can you believe the weather we've been having recently . . it's as balmy as spring . . . it's hard to believe it's December and less than three weeks til Christmas . . . (We'd like to say something in our defense in case it storms before Thursday . . . this was written Monday) . . . But don't let the weather fool you . . there's only 16 shopping days til Christmas . . .

Charlevoix has been saddened recently by the loss of several residents who played major roles in our little community . . . Fred Myers who sold every youngster in town his first penny candy and who in his own quiet way did a lot of charitable deeds that no one will ever know about . . . George Priest who was the town's photographer for 40 years and chances are photographed some major events in the life of many of you . . . Archie Belding who for years was associated with the schools but whom so many of us knew for his keen sense of humor and love of life . . . Mrs. James Shearer, a kind mother with a wonderful family in whom she took great pride . . . Added to those people who had lived their lives are two others whose lives were yet to be lived . . . Jeanne Cellner Kuder and Don Pearl . . . little Jeanne with the red hair, freckled nose and lovely smile . . . who left not only her parents but a husband and two small children . . . one whom she never saw . . . And Don Pearl . . good-natured Don with the slow smile . . . We hope the families of these people who left their mark on our town will accept the sympathy of that same town . . .

Beatrice Thompson Becomes Bride Of Pickford Man

Beatrice E. Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman L. Thompson of Pickford, became the bride of Ronald I. McDonald, son of Mrs. W. R. McDonald, also of Pickford, at a ceremony solemnized by the Rev. V. C. Mulken at the Pickford Nazerene church Saturday.

Baskets of painted daisies, aster and gladioli decorated the altar. Helen Gough was organist and Karolyn Adams and Ethel Stevenson were soloists.

The bride selected a gown of net and white satin for her wedding. Her veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of pearlsand orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of red roses and yellow gladioli.

Mary Thompson sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Ruth O'Brien, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of pink and yellow taffeta respectively, matching headdresses and carried bouquets of red roses and yellow gladioli.

Keith Erickson of Sault Ste. Marie, cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and ushers were Carl Eagle of Sault Ste. Marie, cousin of the bridegroom, Norman E. Thompson, brother of the bride and Wilson Izzard.

Mrs. Thompson chose a gown of blue roman crepe and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. McDonald wore a blue gown and navy accessories. Both had corsages of red roses.

A wedding dinner for the bridal party and 46 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents following the seremony.

Both are graduates of Pickford high school. The bride resided in Charlevoix for four years prior to her marriage.

Girl Basketeers Defeat Boys 48-45

A capacity crowd Tuesday night was treated to a fine show of basketball when the Arkansas Travelers met the Charlevoix Independents in the local gym.

Participating in the game for the local team were Don Meggison, Chick Gallagher, Ross Case, Chuck Bennett, Big Bergmann, Del Terrill, Bill Lusk, John Swanson and Ace Zographos of Petoskey.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for
Michigan Press Association

Come Jan. 9, and our legislature will hitch up its pants and jump into the fastest regular session in its history—if everything goes right. This comes under the constitution amendment allowing for a regular session every year rather than one regular session every two years plus a series of special sessions at which lawmaker can consider only what the governor proposes.

Can the legislators get through a "quickie" session and be cleaned up by the April 11 deadline? None of the experts is ready to say—yet. Everyone agrees it will be an achievement. Ordinarily such a session would last until May 15, at least. Some 1,000 bills would be introduced. About one-third would be approved.

From 140-150 bills already have been drafted for the 1952 session. Whether there will be 1,000 is doubtful. But if the lawmakers can meet their deadlines, everyone concerned will be pleased.

OUT OF a $100,000 investment the state may reap handsome profits. The legislatur,e a bit dubious appropriated that much for state health department laboratory staffers to research a new anti-biotic—it now is announced it will soon be on the market.

Known as Synnematin, the substance offers hope of relief from a variety of intestinal, genito-utinary ailments. Three scientists who developed the anti-biotic have waived claims to financial return. Next questsion: what royalties will the state ask for its sale?

GOV. WILLIAMS has pledged a hands-off attitude toward the conservation department. Now if the legislature would do the same, conservation officials would rejoice.

For years the department has sought authority to regulate bag limits and open seasons for various areas according to amount of game available. For years the lawmakers have refused to give up their legislative drawstring on conservation powers.

HOW MICHIGAN'S United States senators voted for economy and spending in the 1951 session congress, as tabulated by the Council of State Chambers of Commerce: Homer Ferguson, 17 for economy, 1 for spending; Blair Moody, 6 for economy, 9 for spending.

A shortage of labor is delaying construction of ore carriers for the Great Lakes. Nearly a dozen carriers are scheduled to be launched in 1952. Any delay will affect defense mobilization and Michigan's civilian economy.

Detroit's long-sought expressway is fairly well set now. An $80,000,000 bond has been approved.

SOME 22,000 state civil service employes will receive pay boosts totaling more than $5,000,000 in December. When the increases would be effective has not been determined.

Michigan's civil defense system got a work-out recently. A Canadian twin-engine airplane, lost in a snowstorm, wandered into Michigan. OD officials said "hundreds of ground observers reported the flight of the unidentified plane to the air raid filter center at Grand Rapids."

THE STATE will need 12,000 more classrooms for 357,000 additional school children in the next five years, says J. F. Thaden, of the M. S. C. department of sociology and anthropology. He bases his figures on birth rate statistics.

U. of M.'s $35,000,000 postwar expansion program is some two-thirds completed. Fourteen new buildings or building additions are now in use. Construction is underway on four other projects and three structures are in the planning stage.

Latests reports indicate there are 135,000 unemployed in Michigan compared with 56,000 a year ago. Williams' full employment committee laid the blame on delay in obtaining new plants and machine tools to perform defense contracts already issued.

PUBLIC SERVICE commission made its first outright denial of a Bell Telephone rate increase in the state's history. The company wanter a $22,500,000 rate jump. President John Greene said his company would continue its effort to get money "we need for sound operation." Says the governor " sound thinking."

Since police handle more breaking and entering cases than any other major crime, State Police will conduct a series of special schools in fingerprinting, indentification and burglary investigation during the next two months. Classes will be held in various communities all over the state.

Before Christmas arrives more than 1,000,000 Yule trees and many tons of evergreen boughs will be brought in from Michigan forests.

• Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hamlin were in Bellaire Monday as the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Fitch. The occasion was the former thirty-fifth weding anniversary.

• Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Seymour returned home Monday after spending the weekend in Pickford asd attending the wedding of their neice Beatrice E. Thompson and Donald I. McDonald.

IMPORTANT

Both business and personal tax returns for 1951 must be filed under the new tax regulations which congress just enacted.

It requires that all 1951 returns, both individual and company be filed under entirely changed conditions, and that your tax itself be computed on the basis of sharply higher rates. But bear in mind that the law also allows you several alternative methods for computing the amount of your taxable income to which these higher new rates apply. Hence its vital that you select the method which shows the smallest amount of income still taxable, after deductions.

Make your appointment now before all time available is allowed.

Tomorrow we leave here for Cebu, one hour and a half by plane, and stay there for 24 hours on our way back to Manila. It is a town of 150,000 slowly building its way back after almost complete devastation. There is a college there and they told us 5,000 students would be there to hear George at an outdoor lecture. Amazing the craving for knowledge and almost frightening lest it be not the right kind. We leave for Hong Kong Friday so you will hear from us next from that city.

On to Hong Kong

I really wish sometimes you could see the informal way in which we are traveling round the world. Except for one church service in Japan and for our formal call on Gen. and Mrs. Ridgeway, I have not worn a hat since I left the U. S. A.

In the heat and humidity of tropics cool attire is the first essential. George wears a coat when he makes a speech but the rest of the time goes round in shirt and slacks . . . and tieless.

THE ENGLISHMEN here seem to favor shorts whether their figures or their legs set them off to good advantage or no—and it is often 'no'. Besides the shorts they mostly wear long white sneks coming up alomst to their knees. I have one elderly and short and quite massive little gentleman in mind. Shorts just did not seem appropriate somehow.

I sent my last letter from Dumaguete just before we left by a dinky little plane for Cebu city. If one has to fly, commend me to a clipper. You feel something like a shuttle-cock in these interisland, frail and noisy carriers.

BY THE time we had lunch in a brand new home on the mission compound and looked at our host's banana trees and orchids, it started to rain—and, "an act of God", a typhoon—just a baby one but it rained eight inches at least in two or three hours. George got to the University for his afternoon lecture which was adjourned to the library and everything else was canceled.

The next day all was calm and we flew back to Manila and 24 hours in an air-conditioned hotel. I cannot tell you what a relief it was after the continuous heat and it gave me a chance to recuperate and pack for Hong Kong while George went off to visit the main penitentiary of the islands.

It is modeled after that in Massachusetts and is most impressive. All the Japanese prisoners are here and among them a young Japanese who seems to be a case of mistaken identity. Members of the F. O. R. and other Christian leaders in Japan are much distressed about him and asked George to go and see him and do all that is possible.

We had assurance that all will probably be well and George had a grand talk with the man himself. Then he visited with the head of the prison and returned to the hotel carrying an elegant and heavy walking stick made in the workshop. How it will ever get to New York I don't know.

State Residents Pay More Than Share of Taxes

By D. H. Brake
State Treasurer

How much can the camel carry?

The recent tax increase voted by Congress is estimated to take out of Michigan an additional $466,000,000 annually. The total state general fund budget here in Michigan for the current year is $306,000,000, so that the increase in federal taxes is $100,000,000 more than the total state appropriations from the general fund.

In the year ending June 30, 1951 the federal government collected in Michigan (this was before the increase) $4,156,021,742 which would be an average per capita cost for federal taxes of $652.26. For the same period the total of state collected taxes, including liquor revenues, was $465,265,000 or a per capita cost of $68.31. The total for local taxes was $342,117,000 or a per capita of $53.69. The federal taxes collected in Michigan were 8.24% of the total for the country although we have but 4.23% of the population.

PROBABLY the figures as to federal taxation given above are not quite fair because we collect here in Michigan the federal excise tax on automobiles, trucks, and many other things that are finally purchased by people living outside Michigan who actually pay the tax in the price of the merchandise. Of course, that works both ways.

One who smokes cigarettes actually pays the federal tax on cigarettes, for instance, although the government may collect that tax in Kentucky or Carolina, just how much that means per year one can only estimate.

A college professor friend of mine has made an estimate of $458.32 as the actual cost of federal government last year for each man, woman, and child in Michigan. Using that figure it still gives 79c out of each tax dollar paid by the average Michigan resident to the federal government while 11.08c is collected by the state and 9.3c is collected as local taxes.

THAT STILL, however, does not give quite the correct picture because approximately two-thirds of the taxes collected by state government go back to the local units of government including the schools for use; so if we consider just what the state itself uses as state expenditures, and add state aid to the money raised by local units of government we have about this situation: that 79c out of every tax dollar paid by the ordinary Michigan person goes to the federal government, between 3 and 4c out of each tax dollar is actually used by the state, and between 17c and 18c out of each tax dollar is used by local government including the public schools.

If we use the figure for federal taxes of actual collections in the state and add state and local taxes, we have an average tax load for every man, woman, and child in the state of $774.26 or an average load for a family of four people of $3,090.04.

Four Lane Road To Be Discussed At City Meeting

The question of a possible four-lane highway will be up for consideration this afternoon when city and state highway officials hold a meeting.

The mayor advised the council Monday night that representatives of the highway department in Lansing will be here to discuss the situation with city officials.

The council heard reports that the sewer job on Meach street and Dixon avenue is progressing satisfactorily. Lake Construction is the contractor.

In the matter of a four-lane highway which the highway department advocates, city officials will be told estimated cost of a two-lane and a four-lane.

Coast Guard Answers Call For Sick Woman

The Charlevoix lifeboat station Saturday answered a call to remove Mrs. William Krewell, 66, from South Fox Island for medical treatment. The wife of the lightkeeper there, Mrs. Krewell had undergone a major operation about six weeks ago. She was ill from complications following the surgery.

Chief James Johns, accompanied by Don Gould BM 3/c and Eugene Shelton, Eng. 2/c, made the trip in comparatively calm but foggy weather, returning here at 5:45 p.m., Robert Ashdon, commanding officer here reported.

Mrs. Krewell was met by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Ervin Krewell of Manistee who took her to Frankfort where she was to be hospitalized.

The plane from the Traverse City Coast Guard Air Station had tried unsuccesfully to land on the small island airstrip on Thursday and Friday. The helicopter was in need of repairs and unable to make the trip.

Grain Supply May Be Short In Coming Year

Livestock numbers are going up at a faster rate than is the feed grain supply so farmers who need more feed grains should buy their 1952 supply of corn at harvest time this fall.

That's when prices will likely be at the lowest level of the year, according to Michigan State College agricultural economists. They explain that the total feed grain supply for the 1952 feeding season will be four to five percent smaller than the record supplies of the past two years. And the grain has gone up three percent.

This situation will make it necessary to draw on our reserve feed grain stocks and further reduce carry-over stocks by the end of 1952, the MSC agricultural economists point out.

Supplies of oil seed cake and oil meal are expected to set a new record for the 1952 feeding season . . . probably about five percent larger than the 1951 supply. The big cotton seed crop this year is largely responsible for that. Supplies of linseed and soybean meal and cake probably will be a little smaller than in 1951.

Feed concentrate supplies per animal, including the grains and by-product feeds, will be six to ten percent smaller than the big supplies in the past three years but nine percent larger than the pre-war period.

Hay supplies in the nation are the largest on record. But more hay than usual in Michigan is coarse, over-ripe when cut or damaged by rain, so that the feed value has been reduced.

New Results Show Hormone Value in Treatment of Cows

New advances in treatment of dairy cows with hormones show that modern science may be on the right track to saving many nonbreeder cows and converting them into profitable dairy animals.

Initial success with the two hormones, progesterone and diethylstilbestrol, opened the way to increased studies at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station. Research is being done by a team of scientists under the direction of Drs. Joseph Meites and E. P. Reineke.

Two sterile Guernsey heifers were the first animals studied and results of their treatment with the hormones are now complete. A third hormone, thyroprotein, was also used on these animals. Tablets of the hormones were implanted in the shoulders of these animals which had never calved. One heifer began producing milk on the sixty-fourth day and the other on the ninety-seventh day.

WITHOUT CALVING, both heifers produced milk for more than 300 days and both produced more than 6,000 pounds of milk and more than 320 pounds of butterfat. These amounts were about equal to normal first-calf Guernsey heifers.

Another approach was then studied by the scientists: would it be possible to re-initiate the milk production of older cows which fail to settle? Two four-year-old non-breeder Holsteins were implanted with pellets of progesterone and diethylstilbestrol. Production started when the pellets were removed. One went to a peak of 80 pounds a day and the other to 45 pounds a day.

THE COW that went to 80 pounds produced 298 pounds of butterfat during the first four months of lactation. The other produced 177 pounds of butterfat during the same period.

After four months of milking, the first cow was still giving 50 pounds daily and the second was giving 35 pounds daily.

Both of these animals would probobly have been discarded from the herd without benefits of the hormone treatment. The researchers believe that there may be some chance that they will settle when bred again because the hormone treatment allows reproductive organs to rest.

Experiments thus far show that the Michigan State College Experiment Station scientists may have two-way benefits resulting from their research. They may be able to increase the milking period of the average cow; and they may be able to save infertile heifers and older cows from the butcher's block.

A lot of research is yet to be done, the MSC scientists report, but results thus far indicate that the project is a valuable one. It may be some time before the average dairy farmer can use this treatment in his herd, but the researchers are continuing their search for the answer to one of dairying's biggest problems.

Ranger Jobs Open

LANSING—Applications for posts as state park rangers in the 1952 season will be accepted until December 5, the conservation department's parks division announces. Qualifying examinations will be given January 5 at undertermined locations throughout the state.

Buy Fertilizer For '52, MSC Advises

Facts about the fertilizer situation for the 1952 crop season were given farmers this week by L. M. Turk, head of the soil science department at Michigan State College.

He said that in the over-all fertilizer situation, one fact seems to stand out. In 1952 the United States will be called upon to produce even more food and fiber than was produced in 1951

One of the "flies in the fertilizer ointment" is the shortage of sulfur and sulfuric acid, both used in making superphosphate. Industries with defense orders are taking a bite out of supplies. Turk said that it is estimated the supply of phosphate fertilizers in the country will drop between 8 and 10 percent during the coming year.

The outlook for nitrogen supplies for the next year points to a slight increase. It has been estimated that about 40 percent more nitrogen could have been profitably used this year in meeting our production needs. It also is believed that the real need for nitrogen fertilizer will increase at the rate of at least 100,000 tons per year for the next few years.

It appears rather certain there will be an ample supply of potash, Turk said. There is always the possibility of a transportation problem from the mines to the manufacturers and distributors. But it looks like potash production will go up steadily during the next few years and a 10 percent increase in potash supplies is expected during the coming year.

Turk suggested that farmers buy their fertilizers now for next spring provided they have suitable storage.

Treat Cows Gently For Better Output

If a cow doesn't let down all her milk, it may be because the milker is causing her some pain without knowing it.

Michigan State College dairymen point out that a cow can't hold up her milk or give it down like you'd turn a faucet on and off. Letting down milk is an involuntary process, regulated by hormones. Gentle treatment at milking time helps the let-down process.

Leaving the milking machine on too long may cause the cow to associate pain with the machine and prevent complete letdown. Four minutes is about as long as you can leave the machine on a cow without risking injury to the udder.

Red Rayders Point for Boyne City Here Friday After Impressive Win Over Gaylord in Opener

Charlevoix Gets Off to Fast Start With 46-28 Triumph; Boyne Loses

Northern Michigan Class C basketball fans caught a glimpse of what the 1951-52 season has in store as Pellston ran over Boyne City 40-33; Harbor Springs edged past Mancelona 45-43; Charlevoix trounced Gaylord 46-28 and East Jordan bowed to Alpena Catholic Central 40-26.

This week Gaylord will travel to Harbor Springs; East Jordan will meet Pellston on the latter's floor; Mancelona will journey to Onaway for a non-league tilt and Charlevoix will host an arch-rival, Boyne City.

Pellston, starting a tall, rangy five, has little trouble with the Boyne Ramblers as they lead all the way, 10-8 at the quarter, 21-19 at the half and 30-25 at the third period. Pellston pulled ahead in the last period to take the game by a 7 point margin. Keith Emerson tallied 21 points for the Hornets and Don Arner had 9 for the Ramblers.

The Mancelona-Harbor game was an upset as far as most speculation went. The game was close all the way with Harbor maintaining a two point lead at the half, 23-21. Center Norm Wilks scored 16 points for. Mancelona and Dick Williams, Vic Kishigo and Ray Swiss divided scoring honors with 11 points each for the Rams.

Class B Alpena Catholic Central, at the game which dedicated a new gymnasium, had things pretty much their way at they lead all the way. The half-time score was 23-16. J. Ayotte dropped 20 for Alpena and Roman Klimkiewicz tallied 16 for the Jordanites.

Charlevoix, playing outstanding ball for a season's opener romped over Gaylord as Coach Del Terrill played 15 Rayders during the game.

Gaylord which has the makings of a good team will be meeting Harbor Springs who surprised everyone by their win over Mancelona. Harbor is building from scratch with only one veteran and one letterman on the entire first team. With a week to correct errors ad re-shuffle line-ups, both teams should be in better trim for keen competition.

Pellston, off to a good start by a win over Boyne City, will be out to add another scalp to its belt when they meet East Jordan. With the addition of two good floor men, Pellston can be a definite threat to any team looking for a win. East Jordan, with few seasoned players at this time, may fall victim to the Hornets.

Since Charlevoix and Boyne City are traditional rivals, the Ramblers are bound to be up for the tilt here Friday night but barring an upset, the Rayders should take the visitors. Boyne City has a team which should improve greatly as the season progresses but right now is inexperienced.

Mancelona, fresh from a defeat by Harbor, will have some of its major difficulties remedied as they take to the floor against Onaway and should do alright. Onaway has shown little in the past and isn't expected to have much this season.

Fresh from their impressive victory over Gaylord in the NMCC cage opener, the Red Rayders of Charlevoix take on Boyne City here this Friday night. The Rayders will have a chance to avenge the loss to Boyne in the regionals last year.

Scoring a 48-28 triumph over the cagers of Sherman Martin on the Gaylord court, the Rayders served notice on the rest of the league that the Charlevoix team will have to be reckoned with again this season.

Despite the fact that Coach Del Terrill, opening his second year of directing basketball here, was staggered with the loss of eight seniors including Chuck Fairbanks and Bill Wallace, he appears to have moulded together a faster breaking team. His team really displayed outstanding ball for so early in the season.

******

But the way the game started off, it looked as though this combination has been playing together for more than a few weeks. Coach Terrill appeared well-satisfied with the team's performance. He used every player on his squad in an effort to give them all a chance to win a starting berth.

******

THE CHARLEVOIX team hopped off to a fast start, piling up a 13-7 lead at the quarter mark and stretched it to 25-11 at intermission. The losers staged a game comeback early in the third stanza, drawing up within six points.

The Rayders came back fast after this Gaylord surge to lead 37-20 at the three-quarter mark. The substitutes took over in the final period and also did a good job of stopping the Blue Devils.

Denemy, former Petoskey player, captured high point honors among the winners with 13, two more than Jerry Hopkins of Gaylord. Dean Boss, who appears to be greatly improved over last year, dropped in 10 points.

The Charlevoix seconds lost out to the Gaylord reserves in a hard fought game. This year's reserves are composed of many new faces. They should play some good ball before the season progresses to far.

Boyne City, beaten by Pellston, always gives Charlevoix a real tussle. This week's game should be no exception.

Picture of a man making a smart decision

HERE is a man who's been doing a lot of thinking.

Someday, he's told himself, I'm going to turn in my old car and get a new one.

And he said, still talking to himself, when I do that I'm going to size up the field—give 'em all a real going over.

You see him here at the wheel of a Buick. He hasn't bought it—yet. It's a demonstrator, and he's trying it out.

But the more he tries it, the more he knows he's been wasting a lot of time.

From the moment he looked inside, he said: Here's the room—and the comfort—and the style I've been looking for.

Then he nudged its Fireball Engine into action. It's a high-compression valve-in-head, as you probably know.

He eased out into traffic. Stopped and started for a couple of traffic lights, and said something to the effect that this Dynaflow Drive* is a honey. Why don't they all build 'em this way?

He saw a bump ahead. Place where the pavement had been torn up. Other cars were braking down to a creep to cross it. He held back—rolled right across at regular speed with barely a bobble.

It's hard to believe, he said, but what they say about Buick's ride is right.

Ten minutes later he was out on an open stretch of road. Tried an experimental push on the gas treadle. Boy—what a take-off! You couldn't want more power than that.

Ten minutes more—and he knew something else. You don't really steer a Buick. It just about steers itself. Stays right on the beam on the straightaway. Even straightens itself out after a curve.

To make a long story short—he's found out that nothing else he's tried out can hold a candle—not even a little Christmas candle—to this bonnie beauty.

Back at the Buick showroom, he's going to get one more surprise. The price of a Buick is a lot less than he'd guessed it would be.

Moral: Smart Buy's Buick—right now.

First Daily North of Grand Rapids

Beaver Island Daily Was Lively Paper

Daily newspapers are one of the things taken for granted today.

But few people realize that the first daily newspaper north of Grand Rapids was published on Beaver Island in 1856.

This week marks the 101st anniversary of the start of that newspaper, the Northern Islander, which was first printed as a weekly in December, 1850 and from April 1856 to June of the same year as a daily newspaper.

THE EDITOR of this pioneer newspaper was the now-legendary figure, James J. Strang, who proclaimed himself king of the Mormon colony which he had brought to Beaver Island in 1850. Strang later named its principal city for himself, St. James.

The Northern Island was the successor of the Voree, Wis., Herald, which Strang had published at Voree when his religous group was located there.

Like the Herald the Northern Islander was printed weekly at the start; and like its predecessor its appearance was highly irregular, particularly during the long winter season when the island was isolated from the outside world.

In all 90 issues of the weekly were published from December, 1850 to June, 1856.

On April 1, 1856, publication of a daily edition was begun. The announcement concerning [illegible]ated it would be issued six times a week from the opening to the close of navigation and once a week while navigation was closed for the price of six dollars per year. The subscription rate for the navigation season was to be only two dollars.

THIRTY-THREE issues of the daily paper had been published when Strang's assassination brought Kingdom and paper alike to a sudden end.

Everything considered, it was said to be a surprisingly good paper even though it was a personal organ of the prophet, conceived primarily for the promotion of his designs.

For any history of the Strangite Kingdom it is indispensable but no complete file of it remains in existence and the only considerable run known is held in private ownership and has never been accessible to the public.

Photostatic copies of the file, however, have been made for the Burton Historical Collection of the Detroit public library and the State Historical Society of Wisconsin.

The last issue of the Northern Islander was published June 20, 1856, and carried an account of Strang's assassination by two former island residents four days earlier. On June 28, Strang was removed to his parents home at Voree where he died July 13, 1856.

This plaque at the site of the first daily north of Grand Rapids on Beaver Island was dedicated by the Michigan Press association and the Michigan Historical commission in a ceremony in 1948. Earl Boyle, Beaver Island resident, points to the plaque as Harry Rogan, right, travel manager for the AAA and Charles Wagoner, Sunday and travel editor of the Detroit Times look at the plaque on their visit to the Island last summer.

Babies Sleeping on Sidewalk Amaze Visitors to Hong Kong

I hardly know where to begin in telling you of Hong Kong. It is certainly one of the most beautiful places in all the world. Hong Kong itself (11 miles long and three miles wide) is the largest of innumerable islands of all sizes in this particular curve of the China coast.

Most of them rise out of the water like single small mountains. They have few, if any trees and are a lovely brownish green color. The coast itself is a range of broken hills, worn by erosion into many peaks. They too have a brownish cast and few trees. As we flew in, the plane dropped low and wove its way through the islands; and, many times, seemed as though its wings must touch the cliffs.

SUDDENLY IT turned behind Hong Kong island, and flew down the harbor, banked over a bay formed by a peninsula coming out from the mainland like a small India and Burma, swooped up over the foothills, and suddenly dropped down on a small handkerchief of an airfield in the Burma part of the peninsula.

After we had caught our breath, we found our way, via police permit to land, to this hotel right on the flat end of the peninsula island proper, facing the harbor and Hong Kong

The hotel is enormous with the gentile air and elegance of the Victorian age. The view from our windows is superb, night and day; by night all the twinkling lights in the city, by day all the excitement of the harbor; merchant ships at anchor, busy tugs and launches, and their patched and colored sails, some of slit bamboo and some of cloth.

THEY ARE propelled mostly by women standing and using great long oars. The whole family lives on the sampan with almost no possessions, though I saw one the other day with three chairs.

Hong Kong is a British colony and you feel it is living on borrowed time; one of the last out-posts of British imperialism. They own the main island, lots of the surrounding islands (and there are altogether 2,000 of all shapes and sizes- and the peninsula up to a certain boundary line. Beyond that are the "New Territories" leased from the Chinese government for 99 years (40 more to go) and these extend way beyond the mountains.

We had quite an exciting trip today over these new territories right up to the three mile boundary line with Soviet China, and to the bridge which is the only formal means of access between the two countries. We stood right by the bridge and watched the refugees, one after another, passing by the Soviet guards and being questioned by the Hong Kong police. On one side the English flag, on the other the Soviet. On each side of the brid-

School Addition Bonds Sold at Low Interest Rate

The sale of the Charlevoix public school bonds at an exceptionally low rate of interest was announced by Mrs. Kit Carson, secretary of Charlevoix Board of Education.

The bonds were purchased at an interest rate of 1.978 percent by Paine, Webber, Jackson, and Curtis and Walter J. Wade Inc. through their Grand Rapids offices.

Working plans are now being made in Lansing by Warren S. Holmes Co., school architects, from sketches made earlier. It is expected the plans will be ready for approval shortly after the holidays when building bids will be advertised.

The $225,000 bond issue was voted in late October and will provide for a four room addition to the elementary building and a four room unit housing a music room, woodwork and metalwork rooms and agriculture room to the high school building.

Send Parcels By Saturday for Yule Delivery

If you want out of state Christmas parcels and cards to reach their destinations by Dec. 25, have them in the mail no later than Dec. 15, acting postmaster, Peter H. Timmer said in a warning issued this week.

In an effort to speed parcels on their way, the Charlevoix postoffice will remain open until 3 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 15. All windows will be open so parcel post and letters may be posted.

All incoming parcels will be delivered to local homes during the afternoon.

All parcels and cards going to Michigan cities should be in the mail by Monday of next week.

With the Christmas rush on, mail is held up in large terminals so all mail passing through any major postoffice must be mailed early so it will arrive at its destination by holiday time.

Grade School Plans Holiday Program Dec. 20

Each Christmas season the Charlevoix elementary school presents a Christmas pageant under the direction of C. A. Odmark and the elementary school teachers.

This year the program will be presented in the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Thursday, Dec. 20. Everyone is invited to attend.

The program this year will feature a pageant, "Christmas Around the World", which tells the story of Christmas customs and carols of countries where Christmas is celebrated.

The play has been written by faculty members.

Children of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades will present the pageant which will conclude with the tableau, The Manger Scene.

The children of the first, second and third grades will present "A Living Christmas Tree" and sing a group of traditional Christmas songs. The first grade will also present a square dance.

Open House at School Attended By 300 Persons

One of Charlevoix's most successful open houses was held at the Charlevoix public school Thursday with approximately 300 visitors atending the program in the auditorium after visiting the classrooms. An estimated 200 more visited the rooms preceding the program but did not stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Oleksy, Mrs. H. E. Paddock and Mrs. Charles Bleha were named to form a committee to present the program at the next open house to be held in the spring.

IN CARRYING out the theme of the program, emphasizing the moral and spiritual values in education, Mrs. Laura Courtade, S. E. Coleman and Delbert R. Terrill told how classroom work association with other students and competition in athletics gives the student the proper moral, living and behavior habits.

FERRY CLOSES

The Ironton ferry will suspend operations Sunday midnight to permit the ferry to be repaired, the county road commission reported late Wednesday.

Mayor Knight Suggests Honors For Carey Boys

Mayor Knight came forth with a suggestion to honor the Carey boys.

The Courier prints the following letter from the Mayor with the thought that a great many people will want to pay tribute to Bob and Bill Carey who have become outstanding athletic ambassadors for Charlevoix.

The letter: How many people of Charlevoix appreciate the great honor which has come to one of their native sons? I'm speaking of the recent naming of Bob Carey to the AP All-American football team. He was also named on the concensus of all of the All-American teams.

As a suggestion as to how we might honor Bob and Bill Carey, when I lived in Kalamazoo we had a halfback named Louis Gilbert who played a lot of football at the University of Michigan.

There the people started a fund in the different banks and in no time had raised enough to buy him a very handsome present. Why not do the same thing here.

With this in mind I am starting a fund in both banks to be known as the Carey fund. When we have enough to buy both Bill and Bob something to show them we deeply appreciate what they have done for all of us, I suggest we appoint a committee to decide on the gifts and methods of presestation.

Let's not allow their feats on the gridiron to go unnoticed by their townspeople. A small contribution from everyone will put this over in a big way.

Signed, John Knight.

In Senior Play

Alex Klooster, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Klooster is a member of the Senior play cast at East Jordan high school to be presented Dec. 19-20.

Community Choir Concert Is Sunday

The Charlevoix Community Choir will continue the custom inaugurated last year when it will open the Christmas season with its Christmas Vespers on Sunday afternoon.

The second annual Christmas concert will be presented under the direction of C. A. Odmark at the high school auditorium at 4 p. m. Sunday, Dec. 16.

The music itself is the best of the traditional Christmas music from the liturgies of the various churches throughout the world. Included on the program will be early 16th Century, Catholic, Lutheran, Russian, German, French and English music plus a group of traditional carols.

An added feature this year will be a carol prelude played by the Charlevoix high school brass ensemble with the group doing several of the Christmas favorites. Robert Bartlett will direct the ensemble.

The Charlevoix Community choir which is presenting the Christmas concert is a volunteer organization of people who love to sing. It has been working hard to perfect the holiday program.

Singing with the choir, in addition to those named last week, are; Mrs. Charles Pontius, soprano; Mrs. Robert Taylor and C. A. Odmark altos and Wayne Belding, bass.

The coral prelude by the brass ensemble will begin at 3:50 p. m. and will be followed by Christmas Vespers at 4 p. m. sharp.

The program for the Christmas Vespers follows:

Carol sing: O Come, All ye faithful, The first Noel, Silent Night.

A Legend, Tschaikowsky; The Virgin's Slumber Song, Reger; Ave Verum, Mozart.

The Holly and the Ivy, Boughton Carol of the Bells, Leontovich; Hospodi Pomilui, Lvovksy; Joyous Christmas Song, Gavaert.

Violin solo, O Holy Night, by Mr. Odmark, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns, pianist.

The singing of Handel's Hallelujah Chorus will conclude the program of Christmas music.

The public is urged to attend the Christmas Vespers which are presented without charge.

Open House Is Tonight In Stores

Charlevoix stores will remain open Thursday night (tonight).

All stores in the city invite Christmas shoppers to come in and look around. It marks the first time in recent years that the stores have held 'Open House' for yuletime shoppers.

The open house project has proved quite successful with a large number of communities in the southern part of the state. It permits many shoppers who work six days a week to look around during evening hours.

Most stores will be open from 7 p.m. to 9:30 or 10 p.m. Pre-Christmas business has been reported from "fair to very good" in many stores in Charlevoix.

Store windows have been decorated and the city light crew have decorated the big tree in East Park as well as the entrances to the business district to lend Christmas atmosphere.

Play Saturday

There will be an Independent basketball game Saturday night, Dec. 15th at 8:45 between Manistee and Charlevoix. Doors won't be open till 7:45 because of choir practice. Manistee is composed of college students and coaches. Bill Carey will be here to play for Charlevoix.

Santa Claus To Visit City On Saturday

Santa Clause will arrive in Charlevoix by plane Saturday afternoon, Dec. 15.

Pilot Joe McPhillips will bring him here in fair weather or foul. Santa will not disappoint local children because of a little winter weather.

He will ride from the airport in Charlevoix's fire truck to East Park where he will distribute candy to the children.

Girl Scouts have been working overtime packing the sacks of candy.

Area children are asked to be at East Park at 2 p.m. Saturday to greet Santa. A big welcome is expected.

School Music Program Set For Dec. 19

The music department of the Charlevoix high school, directed by C. A. Odmark, will present its annual Christmas program in the high school auditorium at 1 p. m. Wednesday, Dec. 19.

While primarily designed for the high school student body, parents, and friends are cordially invited to attend.

The Rev. G. E. Whitten, pastor of the Methodist church, will present a Christmas message, the high school choir will sing a group of Christmas numbers, both traditional carols and music of the masters. Featured will be Gruber's Silent Night with a descant sung by a group of sopranos in the choir.

THE CHARLEVOIX Madrigal singers will make their second public appearance. This small group from the high school choir will sing three numbers.

The high school band will play several selections, including Berlin's White Christmas and a very clever arrangement of the square dance tune entitled "Do-Si-Do".

Concluding the program will be a carol sing with the audience taking part. The musical background will he furnished by the Charlevoix high school brass ensemble playing the traditional carols.

The entire program follows: O Come, All ye faithful; Deck the Hall; Lo, How a rose e'es blooming, Praetorious; Adoeamus te, Christe, Palestrina; Ave Verum, Mozart; Silent Night, Gruber, by the Charlevoix high school choir.

The Christmas message, Dr. Whitten.

Joyous Christmas Song; Carol of the Bells, Gavaert; Westminster Carol, Leontovich, Charlevoix high school Madrigal Singers.

Santa Claus is coming to town; Syncopated clock, LeRoy Anderson; Do-Si-Do; Three O'clock in the morning, Yoder; White Christmas, Berlin, Charlevoix high school band.

Carol sing by the audience and the Charlevoix high school brass ensemble.

Garden Club Offers Prizes For Decorations

Because of September weather in December, the people in Charlevoix need a little extra incentive to decorate their homes for Christmas.

The Charlevoix Garden club is sponsoring a contest this year and giving three prizes for the best decorated homes. In order to create even more interest, each and every one of you may vote for your choice.

Ballots will be printed in the Courier next week. You may drop it in the ballot box at the Central Drug Store or mail it to P. O. box no. 245.

The votes will be counted Christmas Eve and the winners notified.

Board Seeks To Clarify Assessments

A special meeting of the Charlevoix County Board of Supervisors will be held Wednesday, Dec. 19 to clarify the assessment base for 1952 taxes.

Considerable confusion has existed since the state tax commission set the equalization for the county at $25,138,426 as compared with the $14,020,410 set by the supervisors last summer.

It has not been definitely decided whether the county will use the state equalization as base for the taxes or whether it will use a base between the state and county figures. This is likely to be decided at this meeting.

SOME clarification is necessary as township assessors begin their assessment work Jan. 1 and they must know what the tax equalization base will be to compute assessments.

The board of allocation at its meeting a few weeks ago allocated a split levy, providing 5½ mills for county operations based on the state equalization figures while providing five mills for the schools, based on the county figures.

If the state figures are used, it would mean some $25,000 to $30,000 more funds for the schools in the county because a new state law provides that state aid will be denied counties not allocating five mills.

The county board cannot appropriate any more funds than are necessary to operate the county. The budget for next year has been set at slightly more than $140,000 for county operations. Five and one-half mills will take care of this amount.

ON THE BASIS of the state equalization, it will require only between 11 and 12 mills for school, township and county taxes.

Supervisors will also be asked to consider providing more space to store records in the courthouse. The building is unable to care for anymore valuable papers within its vaults.

One possibility to be considered will be the razing of the two story section of the courthouse which formerly housed a fire engine. Several supervisors seem to be agreed that this is necessary to provide more space.

Censorship By Apathy

Who is Tito? Who is Chiang Kaishek? Who is Dean Acheson? A recent Gallup poll disclosed that almost a fifth of the American citizens questioned did not know the answer to any of these questions or to such further queries as: What is the Atlantic Pact? The 38th parallel?

Democracy rests on an informed public. Police-state tyranny must necessarily surround itself by iron curtains, for men who have free access to facts will not long be content to remain slaves of the state. But the Gallup poll reminds us that censorship by apathy may be only less stultifying than censorship by decree — that individuals may be surrounded by little iron curtains of sheer indifference.

A further refinement of this danger can be found in what might be called censorship by prejudice. There are citizens who could identify Chiang or the Atlantic Pact with ease but who are willing to read or listen to only one side of the disputes on these and other issues. By denying themselves the opportunity to learn both sides they are limiting the independence of their judgment by a sort of voluntary censorship.

Yet there is no need to indulge in hand-wringing because ignorance, apathy, and prejudice are still to be found in some measure among a democratic people. So long as much thinking is not crystallized in the institutions of society, education is free to combat it vigorously at its source. The very air of freedom, swept by the winds of controversy, carries winged seeds of truth to fallow ground. And the appetite for truth grows, the more it is nourished.

ODDS 'N ENDS

By Fren Martin

We don't know who reads this column but we hope some of our young people do for we have something to say to them . . . In a small community outside Grand Rapids five youngsters, three of them high school students and two recent graduates were killed while enroute home from a basketball game . . . It was one of the west Michigan's worst traffic accidents and doubtless one of its greatest tragedies . . . To the kids of Charlevoix we'd like to say . . . that same thing could happen to you . . . we're not saying it will but please, won't you be careful . . . Because we love you as you are and we want you around . . . as happy youngsters with the world before you . . .

HOW DID YOU like the Rayders the other night . . . we thought they looked pretty good for this early in the season . . . Looks like we're going to have a winter of good basketball . . . But right now we'd like to say just one thing . . . Remember just one thing . . . Those kids are doing their best on the floor every week . . . If they lose a game, no one feels any worse than they do . . . Don't expect miracles of them . . . And if you're tempted to criticize, just stop and wonder if you could do any better if you were in their position . . . It's easy to sit on the sidelines and say the players, the coach or the referees should have done this, that or six other things . . . They're all doing what they think is right . . . And that's the way it should be . . .

THE TOWN'S really beginning to take on that Christmas look and if you don't get into the Christmas spirit soon you just haven't any left in your soul . . . The big decorated tree in East Park where Santa's going to stop one day soon . . . the overhead decorations on Bridge st. . . . Ah, those we like . . . And when you see them from the top of either hill they're lovely . . . Our favorite happens to be the one at the Mason-Bridge st. corners . . . Guess it's the lighted tree in the middle that takes our eye . . . A 'well done' to the crew who dreamed 'em up . . .

And don't forget the stores . . It seems everyone has put forth a lot of effort this year and it really shows . . . And if you want gift ideas just journey down the street and you'll find plenty . . . no matter what you're looking for . . . The only trouble is . . . there's so many pretty things one can't decide . . .

THERE'S A rare treat in store for you Sunday and if you don't take advantage of it . . . well . . . It's the Christmas Vesper Sunday afternoon . . The music is beautiful . . . the choir is wonderful . . in fact when you hear them you will marvel that we've got such talent in our little town . . . It will really put in the Christmas spirit . . . And you'll be grateful for such a lovely program . . . And don't forget these people do it because they want to so the least you can do is go to hear them . . . It's about the nicest way of hearing someone say 'Merry Christmas' so don't miss it . . . you'll be sorry if you do . .

Lots of mail this week . . . including a Fort Lauderdale vacation edition of its newspaper . . . We don't know to whom we're indebted for the thoughtfulness but we did enjoy it . . . And for a while wished we might even take in a few weeks of sunshine.

Also from Florida a lovely letter from Mrs. W. H. Wallace with all the news of Charlevoix folks . . . They're at Palmetto where they were visited by the Bert Carey's who are at Sarasota . . . They'd been to Zephyrhills to visit the Orton VanDusens who are settled in an apartment there . . . Also visited some former residents, the Nat Burnes and also the Burness son, Bernard and family who are building a new home at Zephyrhills. We swear . . . people who go to Florida see more of other Charlevoix People than they would if they stayed home . . . But I can't think of a nicer thing to do . . . O yes, the Carl Korths were expected to join them last weekend . . . Are we going to have anyone left here this winter? . . .

FROM CALIFORNIA a note from the Jack Crosses and Mrs. Flo Fox who have been gone about five weeks now . . They've been to Mexico, visited relatives in San Diego and also with the Dustans . . . he was in the Coast Guard here at one time . . . Also visited the Ted Fosters in Palo Alto . . . And enroute they were seeing all sorts of wonderful things . . . They'll be home by Christmas.

Also from California a note from the Bonnie Nickersons who have been visiting at Whittier . . They've been having a wonderful time and enjoying the warm weather . . . They'll freeze when they get home next week . . .

And did you notice that beautiful Ian Barbara White is wearing since her return after almost two months in the west . . .

IF YOU'RE looking for some way to assist Santa Claus Anonymous and haven't time or materials to contribute, how about taking a look at the darling playhouse and furnishings in the Poly Kay windows and then trying to win it for some little girl you know . . . The cost is small, you'll be helping the children of Charlevoix by your contribution and you'll have fun doing it . . . If you'd like to know more about it, stop at the shop and ask . . .

REMEMBER Gaylo Hines who was employed in one of the local drug stores during the war? . . . He's now living in California . . We hear he's building a lovely new home and we're sure when people know who his neighbor is he'll have plenty of visitors . . She's Jane Russell and she lives across the street . . . P.S. Her husband is Bob Waterfield he kicked all those field goals against the Detroit Lions Sunday.

And speaking of Lions . . . Did you ever hear a game with more thrills . . It looked like a lost cause for a while but the lads from Detroit came through with a two-point win . . . If this Sunday's game is as exciting . . Wow- Don't forget to listen.

Did Boyne City have the bad luck this fall . . . We hear from a couple of the coaches over there that at one time this fall 13 high school students were on crutches while recovering from various types of leg injuries . . mostly broken bones . . .

Congratulations to Bob Carey for all his All-American honors . . and to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey . . . They must all be very proud and rightfully so . . . just as all Charlevoix is . . .

Back from the Midwestern Music Conference in Ann Arbor, our own director, C. A. Odmark, was telling us about the famed bandmaster and composer, Edwin Franko Goldman . . . Despite his age, his dark eyes just sparkled and he has a zest for living . . . Mr. Odmark had an opportunity to meet and talk with him, and as one always finds great people, he was wonderful . . Becky Badger and Bill Barker, as members of the All-State band, had a chance to play under his direction . . . What an experience.

He also won a berth on the Detroit Times C-D second team and was given honorable mention by the Detroit Free Press.

John Sibilin, director of the Child Guidance clinic in Petoskey said that schools are set up to care for the need of 90 percent of its students but that not including the mentally and physically handicapped there were still ten percent which cannot fit into the program. It is this ten percent which can be aided by the facilities of the clinic and which he and his staff are prepared to assist if given the opportunity.

Max Novak served as moderator at the enthusiastic discussion period which followed. Mr. Bennett spoke briefly. Special music was played by C. A. Odmark, violinist, accompanied by Mrs. Leonard Burns.

Refreshments were served.

FOLLOWING the leader's death the Mormons abandoned Beaver Island and with it the north's first newspaper office.

Ironically, Beaver Island has never had a newspaper since then.

Strang, editor of the organ, had a varied and colorful career. He was an editor long before he chose Beaver Island as the site of his kingdom.

A native of New York state, he studied law and was admitted to the bar in 1836. For two years after that he was editor of the Randolph, N. Y. Herald.

In 1843, he and his wife, the former Mary Perce, followed her people to Burlington, Wis., where he fell under the influence of Mormonism.

HE LATER joined the Mormon colony at Nauvoo, Ill., led by Joseph Smith. He sn impressed the Mormnn leaders with his brilliant if erratic mind and remarkable fund of knowledge that he was made an elder and prophet in the church.

The assassination of Smith in July, 1844 brought about a three-way split in the church.

Brigham Young and his followers migrated to the west and settled in Utah and California. The twelve apostles of the church who laid claim to leadership remained at Nauvoo with a small following. Strang who declared himself the rightful successor to Smith, went north to Voree, Wis., and later to Beaver Island where he set up the only kingdom within the United States.

In 1948 the Michigan Press Association placed a plaque on the building at St. James, Beaver Island, which housed the first publication of the north.

IRONTON

By Mary Carlson Phone 1012-W1

The Ironton Community is sorry to hear of the death of Rev. Guy Simon. Mr. Simon died on Dec. 1, after his return from a trip, east to visit his sons. Mr. Simon was summer pastnr of the Ironton church for several years. His sermons were inspirations to many of the congregation. Our deepest sympathy to Mrs. Simon and family.

About 50 Farm Bureau members and their families attended the combination party last Saturday evening. An excellent dinner was served by the women. Then the gifts were exchanged. There was dancing later in the evening.

Miss Evelyn Saunders has arrived home from Traverse City to spend some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Saunders.

The Ladies Aid party, which was to be this Thursday, today, has been postponed until Dec. 20. It will be held at the home of Mrs. John Knudsen. A luncheon will be served at 1 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. William Sanderson of Northwood Farm were delighted to see four deer feeding in the orchard last Friday evening. They are a thrilling sight to everybody.

Mrs. Katie Walker is in the Charlevoix hospital, following an operation last Wednesday. Let's all send a word of cheer to Mrs. Walker.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brock, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Brock and Mrs. Frank Brock attended the harvest supper last Tuesday at the Barnard church.

Congratulations to Mr. Jim Sutliff, who got his doe the second day of the special season.

Emily Gibbard of East Jordan was a weekend guest of Adele Nasson.

Mrs. Thelma Knudsen attended an extension meeting in Charlevoix last week. The lesson was, "Efficient Lighting in the Home."

Mrs. Lilly Russell was admitted to the LaLonde Convalescent home last week.

Word has been received that Mr. and Mrs. Walter Williams hae arrived at Lake Helen, Fla. Mrs. Lottie Tumath is also at Lake Helen.

A short time ago nine students of the East Jordan high school entered essays in a National Essay contest. Those submitted by three of the students will be published in the Annual Essay Anthology. Essays by Bob Thomas and Mary Carlson of Ironton and Tom Dressel of East Jordan will be published.

Mrs. Gertie Colwell spent Saturday with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Bennett.

Mr. and Mrs. Gayle Davis of East Jordan were Sunday dinner guests of ther parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Zitka.

Mr. Pete Mitchell returned home from Massachusetts last Tuesday.

Reports say that Mrs. Audrey Russell is coming along fine, but she will be in the Charlevoix hospital for some time. Lots of cards will help brighten her Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brock and Mr. and Mrs Ernie Brock were among those from here who attended the Turkey Festival held in Saginaw last Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Brock left on Wednesday so Mr. Brock could attend a hatchery men's meeting. They visited friends in West Branch before going to Saginaw. Mr. Alden Jones also attended the festival with Frank Case of Charlevoix. The meeting was held at the auditorium in Saginaw. The banquet was held in the Hotel Bancroft, with entertainment provided by the Three Aces of Flint. Mrs. John Brock won a turkey and Mrs. Ernie Brock won 50 pounds of "Stock-grow" as door prizes.

Mr. and Mrs. Loren Porter of Traverse City were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. Vaughan Orvis.

Mr. and Mrs Walter Kemp had Sunday dinner with Mrs. Kemp's mother, Mrs. Alfred Johnstone of Ellsworth.

Bob Thomas was one of the three members of East Jordan's speech class to broadcast their speeches on tuberculosis over W. M. B. N., Petoskey radio station. His speech was entitled, "Health for Christmas". Good luck in the state contest, Bob.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Brock and family visited Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sutton Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Danforth were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Danforth.

Mrs. Jesse Knudsen was admitted to the Charlevoix hospital for a couple of days this week. We hope she is home by now.

The following is an article that was sent to me:

This Tuesday is the date scheduled for the next Mayflower guild meeting at First Congregational church. Highlight of the program will be the appearance of Andre Aerne at the piano. Mr. Aerne, though only 19 years old has had much experience in the field of music, in both singing and piano.

Born in Oak Park, he lived for a number of his early years in St. Gall, Switzerland, and started his singing career at the age of eight, when his family moved back to Oak Park. At nine he was absorbed with the idea of becoming a boy soprano and started concertizing in the midwest, south and east. He then toured with the Boy's Appollo choir as soloist and later enlarged his musical scope under Nora Jackson Moore of Oak Park. A few years ago he began to study with Dr. Rudolph Ganz at the Chicago Musical college. A scholarship winner from Oak Park River Forest high school, Mr. Aerne is now at the University of Chicago. The program he is to give for the Mayflower guild will include a Bach Chorale, Brahm's Internezzo and Rhapsody, two Preludes of Debussy, A Scriabin etude and two selections by Chopin.

Andre Aerne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Aerne, II, of Oak Park, Ill., who spend their summers at Ironton, has given many concerts around here. Ironton wishes him great success in his musical career.

The school news—We have a new boy in our school named Tommy Mogul. He came from Ohio. The head of the health check up was Donna Boyer. The 100 per cent children were: Barbara Nielsen, Carol Burgis, Donna Boyer, Ronnie Anderson, Ralph Brock, Larry Boyer, Tommy Mogul, Bruce Kroll, Dagmar Brock, Peter Brock, Marian Boyer and Terry Nielsen. The Christmas program is to be on December 21. The children will return to school on January 2, after the Christmas vacation. Two of the girls of the school made cake and jello for lunch Friday. The Ironton school children sure took advantage of the good weather. They played baseball every day.

Please note. Sunday school will be at 1 p.m. and church will follow at 2. There were 35 in church last Sunday. We all enjoyed the solos by Mr. Wood.

Babies Sleep on Hong Kong Walks

ge a railroad train was going in opposite directions.

ACTUALLY HONG Kong (and Kowloon, the part of the city on the peninsula) is a refugee city. Its population has grown from 700,000 to three million. How they are all living, no one knows. There are as many as 20 to one room, and the hillsides of Kowloon are covered with squatters' huts.

When you know that in most of the tenements there is neither running water or toilet facilities, you can have some conception of the problem of living. The streets are teeming with people, and you may even see babies sleeping on the sidewalks. Most of the buildings are three or four stories high and the first floor is built out over the sidewalk with pillars so as to make a kind of arcade. The little shops are more fascinating than those in Japan because of the profusion of goods, curio stores by the hundreds, silk stores, tailors who will make a suit in 24 hours, dried fish stores, rice in sacks.

You would be fascinated by the rickshaw men and the bearers. There are practically no trucks for every thing is carried slung on bamboo poles over the shoulders.

Men, and women too, do the carrying, and such weight. I saw one man carrying two large armchairs one on each side, another with pigs in the baskets. Building materials, auto tires, any and everything is carried that way, and all the water for household purposes in the poorer homes. You may see a woman carrying two pails, each with perhaps 10 gallons of water.

The rickshaw men run usually without shoes, and often wear purple hats and shirts. These with red rickshaw give a gay appearance, but the life of a rickshaw man is anything but gay. Folks tell us that they can stand the pace for only three years and then fall prey to heart trouble or pneumonia.

You will be interested in the Chinese dress actually if you put on your pajamas you could walk on the street and pass for a Chinese girl. The common, everyday dress of the majority seems to be a short coat and long, loose trousers: men and women alike, and so many in black or a dull brown or gray, but with the black predominating.

THE AMAHS (children's nurses) wear white coats and black trousers. The dress-up women's dresses are very long and straight and fitted with high stiff and tight collars. The dresses are so tight that they are slit up each side often as high as three or four inches above the knees and slimming is in order.

NOW SINCLAIR OFFERS ANTI-RUST FUEL OIL

IN ORDINARY FUEL OIL this steel rod is rusted after only a few days in prescribed laboratory test where small proportion of water is added as part of test method. The inside of your steel storage tank rusts the same wey because all fuel oil contains minute quantities of weter, resulting from moisture condensation.

IN NEW ANTI-RUST SINCLAIR FUEL OIL this steel rod stays clean and rust-free in laboratory test under identical conditions as test at left. That's because RD-119 in the fuel oil prevents rust from forming. RD-119 stops rust in your storage tank, tank trucks and pipe lines in the same way.

CONTAINS RD-119 — New Sinclair Scientific Discovery that Stops Rust.

Stops Rust that clogs burner nozzles and strainers

Due to the injection of RD-119 at the refinery, Sinclair SuperFlame Fuel Oil now comes to you cleaner and purer than ever. RD-119 stops rust all the way from the refinery to your furnace —— helps prevent the rust particles that clog burner nozzles and strainers. STYLE AND POWER FEATURED IN 1952 CHRYSLERS

The 1952 Chrysler New Yorker Newport, powered by the 180 horsepower FirePower V-8 engine, is an example of the sleek massive beauty which is typical of the luxurious new Chrysler line.

The interior of the 1952 New Yorker sedan features beautifully designed hardware and newly styled luxury upholstery and trim.

The 1952 Chrysler Windsor club coupe features the improved Spitfire engine with output increased to 119 horsepower.

Refinements throughout the line, rather than revolutionary engineering innovations, characterize Chrysler's 1952 models.

Chrysler officials point out that the demands of the rearmament program have precluded the extensive tooling program necessary for drastic model changes. They add that Chrysler introduced more important new features in its 1951 line than ever before were offered by any manufacturer in a single year. These included the 180-horsepower V-8 FirePower engine, Hydraguide power steering, Oriflow shock absorbers and Fluid-Torque Drive torque converter.

Refinements contributing to performance, appearance, safety, economy and comfort have been incorporated in the 1952 line. Features formerly available only in certain models have been extended to cover the entire line.

1952 Line Features 18 Body Styles

The number of body styles offered by Chrysler has been considerably reduced by eliminating those of smaller production and those that are approximated by others retained in the line. Despite this reduction, however, there remain 18 body styles.

All models save those in the Windsor and Windsor DeLuxe lines are powered by the 180-horsepower V-8 FirePower engine. The Windsor and Windsor DeLuxe have an improved version of the Chrysler six-cylinder "Spitfire" engine, higher powered and designed for improved performance and longer life. The torque available from this engine is higher at all speeds than that obtainable in the one it supersedes. The torque curve is much flatter at the peak and indicates an improved performance at normal driving speeds.

The bore remains unchanged at 3 7/16 inches but the stroke has been increased from 4½ to 4¾, increasing cubic displacement from 250.6 to 261.5. The engine produces 119 horsepower with a compression ratio of 7 to 1.

Longer life, improved economy and greater scuff resistance result from the use of the new chromium-plated top piston rings and new wide-slot oil rings. Improved cooling in the six-cylinder models is accomplished by a seven pound pressure release vent radiator cap which lessens the possibility of coolant loss due to boiling.

Power Steering Available on All Models

Hydraguide steering, which proved to be one of the most popular engineering advances ever offered by Chrysler, will be available also on the 1952 Windsor and Windsor DeLuxe lines, instead of only on the eight-cylinder models, as was the case in 1951. It will be optional at extra cost, except in the Crown Imperial where it remains standard.

Quieter operation of the Oriflow shock absorbers introduced as standard equipment on all models in 1951 is attained by refinement of the piston and base valve assemblies; permitting a more gradual change in the velocities of the fluids at the discharge ends of the orifices.

Smarter exterior appearance results from the use of new wheel covers and a new tail light. In all models except the Imperial and Crown Imperial the ornamentation of the wheel cover is limited to a beaded ring just inside the tire valve opening and a raised center hub incorporating three concentric stepped rings. The wheel cover is of stainless steel. In the Imperial and Crown Imperial models the centered crown is set in a depression three inches in diameter.

The new tail light used on all models save the Imperial and Crown Imperial projects from the fender and contains an integral back-up light, eliminating the separate back-up lights used on 1951 models.

Interior styling includes improvements in upholstery and trim with an unusually wide choice of materials that are the most luxurious and tasteful that Chrysler has ever offered.

Charlevoix County Farm News

Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery, home of Valley Lea butter, will start buying fluid milk Dec. 17.

Fall Freshening Cows Return Greatest Profits

A summary of dairy herd improvement association production records for Michigan dairy herds shows that cows freshening in September, October and November provide the most income over cost of feed and produce the most milk according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent.

Cows freshening in June, July and August had the lowest income over feed cost for each cow, according to D. L. Murray, Michigan State college Dairy husbandman.

In addition to profit there are other advantages of fall freshening. Certainly it tends to distribute labor requirements throughout the year, Murray says. with the dairy herd during the fall and winter when other work about the farm does not require so much labor. This results in better herd management.

Calves will be kept in the barn and fed better, so that bigger, healthier calves will result. Cows that have freshened in October will flush in production when put on spring pasture. This strong finish at the end of the lactation results in greater production. Cows are dry when hot weather and flies cause lower milk production and other phases of the farm business requires more labor.

Many dairymen agree that fall freshening is most desirable. However, it isn't easy to keep up with a fall freshening program. Probably the easiest way to get started on a fall freshening program is with the heifers. This will require some variation in breeding age but this should not be a problem. It will be impossible to keep all of them on a fall freshening schedule but this procedure should give a higher percentage.

Jordan Co-op to Buy Fluid Milk Starting Monday

The announcement that the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery will start receiving fluid milk Monday, Dec. 17 means that they would like to have good quality milk. Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, saya that its just as easy to produce good quality milk as it is a product of inferior quality.

Cleanliness in the barn and with the cows is probably the first place to start. Barns that are clean inside and with plenty of bedding being used are needed for good products. The cows should be clipped and brushed. The udders should be cleaned before milking.

All utensils should also be clean this includes the milking machine, the milk cans, and other equipment used in the milk house Probably the most important factor is proper cooling of the milk. This means cooling as soon as possible before the bacteria have a chance to grow.

All farmers are reminded by county agent Rebman that a good quality product will mean more money in their pockets because it will mean a better manufactured product and thereby will increase sales.

Farmers' Income To Show Increase In '52, MSC Says

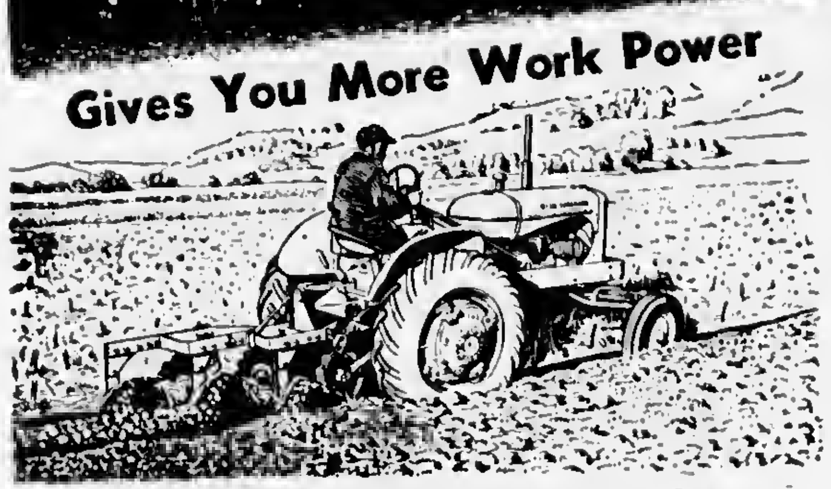
Economics is becoming more and more important in the daily lives of farm people, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, said today. Such words as outlook, prices, parity, taxes, costs, trends, and dozens of others take on special meaning as farmers examine the economic outlook for the 1952 farming year. So let's hear what the Michigan State College agricultural economists see in the 1952 farm-economic-crystal-ball.

They summarize the situation by saying that it looks like 1952 will be another prosperous year. Price levels will set new highs, in their opinion, as inflation again takes hold. National income and employment levels may also set new records. With this kind of a national picture, the economists say agriculture should fare pretty well, since farm prices will likely stay high when compared with farm costs.

Complete peace or war should change the outlook, the economists say. Even if the United Nations are ahle to come to terms with the Reds in Korea, there still are other parts of the world about which to be concerned. The increased attention we must pay to these "hot-spots" is the clue to the driving force behind our econmy in 1052.

Defense spending programs will be expanding. The college men estimate that by the middle of next year our government will be spending 75 percent more money for defense than in June of this year.

By the end of 1952, the economists look for farm prices to be about 106 percent of parity. Retail prices may only rise about 5 percent. National income will be somewhere near 300 billion dollars, which is 10 percent above 1951. They add that by the end of '52 we'll be proud of our production record. We will realize by then, if we don't already, that we can expand production to meet an acute emergency and not critically impair our standards of living. This, they say, is a remarkable achievement.



WD TRACTION BOOSTER

Gives You More Work Power

When you set the hydraulic lever on the WD Tractor, you can add as much as a thousand pounds of weight on the rear tractor wheels.

As the drawbar load increases, the hydraulic system uses the weight of the implement plus the weight of the soil to bear down on the wheels. Location of the implement behind the tractor gives it leverage, which multiples implement weight at the tractor axle.

It's entirely automatic. The tractor selects the amount of weight needed. And it's all a part of the complete WD hydraulic system—no extra equipment.

Stop in and let us show you how the WD will do drawbar jobs which ordinarily require a much heavier tractor.

Rayders Seek Third in Row at East Jordan

Charlevoix Shows Sharp Shooting Offense in Beating Boyne City

A fast rolling Charlevoix cage team, undefeated in two games, will be gunning for the third notch on their victory helt this Friday at East Jordan.

The Rayders appeared impressiva in their victory over Boyne City last Friday, winning 55-42. The locals led all tha way and early in the geme piled up a 14-3 leed over tha team which last year eliminated them in the stata reglonals.

Charlevoix had the answers for Boyne's Ramblers as they gave their supporters plenty of chance for elation. Bill Denemy and Dean Boss, one of the most improved players in the league, led the point-getters with 17 each. The teamwork was specially noteworthy.

YOUNG BOBO Bennett was not far behind with 12 points on six field goals, all in the second half. He saw only brief action in the first half. The Charlevoix attack seemed well-oiled and moved down the floor into scoring territory with ease and assurance.

Norm Ketchman and Bud Barber at the guard slots fed the ball into their teammates and the passing to set up the pleys was pleasing to Coach Del Terrill who has been hammering away on teamwork and getting the ball down the floor without undue delay.

Tht Reyder defense held the Boyne team to two field goals in the first half whila racking up nine two-polnters. Boyne ralllad for 18 points in tha final perlod whan tha Raydars rested a bit but at no other time did Boyna extand the winners.

After Buck Kujawski sent Boyne into a lead with the first bucket, the Rayders slammed right back with Bill Denemy looping in two buckets. Within five minutes, the locals had a 10-3 lead.

Ketchman sank a short shot and then Boss flipped in two buckets and followed it up a moment later with his third to give Charlevoix e 16-6 lead at the quarter mark.

During the second quarter, play slowed quite a bit as the Rayders scored only a basket by Denemy and one by Charles Krahnke while Boyne picked up seven points. The score at the half was 20 to 13.

The intermission was a tonic for Charlevoix as they came back fast to whip in 10 polnts in the third stanza while Boyne got 11. During this perlod, Denemy had four points, Bennett had six, Boss had six and Ketchman two points. The score at the three-quarter mark was 38-24.

In the last period Bennett broke loose for a trio of baskets, Denemy had one goal, Boss had a goal and two free throws, Ketchman had a free toss, Barber had a two-pointer and Jerry Left who has been favorlng a sprained ankle chipped in with a goal.

The Rayders sank five of 10 free throws and Boyne gained 16 of 31 free throws but were outscored on goals 25 to 13.

Rally in Third Period Wins For Reserves

A furious burst of baskets in the third period enabled the Charlevoix Reserves to come from behind to defeat Boyne City Seconds here Friday night 34-31 in a tense thriller.

Trailing 16-9 at intermission it looked es though Boyna City was to send the Rayder Reserves to their second defeat in two starts. But such was not the cese when the Rayders started to roll in the second half.

Gordon Mol and Joe McDermott led the way, each with nine points, followed closely by Marcus White with eight points. The Reserves took the talk of their coach, Del Terrill, to heart as they came back strong to break the back of their opponents in the last half.

SCORING ONLY three field goals in the first two periods, the Rayder Reserves took the play away from Boyne in the final half. Midway in the third period, the score stood 19-14 in favor of Boyne.

Then Gordie Mol bagged a nifty and repeated a minute later to send the winners into the lead. But Boyne came back with Yhar to give Boyne the lead. Mol sank another two-pointer and McDermott stole the ball from a Boyne guard in the back court and sank a jump shot to send Charlevoix into the lead 24-21. Boyne came back with a goal and McDermott sank another goal as the period closed and the score stood 26-23 in the Rayders favor.

COACH TERRILL used most of his reserves in an effort to keep the attack rolling. Duane Walker started things rolling again with a short goal and Tom LaBlance sank one from the side to make it 30-23 but Boyne rushed hack with a pair of goals to narrow the margin within three points.

White made good on one from the side and McDermott got back into the act to make it 34 for the locals.

Boyna's Yhar got hot end sank a long tom and then broke loose seconds later under tha basket to sink another to end his team's point total at 31.

It was a fast second team game which really tired both officials who did not look for such a ding-dong battle.

PLAYERS who saw action in the second team game for the locals were Mol, McDermott, B. Smith, White, LaBlance, Glassford, Walker, Bill Golden, Towsley, Albright and Pease.

The locals lost Mol and LaBlance on personals and Boyne City lost three of it's players via this route.

From the free throw line, Charlevoix sank six of 28 and Boyne City 9 of 21.

Now the Rayder Seconds have a .500 percentage with a loss at the hands of Gaylord and a win over Boyne. This Friday they take on East Jordan.

East Jordan Loses Second Straight Tilt

Pellston, Gaylord, Charlevoix and Mancelona were victors this week as the Hornets won over East Jordan 39-28; Gaylord defeated Harbor Springs 29-28 after the Rams had led all the way; Charlevoix dumped Boyne City 55-42 to settle a lot of old scores and Mancelona defeated Onaway 44-28 in a non-loop game.

This week will see Gaylord playing at Boyne City, Mancelona traveling to Pellston, East Jordan hosting Charlevoix and Harbor Springs meeting Class B Petoskey on the latter's floor.

KEITH Emerson was back in the groove against the Jordanites to pace the Hornets with 27 points to give him a total of 59 for three games. East Jordan held a two point lead at the end of the first period but Pellston took over in the second quarter and remained ahead 23-13 at the half and 30-20 at the third period. Norm McGeorge, guard, returned to the Jordanite line-up for the first time but failed to pull his team from the loss column. Don Whiteford was high point man for his team with ten points.

Harbor Springs managed a slim lead all the way over Gaylord but the Blue Devils, in a last minute rally took the game by one point. The Rams were ahead 9-6 at the quarter; 14-11 at the half and 22-20 at the third quarter but in a rough and tumble last period the Gaylord five took over and came out on the right end of the score. Jim Schreuer tallied 12 points for the victors and Stan Pifer had 11 for the Rams.

The Charlevoix Rayders came through with a lop-sided 55-42 victory over Boyne City which had Denemy and Boss scoring 16 points each with Bennett a close second with 12. Ron West had 13 for the Ramblers.

Onaway, started the smoothest team they'e had in recent years had an 8-5 lead over Mancelona as the quarter ended but the Ironmen came back to lead 20-16 at the half and 32-18 as the third period ended. Johnny Holstad, a sophomore, tallied 17 for the Ironmen with Norm Wilks making 12 while Kelly had 8 for Onaway.

This week's games should provide plenty of competition.

Gaylord and Boyne City, both defeated by Charlevoix, should be evenly matched. Gaylord with one win over Harbor will be out to stay in the win column while Boyne will be trying for their first victory. Given a little time the Ramblers should present a threat to all comers while Gaylord sparked by several veterans should improve with the season. The game could be close.

Pellston with two ictories tucked away will be out to add a third when they meet Mancelona who this week won over Onaway. Pellston, on their own floor, will have an advantage which should give them the game over the Ironmen.

East Jordan with two losses, one by Alpena Catholic Central and a second to Pellston, should be easy prey for the Charlevoix Rayders who have chalked up two wins thus far. With Norm McGeorge back at his guard spot, the Jordanites should be a little better balanced and should show a little more spirit than they have been eble to date. With several youngsters who show promise, the Red Devils should grow with the season.

Harbor Springs with one win and one loss will be playing Class B Petoskey which fell victim to Traverse City by a 34-27 score last week. The host team should be able to take the Rams but with their scrappiness Harbor may surprise everyone and take the game.

T B Sale in State Is Reported Lagging

Contributions in the 45th tuberculosis Christmas Seal Sale are barely keeping up with last year's returns, the Michigan Tuberculosis Association reported this week.

Heeding the need for increased money for turberculosis prevention, most individual donations made to date hae been larger than amounts given previously.

But the pace of returns has not kept up with last year's record, said Theodore J. Werle, executive secretary, Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

Maintaining the current level of tuberculosis work next year now depends on the generosity of those who have not yet purchased their 1951 supply of tuberculosis Christmas Seals, he said.

Prompt response is needed so the Michigan Tuberculosis Association can complete plans for tuberculosis prevention in 1952.

BEAVER ISLAND
Mary LaFreniere

Mrs. Mary Early has gone to Charlevoix to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. Rose McCann.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Pischner are in Charlevoix for a few days.

Matt Melville, who sailed this season on the Wilfred Sykes, arrived here this week. He plans on remaining here for the winter.

William J. Gallagher has gone to Milford, Mich., to see his son, Norman. He will then join his wife in Chicago, where she is visiting their daughter, Mrs. John Peternard.

George Ricksgers was the victim of a very unfortunate accident last Tuesday morning. While working in the woods a tree fell on him. One leg was badly fractured and there were other minor injuries. A Coast Guard plane from Traverse City took him to Munson hospital at Traverse City. It is expected that he will remain there for three months. Mrs. Ricksgers has gone to Traverse City to be with him.

Don Burke arrived home Saturday. He sailed this year on the Eugene Pargny.

Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell left Saturday for Detroit. Her daughter, Miss Marcella Bestman of Detroit is seriously ill.

Bill Stevens of Charlevoix was here this week on business.

The Conservation Patrol Boat Number One was in Thursday and Friday. It was their last trip here for the season.

The men started their coyote hunts this week. The ground has been barren of snow so it makes tracking very difficult. No coyotes have been killed yet but Archie LaFreniere came in Tuesday with a beautiful red fox. The snow is starting to come now so the future hunts will probably be more of a success.

An Altar Society meeting was held Tuesday night at the Parish hall. Final plans for the Christmas Bazaar were made.

The annual Christmas Bazaar was held Sunday afternoon at the Parish hall. There were raffles, a candy booth and lunch was served. There was a fish pond for the children.

A surprise birthday party for Mrs. Francis Ricksgers was held last Sunday evening at her home.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

Sign of a Nice Guy

Got so around these parts that everywhere a hunter went this fall, he came up against signs saying "PRIVATE PROPERTY, NO HUNTING, KEEP OFF." But not out at Happy Preston's place!

Happy's signs say "PRIVATE PROPERTY, GOOD HUNTING, BUT BE CAREFUL."

"Don't hunt myself," Happy says, "but there's plenty of game on my property. I tell the hunters where the best spots are—away from where I'm working and where nobody else is hunting. It works out pretty well all-around."

From where I sit, Happy has once again shown why he gets along with everyone and why everyone respects him. Happy's likes and dislikes might not be the same as his neighbors', but that doesn't stop him from understanding. When it comes to opinions on hunting, fishing, politics, ways of farming, or whether your favorite beverage is beer or cider, try to be like Happy and the chances are you'll be really happy!

Announcement

TO ALL DAIRYMEN

In the Jordan Valley Co-operative Creamery marketing area

Beginning December 17th

Your Creamery will be ready

TO BUY WHOLE MILK

for manufacturing purposes

Why a fluid milk market?

There has been an increasing demand from dairymen in this area the last few years to create a market for fluid milk. Because most dairymen in the area are stockholders in the Jordan Vally Co-operative Creamery your organization was assigned the job of studying the possibilities and feasibility of establishing a market for whole milk.

Surveys of the field by both your board of directors and committees of dairymen indicate that your company can establish a market for whole milk that will be of material benefit to all of us in the future.

Many of you will remember the so-called "growing pains" we experienced when we established our own market for butterfat in this area. In establishing a market for whole milk we may expect some similar obsticles that can only be overcome by the co-operation and support of you dairymen who are stockholders in the company.

The plant at East Jordan is now equipped to take fluid milk for manufacturing purposes. In equipping the plant every effort has been made to anticipate the various uses of whole milk in order that we may take advantage of the product offering the best market.

All dairymen who are interested in selling whole milk are urged to notify the creamery immediately and get complete details.

Sewage Tax Not Enough to Retire Debt

The sewage tax is not providing enough money at present to retire the annual $6,000 plus interest payments on the sewage disposal plant.

This was reported to the city council Monday night. At present tha residents and property owners are paying 16 cents per 1,000 of gallons of water used as a sewer tax. The tax was levied some 18 years ago but until two years ago was not collected.

One of the reasons given was the reduced use of water. It was pointed out that the last two summers have seen much more rain than usual and this has resulted in a sharp decrease in sprinkling and other summer uses.

THE COUNCIL will look into this matter in the next few weeks in an effort to work out a solution.

The council also:

Approved a lease of adjoining property to the fish hatchery to the federal government to enable the bureau of fisheries to have a lot on which to build a home for the hatchery manager.

Extended a lease on waterfront property to Douglas Van-Patton, naval architect, who plans to construct a plant here next spring. He plans to build small craft for the Navy as well as pleasure craft. His original lease expired Dec. 1.

Approved the application of Food Port Market for a SDD license fur the sale of liquor to take out.

Expect to Let Building Bids By June 1

Charlevoix's new hospital will be constructed at the tourist park.

This was unanimously decided at a meeting of the hospital board Monday night. This brings to an end the long discussion as to where the new $600,000 hospital will be built.

This announcement follows on the heels of the employing of Gordon Cornwell of Traverse City, as the architect for the project. He is slated to receive five per cent of the cost of construction.

The architect has already started preliminary plans for the hospital.

HOSPITAL officials are working toward a June 1 deadline for the letting of the bids on construction. They want to avoid any possibility of having another community receiving Charlevoix's allotment of 55 percent of building and equipment costs.

While the $275,000 or more if the community's cost is more, has been assigned to Charlevoix, provisions of the Hill-Burton act for assisting communities in constructing hospitals are that Congress has to approve the appropriations at each session.

THIS MEANS that if funds allotted to Michigan but not yet used, could, possibly revert to the government's general fund. This is the chief reason why Charlevoix is rushing its plans and attempting to collect 75 percent of its share by June 1.

The survey of the site will be started in a few days and soil tests will be taken and analyzed.

The building fund stands at the $297,000 mark as of Dec. 18. Of this total some $107,000 has been collected.

Preliminary estimates provide that the building will cost in excess of $500,000 and the equipment between $60,000 to $75,000.

She had lived in Charlevoix township and more recently Charlevoix.

She was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star and the Congregational church and had been active in the Pilgrim circle of the church.

And It Came to Pass . . .

Luke 2.1-20

And it came to pass in those days, that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed. (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governor of Syria.) And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazereth, into Judea, unto the city of David which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and of David lineage), to be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she be delivered. And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shephards abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flocks by night, And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shown round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, "Fear not: for, behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you: Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger" And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying: "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into the heaven, the shepherds said one to another, "Let us go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us". And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger. And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning the child. And all they that heard it wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds. But Mary kept all those things, and pondered them in her heart. And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

THERE ARE lots of stories told of parakeets but this one we liked . . Seems the Glenn Roses have one called Butch which was an anniversary gift from their son. Charles . . . IF YOU'VE any doubts about Charlie Bleha's sentiments about Christmas, take a look at his store window . . . We can't think of many more ways of saying "Merry Christmas" . . . he has them in at least a dozen different languages . . .

IF ANYONE was worried about having a white Christmas, they need not have worried . . . Winter arrived in a big way late last week and it looks as tho' it's here to stay . . . What a storm over the weekend . . But it wasn't as cold here as it was in southern Michigan, it that's anything to be grateful for . . . And by the way, don't forget to feed the birds in this kind of weather . . . It's hard for the little ones to find food when it's so cold . .

Marjorie Thomas, Howard Best Exchange Vows

Marjorie Mae Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thomas of Eveline township, became the bride of Howard Best, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merion Best of Ellsworth Wednesday evening at the Ironton Congregational church. The Rev. Henry Alexander of Boyne City officiated at the service before an altar decorated with lighted tapers and baskets of white mums banked with evergreens.

Iris Petrie as vocalist sang At Downing and Because, accompanied by Mrs. Howard Moore at the piano. She also played the traditional wedding marches.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown of white satin designed with a fitted bodice, net yoke and long pointed sleeves. Self-covered buttons trimmed the back and sleeves. A double tier of bias satin edged the full skirt which ended in a long train. A juliet cap secured her fingertip veil. She carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and mums on a white Bible.

Mrs. Marie VanDeventer of Kaleva was her sister's only attendant. She was gowned in pale green taffeta styled with a full skirt and stole of matching net. Her colonial bouquet was of pink carnations, matching her headdress.

Janice Best, niece of the bridegroom, as flower girl, wore a yellow taffeta gown made with a full skirt and trimmed with rhinestone buttons. She carried a basket of yellow mums.

William Best of Ellsworth assisted his brother as best man. Ushers were Robert Thomas, brother of the bride and John Best, brother of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Thomas selected a wine suit, navy assessories and a corsage of red and white roses for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Best wore a gray dress with matching accessories and a corsage of rust and yellow mums.

A reception followed in the church parlors. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a wedding bell centered the refreshment table.

After a brief wedding trip through northern Michigan the couple has gone to Philadelphia where they will reside after Dec. 20.

The bride is a graduate of the East Jordan high school and Hurley Hospital school of nursing in Flint. The bridegroom is stationed at Fort Dix, N.J., with the Army.

Holiday Accident Toll Expected to Hit New Record

Holiday accidents this year will contribute to the worst traffic toll of any year in Michigan history, according to Sgt. Harold Moore, of the Gaylord post of the Michigan State Police.

"The total number of accidents and the combined total of deaths and injuries are reaching new peaks," Sgt. Moore said. "The toll will be materially increased during the holidays unless drivers and pedestrians alike make greater efforts to practice safety.

"December is supposed to be the happiest month of the year, but instead it is the deadliest. Last December 153 persons died in Michigan traffic accidents, 44 of them during the Christmas weekend.

"It is also feared that during December of this year there will occur somewhere in the nation the one millionth death in American traffic since records were first started. It could happen in Michigan.

"Longer periods of darkness and adverse weather conditions make traffic more hazardous at this time of year. During the holiday season traffic increases and many persons become so absorbed in the Christmas rush they grow careless.

"There is nothing we can do to prevent darkness and bad weather, but we can avoid carelessness if we try. Let's all be especially alert and avoid having that millionth death occur in Michigan. And finally, why spoil Christmas with a needless tragedy."

Rod, Gun Club Lauded for Work By State Aid

Charles F. Welch, regional education supervisor, Department of Conservation, was the principal speaker at the annual Rod and Gun club dinner at the club house Thursday evening.

Sixty members and their families heard Mr. Welch compliment the local club on the fine work they had done in the short time the club had been in existence.

He went on to say that Michigan has the most outstanding conservation department in the country and that small clubs, such as the Charlevoix group, is the reason for the success of the department.

Since conservation clubs were first organized in 1900, the clubs have done a great deal of the conservation work in the state which could not have been accomplished without the aid of sportsmen throughout the state.

He asked the continued support of the conservation program by local clubs.

Otto Failing, district game manager of the Conservation Department, was introduced by toastmaster, Glenn Rose.

The new club officers who will assume their duties next month, were also introduced. John Mol, retiring president, welcomed the group and spoke briefly.

The program closed with the showing of the movie, African Safari, which showed a real game hunt in the plateau country of Africa, which was well accepted by the audience.

Charlevoix Soil Conservation District Annual Meet Jan. 17

The board of directors of the Charlevoix Soil Conservation District, at a meeting held last week, has set Thursday evening, January 17 for their annual meeting according to announcement by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent and secretary of the district. This year the meeting will be held in the high school auditorium of East Jordan.

Chairman Clayton Healey says that there will be a good program for the meeting. It is expected that Mr. Mel Cohee, from the Soil Conservation Service at Milwaukee will be the principal speaker. The balance of the program will be entertainment which is being arranged at the present time.

There will be an election for one director for the term now held by Carlton Smith. A nominating committee met last week and nominated Joe Stutzmnn and Clyde Warner, of Charlevoix for this vacancy. Additional nominations may be made at the time of the annual meeting.

Keats' Genius

Mr. Truman would probably find considerable consolation in the following passage from the biographical sketch of the immortal English poet, John Keats: "Had his critics only seen ti! But no, they looked at his faults alone.' They were blind and deaf to his genius. One disappointment followed another. He strove to succeed, but the reviewers knew no pity . . ."

Soil District Plans Contest

The Charlevoix Soil Conservation District, according to Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent and secretary of the district, annnunces that at a board meeting held last week, it was decided that they will help sponsor the essay contest for this year. The essay must be written on "Soil Conservation and Abundant Living",

Chairman Healey and other members of the board would like to urge that all who can write should try for the State and National awards. Any young man or woman under 21 years of age may enter the contest which is sponsored by the National Grange and the American Plant Food Council. Additional information may be obtained from any of the directors, the granges of the county or at the county extension office.

Chlordane Offers New Control For Crab Grass

A new approach to crabgrass control, through use of the insecticide chlordane, has been developed by Dr. B. H. Grigsby, weed control research scientist at Michigan State College.

An important part of the research is that applications of chlordane may have both insect-killing and weed-killing value.

Work was first begun on the idea of using the insecticide as a weed killer when it was reported that chlordane applied to the soil left a residue in the soil which affected seed germination.

Results from greenhouse trials indicated that chlordane has the property of delaying emergence and preventing germination of other grass seeds.

This fact is important because all crabgrass control methods now available do not affect seed germination and require repeated applications after the original treatment.

Dr. Grigsby's research at the Michigan Agricultural Experiment Station indicates best results come when the technical resin form of chlordane is used in an oil carrier. Foliage application rates used in the trials, the equivalent of five to ten pounds chlordane as acre in a refined oil carrier, gave a rapid kill of crabgrass without injury to lawn grass.

Ventilated Barns Pay Dividends to Farmers

Properly ventilated dairy barns will aid in promoting better herd health and the production of high quality milk free from barny off-flavor and odor, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent said today.

Dairy herd owners should provide housing that will result in a comfortable temperature with a low moisture content and free from drafts. It is difficult to control the temperatures and moisture content without a ventilating system.

When outside temperatures vary it is impossible to maintain an even temperature and avoid drafts by opening or closing windows and doors. Drafts and high humidity tend to bring about more herd health problems.

Stagnant air in the barn causes an off-flavor and odor in the milk. This is not due to the milk absorbing the odor but because the cows breathing this air possessing the barn odor soon impart this flavor and odor in the milk.

Feed, Care Determine Production of Cows

Inheritance puts a ceiling on how much milk a cow can produce, but most dairy cattle are held far below this mark by the low-production feeding and herd management they get.

This point was made today by Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, for Charlevoix county. He said that relatively few cows get fed and managed well enough that they get a chance to show what they can really do in the line of milk porduction.

Ed Rebman cites a striking experiment conducted in Denmark to prove his point. This research has been made public recently.

Six Red Dane cows that averaged 370 pounds of butterfat under average farm conditions were moved to an experimental farm and given the best possible feeding and management. The following lactation, these same cows averaged 909 pounds of butterfat.

This same type of improvement can be brought about on many Michigan farms if dairymen work toward improving their feeding herd management practices, according to Ed Rebman.

Help Hard Milkers Is MSC Advice

A simple operation by your local veterinarian will save the extra time and work spent in milking the naturally hard-milking cow.

Michigan State college veterinarians explain that the operation is performed on the muscles in the ends of the cow's teats. It gives the milk more room to get out.

Don't try to do the job yourself, the MSC authorities warn, because the udder must not become infected and there is a danger of cutting too deep and making leakers out of the teats.

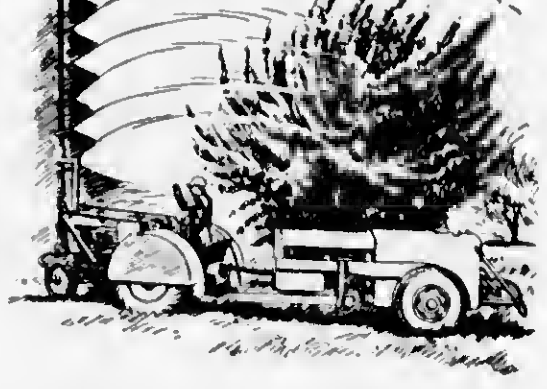
Concentrate spraying gaining favor with Michigan farmers

Using a stronger spray solution and applying correspondingly less of it per tree shows advantages in spraying fruit crops. According to the Michigan State College Agricultural Experiment Station, end results are as effective as when more of ordinary mixtures are used. Concentrate spraying reduces spray injury to fruit and foliage, cuts amount of spray chemicals lost by run-off, reduces the water needed and time required for refilling. On vegetable crops, concentrate spraying has been limited to control of insects when complete coverage is not required. For further information, call, write or visit your County Agricultural Agent.



New telephone truck is "jack of all trades"

Michigan Bell has recently put into service a truck that can dig a hole in the ground, hoist and set a 35-foot telephone pole, pull up old wire, haul tools and materials and do a lot of other work, with a 2-man crew. A remarkable piece of mechanical engineering efficiency, this new truck is another example of the way we're working to speed telephone service to rural areas and at the same time keep costs down.

Petoskey-Rayder Game Holds Cage Spotlight

East Jordan Upsets Charlevoix in Final Minutes of Contest

A non-conference game with Petoskey holds the basketball spotlight for the Charlevoix Rayders this Friday at Petoskey.

The Petoskey-Rayder games usually command plenty of attention. Against their Class B rivals, the Rayders carry a two-one record this year with wins over Gaylord and Boyne City and a loss at the hands of East Jordan.

The Rayders would rather forget all about the East Jordan game. After leading all the way until three minutes before the final whistle, the Rayders failed to hold back the onslaught of the Jordanites, underdogs before the game. The final score was 44-42.

THE PETOSKEY game promises to be interesting from another point of rivalry. Bill Denemy, whose set shots have made him a marked man already, will go against his former teammates. A regular on last season's Petoskey team, he moved to Charlevoix last September.

The Rayders had difficulty stopping Roman Klimkiewicz, East Jordan's leading scorer, who rolled up 24 points during the contest. Failure to stop "Klim" cost the boys of Del Terrill the ball game.

With but four minutes remaining "Klim" sent East Jordan into the lead 39-38. Bud Barber left the game on fouls at this junction and Shepard sank a free toss, making it 40-38.

But Denemy dropped one in from the side and the score stood 40-40. Charles Krahnke faked his man out of position and sank one from the foul circle, pushing the score to 42-40. Dean Boss was ejected on fouls an instant before Klim brought the Jordan fans to their feet with a nifty to knot the count.

THE CLINCHER was provided by Norman McGeorge who eluded his man to sink the winning basket. East Jordan retained possession of the ball in the remaining seconds. And the Jordan boys had themselves an upset game over Charlevoix.

East Jordan crowded the Rayders all the way and kept the losers from getting set most of the time. Boss was high point man for the Rayders with six goals and two free throws.

Denemy opened things up for Charlevoix with his specialty and before the quarter was over Boss had flipped in three buckets and Bobo Bennett chipped in with three free throws to give the Rayders an 11-8 lead.

In the second quarter Charlevoix scored 13 more on single goals by Denemy, two goals and two free tosses by Barber and another free toss by Krahnke. The Rayders led 24-16 at halftime.

BUT THE SECOND half rally by East Jordan caught the Rayders short as the winners collected 28 points while holding Charlevoix to 18 in the last two periods.

Rayder Bennet Scores on Short Shot

Bobo Bennett (No. 4) leaps high in the air on a short shot to give Charlevoix two points in the East Jordan game last Friday. Charles Krahnke is the other Rayder (extreme right) in the picture. No. 10 is Evans, 13 is Don Whiteford and the other player is Norm McGeorge, all of East Jordan. Charlevoix lost 44-42 in a thriller.

Reserves Win Over Jordan By 24-19 Score

A rally in the third period enabled the Charlevoix Seconds to overcome East Jordan's halftime lead, winning its second straight game, 24-19.

Marcus White was the Rayder high point man with six points. Other scoring was: Gordon Mol, 3, Don Smith, 3; Dave Glassford 4; Tommy LaBlance, 4; Joe McDermott, 2; and Eugene Towsley, 2.

The game was a slow starter with both teams missing a number of shots in the opening minutes. East Jordan broke the ice with a jump shot at the three minute mark but Mol flipped in a free throw and Glassford scored on a jump shot to give Charlevoix a 3-2 lead. The score stood three all at the first quarter.

Glassford sank two fouls to give the Rayders the lead but East Jordan came back with two buckets. Towsley sank a nifty to tie it at 7 all but the home team sank a foul to lead 8-7 at the half.

WHITE STARTED things off in the third period when the Rayders scored 10 points to five for the losers. He dropped in a foul a minute later and LaBlance hit the meshes on a side shot to make it 12-11. McDermott sank a foul but East Jordan tied it at 13. White sank another and when McDermott missed a free throw, White dropped in a rebound for his third bucket of the period. The score at the end of the third stanza was 17-13.

In the final quarter, Charlevoix sank seven points while East Jordan scored six. The losers came back with two buckets to tie it at 17 and then Smith sank a goal on a nifty pass from McDermott. Cutler kept East Jordan abreast of things with a hook shot to make it 19-all.

Smith and McDermott scored on fouls and then Mol flipped in a free toss to make it 22-19 and LaBlance ended the scoring with a short set-up, making it 24-19.

COACH DEL Terrill again substituted freely using Mol, Smith, White, Albright and Bill Golden as starters. Others to see action were McDermott, LaBlance, Duane Walker, Pease and Towsley.

The Rayder Reserves have victories over Boyne City and East Jordan and suffered a loss to Gaylord in the opener.

Pellston Keeps Up Win Score At Mancelona

Pellston remained the only undefeated team in the Northern Michigan Class C loop as East Jordan dumped the Rayders 44-42 in an upset on the Jordan floor Friday night. Pellston retained their position by defeating Mancelono 38-32.

In other games Friday Boyne City chalked up its first win of the season by defeating Gaylord 50-39 and Harbor Springs bowed to Petoskey as the Northmen won 60-36.

In games scheduled this Friday Boyne City will play at Mancelona; Harbor Springs will journey to East Jordan and Charlevoix will meet Petoskey in a non-loop tilt on the latter's floor.

THE RAYDERS got off to a good start at East Jordan Friday but in the last period the Jordanites came from behind and in a fast rough game came out on the credit side of the score. Norm McGeorge, veteran guard back in the line-up for the second time this season, dumped in the winning basket, his only score for the game.

Pellston managed a slim lead all the way over the Mancelona Ironmen to take the game by six points. The Hornets tallied 7 points to Mancelona's 4 in the first period and stayed ahead 18-12 at the half and 29-20 at the third period. Johnny Holstad dropped 14 points for the Ironmen and Bill Drier had 12 for Pellston. Keith Emerson, Pellston's high scoring forward, was held to ten points.

Don Arner scored a total of 20 points for Boyne City as the Ramblers ran over Gaylord. With a 17-10 lead at the quarter, the Ramblers remained ahead 27-23 at the half and 37-27 at the third period to take the game. Jerry Hopkins had 16 points for Gaylord.

Harbor Springs got off to a good start against Petoskey and gave the Northmen a good run until midway in the second period. The quarter score was 12-9 in Petoskey's favor and at half time they had stretched the lead to 32-21 and at the third period to 49-26. Herb Hills had 15 points for Petoskey and Stan Pifer eight

BOYNE CITY will journey to Mancelona with only victory in mind now that they have a win to their credit after two losses The Ironmen with two losses in league play and Boyna City with one win and two losses should be pretty evenly matched and the game could go either way.

Now that East Jordan seemingly has found its stride with Norm McGeorge and Jim Sheppard back in the line-up, the Red Devils are out to avenge earlier losses as the Rayders found out Friday. If Harbor Springs can play the type of ball they played in the first half of the game against Petoskey they should ba able to hold East Jordan to at least a close score if not a win.

Petoskey will be out to even a few scores when they meet the Rayders Friday so the game should be good. The Rayders have won from the Northmen in every meeting since the 1945-46 season when Petoskey chalked up one win. It could be anybody's game but the Rayders should have an edge.

Lumber Giant

The lumber industry, in spite of its giant size, is actually made up of small businessmen. There are over 50,000 mills now operating in the United States.

Everyone Wants To See Just One 'Good Old' Yule

"How I would long to see just one more 'old-fashioned Christmas.'"

These are familiar words at this time of the year. Before the Yuletide season is over, some member of the family, grandfather or grandmother, probably, is certain to pass that remark, as they have done each Christmas of the past.

And yet, if we search back into the records . . . to the turn of the century, say . . . we find that, even then, someone was wishing for "an old-fashioned Christmas." It is then that we realize that the celebration of the birth of Christ has not changed greatly with the passage of centuries. Basically, Christmas is the same, year after year. It is only the world and the people who are not the same.

He may not admit it, but when grandfather first began to raise a family, he overheard his elders musing over the changing Christmas customs and heralding the approach to "complete commercialism" of the Yuletide celebration. Even then they were worried.

No one can deny that Christmas has been greatly "commercialized" since the days of early America. Yet, so has the entire nation. In the days of our ancestors there were none of the vast trading centers and commercial marts that we know today. Our very way of life has been greatly changed with modernization. Our holidays, and Christmas is the principal one, have managed to keep abreast.

Still, without reservation, Christmas is basically unchanged in its true meaning as a celebration of the birth of the Christ-Child redeemer, come to save the world. No matter how great or how small the presents piled beneath the tree, each Christian heart never ceases to remember that Christmas is Christ's day.

Most merhants can still supply your Christmas gift wants.

CSO Still Needs Funds for Servicemen

Recent contributions to the Charlevoix Service Organization have been made by the following: Bert Beaudoin, Robert Bridge, Caroline Geiken, William Schwab, Mr. and Mrs. J. Conley, Erwin Belfy, sr., Mrs. Bertha Wagner, Mrs. Harrison Elzinga, sr., Barnard Grange and the V. F. W. Auxiliary.

The C. S. O. Account at the Charlevoix County State Bank now has $54.05 on its books. The amount will purchase gifts for the servicemen leaving for the service during the next couple of months but additional funds will be needed if the organization is to continue sending the Courier to Charlevoix servicemen.

Why not give to the fund during the Christmas season and in so doing make some serviceman's going-away a little happier.

Interesting Job? Santa's Beats All At This Season

WHO HAS ONE of the most interesting jobs this time of year? That's easy. It's Santa.

The rotund gentleman hiding behind the red ensemble and the flowing white beard learns a great deal about the nature of humans, especially children, at this time of year.

However, after receiving thousands of letters from all over the country, and talking to thousands of youngsters on street corners and in department stores, Santa usually comes to the same conclusion each year. Times and customs change, but children seldom do.

Requests that Santa receives follow a general pattern each year—everything from bicycles to roller skates and cowboy suits for boys, with dolls and elaborate accessories the favorite with the girls.

There are some exceptions. Lots of children make requests for useful items, typewriters and such, in the hope of becoming writers and stenographers. Last year one lad asked for a Bengal tiger.

Santa, understanding human that he must be, promises to fill all the requests that he can and explains tenderly why there are some that are out of reach.

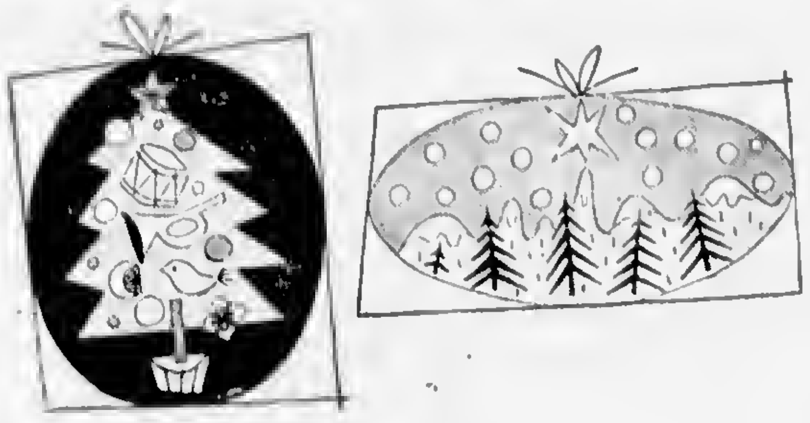
A Christmas Wish



Carols echoing sweet and clear –
Frosty stars that lean to hear;

A parlor-tree all tinsel-shine,
Up in the woods, a star-tipped pine;

Greeting cards in a merry shower –
A sweetly solemn midnight hour

When a simple tale and an age-old hymn
Usher the King of Christmas in;

Rebirth of love – new hope for peace –
And a miracle to make war cease –

Let's all wish this for Christmas!

"Greetings by Mail" Originated in 1846, Now a Modern Custom

Look at the paintings on the Christmas cards you send and receive—you'll find famous names and some of the best contemporary art. Here is how it all began.

On a December day in 1846, a middleclass Englishman, Henry Cole, sat at the library desk of his London home addressing to his friends what were probably the first Christmas cards ever printed. The cards depicted a Victorian family assembled at the festive board and the traditional Christmas customs of giving to the poor. They also bore the now-classic greeting: "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you."

Cole, in a historic move, two months before had commissioned John Calcott Horsley, a Royal Academy artist, to paint the illustration for the card and had struck off a thousand lithographed copies. He dispatched them that December. This was such a markedly successful stroke of good will that plain Henry Cole subsequently became Sir Henry Cole.

Horsley's art was a far cry from today's Christmas card paintings, but he started a cycle which a hundred years later was to bring fine art into high favor on Christmas cards.

An American shopping for cards may select, for instance, a painting called "Snow Under the Arch" by another Royal Academy member—Winston Churchill, Britain's wartime prime minister and famed amateur artist. Or he might choose Peter Hurd's "One Night in Winter" or "Grandma" Moses' "The White Church" or "The Nativity" by Alexander Ross.

Red Cross Hospital Workers HelpSpeedPatientRecovery

The job of rebuilding sick bodies and minds of servicemen in military hospitals and restoring them to useful life is carried forward by a team—doctors, nurses, and Red Cross workers. The Red Cross worker may be a medical or psychiatric social worker, a recreation specialist, or a combination of them assisted by a Gray Lady.

Military physicians and nurses find that restoring the health of a sick man requires much more than medicine and food. The will to live and the will to do do things must be revived before medical treatment can get in its beneficial work. That's where the Red Cross enters the picture.

A young soldier, only 23, was injured in an accident at a munitions proving ground. Half of his face and neck were blown away. Painracked and frightened, he had little taste for ordinary hospital recreation. He loved music, though, so the recreation worker brought to his bedside a radio phonograph and then, by mere chance, found she could satisfy a greater longing. The boy revealed that ha wanted to write to his young wife those tender, personal things that he hesitated to dictate.

Under federal statute and regulations of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, the American Red Cross furnishes volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of the armed forces and acts in matter of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their armed forces.

Red Cross hospital workers assist medical officers with welfare and recreation programs for military patients.

A recording machine was brought to his bedside, and he found tha words to tell his longings to his distant wife. It wasn't easy because his injury had damaged his vocal chords and articulation was difficult. But after patient practice with the hospital worker, he finally poured out his heart to the record and sent it off to his wife.

To the arthritic, the tubercular, the rheumatic heart sufferer, doomed to long periods of bed care, the recreational services provided by Red Cross ease their burden of restlessness and discouragement. Nearby chapters in cooperation with other local agencies bring into tha hospitals young peopla from the nearby communities, women who serve as hostesses for parties, young peopla who dance and play games, all reminding the sick soldier that he is not forgotten by those he served.

Petoskey Man Given Term

At a special term of circuit court here Friday Judge Charles L. Brown sentenced one man to southern Michigan prison and placed two more on probation.

James Rinock, 22, of Byron Center and Petoskey, was sentenced to 20 months to five years in southern Michigan prison. He was charged with breaking and entering in the day-time a garage owned by Ben and Lilly Gardner of Evangeline township Nov. 3. At the time Rinock was on parole from the southern Michigan prison. He had been sentenced for a one year to 15 months term in the same prison for larceny in Petoskey.

Theodore Ecker, 17, of RR 2, East Jordan, was placed on probation for two years and ordered to pay $25 fine and $75 court costs on the same charge as Rinock.

Herverd Canell, 22, of Harbor Springs, pleaded not guilty to a charge of receiving and aiding in the concealment of stolen goods taken by Rinock and Ecker. He was released on $750 bond. His case will be heard at the next term of court.

Paul Benevitch, 29, of Inkster, driver of the car in which Carlisle Searls, 42, also of Inkster, was a passenger when he was killed Aug. 17 near East Jordan, was placed on probation for one year. He was also ordered to pay $25 fine and $75 costs.

Phone Firm Asks for Rehearing on Boost

Michigan Bell today petitioned the Michigan Public Servic Commission for a rehearing on its rejected application for a rate increase.

Filed by the Company "in an urgent effort to secure the rate relief it needs to continue a good service job for the public", the petition alleged 10 fundamental errors in the order of November 20, which denied the Company's rate application in its entirety.

Chief among the errors cited by the Company were the commission's failure to consider the retroactive increase in the Federal Corporation income tax and its numerous adjustments to achieve disallowances of expenses actually incurred and capital actually invested by the Company.

The petition asked that the Commission reopen the record to allow additional evidence on Company operations for the past 10 months of 1951, which the Company said, "are not as profitable as predicted by the commission in its order."

Local Woman's Son Writes Radio Slogan

Everyone's been hearing the slogan, "Wherever you go, there's radio" recently, but did you know it was written by the son of a local resident?

That's right. The father of the slogan is Arthur R. Gloster, of Berkley, public relations counsel for radio station CKLW and son of Mrs. Georgia Gloster of Charlevoix.

Catchy or just repititious . . . whatever it is, it's considered a stroke of public relations genius and is counted a major factor in bolstering a faltering radio business during the last two months.

It's originator still gets a kick out of hearing his brain child aired across the nation in the current battle between radio and television for public attention.

The slogan came to him, Gloster reports, when radio men all over were striving desperately to regain public attention.

He also calls his slogan a "two-edged sword". First, it reminds listeners of radio's ever-accessibility and secondly, it reminds the advertising agencies and sponsors of the great audience to be reached only by radio and not some other medium.

When Gloster's catchy slogan was heard over CKLW, other Detroit stations asked permission to use it. Then came more stations and more cities all over the country. Now almost every major network employs it.

Gloster actually received no direct pay for originating the slogan, but concedes its success will help him considerably in a professional way. He gets personal satisfaction out of it too.

Mistletoe Outlived Sinister Meaning

Mistletoe, once used as a weapon of death, is now almost a universal symbol of love and peace.

According to Norse mythology, there was a god named Balder, who personified the sun. Loki, another god, plotted to destroy Balder.

Balder's mother, when she first learned of Loki's intentions to kill her son, obtained a promise from all living things that they would not harm Balder. All agreed, but the mistletoe, so it was with a mistletoe arrow that Loki induced Balder's blind brother, Hoder, to kill the sun god.

Higher powers intervened, however, and Balder was restored to life. The mistletoe was placed under Frigga's care, and the mother of Balda saw that it was never again used to do harm.

The custom of giving a kiss of love or peace beneath the mistletoe is an assurance that it will never again be used as an instrument of evil.

CHRISTMAS CANDLE . . . The soft, steady glow of a lighted candle is one of the treasures of Christmas which no one would want to lose. Another treasure is the happy child.

Christmas Was Once Holiday That Moved About on Calendar

Christmas was once a movable feast. The eastern branches of the Christian church usually celebrated it in April or May, Western Europe sometime in January.

In 337 A.D., St. Cyril, bishop of Jerusalem, set out to make the date universal. With the permission of Pope Julius I, he appointed a commission to determine, if possible, the precise date of Christ's nativity. The theologians of the Church finally agreed upon December 25, and since the year 354 this date has been celebrated.

Rayders Lose Dean Boss From Injury

The Petoskey game cost the Rayders the services of Dean Boss, lanky center, whose all-around improvement has stamped him as a top scoring threat. Boss suffered a fractured left wrist in a collision with Steinbrecher of Petoskey. His arm was placed in a cast. He may return to the lineup before the season closes. Bobo Bennett was another casualty. He broke a blood vessel in his ankle but is expected to be ready for the Mancelona game.

The Charlevoix Red Rayders are having a vacation lull, before resuming conference play next week against Mancelona.

The Rayders, losers of their last two starts, dropped a non-conference contest against Class B Petoskey last Friday, 43-29.

Charlevoix appeared way off form, having lost that sharp look they had during the Gaylord and Boyne City tilts. With the exception of two occasions early in the ball game, Petoskey led all the way.

THE NORTHMEN led 19-13 at the half. Hitchmough was high point man with six field goals and seven free throws for 19 points. Bill Denemy, Dean Boss and Charles Krahnke led the Rayders with six apiece.

It marked the first time since 1945 that Petoskey has measured Charlevoix on the cage court. Petoskey's close knit defense kept the Rayders off balance and prevented them from taking many shots close in.

The Rayders had to resort to shooting from out on the court and the shots were wide of their mark. Petoskey controlled both backboards most of the time. Steinbrecher did a good job of taking the ball off the boards.

Bill Denemy, captain for the game, played forward part of the time and then was shifted to guard. He, Boss and Bennett were pretty-well bottled up most

Reserves Rally To Nose Out Petoskey, 29-28

A comeback in the last quarter enabled the Rayder Reserves to defeat Petoskey in a wild affair 29-28 last Friday. This was their third win in four starts.

Behind 20-16 at the end of the third quarter, the Rayders Seconds came through with 13 points while holding the losers to eight to eke out the victory.

Marcus White was high point man with 12 points. Joe McDermott was next with eight. Ance and Piehl of Petoskey had eight apiece.

The tilt could have been called the game of missed free throws as Charlevoix collected on seven of 26 and Petoskey had six of 22. The Rayders Reserves have developed a habit of coming back strong in the last stages of the game.

The Game was tied up at least eight times as it was nip and tuck all the way. Petoskey led 7-4 at the quarter. The score was tied at 10 at the half.

Christmas in Charlevoix Enjoyed by Japanese Wife

A Japanese wife of a local soldier was introduced to an american Christmas this week, a short time after arriving here with her husband and small son from Kobe, Japan.

She is Mrs. Richard Haggerty, the former Sumi Hamada of Kagoshima, Kyushu who with her husband Sergeant first class Haggerty and their 13-months old son, Joan, are visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Haggerty.

The young couple first met in Kobe, Japan, a short time after Sgt. Haggerty went overseas in 1947. They were married in 1949.

EACH YEAR since they met they have spent Christmas together, observing the day in the true American way but this year Mrs. Haggerty noted that things were a lot different. Her husband had a quick answer to that . . . It's Christmas at home.

Sgt. Haggerty and his family drove from Seattle, Wash., to Charlevoix. After spending the holidays here he will report at Killeen Base, Tex.

School Here Receives $4,200 Of Bell Taxes

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company today revealed that $4,200 of its state property tax this year was allocated to the public school system of Charlevoix.

C. L. Johnson manager for the company, said the amount was Charlevoix's share of Michigan Bell's total tax contribution of $6,182,000 into the state's Primary School Fund.

Schools throughout Charlevoix County, including the city of Charlevoix, revealed a total of $18,400 from the company's tax payment.

Johnson said the payments were based on a school census of 945 in Charlevoix and 4,100 in the county as compiled by the State Department of Public Instruction. The company's total tax allocation this year, largest on record, amounted to $4.49 for each of the 1,490,000 youngsters in the state between the ages of 5 and 19 who are on the census rolls.

Michigan Bell is the largest single contributor to the Primary School Fund. In common with railroads, Pullman, railway express, telegraph, and other telephone companies, Michigan Bell pays a state property tax earmarked for the Primary Fund in lieu of other property taxes.

Death Claims Former Resident in Colorado

Mrs. Fred Boles, 69, the former Clara Price, died unexpectedly at her home in Denver, Colo. Sunday.

Mrs. Boles, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Price was born and reared in Charlevoix and attended the Charlevoix schools. She was later employed in the probate judge office and at the See Coal Co. here for many years prior to her marriage to Mr. Boles 35 years ago. She lived in Chicago following her marriage and in the west for the past 20 years.

She is survived by her husband and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Alexander of Hastings and Central Lake and Mrs. Ainslee Mayne of California.

The body will arrive at 1:45 p. m., Thursday. Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

Abject Poverey of Hong Kong Is Unforgettable to Mrs. Buttrick

All this and I have not yet started on Hong Kong proper. The only way to reach the island is by a ferry and we have had a wonderful time going back and forth, for the harbor is alive with boats and everything is new and strange. Hong Kong is amazing: It is actually one mountain with many peaks rising almost sheer from the water on all sides. There is just room along the water front for one good street. There houses literally are sculptured into the rock with foundations and retaining walls higher than the actual buildings.

The few roads wind up the sides of the mountain in breathtaking, hairpin curves, and pedestrians use narrow alley-ways, climbing by millions of steps with little shops perched precariously on cliffs beside the path.

THERE IS AN amazing railway that takes you up 1305 feet with the cars standing practically on their heads. We held our breath all the way but would not have missed it for anything nor the view from the top.

High on the mountains are lovely homes mostly of wealthy Chinese businessmen, bankers, etc. The poor live on the steep lower slopes.

Another day we drove round the island and I tried to get a number of pictures, for no words can describe the views of fishing villages of Repulse Bay where the wealthy live three miles over the hill and of the harbor as we returned.

Actually our schedule here has been fairly light: George has had only two speaking events each day and I none, so we have had a little time to wander through the streets near the hotel and try and get the feel of the place.

Four-Lane Highway Looms Here

There is a good possibility that Charlevoix will have a four-lane highway on Petoskey avenue.

One of the chief factors on which the possibility hinges is the increased gasoline tax which went into effect earlier this year. Work on the highway would start next fall, the city was informed.

City officials estimate that the now 1½ cent tax means the return of about $8,000 a year on present returns to the city for the improvement of streets. Major streets can use some 70 percent of the money received by the city.

At a recent meeting of state highway officials and the mayor and councilmen, it was revealed that the city's share of the four-lane highway would be about $36,000. This could be paid over a five-year period at no interest.

WHILE OFFICIALS here decline to be quoted, they seem to favor the four-lane highway if it's within the city's financial ability to pay for it. This is where the added gas comes in. They point out that this addition would take care of the city's share of the costs.

However there is still a remote possibility that the gasoline tax issue may be sent to the supreme court. To date there have not been enough valid signatures on the CIO's petitions. State officials are doubtful that it will reach the court, basing it on the attorney general's views that the petitions do not have enough signatures forcing it to be voted upon by the people.

The four-lane highway would be 46 feet wide and four 11-foot lanes and one foot curb and gutters on each side. Property owners along the street would be assessed small amounts to partially cover the cost of curb and gutters.

It was pointed out that some property owners along Petoskey avenue would lose some trees, if the four-lane highway goes through.

Rites Held in Flint for Former Local Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. Malenda L. Eckinger, 76, former resident, were held at the Grove and Company Memorial Chapel in Flint Wednesday. Dr. E. H. Longman officiated. Burial was in the Flint Memorial Park cemetery.

Mrs. Ecklinger died Sunday at the Flint Osteopathic Hospital after a brief illness.

Born in New Brunswick, Ont., June 27, 1875, the former Malenda L. Baker was married to Mr. Eckinger Oct. 6, 1895 at Bay City. They had resided at Charlevoix 30 years prior to going to St. Joseph in 1940. After four years in southern Michigan they moved to Swartz Creek in 1944.

She was a member of the Methodist church and the Royal Neighbors.

Besides her husband she is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Olive Mildred MacArthur and a son, Harold D. Eckinger, both of Flint; one grandson; one granddaughter; three great-grandchildren, a brother, George Baker of Chatham, Ont.; and four sisters, Mrs. Edith Keith and Mrs. Mable Casper, both of Wyandotte; Mrs. Lizzie Hyattle of Pontiac and Mrs. Nettie Rabbage of Medicine Hat, Alberta.

Beg Your Pardon

The Christmas greeting advertisement of the Pioneer Auto Body Shop was mistakenly left out of last week's Courier. Earl Miller, owner of the shop, expressed his appreciation to the area residents who have patronized him and wished the community a Merry Christmas. The Courier staff begs his pardon for the omission.

Charlevoix One of Warmest Spots in Midwest

Perhaps, it's no time to boast . . .

But Charlevoix has been one of the warmest spots in the midwest in recent days. Yes, even for the last two weeks or so.

The lowest temperature in Charlevoix proper in the last two weeks has been nine above zero. So reports the U. S. Coast Guard station here.

While the rest of the state and nation have had record snowfall and sub-zero temperatures, Charlevoix has led a charmed life.

The snowfall measured 14 inches on the flat in Charlevoix Wednesday but represented an accumulation of several weeks.

The temperatures Wednesday were near the freezing mark, after dipping to 12 above during the night.

(The editor has been warned not to write this story as a record snowfall and sub-zero temperatures will probably be recorded in Charlevoix just to show that he is wrong again.)

Coronation Highlights Annual Dance

Kay Cunningham will be crowned queen and Nathan Boss king of the annual Tinsel Ball at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium Saturday evening.

The annual holiday ball is sponsored by the senior class.

Charles Krahnke, class president, will crown the high school royalty at a special coronation ceremony. High school students selected this year's king and queen prior to the ball.

Serving as members of the queen's court will be Pat Jablinski, Donna Ball, Becky Badget and Leona Scott.

The gym will be decorated in a Christmas motif for the dance. Dancing will start at 8:30 p.m. to the music of the Dixieland Five. formal.

Mrs. Sadie Geer Dies in Hospital At Traverse City

Mrs. Sadie B. Geer, 70, wife of Elisha Geer, died Sunday at a Traverse City Hospital after an illness of three weeks. She had been in poor health for many years.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 a.m. Thursday with the Rev. Fr. Leo Malinowski officiating. Burial will be in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Hayes township May 17, 1881, the former Sadie Bacot was married to Mr. Geer and had always lived in this community.

She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, John and Arthur, both of Charlevoix; two brothers, Thomas Bacot of this city and John Bacot of Grand Rapids; a sister, Mrs. Anna Hummel of Detroit and six grandchildren.

Supervisors Approve Boost to 70 Percent Of State Estimates

The city of Charlevoix and other units in the county will raise their assessments for 1952 to 70 percent of the state equalization figure of $25,138,426.

This means that Charlevoix's assessment will be $5,025,412 as compared with $3,860,050 last year or about a 17 percent increase in assessment.

Boyne City's assessment which was $1,912,460 last year will be increased nearly 19 percent because last year's assessment was 51.91 percent of the state's equalization.

In another move to balance the scales for county revenue and disbursements supervisors voted to discontinue, effective Jan. 1, the payments of any deficits on the Ironton ferry. The supervisors agreed to pay this year's deficits and bills already contracted for but nothing more than that.

THE TOLLS collected for this year amounted to approximately $5,000 and the supervisors paid a deficit of $6,000 to $7,000. Last year's deficit was $5,073.

Until 1949 when the ferry was placed on a toll basis the board footed the entire cost of the ferry operation. Since 1949, the board has made up any deficit incurred by the county road commission in operating the ferry.

There has been a ferry on Lake Charlevoix since 1886.

The decision to raise the assessments in the county to 70 percent of the state's equalization figures represented a compromise. It had been expected that supervisors would set their total at 20 million.

The 70 percent figure means that the schools in the county which stood to gain another $25,000 to $30,000 from the higher base, will feel the effects of the compromise more than any other governmental unit, one supervisor who declined to be quoted, said.

HE POINTED out that the county under the $17,000,000 figure will be allocated enough millage to meet its budget, while holding down the amount the schools can obtain.

Because the state law requires all counties to allocate at least five mills for schools or else forfeit state aid, the schools stood to obtain five mills of the 25 million or about $125,000 or some $40,000 more than they will get on the newly-adopted assessment. This premise is based on the minimum of five mills for the schools, although it must be considered they may get more from the allocation board if they show a need.

The board went on record as favoring the abolishment of the county board of education and letting the county have some control over the Marine Safety code. Resolutions were adopted and will be sent to the legislature.

The attorney general will be asked to rule relative to the publishing the names of welfare recipients. The welfare commission was ordered to publish the names quarterly if the move is legal.

BEAVER ISLAND—A tragedy was averted by a narrow margin Wednesday afternoon when a panel truck carrying four persons went through the ice in the bay of Beaver Island. All were rescued.

Robert "Spec" Gillespie was driving Mrs. Mark Cross, and two children, Freddie and Norine, to meet a plane piloted by Joe McPhillips who was to land on the ice. Gillespie's panel truck went through the ice opposite the King Strang about 3 p. m.

Gillespie and the children jumped free of the truck into the freezing water, but Mrs. Cross went down with the truck. She managed to work loose from the truck and came to the surface for safety. All were brought to shore.

Meanwhile McPhillips had discharged a passenger about a half mile from where the truck went down and not seeing the Cross family who were planning to come to Charlevoix, returned here. He learned of the near tragedy a few minutes later.

Pellston Adds to Lead In Cage Loop

Pellston held the lead in the Northern Michigan Class C league as the seven teams in the conference concluded the 1951 section of their schedules before the holidays.

East Jordan with a lop-sided win over Harbor Springs climbed into second place along with Charlevoix who lost to Petoskey in a non-loop game.

Mancelona by virtue of a win over Boyne City is now sharing third place with Harbor Springs which lost to the Jordanites.

Boyne City and Gaylord with one win and three losses each are holding down last place.

Pellston took a strong hold on first place following a 58-57 overtime win over Gaylord in a mid-week game.

East Jordan moved into a second place tie after defeating the Harbor Rams by 49-17 score. Harbor made only five field goals during the game as the Jordanites led 15-1 at the quarter; 27-3 at the half and 39-9 at the third period.

Don Whiteford racked up 19 points for East Jordan while Dick Williams was high for Harbor with five points.

Mancelona pulled an upset on Boyne City when the Ironmen came through with a 23-10 lead

What Happens Now to Ironton Ferry

What is going to happen to the Ironton Ferry?

That is a question baffling to supervisors as well as other interested persons in Charlevoix county.

The status of the ferry is in doubt at this writing, because the board of supervisors at its special meeting last week voted not to pay any more deficit bills for the ferry, effective Jan. 1, 1952.

The board indicated that it intends to pay all bills contracted for the operation of the ferry through this week. The county paid upwards of $8,000 deficit this year for the ferry and last year the deficit was $5,073. The board of supervisors for two years has assumed obligations of the ferry while having the county road commission operate the ferry for the county.

Supervisors said they are having to call a halt to "picking up the check each year for the ferry operation." They point out that economy reasons dictate their action in dealing with the ferry.

The road commission maintains it does not have necessary funds with which to operate the ferry. So the ferry appears to be an "orphan of circumstances". Nobody wants the orphan, particularly when it costs so much to keep it.

Some supervisors feel that the ferry will never pay for itself but will be a continual drain on the county's pocketbook. That could be true. It's hard to determine.

The traffic on the ferry has decreased in the last two years. This year some 30,000 fares were sold, a decrease of 10 per cent from 1950. Supporters of the ferry maintain that the last two summers have been poor seasons for tourists and resorters.

There is no doubt that the Ironton ferry solves a legitimate need, summer and other seasons as well. The ferry long has had a great appeal for summer visitors who have looked upon the ferry as a tourist attraction.

It received international publicity a few years ago when it was described in Ripley's "Believe it or Not" features in thousands of newspapers throughout the world. We have had visitors by the dozens in the last two years inquire about the Ironton ferry.

Besides its tourist value, what about the nearly-year-around use for the residents in the county. The road to Boyne City via the ferry is a great improvement over the route through East Jordan or twisting, curving road north side of Lake Charlevoix.

Hundreds of farmers and others commuting between Charlevoix and Boyne City and the surrounding area use the ferry almost daily in their work. What is the county going to do to help these people?

Until two years ago, the ferry was operated as a free ferry. But since that time, a toll has been charged with the county picking up the deficit. Faced with mounting costs on every side, the supervisors maintain they have to call a halt to several expenditures including the ferry operation.

In other words, the ferry must stand on its own feet, at least break even, something it has not done in two years, say the supervisors.

How About That 12-Cent Postcard

Several have asked the editor if there wasn't an error in a recent issue, telling about the new rates for post-cards January 1. The story said that government post-cards would then be two cents, and there'd be a 10 per cent extra charge if you bought more than 50.

"Didn't you mean to say," readers asked, "that there'd be a 10 per cent reduction?"

No. The story stands. We checked it before printing, because we didn't believe it, either. If you buy over 50 post-cards, the government penalizes you 10 per cent. You can buy 19 post-cards and they'll cost you 2 cents each, or 98c. But buy 50, and they'll cost you $1, plus the 10 per cent penalty, or $1.10. That 50th post-card costs you 12 cents.

We extend sympathy to all the postal clerks, for they'll listen to an awful lot of unhappy post-card customers, come January 1.

It's hard to think of the New Year with Christmas hardly tucked away . . . but, believe it or not, . . . it's here . . . So how's about giving those resolutions the once over . . . You start by making a long list . . . then you scratch off the ones that don't count . . . and then you omit two thirds of those left . . . and if you're like we are you start don't keep any of them . . .

But all kidding aside . . . when the strains of Auld Lang Syne can be heard on the air, one gets a nostalgic feeling . . . And if you're like we are you start adding up all the things that happened during the year . . . the new friends, the happy events, the heart-aches, the gains and errors, . . . each in its own little niche . . . to be filed away. They They're all pretty vivid in your memory right now but in time the edges will be worn off and they will mellow and you'll look back on 1951 . . . the start of the second half of this century as not too bad a year . . . In fact, whether you realize it or not . . someday you'll be referring to it as the 'good old days' . . . Can you imagine that . . .

But as we take account of the past we also plan for the future . . . Everyone, no matter what his place in life . . . has hope in the future . . . Hope for a better world, a better way of life' . . . And the hope for the eventual realization of the age-old message of Christmas . . . Peace on earth, good will toward men . . . .

So to all of you from all of us this one wish . . . may all your dreams come true . . . in 1952 . .

MSC Offers Help to Resort Business

Operators of establishments catering to the tourist and resorter have an opportunity to receive assistance from the Tourist and Resort Service of Michigan State college.

Headed by L. R. Schoenmann, of the department of Land and Water Conservation, the Tourist and Resort Service has engaged in research work to find out what plans and practices have been found most successful in tourist business management.

The fields of work are site selection and development, building design, utilities, quantity food service, guest entertainment, and business management. No "test tubes" are used.

Staff members learn these better methods from study of technical material and also directly from the successful resort operator.

The work is carried on in all 83 counties of Michigan through the offices of the county agent. In Charlevoix county Ed Rebman of Boyne City is the representative of MSC.

An available list of tourist and resort series of bulletins can be obtained through Mr. Rebman's office or by writing to Tourist and Resort Service, Michigan State college. There is no charge for the bulletins, except an account for resorts.

As of last week, we have a healthy respect for the postoffice department . . . We spent an hour there, watching the arrival of two-hour late northbound mail and believe us, it's an education . . . It was bad enough in our own little postoffice but imagine what it's like in a big terminal and you'll no longer wonder why the mail is late . . . State Stops Buying Red Pine Cones

Foresters will not be competing with squirrels for pine cones now for another several years.

The conservation department has quit buying red pine cones with over 4,300 bushels, enough to last until another good seed year, collected by pickers this fall. Pickers who heeded the call for white spruce cones were able to get only a few to replenisb the seed supply at the three state nurseries.

Top seed years usually come every three to seven years. White spruce seed crop turned out to be poor this fall.

Cones collected in the upper and northern lower peninsulas have been sent to the Higgins Lake nursery where they are being run through an extractor. The 4,300 bushels will provide an extimated 9,000 pounds of seeds which will be cleaned and stored in moisture proof containers until ready for first use next spring.

More Game Bagged In '51 Than Last Year

While the initial summary of the general waterfowl season indicates a light kill, the conservation department discloses that hunters in at least three major concentration centers bagged more game than in the 1950 fall.

At the Pte. Mouillee state game area off Lake Erie, the duck harvest, 3,895 birds as against 2,365 last year, was the best since 1915 when checking station records were first kept. Coot take of 352 was more than double that of 1950 but was no record. Blacks and mallards were most frequently taken by the 5,123 hunters issued permits. Last year 3,510 permits were issued.

Goose harvest at the Swan Creek station "highbanks" in Allegan county was nearly 100 per cent better, with a tally of 1,020 birds as compared to 519 in 1950. Hunting permits issued: about 5,500 as compared to 4,400 before.

In the Fennville game area in Allegan county, there was an increase in total units of game bagged but the goose kill was not as high. Game men checked 552 geese, 59 ducks, 116 pheasants and 13 rabbits as compared to 601 geese, 10 ducks, 66 pheasants and seven rabbits last year. Hunting permits issued: 9,036 as against 9,998 in 1950.

The department points out that while the game kill was better at these stations, there was no evidence of a general increase in migrants in the state this fall. In fact, migrants failed to "build up" before, during, or after the unprecedented storm period in early November.

When is the earth nearest the sun? The earth is nearest the sun in January and farthest from it in July. The former position (called perihelion) occurred in 1951 on January 1, with the distance of 91,477,000 miles. Aphelion, the time of greatest distance, will occur July 4, with a separation of 94,562,000 miles.

Federal Gov't Lags in Returning Road Funds

By Charles Ziegler

Recently, a one-half cent per gallon Federal gasoline tax increase went into effect, which means that Michigan mortorists will pay approximately $9,000,000 more a year to the Federal government.

The question immediately arises of what will be done with that money. So far, there has been no assurance from Washington that any of it will come back to Michigan.

Michigan has been allocated $16,708,787 from the Government's Federal Highway Aid Fund for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1952. That is on the basis of $13,700,000 for the State Highway Department and $3,000,000 for the counties. Newspaper stories referred to the State as a "beneficiary."

Just so that no one will get the mistaken impression that these funds are a "gift" from the Federal Government, let me point out the fact that during the calendar year of 1050 the Federal Government, according to Bureau of Internal Revenue figures, collected from Michigan taxpayers the sum of $80,713,000 in the form of Federal motor vehicle excise taxes.

The addition of a half-cent gasoline tax will raise that figure to approximately $90,000,000, of which less than one-fifth will be returned to Michigan for highway construction on the basis of present allocations. There has been no indication that Congress will appropriate more.

These Federal taxes are not earmarked for highway purposes as are motor vehicle taxes imposed by the State of Michigan. Of the federally-collected taxes on motor vehicles, gasoline, tires and parts, only about one-third have been appropriated by Congress for aid to all the states for highway construction. The allocation is based on a formula which involves land ares, population and road mileage.

The State of Michigan and the counties must match the Federal funds dollar for dollar in order to receive and use them.

High Water Levels Hurt Ferry Service

High levels in the Great Lakes and their contributing waters have caused damage and erosion along most of the shoreline but in few instances has it interfered with transportation as it has at the Ironton ferry on the south arm of Lake Charlevoix.

On at least six days since mid-summer northerly winds have caused the water to rise from eight to ten inches in a short time. It is at these times the ferry must discontinue operations for the craft rides so high above the approaches that is is quite impossible to drive a car aboard for the angle of the approach is so sharp the under-side of the vehicle is damaged. Other times, when the rise is less acute, drivers have boarded the ferry at their own risk.

THESE SAME northerly winds have caused a great deal of erosion at the easterly approach to the ferry which is the least protected from such winds, T. B. Reynolds, Charlevoix county road commission engineer-superintendent, reports. Five truck loads of stone were placed on the north side of the east approach after water washed behind the abutment and an a high wind even washed over the highway.

If the water continues to rise, as Army Engineers anticipate, the present approaches will have to be torn out and rebuilt before the ferry can nperate next season, Reynolds added.

The water has risen an estimated 24 inches since the ferry season started last spring. If predictions come true, it will rise another 18 inches before it reaches its peak next year and starts to recede.

A ferry has been operated since 1886 across the south arm of Lake Charlevoix, forming a link in the road which runs along the south side of the inland lake between Charlevoix, Ironton, Advance and Boyne City.

AN AVERAGE of 45,000 vehicles will be carried this year on the ferry which has operated on a toll basis since the Charlevoix county road commission took over the management of the craft in 1949.

The ferry is diesel-powered and operates on guiding cables across the 550-foot channel from April 1 until Dec. 31 each year, weather permitting.

Alfred Gill is chief operator and Walter Jarvis is assistant ferryman.

Eagles Visit Town For Yule Decorations

Either the bald-headed eagles which make their home at North Point are becoming tamer or they came to Charlevoix to look over the Christmas decorations for they were seen here Monday.

Dr. L. E. Grate whose home is on the north side of Round Lake saw the pair perched in the top of a pine tree in his yard.

The birds ordinarily keep to the wilds and do not come near town.

Long Illness Proves Fatal to John O'Brien

John O'Brien, 97, father of Mrs. William Gibson, died Monday at the Charlevoix Convalescent Home where he had been a patient for several months.

Funeral services will be held at St. Mary's church at 9 a.m. Friday with Rev. Fr. Malinowski officiating. Burial in St. Mary's cemetery.

Born in New York state July 4, 1854, Mr. O'Brien came to Beaver Island with his parents at the age of five years. He was married to the former Adeline Brown who preceded him in death. He was a retired farmer. He had made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Gibson, for 14 years.

He was a member of St. Mary's church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Gibson of this city and Mrs. Agnes O'Donnell of St. James; a son, Wilfred O'Brien also of St. James; three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

200 Attend Road Group Annual Christmas Party

The Charlevoix county Road employees club held its fifth annual Christmas party at the Boyne City high school gymnasium Saturday evening. More than 200 employees and their immediate families attended the dinner at 6 p.m and the program which followed.

S. E. Rogers, chairman of the county road commission, in a brief talk expressed his appreciation to the club for its past work. He also had a word for those employees who have sacrificed time with their families, particularly on holidays, so the traveling public might have open highways on which to enjoy their holidays.

Mr. Rogers then presented three employees with service awards for years of continuous service. They were William Barnett of East Jordan with 15 years service; Elston Pischner of St. James with ten years and William Vrondran of East Jordan with five years.

This is the second year the awards were made. Last year they were presented to employees. They are presented for every five years of service.

Gus Burns of Boyne City, a retired employee, was presented with a gift for former service and cooperation.

Following the program a feature length movie and two Christmas cartoons were shown. A visit from Santa Claus climaxed the entertainment for the children. Each youngster was given a yuletide gift.

The Christmas party is one of two events planned by the club for their families. The other is the annual picnic at Whiting Park.

To Market

A "shelling" mill prepares the peanut crop for market. Here field debris is cleaned out; here the nuts are well brushed with split bamboo bristles; and here the bulk of the crop is machine shelled and then carefully sorted and graded. Only clean, sound nuts—none broken or shriveled — are bagged according to size, and sent to salters, peanut butter manufacturers, candy manufacturers and other users of shelled peanuts. All other grades are "crushed" for the oil and cake.

Air Force Dance Band to Play in Petoskey Feb. 16

A real musical treat is in store for those attending the Petoskey Winter Sports Ball on Saturday evening February 16, President Robert Humphries announced this week.

Confirmation has been received from the Commanding General of the 10th Air Force, Selfridge Field, stating plans have been completed for the famous Air Force Dance Band to play for the annual event in the high school auditorium.

The 14-piece musical organization is heard over coast-to-coast radio networks on numerous Air Force Recruiting Broadcasts.

"This year's Winter Sports Ball will be one of the big local events included in our Centennial Celebration," President Humphries stated "We feel fortonate that we have been able to book this outstanding dance orchestra to play for us. We are going to prepare for the largest crowd ever had."

Arrangements for securing the Air Force Dance Band were made by Major Paul F. Versepnt of Harbor Springs, commanding officer of the local Air Force Unit.

continued giving by the Christian community in spe the fields: ed in Point Four might help, and Health, housing, agriculture, etc. Here in Hong Kong, the British authorities will only recognize a refugee camp of 20,000 lest they be flooded with those who would then cross the border, and leave to the Chinese community to absorb, as best it can, the millions more. The hills are covered with squatters' shacks pitifully. There are 200,000 cases of T.B. known with a maximum of 600 beds available. The Chinese themselves are doing all they can.

They have wonderful churches with fine facilities and, in many cases, a day-school attached, for which they get grants from the government. Most of George's lectures were given in these churches to fine, eager audiences. At least we learned they were eager, afterwards: The Chinese listen with very serious and almost stolid expression; and you never know, at the time, whether you are putting it over or not.

I AM FINISHING this on the plane to Bangkok and am so sorry I could not get it into the mail before we left. This was partly because the American Consul-General insisted on giving a luncheon for us before we left. His car met the ferry and drove us to the top of almost the highest point in Hong Kong island range. There the consul's house sits exactly on the ridge point, and he can see in every direction such views as you cannot possibly conceive: Right over the city and harbor, across Kowloon peninsula to the Soviet boundary and over the surrounding islands out to the Pacific.

We have just been presented with the usual innumerable papers necessary for landing in a foreign land. The Philippines were definitely the worst we have hit so far both going in and coming out. They say they are modelled on those of the U.S.A.: they run their hands up and down you for firearms and hunt through your baggage like a swarm of locusts . . . quite an experience. I yes, and when you leave they put you in quarantine for ten minutes.

One of the nice things in Hong Kong has been a bath tub and hot water, and, on the whole, cooler weather though we have not need a blanket since we left Tokyo.

Everyone says. "Just wait till you get to Bangkok, that's heat."

'Wind it up' says his majesty who is waiting for the typewriter to write his reports on the Philippines and Hong Kong so . . .

Many Suffer From Diabetes But Don't Know It

Thousands of Michigan people have diabetes and don't know it. Unless these people are found and treated, they may develop serious complications, the Michigan Department of Health said.

In an effort to find an estimated 37,500 unknown diabetics in the State, the Michigan Diabetes Association, the Michigan State Medical Society, the local medical societies and the State and local health departments are co-operating in sponsoring Diabetes Detection Week.

Diabetes occurs in Children and sex. It occurs most frequently in adults, at any age, in either among blood relatives of diabetics, among those who are overweight, and among those who are past 40. It is more common in women than in men, the Health Department said.

Symptoms include unusual thirst and frequent irritating urination; increased appetite and loss of weight; fatigue; and, possibly, boils and carbuncles or slow healing of cuts and bruises.

Missionary Family Arrives in Charlevoix

The Rev. and Mrs. Charles Struthers, Church of God Missionaries in Jamaica since Aug., 1946, accompanied by their sons, John and Freddie, arrived home Friday for a two months leave from their church duties.

They left Jamaica via air Dec. 3 and after reporting at church headquarters at Anderson, Ind., came north to visit Mrs. Struthers' mother, Mrs. John Funk and Mr. Funk and her brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Benjamin E. Palmer at Barryton.

They arrived here Friday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Struthers. They plan to spend the next ten days between Charlevoix and Barryton.

After the holidays they will go east for a brief stay before returning to their mission.

Last of Lighthouses Close for Winter

The lighthouse keepers from Lansing Shoals and White Shoals were brought here Wednesday morning by the U. S. C. G. cutter, Woodbine, who made the trip from Grand Haven to hring the men in for the winter.

The two lighthouses were the last of the many in northern Lake Michigan to close. Others were brought in earlier by the U.S.C.G. cutter Sundew.

What About Automobiles?

One more household suggestion: In times of emergency don't park the family automobile on the street. Leave the way clear for emergency traffic. Keep the windows rolled up to prevent possible contamination of the interior by underwater or ground bursts and don't worry whether or not it will run. Radioactivity won't interfere with operation of its fuel or ignition system.

Old Timetable

In the archives of the Boston & Maine railroad there is an 1850 timetable which lists the operation of a Sunday train. This special announcement solemnly warned Sunday riders: "Persons purchasing tickets will be required to sign a pledge that they will use the tickets for no other purpose than attending church."

Suggestions For Winterizing Farm Tractors

"There are two approaches to the problem of winterizing the farm tractor," says R. G. White, Michigan State College agricultural engineer. "The approach we take depends upon the type of use the tractor is going to get."

If you're going to store the tractor for the winter, you should have drained the radiator and block by now. The liquid ballast in the tires should be removed if it doesn't contain calcium chloride or other anti-freeze.

The gas tank and carburetor should be completely drained. A complete crank case service also should be on the schedule, drain the oil, service the oil filter element and refill to the proper level with the proper grade of oil. In short, the tractor should be completely lubricated and it is a good idea to remove the plugs and pour a teaspoon or two of lubricating oil into the combustion chambers. Put the plugs back in and turn the motor over a few times with the starter or hand crank to spread the oil film over the cylinder walls.

The battery should be removed and stored in a cool place where it won't freeze. It also is a good idea to jack the tractor up on blocks to take the weight off the tires.

For a tractor in use the important points to remember are to use the correct winter grade of oil in the crank case, to service the crank case more frequently because of cold operation and moisture condensation, to use the manufacturer's recommended grade of lubricants for winter operation.

Getting Feeder Cattle Started Is Important

Feeder cattle are like baby chicks, except that they are much larger and more expensive, says W. L. Finley, of the department of animal husbandry at Michigan State College.

He explains that feeder cattle like baby chicks, are new tenants on your farm. Like baby chicks, getting them started off right is essential for top profits.

Before the cattle arrive the accumulated litter and manure should be removed. Wet, muddy places should be filled or drained. Feed bunks, hay racks and especially the water tank should be carefully cleaned. The tank should be re-filled with clean, fresh water. A liberal supply of clean fresh bedding and plenty of rest will help the cattle regain their vigor.

Put the cattle on their regular feeding program as rapidly as possible. For the first week give them a pound or two of whole oats a head per day. Sprinkle on a small quantity of trace mineral salt, and then add a little bright, first-cutting hay. They may be moved up to a full grain ration in 14 to 21 days.

New cattle often will avoid the barn if possible. It may be a good idea to keep them in it for a few days, leaving the doors open so they can get lots of fresh air, but avoid cold, damp drafts.

Finley warned that you should never mix new cattle with others on your farm until they have been there for 21 to 28 days. Watch for tired, sick cattle. In case of sickness, call the veterinarian at once, remove the questionable steer from the herd and get him to eat and drink.

If your cattle have lice it will pay you to check with your county agricultural agent. He probably will advise you to pick a good, bright day and spray them with methoxychlor or lindane.

New Dairy Research Center Opens at MSC

This new dairy research and demonstration center is now in use at Michigan State college. Utilizing the latest findings in pen type barn layout, the building shows adaptations of construction which may be used on any dairy farm.

Milking cows are housed in the Quonset structure at the right. Also in this building is the milking area—with a four-cow milking parlor and milkhouse. Milk moves directly from the animals in a cooling tank in one operation. A bulk truck picks the milk up for delivery to the dairy plant.

Young stock is housed in the Quonset building at the left, together with the herd's supply of hay and straw. Cows have free access to the hay and silage supply.

The "self-feeding" silo is the first of its kind in Michigan and was constructed for experimental study.

Corn or Grass Silage Factors Weighed by Agents

With all the current emphasis on grass silage, Ed Rebman, county agricultural agent, this week pointed out the difference between grass silage and corn silage.

He told Charlevoix county farmers that there are some points to keep in mind when changing over to the silo with legume or legume-grass mixtures in it.

In short hay crop silage is lower in total digestible nutrients and especially in net energy than well-eared corn silage on a dry matter basis. That's because corn silage contains a large amount of grain.

This difference may be largely offset by the fact that most hay crop silage has higher protein content than corn silage does. Less protein supplement therefore is needed when legume silage is fed. Often no protein supplement is reuired when hay silage is fed.

Because grass or legume silage is lower than corn silage in TDN and net energy on a dry matter basis than well-eared corn silage, it may be necessary to feed higher producing cows a little more grain with grass or legume silage, Rebman said.

Your cows may be finicky about eating the grass mixture at first—it isn't as palatable as good corn silage—so don't expect grass silage to disappear from in front of the herd as fast as corn silage.

Flavor A Factor In Good Milk

"Good flavor is an important factor in selling milk since most people drink milk because they like its taste," says D. L. Murray, Michigan State College extension dairyman.

"For this reason, every effort should be made by dairy producers to adopt methods that will insure the fine, delicate flavor that is natural to milk," he continues. That requires attention in several factors.

First consideration is the individual cow, since length of time she has been milked, health of the udder and similar factors may affect milk flavor. If any cows in your herd don't appear normal, keep their milk separate.

"Avoid feeding feeds that have a strong odor, such as silage before milking since this is apt to taint the milk," Murray says. "Proper ventilation will insure that feed and barn ordors will be removed. Cows breathing air which is strong with feed and barn ordors will cause the milk to have a like, off-flavor and odor."

He points out that clean utensils for handling, and storing the milk at cold temperature to avoid high bacterial counts also will help prevent bad flavors.

Nimrod Uses Antique Gun for Hunting

Modern guns have no part in the hunting plans of a Grand Rapids hunter.

Using a Flintlock Kentucky squirrel rifle in the recent general deer season was Charles Knapp, according to Conservation Officer Harold Calkins.

The gun uses a 45-caliber lead ball which Knapp moulds himself. He carries the powder horn on a strap around his neck and the ball bullets in a leather pouch. The rifle has to be muzzle loaded each time it is shot. Firing mechanism consists of a hammer with a piece of flint attached which ignites the powder, discharging the gun.

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By Gene Alleman
Lansing Observer for Michigan Press Association

While most of the state was enjoying the pre-holiday season, the state defense council tossed in a civil defense budget that may worry a good many legislators in 1952. The council asked for $3,200,000 in state funds. Additional $1,048,900 expected from the federal government and $682,355 expected from local governments on a matching basis would provide a total of $4,931,820.

That is assuming, of course, that state lawmakers will stay put for the original request. Last year the civil defense department asked for $7,000,000. It was given $1,073,000. But the CD department has shown amazing progress in one year and the legislature is likely to be a bit more loose with the purse strings despite an unprecedented budget fight which is sure to come.

The proposed new program would include $1,479,420 for continuation of mass blood typing; $240,000 to buy 38 fire pumpers and $76,105 for air raid sirens.

Meanwhile Gov. Williams is scouting around to learn the basis of complaints of lack of leadership levelled at a Wayne county medical society meeting.

A RECEPTION and "welcome to Michigan" luncheon is being planned at the capital city for General of the Army Douglas MacArthur on the occasion of his address to the State Legislature Thursday evening, May 15. The Michigan Press Association Inc., is in charge of reception arrangements in cooperation with a joint committee of the legislature headed by Rep. William Broomfield, Royal Oak.

WILL THERE BE a gasoline tax referendum? There still is a fog of doubt on whether the C.I.O. will be able to get the issue on the ballot next fall. The petitions were checked and the required number found valid. But the secretary of state's office says many of the petitions were circulated by persons who were not registered voters. If so, the signatures on those petitions will be tossed out. Thus far, 94,566 signatures have been found valid, 54,392 invalid. At least 93,970 are needed to put the issue to a vote. It will be a tight squeeze.

Men who failed their draft mental tests will be called for re-examination after the first of the year. Some 400 will be tapped again in January.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT of public instruction has advised school officials to be a bit more careful with their money. The department suggests that all business be carried on by check and that money be deposited daily. Reason: A rash of school break-ins throughout the state.

There was a record low of forest fires in Michigan during 1951. An intensified prevention campaign held state total to 671 fires burning 4,317 acres. Previous record was in 1950 with 873 fires burning 5,606 acres.

Although politics in the state are passed around the Yule holidays the Vanderbergs keep popping up, Junior may have his eye on his father's cloak, and Williams could have an orb cast at the governor's chair. Both have held off making any announcement. Both have a mighty good vote-getting name, but not good enough by itself to carry a winner.

This year more than 400,000 Christmas trees were sold netting the state at least $60,000 in sales tax and license fees. Average cost of tree: $5.

MICHIGAN was fourth in the census gain, jumping 1,115,060 in population between 1940 and 1950. Of that, 778,000 were due to births, 337,000 moving in from out of the state.

Joseph R. Tuczak put his Detroit restaurant on the map and money in the bank when he lowered his prices to 1939 levels. But cutting soup to five cents a bowl and T-Bones to $1.25 brought down every inspector in the city heater. "They checked everything upon him. They ordered the walls rat-proofed. Made him put in a from the pancake syrup to the neon sign," he said. Even the smoke inspector called on him. "Only smoke around here is out of the cash register," says Tuczak.

A bill has been filed for introduction in the 1952 legislature to triple the deductions allowed retailers on gross proceeds. Says Louis O. Nims, state revenue commissioner, "It might cost the state $4,000,000 a year."

265-Pound Buck Shot In Southern Michigan

At least three hunters who failed to bag deer in northern woods have returned to score in the Highland state recreation area near here.

Murray Titsworth, park manager, reports the largest checked was a 10-point, 265-pound buck shot by a Pontiac hunter.

With deer being seen more in the 3,500-acre area, in a few years some hunters may not consider it necessary to go north for the first crack at a buck.

Area Extension Class To Be Organized

An extension class from Central Michigan College will be organized at the Petoskey high school Thursday, Jan. 10. Mrs. Catherina C. Bergeon, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools announced this week.

The courses tentatively arranged are Michigan Local History and Creative Writing.

Both clases will give resident credit.

The creative writing course will deal with writing with local materials, local legends, tall tales, colorful persons, biographies, local history and features.

The course in Michigan local history will be conducted largely as a workshop. Individual and group projects are under taken to the end that valid historial materials may be compiled and prepared to local schools and community use.

Lectures and readings provide historical backgrounds and basic knowledge of research technique, as well as a correlation and interpretation of local with state and national history.

The meeting has been called for 7 p.m. at the Petoskey high school. Further information can be obtained from Mrs. Bergeon or Bruce T. Blanchard, Emmet county superintendent of schools.

PETOSKEY broke the ice in the opening minutes and from that point on managed to control the ball game. The losers scored six points in the first quarter against 12 for the winners.

The Rayders were held to seven points in the second period, the same number Petoskey scored. In the third period, The Rayders were held to field goals by Denemy and Boss and a foul by Bud Barber. Meanwhile the Northmen scored 10.

The losers hit the hoop for 11 points in the final stanza but Petoskey came through with 14.

Governor Helps Polio Drive

Three-year-old Margaret Rosa Oxley, who was stricken with polio 18 months ago, has a big smile for Governor G. Mennen Williams as he makes the first contribution to the 1952 March of Dimes. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has exhausted its resources paying the cost of medical care and treatment of polio victims. During 1951 the organization sent more than $800,000 to Michigan chapters, in addition to money raised locally, to pay polio bills.

No Joyful Tidings This Year

State Deficit Expected to Hit 60 Million Mark by End of '52

Most noteworthy of 1951 was the howling wolf at the Capitol doors. His footprints track through most every state department.

Michigan is not likely to forget the year soon. The Legislature boosted taxes 46 million dollars and the federal government swooped in to grab 400 millions more in income and excise taxes.

But despite the bigger bite in revenue, the state treasury deficit rose 40 million dollars on June 30 and is expected to reach 60 million next year.

And more taxes to come—state government's finances appear insoluable without another major nick from the taxpayer's wallet.

The Legislature, due back in Lansing Jan. 9, should be prepared to face a spine-jarring budget from the governor. In a "pre-session" message, Williams said the state faces an additional cost of $21,700,000 from the general fund alone for financial aids to local governments during the 1952-53 fiscal year. Of the increase, $18,400,000 is for education and $2,800,000 for additional welfare costs.

A SUGGESTION from the budget office to discontinue the Michigan Veterans Vocational School at Pine Lake drew protests from the state office of vocational rehabilitation which claimed such a move would be "illogical and wasteful". At the same time, an additional appropriation was requested by the OVR.

Michigan manufacturers took raw materials and added $7,392,255,000 to their value by manufacture last year. Michigan ranked fifth in the nation as a manufacturing state, third among the east-northcentral states area.

DURING 1951 the state highway department contracted for $41,000,000 worth of state and county road projects and expects a $45,000,000 construction program in 1952.

The state treasury has suspended investment of public funds in long term securities pending a crystallization of bond markets. State Treasurer D. Hale Brake says more than $100,0000,000 worth of assets will bear "the closest watch if the state is to obtain its maximum earnings."

Dr. John A. Hannah, president of Michigan State College, says MSC enrollment could reach 35,000 by 1968 if present birth and college entrance trends continue. Present enrollment is some 16,000 students.

THE CONSERVATION department warns ice fishermen that using the top or the bottom of lakes for public waste baskets is punishable as a misdemeanor.

The Pentagon has announced it is setting up four Reserve Officers Training schools in Michigan. They will be located at Lansing, Grand Rapids, Flint and Battle Creek. Purpose: Allow reservists to continue training and offer specialist courses.

Post Office Receipts Show $3,000 Boost

Receipts at the Charlevoix postoffice were up approximately $3,000 over 1950, Acting Postmaster Peter Timmer, reported this week as the current year ended.

The total receipts for the year were slightly over $30,000, $2,500 of the total increase being realized since the summer season and can be credited to the local plants which have been shipping many of their products through the local office. They are Mort Wood Products, Paul-Reed, Inc., Foster Boat and Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp.

Christmas mail was about the same this year as last, Mr. Timmer continued, with the postoffice handling approximately 65,000 Christmas cards during the month of December.

Parcel post was down a little over the previous year. The fact that parcel post rates went up about 29 per cent Nov. 1 is believed to be one of the reasons for the decrease.

This year mailers seemed to be heeding the department's request to mail parcels early and for this reason there was never a backlog of parcel post as there had been on occasions in the past.

Mrs. Palmer Presents Pupil At Recital

Beaver Island—Mary Elizabeth Gallagher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Gallagher, was presented in her first piano recital Dec. 27 by Mrs. Russell Palmer at the Palmer home.

Mary Elizabeth played and sang. Her numbers included "Little Spring Song", Puppets on Parade", Aesten, and "Lullaby, from Joselyn", "Rock-a-Bye-Baby" and "I Wonder Where The Robins Go" (Wigham)-vocal.

Rheumatic Fever Center To Serve Area

Everyone in Charlevoix county, young or old, can now receive the most modern rheumatic fever diagnostic services available. All it takes is a telephone call to your family doctor.

That is the report of Thomas R. Kirk, M.D., Petoskey, chairman of the newly created Northern Michigan rheumatic fever diagnostic and consultation center, serving Antrim, Charlevoix, Cheboygan, Emmet and Otsego counties.

The new rheumatic fever center, at the Little Traverse hospital, Petoskey, is the latest addition to the growing list of counties cooperating in the rheumatic fever control program of the Michigan State Medical society. The primary concern of the program is aimed at bringing about a marked reduction in the number of rheumatic fever and rheumatic heart disease cases.

Statistics show that rheumatic fever, commonly referred to as childhood's greatest enemy, causes five times as many deaths as polio, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, measles, and meningitis combined, in addition to causing much of the heart disease revealed in later life.

SINCE ITS inception, the program has increased from an original pilot control center at Marquette, to 30 rheumatic fever diagnostic and consultation centers located in sixteen well-defined areas of the State.

Following a pattern which has met with success throughout the State, the Northern Michigan Center at Petoskey has six essential features: (1) The family doctor of medicine may refer his patients to the center for examination because rheumatic fever is sometimes very difficult to diagnose accurately and because the diagnosis involves various fields of medical science such as electrocardiography, laboratory work, X-ray, and other indicated studies. (2) Exhaustive laboratory tests are made at the center, (3) Following the tests, doctor of medicine especially experienced in dealing with rheumatic fever review the results of each individual case. (4) All consultation time is contributed by the medical doctors while only a minimal laboratory fee is charged the patient. (5) The referring family doctor then receives a report of the center's findings and recommendations for treatment of the patient. (6) The family physician carries out the suggested treatment, and may re-refer the patient to the Center should additional consultation be desired.

Knight Unopposed Barring Slips; Primary Is Feb. 18

Mayor John Knight is unopposed for his third term of office, barring the entrance of a slip candidate.

The deadline for filing petitions for city offices, 4 p.m. Dec. 31, passed with only the incumbent's petition being filed for the mayor's post. The city primary is set for Feb. 18.

Contests for first and third ward aldermanic races appeared assured and a contest for the first ward supervisor's post was in doubt because of a late filing of a petition.

Drew Young who was a candidate for mayor last year and who was appointed alderman from the first ward in October when William Heering resigned because of ill health, will be opposed by Donald W. Herrick. This is Herrick's first try for political office.

In the third ward, Incumbent Ralph S. Hamilton, who is serving his first term as alderman, will face Dean Davenport, local insurance man. Former „Coach of the Rayders, Ray L. Kipka, filed a petition for second ward alderman. He is unopposed.

Alderman Carl Kohler who has moved from the second ward, did not file for re-election. A city attorney's ruling early last year was to the effect that Mr. Kohler's absence from the second ward, could be interpreted as only temporary. Kohler has been on the council several years.

KIT CARSON, lumber dealer, will seek election as first ward supervisor. His opponent, incumbent George Haggard, filed his petition 32 minutes after the deadline—4 p.m.

According to rules for a fourth class city, his petition was invalidated by not being filed on time, one city official said. However, Haggard could not be reached for comment as to whether he would appeal.

Clarence Meggison, third ward, and Arthur Bergeon, second ward, will not be opposed for the supervisors posts, barring entrance of slip candidates.

Incumbents Nelle A. Hammond, treasurer, and Hugh Mayne, clerk, were also unopposed.

Unique Bathroom In Thailand Amuses Visitors

By Mrs. George Buttrick

We would have given a lot if you could have seen us flying up here. We were up at 5:15 a.m., drove 20 miles to the airport and caught the 7 a.m. plane for this far northern city of about 70,000 people.

The plane was packed with the most amazing assortment of humans and freight including some gaudy paper canopies for a cremation and a wicker basket with a gibbon (monkey) inside it.

We made three stops enroute dropping down in huge meadows where water buffalo were grazing and where the only airport was a thatched roof over four bamboo poles about 6 by 8 ft. A girl sat at a table with a radio machine and a few charts.

Two-thirds of the route was over rice fields standing in water, the rest over teak forests and lonely mountains about 5000 ft. high. Chiangmai is on a plain at the foot of one mountain on the top of which is perched a buddhist monastery. But more of Chiangmai later, I must go back and start properly where I left off in the plane enroute to Bangkok.

WHAT AN amazing city it is . . . one's first impression is one of water, water everywhere. You see it first as you fly low over the rice fields. You look down on green fields almost lying in water, with little groups of thatched huts on stilts and the only transportation is by boat.

They say that if you dig down only six inches to a foot anywhere you have water, that the city is really built on a marsh.

There are roads but, besides them and running every which way are canals called "klongs". There is also one wide river going through the center of the city. The "klongs" are main means of transportation and are packed with boats little and bigger.

Many are tied to the banks as house boats and they have crude, rounded bamboo covers open each end where the cooking is done. The filthy klongs provide washing and drinking water, water for cleaning teeth, everything. The people must have acquired a strong immunity or they would all be dead.

TALKING OF WATER, you should see our bathroom here and in Bangkok The house in Bangkok was about 50x60 ft. and the Ryburns lived on the second floor over the board office. The outside walls were screening with enough partitions within to make the necessary rooms.

We had three small rooms entered by short swinging doors hung midway in the openings, a dressing room, bathroom and doubly screened sleeping room at a corner of the house.

The bathroom is about 8x10 ft. In one corner is a mosiac floor about 4x6 ft. surrounded by a concrete wall 18 inches high. Inside the wall is an enormous jar, at least 3½ ft. high and 2½ ft. at the widest.

It is filled with water, so, after this preamble, imagine standing within the enclosure and pouring cold water out of the jar over yourself from a pitcher, presto, your bath. Here at Chiangmai all the water is carried in from a well; in Bangkok, there is a little running water here and there but the pressure is so low much still has to be carried.

Most of the poorer houses in Bangkok have nothing but the river or the klong and the squalor is indescribable.

On the other hand this is a rice surplus country so the people themselves, if they have money, can get enough food. The wages for a laborer range from five to ten baht a day. The foreigners call them tickals which makes it easy to remember that a tickal is a nickel. A driver and a house boy gets 4,000 tickals a month; a maid 250 and they live in little native huts back of the main houses and are supposed to keep themselves.

IN CONTRAST with the dirt and poverty are the palace and temple areas These are exotic and colorful; ablaze with goldleaf and mosiac. The priests add to the color because they wear bright orange robes and often carry red umbrellas.

A good Buddhist youth will serve as a priest for three months of his life, and part of his duties is to go out twice daily and beg for food carrying a food bowl in a bag. You even see the priests at 6 a.m. in little boats going up and down the klongs on the same mission. There is one priest for every 40 persons.

One of the tragedies is the infant and child mortality throughout the country. It is incredibly high because of the filth and disease and because of the drownings as the children fall into the river or klong and no one sees.

ANOTHER terrific disease is leprosy Today we visited the main leper colony for northern Siam. There is estimated at least 40,000 persons with leprosy in this district alone and only 2,000 are under treatment and yet sulpha DDS is an absolute cure.

The colony is a beautifully-run, self-supporting village under our mission. We have in Bangkok and here, and in ever so many other towns and villages the most excellent schools and hospitals,

What Is The Matter With Charlevoix?

What is the matter with Charlevoix?

That question was asked by more than one relative or friend of any of the young men who have left this county to enter the services of their country in recent months.

You want to know why that question was asked.

The last three times that young men have been at the bus station to leave for induction, less than five persons have been at the bus depot to say goodbye to the boys who are setting aside quiet lives at home and the comforts of home for the uncertain life of military barracks.

Some of these boys may see combat service. Most of them will face danger of injury or the sacrifice of life in the next few months, particularly will this be true if the "police action" in Korea spreads to other points.

These boys can leave their loved ones, their homes, their everyday cares, their thoughts of an education or trade school. All this they must forget for the time being because their country needs them. Some are enlisting, others are being drafted. It makes no difference. But the important thing is that they are leaving all the things they love the most.

It certainly is not their choice that they lead a military life for two years or more . . . right in the prime of life when they were hoping to get started in adult life. If they were derelict in their duty to support their country, we would be the first to criticize them for their lack of patriotism.

BUT WHAT DO WE DO?

Nothing except present them with a little farewell gift . . . that from the Charlevoix Service Organization that encounters trouble raising a few dollars through voluntary donations to cover this expense and other incidentals connected with this project.

We don't even give them a thought when these boys come to our town from all over the county for transportation to the induction center.

While these young men . . . tomorrow's leaders . . . are leaving, we don't think enough of them to say goodbye by stopping in at the bus station for 10 or 15 minutes to wish them a quick return to their civilian chores.

Ask Ralph Hamilton about the turnout at the bus station. It used to be that only a handful attended the boys' leaving. The last month, only ONE person other than himself was there to say goodbye. Naturally this does not include members of the families of the young men, naturally they were there.

But where were so many others of us, myself included? We were going about our daily jobs without giving any thought to these lads who must be pretty forlorn at leaving all the nice things in life for the uncertain tomorrow of military life.

Certainly those of us who can spare 10 minutes from our terrifically busy day should make it a point to say farewell to these lads.

Where is the Kiwanis club, the Lions club and the other service organizations. They could do a great deal if they delegated a committee from within their membership to say goodbye to the men leaving for service.

Notices of the time of their leaving is carried in the Courier at least twice before they are scheduled to leave.

Can we do any less for these boys?

Penny Postal Card Now Is Past History

The penny postcard became a 'has-been' this week when the postoffice department increased the postage on the card to two cents, effective Jan. 1.

It is estimated by the postoffice department that 90 percent of postcards are used by advertisers. It is for this reason that purchases of more than 49 cards will cost the buyer an additional 10 percent; that is, 49 cards will be sold for 98 cents but 50 cards will cost the buyer $1.10. This is being done in an effort to discourage advertisers in the use of the postcard.

There will be no increase in letter and airmail rates at this time, acting postmaster Peter Timmer added.

Other increased rates include special delivery rates which have been increased from 15 to 20 cents on letters and from 25 to 35 cents on parcels under two pounds. Rates on larger size packages have been increased accordingly.

Rates on registered mail have also gone up. It will now cost 30 cents for a letter which has no monetary value and from 40 cents up on letters which have a value set on them.

Increases in parcel post rates became effective Nov. 1 and will not be changed at this time.

HASN'T IT BEEN wonderful having many of our young folks with us over the holidays . . . Most of the college youngsters have been here along with many servicemen . . . Some who managed holiday furlough and leaves and others who had brief leaves for one or the other major holidays . . . But they were home and we know their families were happy to have them here . . .

WASN'T IT wonderful, listening to the Blue-Gray football game at Montgomery Saturday, to hear Bill Carey's name mentioned so many times . . . He played a whale of a game . . . too bad the North couldn't have won . . . but it was a good game and we're sure everyone enjoyed it despite the loss . . . And one couldn't help but thinking of the sacrifice Bob made when he chose to stay wth the Michigan State basketball squad instead of playing in the East-West game . . . It would have been a grand experience and such a grand trip . . . We hope the Spartans appreciate his generous act . . . New Year's Day wrapped up football for another year . . . but don't worry, it won't seem like a year when the whistle again blows for the kick-off . . . but we must admit there won't be the interest that there's been for the past four years . . . But let's look forward now to Carey Day next March . . . Let's make that the big bow on a grand package of memories for the two boys who have carved a wonderful spot in both high school and college athletics . . .

DO YOU HAVE your Christmas tree dismantled? . . . Have you written all your thank you notes . . . are all the gifts packed away . . . have you broken all those New Year's resolutions? . . Good . . . then you're ready for 1952 . . .

AND BY the way, did you remember that this is Leap year? . . . Here's your chance, gals, and don't say we didn't remind you at the start so you can take full advantage of its 366 days . . And it won't roll around for another four years so make it count.

WE KNOW a lot of little boys who ordered electric trains from Santa Claus but we'd like to mention one little girl who was lucky enough to receive one . . . it was all she wanted for Christmas . . . she's Janet Sue Schroeder and she and her daddy, John Schroeder, have been having some wonderful times playing with it in their basement play-room . . . lucky girl . . .

If you're one of those people who wish on a load of hay and you did just that last week but your wish didn't come true, don't be worried about it . . . The load of hay was probably the one which toppled over when the truck was taking it to the Municipal dock to be loaded aboard the North Shore for transportation to Beaver Island . . . The boat, incidently, is about to end its regular run . . . what with the harbor at St. James frozen over, the supplies in and the plane taking over the mail . . .

George Richardson of Grand Rapids is spending the holidays with his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bergmann and other relatives and friends.

You—and the SCRAP METAL EMERGENCY

ANSWERS every farmer should have to questions about scrap iron and steel

Q. Why is iron and steel scrap a matter of importance to farmers?

A. Steel for our Country's defense program and civilian economy is being produced at the highest annual rate ever . . . and this will be greatly increased in 1952. Farm machinery and equipment needs must come from this over-all supply. As steel production increases the need for scrap increases.

Q. How does scrap figure in the production of steel?

A. One pound of scrap is needed to make two pounds of steel.

Q. Is scrap getting scarce?

A. Yes, the supply of scrap at the steel mills and foundries is not increasing fast enough to meet the needs of expanding steel production. Yet, there are millions of tons of idle iron and steel scrap, in small amounts, on farms throughout the country.

Q. What if the needed scrap isn't obtained?

A. That will mean a serious loss of steel production . . . fewer products will be made of steel. It will mean more shortages of civilian products. Defense needs come first.

Q. Why not use pig iron instead of scrap?

A. Every ton of scrap conserves approximately 2 tons of iron ore, 1 ton of coal, nearly ½ ton of limestone and many other vital natural resources—to say nothing of transportation facilities. Besides, there are not enough blast furnaces to produce the iron needed to maintain production.

Q. How can more scrap be furnished?

A. By everybody pitching in—as we always do in every emergency—and searching out all possible sources of scrap. Manufacturers of all kinds of products are conducting scrap drives. Old ships are being salvaged . . . scrap is being obtained from countless sources including farms.

What is Scrap?

Q. What is farm scrap?

A. It is any worn out, obsolete, unrepairable equipment, tools or other objects made of metal. It may be resting and rusting in fence corners, in the fields, the barnyard or the tool shed.

Q. What should be done with farm scrap?

A. See that every bit of scrap gets to the scrap dealer located nearest to you. He will break it up into sizes used by the steel mills and foundries. He'll classify the metals then ship the scrap in carload lots. If you do not know the name of your local scrap dealer, consult your local implement dealer for this information.

Q. What else can I do about farm scrap?

A. Support the scrap drive organized in your locality. Work with your local Scrap Mobilization Committee in getting the scrap started back to the steel mills and foundries through the local scrap dealer.

You'll be helping your country—and yourself!

Rayders Seek Victory Path Against Mancelona

Charlevoix Weakened By Loss of Center For Most of Season

The Charlevoix Red Rayders are hoping to start the New Year right by getting off to a fresh start against an up and coming Mancelona team here Friday night.

The New Year does not appear to bright at the moment for Coach Del Terrill's charges who have lost their last two games . . . Petoskey and East Jordan. That all happened before the holiday vacation. And Coach Terrill is hopeful that the extended rest did the local boys much good.

Tied for second place in the NMCC, the Rayders look at the next few games with considerable misgivings. And rightfully so, as they have lost their lanky center. Dean Boss, who was high point man in three of the team's four games.

Boss suffered a fracture of the left wrist in a collision in the Petoskey game. Doctors are hesitant about predicting whan he will rejoin his mates. Meantime, Dean has been spending plenty of time in working out, attempting to use his right hand in hooking shots.

In Boss's place is likely to be Charles Krahnke, who has been substituting for the injured player at various times so far this season. Bobo Bennett who broke a blood vessel in his ankle in the Petoskey encounter is expected to be ready for Mancelona.

THE LAST TIME Mancelona played, it defeated Boyne City in a thriller 58-56. Several coaches in the conference believe that Mancelona is a strong dark horse and gives promise of upsetting quite a few rivals this winter.

Mancelona boasts wins over Boyne City, Onaway while losing to Harbor Springs by two points, Pellston by six points and Kalkaska by five points. But the last two games has witnessed a big improvement in the team's play.

Mencelona's coach, Matt Jacobson, has a team that avarages a little over six feet. Star of the team is a surprising sophomore, Johnny Holstad, who is the team's leading scorer, and who dumped in 19 points against Boyne.

Holstad is rated one of the two or three outstanding young players in the league. He has scored 69 points in five games, averaging nearly 14 points a game.

STARTING FOR Maneelona will be Norm Wilks, Dick Lucas, Dick Derrer, Jerry Lund and John Holstad.

Local starters are likely to be Bill Denemy and Bennett at forwards, Krahnke at center and Bud Barber and Norm Ketchman at the guard slots. This has been, with the exception of Krahnke, the starting lineup for the previous games this season.

A Tense Moment in Game at Petoskey

Pellston Enters New Year With Only Unbeaten Record in League

The next two months will be important ones for the basketball teams of the Northern Michigan Class C league as they go into the final part of their 1951-52 schedule.

The first three weeks prior to the holidays were more or less try-outs for the next eight weeks when tha strength of the leegue will be determined.

Pellston, with four wins in loop play plus a win over Roger City, still leads the conference and will defend its standing against Harbor Springs this week.

IN OTHER GAMES Boyne City will travel to Petoskey and Charlevoix will host Mancelona. East Jordan and Gaylord will not play until Tuesday, Jan. 8.

Pellston should have little trouble with the Harbor Rams who were trounced by East Jordan before the holidays. Harbor with one win and two losses is tied with Maneelona for third place. Pellston with its height and experience definitely will have the edge over the Rams who have an inexperienced five which have a tendency to blow up when the going gets round as it is apt to with the Hornets.

In the only other league game the Rayders, tied for second place with two wins and ona loss, will be teking to the hardwood without Dean Boss against the Mancelona Ironmen who won a close one over Boyne City as the holiday recess sterted. Given an opportunity for its first win, the Ironmen will be trying for another against the local five who have to win to maintain their second place standing. Mancelona, led by high-scoring Johnny Holstad and veteran Jack Lucas will be up for Charlavoix and may hand the Rayders some tough competition.

In a non-loop game Class B Petoskey will be meeting a much-improved Boyne five. Jim Milbrandt and Denny Pratt, who have recovered from football injuries and were given permission Saturday to start practice are expected to appear in the lineup for the first time this season.

Milbrandt played a major role in the Ramblers success during the tournament last March and his return is expected to give the team more depth then it has had to date. Pratt who played regularly with the Reserves as a sophomore last year, is also expected to bolster the Varsity five for the long drive ahead.

Unless Petoskey is up, as they were for the Charlevoix game, Boyne may hand them a defeat.

East Jordan, sharing second place with the Rayders will meet Gaylord which is holding down last place with Boyne City the following Tuesday.

East Jordan, re-inforced by the return of Norm McGeorge to the guard spot and Sammy Milstein as a substitute will be out for another win now that they have won two games. Gaylord which lost to Pellston in an overtime has come a long way since the opening of the season and can be depended on to give the Jordanites a close game.

In another game scheduled for Jan. 8, Mancelona will meet Grayling in a non-loop game.

League Standings are:

Pellston	4	0	1.000
Charlevoix	2	1	.667
East Jordan	2	1	.667
Harbor Springs	1	3	.333
Mancelona	1	2	.333
